Socialism.

The eighth volume of Joseph Cook's Boston Monday lectures is just published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and is entitled "Socialism." The book contains ten lectures and as many preludes on current events, and there are single lectures well worth the price of the volume.

Mr. Cook is a fearless advocate for the cause he deems just, and an unrelenting antagonist of everything which he considers opposed to proper laws of health, the preservation of human rights, and indeed all such obstacles to progress toward the highest welfare of man.

Speaking at first to an audience containing over two hundred clergymen, besides a large number of teachers and educated and thinking men, he reaches men in all countries through the press. Mr. Cook's lectures show great familiarity with the subjects of which he treats. He more than any other student is a frequenter of the Boston Athenæum library, and the results of his research, given through his lectures, are a fresh, vigorous and fearless attack upon the weak places in politics, religion and social traits. Mr. Cook, never more than Wendell Phillips, minces matters when he has a plain truth to utter. In his lecture upon the co-operative savings banks in Germany, he says: "So much uneasiness has been sown through this commonwealth in regard to American care of trust funds, that the diminution in deposits in Massachusetts savings banks alone, during the last year, was greater than the whole amount of deposits in these institutions in this state, twenty years ago." "I am not attacking our savings banks, but the managers of some of them have deserved distrust. If there was a gibbet here, and two or three of the savings bank directors were present who have cheated orphans and widows, one would like to choke the thieves until they should be, at least, frightened!"

We think Mr. Cook in his denunciation perhaps forgets that the hard times had something to do with the falling off in the deposits; but his utterance might well be calculated for the meridian of Massachusetts, though perhaps it might occasionally serve for some of the adjoining states.

One likes to see a man bold enough to utter what he feels to be the truth, and however impracticable we may consider some of Mr. Cook's ideas, we find uttered all through his books, truths which we welcome, and which cover such a wide range of subjects that almost every one can somewhere find an instance where his neighbor has been hit upon a sore spot. The present volume is uniform with its predecessors, and published at $1.50; and is for sale at all the book stores.

The London Lancet is demanding with a pertinacity which promises success that shop-keepers must provide seats for women clerks. It has shown conclusively that continued standing is very detrimental to the health of women. Other newspapers are beginning to follow the Lancet's lead, and one of them offers the following suggestion, which can be recommended to American ladies, who are certainly not less considerate of the welfare of their sex than their English sisters: "It is ridiculous to pretend that an immense amount of the 'waiting' in shops cannot be done sitting. After all the public have the matter in their own hands. If the ladies who enjoy a morning's shopping would make a point of asking the girls who serve them, to sit down while the work of choosing and examining goes on, trades-people would soon begin to provide seats. Perhaps it would be asking too much to expect a customer to hand a shopwoman a chair over the counter; but if a seat was not to be found, any lady with a common sense of humanity could at least leave the shop."

Kidney-Wort Always Cures.

EAST WAKEFIELD DEPOT, N. H.
March 4th, 1880.

MESSRS. WELLS, RICHARDSON, & CO.

Gentlemen—Permit me to say a word in favor of Kidney-Wort. My mother has been afflicted with kidney disease for a number of years. Last spring she was so bad as to necessitate her taking Spirits Nitre at least three times a day—had a most alarming pain in her side, also much numbness. After taking one box of Kidney-Wort the pain and numbness disappeared. Her appetite improved at once, and she has not taken a drop of Spirits Nitre since. I advise all who need such a medicine to give it a trial.

MRS. W. H. PARKS.

In East Providence, R. I., on the night of the 5th inst., Lewis Caswell fired a charge of shot into Peter Johnson, taking effect chiefly in his left breast and arm. Both are colored men, and the quarrel was about Caswell's white paramour. Johnson is at the Rhode Island hospital, not fatally hurt.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

Wm. Hildebrand, aged twenty years, was run over by a horse car at New Haven, Conn., Monday night, 5th inst., and killed. John Rohan, aged nine years, was shot in the abdomen by a boy of the same age, and will probably die.

Malt Bitters regulate, purify, strengthen and nourish the maternal functions.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. Illustrated by numerous and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

Ambiguous and sample sent to all on receipt of 8 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. Bissell, A. M., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

One pill a dose. 25 cents. Uy10

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most efficient, reliable yet discovered for the diseased, easily deranged or the sluggish, inert and torpid bowels, which require prompt and efficient treatment. AYER'S PILLS are adapted to all the ordinary cases of disease. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious substance, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Costiveness or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Sunbiness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and do not pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs, they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

THE GOOD OLD TIMES.

[The following essay on "The Good Old Times" was written by George W. Braxton, the colored youth who graduated from the high school a few days since and was read as a part of the graduation exercises. We believe Master Braxton is the first colored graduate of the school.]

The good old Times! Of these, poets have sung for centuries. The Golden Age was a frequent theme of the Latin poets. Orators vaguely told their hearers that there was in the dim past such a happy period, and even now the graces of rhetoric are lavished upon the theme. But when and where these good old times were, we are left in doubt. They are like the landscape that shows best in the purple distance.

We think perhaps that those were good old times when baron and peasant feasted together, but we forget that the baron could not read and that the peasant was held no dearer than a favorite horse or dog.

We gather up all the golden threads of legendary lore and weave them into a fabric most pleasing to gaze upon, and foolishly imagine that the "dead past" was better than the "living present."

We will not go further back than the historic days of our own changing land. Were those "good old times" in the Colonial period, when our fathers were subduing the wilderness, fighting with savages and with the European rivals of Great Britain? Was it the Golden Age when they were engaged in the costly and bloody struggle with the mother country to achieve independence?

Or was it in those days of poverty, when during the first administration of Washington the heroes and statesmen of the day were struggling to build up the credit of the new nation, to foster its commerce and to bring into activity all the arts of life? Then men were poor. The old Continental money fell into the hands of a few for a trifling part of its nominal value. In the New York Gazette of a century ago, we actually find an advertisement offering a guinea a thousand, the notes to be used to paper some rooms. Men who had spent years in the camp found it hard to settle down into a quiet life of industry. They had not the country of to-day, with all its business opportunities and demands for labor. Civilization had but gilded the edge of the continent, and brightened here and there a spot in the interior.

Then follow on. Many can remember when wages were low, when poverty abounded in the farming districts, when fifty cents in wheat or corn was a good price for a day's labor, when rum and cider were the beverage of every hour, when the resulting distress and sorrow among laboring people and their families was infinitely greater than it is to-day. In those times few were the young men and women who could obtain anything more than the merest rudiments of an education. What a change fifty years have produced! Now our schools and colleges are open to all. There is no limit to the aspirations of the poorest boy. Our malls are laden with what carries comfort and knowledge to every fireside. None need live in ignorance, for a thousand sources of intelligence are within their reach.

Again I turn to the pages of history, and almost doubting my own eyes, I read that a hundred years ago they were buying and selling slaves here in Puritan New England. And how long the dark cloud hung, a withering, blighting curse, over our fair southern land. But a great change has come, and the slave is now free. He does not wish to recall the past, and would patiently bear the scoffs and slights of the present, building his hopes on the "good time coming." When equal opportunities shall be his, and when he shall have counted as many years of freedom as he has of bondage, then it will be just to compare him with others. To him the present is full of promise, and the future bright with hope:

"There is a day of sunny rest
For every dark and troubled night;
And grief may bide an evening guest,
But joy shall come at early light."

There is, however, another side to the question, for in our country, history is repeating itself. While wealth and population are increasing, while the comforts of life are daily more easily obtained, while the virtues of citizens are as resplendent as ever, and charity is more and more extending her holy influence to lessen human sorrow, there seems to be a want of public devotion which may well cause alarm. From the arena of public life the best men are too often driven. To gain wealth from office is now consistent with public virtue and patriotism; men are chosen to positions who are not esteemed in private life, and congress has become a school of oratory and the battle ground of political campaigns. Men seek for office, lavish sums of money, and thus pretend to serve their country.

In some of our large cities there are growing up crowds of young men and women, over whom religion and honor have no influence, whose lives are stained with sin and every form of crime and vice. Honest and careful legislation could check such an evil, and it will do so when habitual, persistent idleness and crime receive the severest punishments of the law, rather than single, and, it may be, incidental offences. When the man on the gallows said that he was being hung for his bad character, he gave the best possible reason for the terrible punishment.

Let us restore public honor and cherished it as we would that of individuals, and our times could be more hopeful than the present and no future more glorious than that of our country. Then shall be realized the prophecy of Bishop Berkley:

"There shall be sung another golden age,
The rise of empire and of arts;
The good and great inspiring epic rage,
The wisest heads and noblest hearts."

High-Toned Irregularities.

In New York, on the evening of the 7th inst., the police arrested Lawrence R. Jerome, Jr., son of the well known banker and sporting man, and Edward M. Patchell, manager of the banking house of Guy Bevan & Co., on a grave charge. A messenger boy, in the employ of Brayton Ives & Co., was sent out on the 3d inst. to deliver stocks valued at $87,000. He returned, saying that he had lost the package on Wall street. Mr. Ives, who is president of the stock exchange, reported the loss to the police. After a long search the securities were traced to the possession of the prisoners. Both are unmarried young men and familiar with the ways of Wall street, Jerome being engaged in the stock business. After their arrest the stocks were found in Patchell's office, and it was admitted by the young men that they knew to whom the securities belonged. They intended to send them to Europe and have them negotiated there. The manner of obtaining possession of the stocks was not divulged.

News and Notes.

Col. Pelton, nephew of Samuel J. Tilden, and a noted democratic politician, died in New York on the 8th inst.

A mysterious package was sent to the New York office of Anthony Comstock, special agent for the Society for the Suppression of Crime, in May last. As Comstock was not in, his stenographer, Arthur Ducret, received it and noticed that it had a peculiar smell. After handling it he washed his hands. Ducret is now dangerously ill, and physicians say his ailment is blood-poisoning. Those who are aware of the circumstances of the case attribute it to a premeditated attempt on the life of Comstock, the parties who sent it probably supposing that he would be the one to receive the package. When it was opened it resembled sticking plaster, and the stench was so great that the office had to be disinfected. Physicians are greatly puzzled over the case, as the young man's whole body is covered with eruptions, and though formerly a strong, healthy young man, he has wasted away to almost a skeleton, and is now in a very critical condition. Comstock says he thinks he knows the guilty parties, and will soon have them in custody.

The Fall River, Mass., board of aldermen on the 6th inst. passed an order forbidding the Globe street railway company to make use of any streets in the city, or to lay any further tracks or do any further work in the construction of the horse railroad. This action was taken in consequence of the unwillingness of the new railroad company to put the streets in proper condition after tearing them up, and a disposition to take every possible advantage of the city. Mayor Greene was instructed to carry the order into effect, and his action next morning in forbidding the contractor to lay any rails in the unbroken streets led to a clash of authority, and two slight skirmishes occurred between the contractor's men and the police. The mayor threatened to arrest every laborer if the order was not complied with, and the contractor yielded.

In regard to the supposed murder of Louis Sherman Richard at Oakdale, Mass., on Monday night, the 5th inst., his body being found in the road on Tuesday morning, it appears that the deceased had been engaged in a quarrel with another Frenchman named Joseph Levatica in a saloon kept by Louis Laventia, and that both men left the saloon intending and anxious to fight, but were brought back through the influence of some women who were at the house. All hands were drunk. What happened after ten o'clock is not known, but Joseph Levatica has been arrested on suspicion of having killed Richard. There were no wounds on the body of the latter, and it is the opinion of the medical examiner that he was choked to death. Levatica admitted having had trouble with Richard, and points to a large abrasion of the skin on his forehead and a neck considerably scratched as the result of the fight. The murdered man lived in Holden with his father, Sherman Richard, and was twenty-seven years old.

Congressman De La Matyr has been married to a widow at Friendship, N. Y. They were engaged in youth, but quarreled and separated.

In Jersey City, on the 6th inst., Jacob Kuntz shot his wife for refusing to obey his orders not to go to a picnic, and then blew his own head to pieces. Both were over sixty years of age.

On the 6th inst., thirty miles toward Stockton, Texas, from Fort Davis, a party of rangers met a band of desperadoes. Both sides dismounted and took to the rocks, and firing began. Three of the desperadoes emerged from the rocks, and threw up both hands. A fourth came also, but he continued firing, and killed one of the rangers. He was forthwith riddled with bullets by the rangers. The desperadoes surrendered. The telegraph wires have been cut in several places, which is supposed to have been the work of this gang.

Political Matters.

The democrats affect to believe that Hancock is to be elected, and the republicans for the present seem inclined to permit the sweet morsel to be rolled under the tongues of the unterrified. The people of this country by fall will need something more than a desire for the spoils of office to be shown by the democracy, to entitle them to their support at the election.

Leonard V. Jerome, of New York, having written a gushing "open letter" promising Gen. Hancock his vote and the votes of "the Jerome family to a man," Thomas A. Jerome, Leonard's brother, replies in a letter in which he says that he and his four sons are republicans, and shall vote for Gen. Garfield. He gives a scathing review of Leonard W.'s letter and political record, and closes by saying: "My brother is welcome to the privilege of 'going over to the enemy,' and of proclaiming his adhesion to 'the soldier who first dared to officially embarrass the reconstruction acts of the government at the close of the war;' but be it understood that 'the Jerome family declines to become a party to such an act of political hari-kari!' 'One swallow does not make a summer,' and one 'Arnold' in politics, even though as crafty and astute as brother Leonard, cannot be permitted to speak for an otherwise universally loyal republican family."

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, referring to the large number of democratic office-holders in the departments, says: "As to the war department, it is said that a Hancock club could be organized there without any trouble whatever, giving the Presidency of it to a $1600 clerk, who during the war was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary, having pleaded guilty before a military tribunal to robbing the sick and dying soldiers in the hospitals of the country. The secretaryship of the club could go to a neatly dressed democratic clerk who killed a 'Lincoln hireling' in a drunken brawl during the war, and was pardoned out by President Johnson. In the census office it is said that three cheers and a tiger were given in one of the rooms when Hancock's nomination was announced. This, too, in a branch of the service too pure and lofty to descend to the level of politics, but which is crowded to overflowing with red-hot rebel men and women all the same."

—At the Harvard college commencement, the Chinese professor attracted a good deal of attention. He was dressed in robes of bright blue silk, coming to his ankles, and heavily embroidered with gold, wore the long queue and Chinese shoes, and during the formal portion of the services was attended by a Chinese servant, bearing his hat.

"Those horrid cigars" you have been smoking lately scent the house worse than an old pipe; why don't you get some of those old-fashioned "Noriegas" the CHRONICLE man recommends so highly? Thus spoke a sensible wife to her husband, the other day, and if he knows when he is well off he will follow her advice.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

President Hayes on the 6th inst. signed Daniel M. Key's commission as United States district judge of the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee, and Horace Maynard's as post-master general of the United States.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front rank of curative agents. It has been in the market but about nine years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures coughs and colds every time. Price, 35 cts.

At Atlanta, Ga., on the 7th inst., in the superior court the first negro juror was called. He was seated with eleven well known white citizens, was made foreman, and brought a verdict of guilty against a colored burglar. In the next case he was refused by Ass Gunn, colored, charged with murder, who said he wanted no nigger to try him for his life. The incident caused much comment. The addition of the names of the intelligent colored men to jury lists in the state courts is generally approved by the democrats, it is said.

Unfermented Canadian barley malt and fresh hops are the ingredients of Malt Bitters.

A Texas herder offered to surrender to the sheriff in case he should be provided with a square dinner. This was refused, and in the fight that took place three men were killed, two wounded, and the herder escaped.

Harvey Bartholomew of Keene died on the 6th inst. from drinking too much ice water.

New gas works have been put in at the Fabyan house to take the place of those destroyed by an explosion several weeks ago. The persons injured at the time are slowly recovering, and no deaths will result from the catastrophe. Among the guests now at the house are the Menzies of New York, who have spent the last seven summers at that hotel. Through all the seven seasons they have been waited upon by the same table girl.

Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
But this we find where'er we rove,
That SOZODONT alone supplies

That lend a maiden half the charms
That win her to her lover's arms.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, to hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

Temperance Relief Association picnic at Stratham to-day. See adv't.

The quarterly election of officers of the reform club will take place this evening at Bow mission hall, at eight o'clock.

Boating and picnic parties will find at Butler & Laighton's store a large assortment of goods just suited to their wants.

Special meeting of the Board of Trade this evening at eight o'clock, in the common council room. A full attendance is desired as important business is to be considered.

The first coal-pocket ever built in this city was erected by Edward F. Sise in 1832, on the wharf in the rear of the present firm's counting-room. The first coal ever used in this city was landed on this wharf, being brought from Philadelphia, the cargo consisting of one hundred and sixty tons. It came in large blocks, and was pounded up, as ordered, to suit purchasers.—Times.

A farmer living in the suburbs of this city has put up a flag bearing the names of Garfield, Weaver and Hancock. Why a man so catholic in his political predelections should have omitted the name of Gen. Neil Dow, the prohibition candidate for president, when he was selecting names to put on his flag, we cannot understand.

Ambrose Allard, a man connected with the family of Penobscot Indians who have for some weeks been encamped near the Universalist church, fired three shots into his left breast at about two o'clock in the morning, on the 8th inst., inflicting serious and possibly fatal wounds. No reason is assigned for the act, other than the fact that the man was under the influence of liquor at the time.

On Monday forenoon of this week, as a train was entering the Eastern railroad station in this city, a little girl attempted to cross the track in front of the engine, but stumbled, and fell between the rails. The lookers-on were horrified, anticipating only certain death for the child, but this was averted by the prompt and courageous action of Mr. Samuel K. Batchelder, the hackman, who succeeded in snatching her from danger at the last moment.

The Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark, N. J., through W. C. Robinson, agent in this city, has paid to the widow of the late Capt. Henry Libbey $9,921.53, being the amount due on policies in said company for $10,000. The policies were taken out more than ten years ago on the thirty per cent loan plan, Capt. Libbey paying seventy per cent and giving his note for thirty per cent, the dividends being applied to reduce the loan; in settlement of these policies only $78.47 had to be deducted on account of the loan, the dividends having almost cancelled the same.

The Rhode Island and New Hampshire Press Associations, accompanied by their ladies, visited Major Urch's aquarium Thursday morning at eight o'clock, and though the tide was low and the big wheel not in motion, the visitors were both surprised and pleased at the to them wonderful collection of marine curiosities, the tasteful arrangement of running vines and hanging plants, and the careful placing of easy chairs in the coolest and shadiest places. The ladies appeared to be charmed most with the seals, anemones and sea-robins, while the gentlemen were equally pleased with the sharks, sturgeons, dog-fish, and the marine bicycle. The company evinced their pleasure and gratification at the courtesies extended them by Major Urch, by hearty cheers for that gentlemen as the coaches rolled away to town. Through an oversight the visitors were driven to the depot at about nine o'clock, and were compelled to put in an hour and a half of tedious waiting and inactivity, that might have been very profitably spent in visiting some of the objects of interest about our city. Many praises were bestowed upon the Wentworth, its magnificent appointments and its gentlemanly proprietor. The party which took the train for Portland at 10:30 A. M. numbered about eighty persons.

An elegant monument of Continental marble cut in the shape of a sarcophagus has been placed upon the lot of Commodore Charles W. Pickering in the south cemetery. The work is from Treat's marble establishment, and the raised letters "Pickering" as well as the general finish of the structure are creditable to the workmanship of Mr. Treat's establishment.

THE CITY BATH-HOUSE.

The Times of the 8th inst. copied the item published in the CHRONICLE of the same date, stating that the committee appointed by the board of aldermen to select a site for a bathing-house had pitched upon two places, "the Raynes ship-yard and a point on Noble's island," and commented as follows:

We do not know anything about the decision or intentions of the committee appointed by the board of aldermen to consider the matter of a public bathing-house. But everyone who is in any way interested earnestly hopes that neither of the two places mentioned in the above statement will be adopted. There are several reasons why they are not desirable. The first is said to be one of the filthiest places that could be found, and the other, although not quite so dirty, is a long-way from the center of the city, and should a bath-house be erected there, another would certainly have to be built at the south end.

Our neighbor hardly knows what it is talking about. The water at the Raynes shipyard, at the point favored by the committee, is of suitable depth, as pure as any water in the river, and free from eel-grass; and the site at Noble's island spoken of as being "not quite so dirty" as "one of the filthiest places that could be found," is as clean a place—both beach and channel—as can be found along the entire river front where there is any beach at all. Where any better location can be found we will not attempt to decide, but certainly not between Peirce's island and the mainland, where slimy mud and luxuriant eel-grass are more plentiful than water. However, if "everyone who is in any way interested hopes that neither of the two places mentioned will be adopted" there can be no need of talking about it, as persons not in any way interested will not trouble themselves to insist on the adoption of either.

LIBERTY BRIDGE.

On July 5th at sunrise the American ensign was raised on the pole at Liberty bridge, in honor of the anniversary of American independence, for the fifty-seventh time, the pole having been erected July 4th, 1824. We copy two old documents now in possession of Mr. Alonzo K. W. Green, the present custodian of the pole and flag, the first one, giving all the names of the original subscribers to the fund for the erection of the pole, being as follows:

To perpetuate to posterity the memory of glorious events in the early history of their country has ever been the anxious care of the patriotic and virtuous in every age. The venerable relics of the revolution are rapidly passing away. The memories of our fathers are, with them, returning to their original dust. Our children will look to us for some portion of that spirit which actuated a generation now gathered to their fathers, for some memento that we duly appreciated the blessings purchased at innumerable and painful sacrifices. The LIBERTY POLE is a favorite symbol to freemen. At the era of the revolution which emancipated our country from the thraldom of European domination such simple, yet expressive, emblems of the times, adorned almost every Village green. But these no longer point to those skies whence the genius descended. It is therefore proposed to erect on the ensuing Fourth of July on Liberty Bridge, in Water street, an elegant Liberty Pole, adorned with a Cap and surmounted with a splendid Eagle.

To defray the expenses incident to its erection, of purchasing an Ensign to adorn it, and of firing a salute on the occasion we the subscribers agree to pay the sums affixed to our names, on demand.

The subscriptions ranged from twenty-five cents to five dollars, there being but one name down for the latter sum; and in addition to the names given above, there were quite a number who contributed as "A friend" or "Cash." Ten years after the pole was erected a new flag was required, and a subscription paper was circulated and signed as follows, "Cash" and "A friend" also appearing in a number of places on this paper:

We the undersigned agree to pay the sum set to our respective names for the purpose of procuring a new flag to be hoisted on the Liberty Pole on Liberty Bridge as occasion may require, subject to the direction of the Committe of said Pole, March 11, 1834:

The committee to said pole, chosen April, 1834: T. M. Shaw, S. B. Lord, N. Marshall.

The pole has twice been spliced since its erection, the last time in 1872, when William R. Martin lent the sheers for taking it down and putting it up again, James W. Coleman did the splicing, J. C. Muchmore superintended the striking of the pole, and John E. Abbott reset it. The pole now bears a shield (the original was an oval) having on it the following inscription:

Erected July 4, 1824, in commemoration of July 4, 1776, that declared our emancipation from tyranny and gave us the privileges of freemen.

This shield was made by Samuel Clark, carved by Woodbury Gerrish, and gilded by James W. Lefavour; the liberty cap was painted by Aaron Rand; and all the persons named gave their labor and the materials furnished by them, free. The last subscription paper was circulated by Mr. Green.

The American ensign is hoisted at half-mast on the death of any of the subscribers to the pole or the several flags that have been supplied, and is run up to the mast head on days of public rejoicing. It will not be hoisted many times more in honor of the memory of the original subscribers, most of whom have already passed on, as an inspection of the lists will show.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The monthly drill of the navy yard fire department took place on Thursday last.

Eugene Ricker, a Biddeford boy, son of Frank Ricker, blew off the end of one of his fingers on the 5th inst., while "celebrating" with a revolver loaded with blank cartridges.

Mrs. Sylvester Chick, of Kennebunk, who drowned her eight-years-old son a few days ago by holding him under water in a shallow stream, has been taken to the insane asylum at Augusta.

The ship Eldorado, bound from Rio Janeiro to Victoria, Vancouver's island, was totally lost on the 5th inst. in the strait of Fuca. She was built in Kennebunk in 1865, and registered 1147 tons.

On the 6th inst. Judge Hobbs of the York county probate court read his opinion upon the long-contested matter of the will and codicil of the late centenarian Aaron McKenney of Saco, approving and allowing both the will and the codicil.

Leopold & Guppy open soon in Varney's opera house. The first thing they put on will be the "Model of New York harbor." This exhibition gives one a fine idea of the harbor, the location of the principle islands, etc. It is a novelty, and how ships are made to sail is something that puzzles one who sees it.—Biddeford Times.

A married couple in Saco have just come together after a separation of about ten years. They were married at Wellpole, N. B., about fourteen years since. After living together for a few years the husband went away, leaving behind his wife and daughter. At the end of five years from the first marriage the wife married again, believing, as she says, that her first husband had died in a hospital. By her second husband she had one son. Three years since husband No. two disappeared. Last week husband No. one appeared in Saco, sought out his wife of fourteen years before, claimed her as his own, and the two are now living together.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H,

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for bathing at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

New Publications.

"Every day English," a sequel to "Words and their uses," by Richard Grant White; Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

It is many years since Mr. White gave us in book form the substance of his articles which appeared in the Galaxy in 1867, '68 and '69. That volume was a classification of misused words, with a series of criticisms upon our bad English, and useful hints and helps toward reform. Since then Mr. White turns up "periodically" and lectures us upon our bad pronunciation. If every one should heed his suggestions the American people would become so painfully correct in the use of language they would be considered unnatural.

Mr. White always seemed to us like the older brother on his return to the homestead to spend his first college vacation. He is pained at the bad pronunciation of his respected father, grieved at the departure from pure English in his beloved mother, and disgusted at the increased slangy language of his junior brothers and sisters. The question is, how much can Mr. White scold us and we have patience to profit by his pedagogical peculiarities? Like the Boston swell who omitted to invite his brother to his soiree, one must draw the line somewhere. The profuse illustration of horrible perversion of language, which no person of ordinary education would think of using but as a quoted by-word, is interwoven with one committed too often by persons who claim to be educated, refined and polite. Mr. White revives the recollection of the criticism of the New York Evening Post upon our quondam Secretary of the Navy Robeson, who used the word "eventuality" in his report, writing in relation to the then coming transit of Venus. It is a word found in the dictionary, though we coincide with him in the opinion that the gallant secretary exceeded his limits when he wrote "eventualized," which Mr. White regards as objectionable in a two-fold sense, as needless and un-English.

But Mr. White is an authority we are glad to welcome. He will be referred to on many disputed points, and lovers of good English owe him a deep debt of gratitude for his endeavors to expose the utter vulgarity in expression of some of the men who report for newspapers in using such glaringly improper words as "donate" for give, "resurrect," and all that class of improper words, which have crept into use despite the efforts of lovers of pure and undefiled English to preserve its purity in our daily use.

The present volume makes a book of five hundred pages, has a well arranged index, and contains very much that no lover of pure English who takes in hand the book will care to omit. Price $2.00.

Naval Gazette.

An order from the navy department abolishes the rates of machinist and coppersmith in the navy, but no machinist or coppersmith will be discharged from the service until the expiration of his enlistment except upon his own application.

The U. S. S. Powhatan is ordered to proceed from New York to Port Royal; from the latter place she will go the south side of Cuba, and in addition to looking after American interests generally, will specially inquire into the alleged Spanish outrages on American vessels.

Father Killeen, a Catholic priest of Bergen Point, N. J., on Sunday last when returning from church heard a sound of noisy revelry proceeding from a saloon, the front of which was closed. Quietly stealing to the rear door, he suddenly made his appearance, to the dismay of all. The proprietor, bartender and revelers fled from the place, and the priest, with his cane, destroyed all the bottles in the place. The next day the saloon proprietor had to add $20 to his losses by paying a fine.

An autopsy on the body of John Hart, who was found dead in his house at Attleboro', Mass., and was supposed to have been murdered, shows that he died from natural causes.

REMARKABLE. John Hunt, of Providence, R. I., found himself seized with a general dropsy. His body swelled to an enormous size; he could not lie down, and death seemed inevitable. His kidneys were also badly affected. The services of a renowned physician were secured, and a prescription was made after a thorough examination. Mr. Hunt began to improve at once, and after a time was restored to perfect health. The family used the medicine in similar cases with the same results. They named it Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, and it is now sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

The memory of the late William Morris Hunt, the artist, is to be perpetuated in the Unitarian church at Brattleboro, Vt., by a memorial window, consisting of a copy of the great painting, "The Prodigal Son." The window is given by the artist's sister, Miss Jane Hunt.

Truly wonderful is nervousness, general debility, emaciation and dropsy.—Matt Bitters.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervous specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HORMER & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO., for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items: carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
One pill a dose. 25 cents. Uy19

Ayer's
Cathartic Pills
Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficient treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the strongest proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

HUTCHINSON'S.

New Hampshire Items.

John W. White of Ossipee, who attempted to shoot his wife on the train several weeks since, escaped from his keeper on the night of July 3d, between eight and nine o'clock. Officers pursued, but no trace of him has been found.

Charles H. Hanson and his family, including Mrs. Buzzell, the mother of Jos. B. Buzzell, moved into the Buzzell house in Brookfield on the 5th inst.; the house has not been occupied by any of the family for nearly a year until now. Mrs. Mary Hanson, eighty-four years of age, is now keeping house in the same building where her daughter Susan was murdered six years ago.

Geo. Harvey, a Marlboro farmer, aged seventy-five years, hanged himself Thursday, the 8th inst. He leaves a family.

Political Matters.

Hon. Edward K. O'Brien of Thomaston, Me., having become disgusted with the way the greenback element snubbed the democracy, has purchased in Boston a full outfit for a new paper which is to be published in Thomaston and be a straight-out democratic organ. He is said to have the hearty aid of most of the Knox county democrats, and to be bound to elect the straight democratic ticket in that former Gibraltar of democracy—if he can.

Though we live in times of peace, everything around Gen. Hancock is on a war footing. An armed sentinel stalks up and down in front of his private residence all day long and on through the weary night. What for nobody knows, but, tired and jaded, in sunshine and storm, this poor soldier must walk up and down before his great master. At the general's residence everything is done in a pedantic, military way. No ordinary citizen can see the general. An orderly, buttoned up and baking in a regulation uniform, receives your card. A haughty chief-of-staff examines it, and, if your clothes are good enough, he will permit you to stand before the general a moment while he sits, listens, and then waves you away. The ordinary Illinois farmer, with his face browned and hands calloused with honest toil, would never be allowed to enter the presence of the commanding general.—Cor. Chicago Tribune.

For All Female Complaints

nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a most powerful restorative tonic, also combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapting it to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, from nervousness, or neuralgic pains. Mr. G. W. Seymour, druggist, of Canton, N. Y., writes to Dr. Pierce as follows: "The demand for your Favorite Prescription is wonderful, and one man stated to me that his wife had not done a day's work in five months, when she commenced taking your Favorite Prescription, took two bottles and is now on the third bottle, and is able to do her housework alone and milk fourteen cows twice a day." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold by all druggists.

A young girl, sixteen years of age, who had always previously borne a good reputation, left her home at Newburyport on Saturday, the 3d inst., to follow an acquaintance made when the London circus exhibited in that city on the previous Thursday. She went to Gloucester, stopped with friends there Saturday and Sunday nights, and attended the circus the next day, since which time her relatives have been unable to obtain any clue to her whereabouts.

Kidney-Wort Always Cures.

EAST WAKEFIELD DEPOT, N. H.
March 4th, 1880.

MESSRS. WELLS, RICHARDSON, & CO.

Gentlemen—Permit me to say a word in favor of Kidney-Wort. My mother has been afflicted with kidney disease for a number of years. Last spring she was so bad as to necessitate her taking Spirits Nitre at least three times a day—had a most alarming pain in her side, also much numbness. After taking one box of Kidney-Wort the pain and numbness disappeared. Her appetite improved at once, and she has not taken a drop of Spirits Nitre since. I advise all who need such a medicine to give it a trial.

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.—N. Y. Independent.

Mrs. Katie Leach, of Fall River, Mass., while attempting to hurry a fire by pouring kerosene upon it, Thursday night last, was shockingly burned about the body, face and arms. Another woman was badly burned about the hands in attempting to extinguish the flames.

As a food and as a medicine nothing in medicine can compare with Malt Bitters.

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

"The Corset Candidate."

Under the above heading the Chicago Inter-Ocean refers in derision to Gen. Hancock, and predicts his utter overthrow politically because somebody has discovered or pretended to discover that the democratic candidate for the presidency "wears corsets!" We do not imagine that the gallant soldier named, though a married man, knows enough about corsets to be able to put on a pair if he wanted to, without getting them on hind part before or upside down; but even if this story is true—what of it? If the wearer of corsets pays for them honestly, whose business is it what he or she may do with them? If Gen. Hancock chooses to wear corsets, he has the same right to do so that Gen. Garfield has to wear a shirt or a tall hat. We want Hancock to be defeated, and do not doubt he will be; but we are sorry to see that some of our republican contemporaries are commencing to employ, in regard to him, the tactics employed by the democratic press in regard to Gen. Garfield. We advise them to leave mud-throwing, slander and slurs to the democratic partisans, and to attack Hancock solely as the representative of the democratic party and its principles.

Democratic Row.

The democratic leaders at Washington are greatly exercised over the state of affairs in Virginia, where the Mahone and "regular" factions of the party propose to run separate electoral tickets, the republicans being united on theirs. The Washington Post says, "We do not consider the possibility of one or the other of the Hancock tickets winning in the triangular electoral contest." The Virginia democratic papers are equally concerned. The Richmond Dispatch plainly intimates that unless the two democratic factions fuse the Garfield electoral ticket will be chosen, and the Richmond Commonwealth denounces the readjusters' movement as "a scheme to assist in the election of Garfield." They need not fret; Garfield will be elected in any event.

News and Notes.

The United States grand jury in New York has appointed a committee of nine citizens to examine all steamboats in that district whose owners are required to obtain certificates from the local board of steamboat inspectors.

The new telegraph cable connecting Martha's Vineyard with the land wires of the Western Union company, was successfully laid Tuesday, 6th inst., the work being completed Wednesday afternoon. The cable is about five miles long.

The United States consul at Naples says American canned goods are in demand there, and improved agricultural machinery is being introduced.

Bogus temperance men in central New York have been circulating pledges among the farmers who were anxious to reform. In a short time thereafter a promissory note would turn up for the reforming farmer to pay.

Garden Thieves.

No kind of robbery is more annoying than that of plants and fruit. In most parts of this country the taking of flowers and fruit is not looked upon as actual robbery, and unless there is a special law, as there is in some states, the depredator can only be prosecuted for "trespass," and the prosecutor has to establish the fact that a certain amount of damage in money has been sustained. One may have a flower which is to him of a value that cannot be expressed in money, or his tree may for the first time bear a single pear, worth to the owner more than a bushel of similar fruit in the market, yet the matter-of-fact judge will charge the matter-of-fact jury to find damages to the market value of the articles "trespassed" upon. In a recent suit in England, two scamps, who had stolen snowdrops and other bulbs from a garden, were sentenced to seven years of penal servitude each. A most sensible judge was on the bench, who, finding that the thieves had before served three and eighteen months for similar offences, and were not cured, concluded that it was of no use to be lenient with them, but gave them seven years each.—Salem Gazette.

—Seth Green's attempt to grow salt-water fish in fresh water proves a failure, the shad and alewives put into Lake Ontario dying in such numbers that the stench of their bodies is well-nigh intolerable as they are washed upon the shore. Each fish has a yellow spot with red edges on some part of the body, but it has not been determined whether it is due to a parasite or the freshness of the water.

—A young lady of New York was married last week in the wedding gown of her grandmother, made seventy years ago, without alteration, and so similar were the styles no one knew but it was a new one "made for the occasion."

The Police Question.

A restaurant-keeper is discussing the police question with a customer. He is in favor of suppressing the whole force.

"What good do they do? Bah, they're worth nothing but to frighten innocent children. Down on the next corner there are a couple of fat and lazy 'guardians of the peace,' who do nothing but strut about all day. What use are those fellows to me? I am able to do my own policing. The most useless—"

Enter from the back part of the restaurant a waiter in great excitement, who exclaims:—

"Boss, there's a fellow back here who won't pay his bill, and is raising the very devil!"

"The scoundrel! Go this instant and get a policeman!"—Paris Liberte.

—In repairing a postal car at Detroit some days ago, two letters were found in a crack in the woodwork, and it was estimated they had lain there ten years. They were forwarded as addressed. That's what they call our "crack postal service."

—It is a common sight in rural England to see the parson's cows and sheep browsing over the grave mounds—an old ecclesiastical law giving the clergy the right to make such use of the parochial burying places, and many a village pope who shudders at the idea of permitting unorthodox dead to lie in consecrated ground never hesitates a moment to turn his live stock in to graze there.

—Dr. Pratt of Albany, N. Y., has a horse with an inordinate appetite for confectionery. Every morning he is driven to the banking house of Henry R. Pierson, and after disposing of his master, he turns his eye northward to see if the road is clear. If he finds no obstacle in the way he walks across the street and pays his addresses to an old lady who keeps a street stand on the corner. From her he obtains a stick of candy, and after eating it he stays there until the doctor comes for him and pays the old lady a cent for her candy. This is of daily occurrence.

Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
But this we find where'er we rove,
That SOZODONT alone supplies
The dazzling teeth and ruby dyes,
That lend a maiden half the charms
That win her to her lover's arms.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 200 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

AROUND HOME.

The steamer Mystic took a party to Gerrish's island on Friday.

The Bell Telephone Co.'s central office in this city is to be in the drug store of Mr. Frank J. Philbrick on Market street.

Mr. F. M. Holmes, the extensive furniture dealer of Boston, has leased the March property in Greenland for the season.

Several parties started for Gerrish's island on Friday in small boats, but owing to the high wind and heavy sea failed to reach their destination.

Rockingham Lodge, I. O. G. T., of this city, paid a visit to Pepperell Lodge of Kittery Point on Thursday evening last, going down by water, as was proper.

The schooner Golden Gate this week took from the fish dealers in this city two hundred and thirty barrels of mackerel, and sixty quintals of cured fish, for the Boston market.

Mr. Charles Green of this city, brakeman on the Concord railroad, had his left hand badly smashed while coupling cars at the depot on Friday morning. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Whittier.

The schooner Mary E. Caswell caught in her seine on Thursday last seventy barrels of mackerel. Thirty barrels of them were sold to the schooner Genevere, and the remainder were disposed of to the dealers in this city.

The board of aldermen desire all persons interested in the subject of a public bathing-house to offer any suggestions they may have to give on the subject of location, etc., to the board at the next meeting, on Thursday evening, the 15th inst.

Dr. S. C. Whittier on Friday sold the fine set of druggist's fixtures which formerly graced the store now occupied by Mercer Goodrich, to Mr. J. W. Colcord of Lynn, Mass., who purchased them for his elegant new store on Railroad square in that city.

The house of Mr. George Pease, at South Newmarket, was robbed of forty dollars on Thursday night last. From indications it appears that the thief entered the house at an early hour and secreted himself under a bed, and after the inmates were all asleep did the plundering.

The Bell Telephone Co. on Friday made telephone connection for J. Albert Walker between his office on Market street and Moses' hat store, where orders for coal, wood, lime, cement, sand, etc., may be left. Mr. John W. Caswell is to have a telephone run from the fish-market to his residence on Cabot street; and the Stoddard Brothers have contracted for one to connect their office with the telephone which runs from the Rockingham house to the Wentworth at Newcastle.

James Follett, Jr., of Dover, has been held in $200 for trial, for stealing a tengallon keg of whiskey, valued at $28, from Patrick H. Hughes, a Dover saloonkeeper, on the 5th inst. Follett and some friends "celebrated" in glorious style on the stolen whiskey. The prisoner narrowly escaped being sent to state prison some time ago, for stealing old iron and other property from the Cocheco Manufacturing Co.

The press excursionists arrived at Portland all right, Thursday, and were quartered at the Preble house, where a reception was tendered them in the evening by Mayor Senter of Portland and the Maine Press Association. Friday forenoon they went down the harbor on a steamboat ride, and in the afternoon took the cars for the White mountains, to remain at the latter place until the separation of the party on Monday. Individuals of the party will keep up the excursion until the 19th inst., to which date the reduced railroad and hotel charges extend.

It is said that the present scarcity of lobsters in this market is due to the fact that most of the lobster catchers are just now engaged in farming. We should not suppose they could catch many lobsters on a farm.

Mr. Charles A. Green, one of the best engineers on the Eastern railroad, runs his train from this city to Boston in two hours and ten minutes, making twenty-one stops on the way. A stop of five minutes is made in Lynn.

The Methodist Sunday school of Dover had a picnic at Old Orchard beach on the 8th inst. A large party gathered at the railroad station at eight o'clock to take a special train that had been engaged, but it did not come, the Boston & Maine railroad managers having forgotten to provide it, and the party had to wait until quarter past ten o'clock and then take the regular train. Many of the disappointed excursionists picnicked in the church of the society, which was thrown open for them while waiting, and some went home.

TAXATION OF CHURCHES.

The law of this state, authorizing the taxation of churches, was enacted in 1879, and came in practical operation the present year. Bank stock held by religious and charitable associations has been taxed in this city for a number of years past. Church edifices and the property in them have been considered exempt, and no tax has ever been levied upon them here. Parsonages have generally been exempt; at least they have not been taxed for quite a number of years. The new law is as follows:

"That all property, whether real or personal, owned by any church association or corporation, used exclusively for a place of worship, not exceeding ten thousand dollars in value, shall be exempt from taxation; and all such associations or corporations owning church property, whether real or personal, in excess of ten thousand dollars in value, shall be taxed at the same rates as other property for the total valuation of such excess."

The church property in this city, besides stocks and bonds, is valued and taxed as follows the present year:

The North Parish, for the church edifice, on a valuation of $12,000, ($10,000 being exempt,) is taxed $36.78.

The North Church, for the chapel on Middle street, valued at $4000, is taxed $70.06.

The South Parish, for the stone church, valued at $13,000, ($10,000 being exempt,) is taxed $52.54.

St. Mary's Church, for parsonage, on a valuation of $1500, is taxed $26.27.

No other real estate of any church is taxed.

REFORM CLUB ELECTION.

At a meeting of the reform club held at Bow mission hall on Friday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter:

Eugene A. Sanborn, president;
Joseph T. French, Charles T. Wiggin, George T. Burt, Augustus F. Spinney, William H. Hampshire, William Wallace, vice presidents;
Mrs. B. F. Thorndike, secretary;
James Janvrin, treasurer;
George W. Frost, chaplain;
Frank W. Miller, Stephen W. Clarke, Daniel L. Randall, finance committee;
Charles Humphries, Henry Deering, ticket sellers;
Benjamin Powell, Horace Hanscome, ticket takers;
John Hague, organist.

Mr. Eugene A. Sanborn, the president-elect, was introduced to the audience and made a few remarks in the interest of the work.

Mr. French made a very neat speech on retiring from the chair, and hoped that the future welfare of the club would be abundantly successful.

A social meeting will be held Sunday evening, at which time the officers-elect will be the speakers.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, July 8th:

Bills to the amount of $3306.59 were presented by the committee on accounts, and ordered paid.

Voted, That the city clerk be authorized to purchase in behalf of the city the real estate that is to be sold for the non-payment of taxes; also that the city solicitor be authorized to defend the board of assessors of taxes in the suit brought against them by J. Horace Jenness for damages, and to employ other counsel if necessary.

Joseph Sise's request for relay of sidewalk in front of his residence on State street, was granted.

Request of Pryor & Matthews for liberty to erect a hitching post in front of their store was referred to the mayor.

Chief Engineer Marston submitted a communication calling the attention of the board to the scarity of water in the vicinity of the Eastern railroad station at low tide, and suggested that the railroad authorities be conferred with relative to the use of the water in the new tank by the fire department, in case of need. Referred to the committee on fire department.

Request of E. H. Winchester for a sidewalk on Bow street was granted.

Bill of John H. Griffin, claiming $10 for damage done to his shop by a rocket on the night of July 5th, was referred to the committee on claims.

Bill of William Andrews for work done on the pound was ordered paid.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of heating schoolhouses reported, and submitted estimates of the cost of heating by furnaces, and also the cost by the present mode of heating, by stoves. The latter amounts to from $1400 to $1600, besides $200 for care and repairs of stoves and funnels. The cost of hot-air furnaces would be $215 each, and the amount of fuel required eighteen tons. Proposals were received from the Exeter Machine Works and from Critchley & Whalley of this city, for putting in boilers and doing all the piping for heating the Cabot street schoolhouse by steam, each bidder asking $700. The committee unanimously reported in favor of heating this schoolhouse by steam. The report was accepted, and further consideration of the subject postponed for one week.

The committee on police, to whom was referred the question of the duties of the police on the occasion of an alarm of fire, reported advising that the matter be referred to the city solicitor, and that the solicitor be instructed to draw up an ordinance which shall define the duties of the police in time of fire, to be submitted to the board for action.

The committee on streets, to whom was referred the request of the Concord railroad for permission to lay a permanent track across Market street, recommended that the request be granted provided the road erect and maintain suitable gates before the track be laid, and as soon as this track be laid the one laid April 15th, 1880, be removed, all the work to be submitted to the mayor for acceptance. Report accepted and adopted.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of a public bathing house reported that they had examined the river front carefully, and could discover but two desirable sites for the same, one at the Raynes shipyard and the other at Noble's island. Alderman Noyes submitted a plan for a bathing house and tanks, the latter to be two in number, one of them two and one-half feet in depth and the other three and one-half, estimating the cost at $200. The matter was held for further consideration, and it was voted that any persons interested be requested to prepare such plans as seem to them suitable, and submit the same to the board for consideration at the next meeting, and also to suggest suitable locations for the bathing house.

Adjourned.

WRECKED SOME MORE.

It was reported on Friday last that the schooner Horatio Nichols, which dammed the Exeter river some weeks ago by getting aground across the channel, and was afterward extensively repaired on Neal's railway at Kittery, was again in serious trouble. She arrived at this port some days ago, and was taken in tow for Exeter on Friday evening, the 2d inst., at about seven o'clock, by a little steamer called the Lottie, just built at Exeter, and which was then on her trial trip, having raised steam for the first time that day. On arriving at the Dover railroad bridge the schooner was left, the tide having turned and being too strong for the tug, the latter proceeding to Exeter. Nothing more was heard from the unlucky schooner until the 9th inst., when she was reported as aground on a rock at South Newmarket in a very bad position, bilged, and with her decks two feet under water at high tide.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Charles O. Milliken, an expressman of Saco, had both legs broken just above the ankle on the 8th inst., by a kick from his horse.

Rev. William J. Alger of Christ church, Biddeford, and Trinity church, Saco, after a pastorate of twelve years is to remove to Auburndale, Mass.

Rev. Sylvanus Hayward, formerly pastor of the Congregational church in South Berwick, has been elected principal of Kimball academy at Meriden, New Hampshire.

The officers of Wentworth Lodge, No. 2162, K. of H., of Kittery, were installed on the evening of the 8th inst. by P. D. Daniel C. Norton. The lodge is rapidly increasing in membership.

The assessors of Kittery have completed the the valuation of the town. The total valuation is $454,053.00, and there are 718 polls. The rate of taxation is $21 per 1000. Only three persons are assessed more than one hundred dollars.

Hon. John Hall of North Berwick, who has been frequently mentioned as a candidate for sheriff of York county, thanks his republican friends, in a letter to the Biddeford Journal, for the honors already bestowed upon him, but positively declines to serves as a candidate for the office referred to.

The Kittery brass band, (formerly the Dirigo,) which disbanded not long ago, has been reorganized under another name. The old band was a very creditable one indeed for a small place, and no doubt the revived organization will secure many engagements during the political campaign.

Edward O. Lord, publisher of the Great Falls Free Press, accidentally shot himself at York beach a few days ago. He had fired his gun at a duck, but missed it, and attempted to draw his revolver from his hip pocket. In so doing a chamber of the weapon was discharged, the ball entering and lodging in the region of the hip, where it now is. The wound, although painful, is not serious.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS,

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six qts of Medicine.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

The city of Augusta, Me., was thrown into a state of intense excitement Thursday evening by the shooting of a young lady named Linn by a young man named Charles Stevens, of Hallowell, a reform school graduate. Miss Linn overtook Stevens on the road, who begged a ride, and soon ordered her to stop the horse she was driving, and upon her refusing discharged a revolver full in her face, then took to the woods. Fortunately the revolver was of very small calibre, and the wound will not prove fatal. The Augusta gun club searched the woods unsuccessfully for the assailant, who was, however, finally caught in Augusta by the police. The fellow's object was probably to outrage his victim.

Highest Prize Port Wine.

The best wine in the country, that took the highest premium at the Centennial, is Speer's Port Grape Wine, which has become the most celebrated product of New Jersey. This wine and his P. J. Brandy are now being used by physicians everywhere who rely upon them as being the purest to be had of druggists. It is unsurpassed for weakly females and old people.

A terrific rain storm prevailed about twenty miles west of Des Moines, Iowa, on the night of the 7th inst., taking the form of a waterspout. At Van Mitre the town was submerged three feet, and forty rods of embankment of the Chicago & Rock Island road was washed away. At Wintersett, part of the cupola of the court house was blown away, and the Chicago & Rock Island railroad roundhouse demolished. Corn is crushed to the earth and badly twisted, causing serious damage it is feared to the crop.

All the nourishment of malt liquors, without their objections, found in Malt Bitters.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON, 17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 28, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time,—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease have been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case. Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been spending for eight years and it did no good. Everything I ate distressed me. I got reduced from 179 to 142 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN H. ROY,
414 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is admirable, assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus of Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 of which are devoted to special forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its sequelæ, whether due to personal vicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Chambers's Encyclopædia.

15 Vols. Over 13,000 Pages. Price during July, $6.25.

Among the wonderful things which have been accomplished for lovers of good books by the "Literary Revolution," perhaps the most wonderful is the reproduction of this great Encyclopædia at a merely nominal cost.

It is a verbatim reprint of the last English edition, in 15 beautiful volumes, clear nonpareil type, handsomely bound in cloth, for $7.50; the same printed on finer, heavier paper, wide margins, and bound in half Russia, gilt top, price $15.00. The first ten volumes are ready for delivery. Vol. 11 will be ready July 10. The remaining volumes will be completed by October next.

$6.25. AN AMAZING OFFER. $6.25.

The more widely and rapidly these volumes are scattered, the greater is their influence in inducing other purchasers of this and our many standard publications. Accordingly we give special terms to early subscribers.

To all, whose orders and money are received during the month of July, we will supply the 15 volumes, in cloth, for $6.25 and in half Russia, gilt top, for $7.50. To any one sending from any place, where we have no special agent (usually the leading bookseller of the town), a club of five orders, we will allow a commission of 10 per cent. The volumes issued will be sent at once by express, and the remaining volumes when completed.

A specimen volume in cloth will be sent, post-paid, for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top, for $1.00, and may be returned at once if not satisfactory.

The "CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPÆDIA" contains at present first 15 volumes of our "Library of Universal Knowledge," and the remaining volumes, complete in themselves, will be sold separately when published.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

One pill a dose. 25 cents. tje19

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases, more or less derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and thorough treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially adaptable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, leaving no pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs, thus operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

Popular Monthly Drawing of the Commonwealth Distribution Co.,

AT MACAULEY'S THEATRE,

In the City of Louisville, on

SATURDAY, JULY 31st, 1880.

These Drawings, authorized by the Legislature of 1868, and sustained by all the courts of Kentucky, according to a contract made with the owners of the Frankfort grant, will occur regularly on the last day of every month, Sunday and Friday excepted, for the period of five years, terminating on June 30th, 1883.

The United States Circuit Court on March 31st rendered the following decisions:

1st. That the Commonwealth Distribution Company is legal.

2d. Its drawings are fair.

The management call attention to the liberal scheme which has met with such success heretofore, and which will again be presented for

CAUGHT.

Softly falls the summer moonlight
On the tranquil ocean tide;
Where a boat with youth and maiden
O'er the water lightly rides.

Hushed by nature's solemn silence,
Whispers he in accents low;
"Let us float through life together,
Though the tide be ebb or flow."

And she answers, breathing music
Like a low breeze through the pines,
"Yes, dear, if you'll only let me Hold, as now, the rudder lines."

—It seems to be generally understood in England that George Eliot will not write any more novels or anything else. She has, it is said, definitely announced her determination to retire from the pursuit of literature altogether.

—Jim Frisble, when he used to help around his father's warehouse on Front street, spoke of it as his "filial duty." Then he went away to school, and when he came home he called it his "jooty." Then he took a short course at a school of elocution, and now he calls it "chewty." Thus has the cold polish of modern culture encrusted James Frisble with the heartless glare of a new kind of furniture polish.—Hawkeye.

— An old millstone, five and a half feet in diameter and seven inches thick, with a central hole eleven inches in diameter, was left in an English orchard many years ago. In 1812 a filbert-tree sprouted from the earth at the bottom of the hole, and gradually increased in size from year to year until, in 1868, it was found that the tree had completely filled the hole and actually lifted the stone from the ground, wearing it as a girdle about its trunk.

—Rev. Dr. Wentworth writes to the Troy Times, on reading of a recent feet-washing ceremony, as follows: "The wife of the Illinois conference, Rev. George J. Barrett, was attending a camp meeting held by the feet-washing Baptists, and stood in the rustic preaching-stand looking down on the scene while the brethren and sisters gathered at the front benches and stripped off shoes and stockings, and the preacher who conducted the service went around the circle with a tin basin and towel and washed the feet presented, till all were served. When the ceremony was over the preacher looked up to the stand, and, with the peculiar twang and whining upward slide of the voice sometimes called the 'holy tone,' said with solemn distinctness 'We should be glad to know what our beloved Brother Barrett thinks of this ancient and honorable custom.' Barrett straightened up, and said he thought well of the custom; feet-washing was a good thing—a useful habit; and, as for the cases that had passed in review before their eye to-day, he judged it would have been well if it had been attended to a fortnight earlier."

REMARKABLE. John Hunt, of Providence, R. I., found himself seized with a general dropsy. His body swelled to an enormous size; he could not lie down, and death seemed inevitable. His kidneys were also badly affected. The services of a renowned physician were secured, and a prescription was made after a thorough examination. Mr. Hunt began to improve at once, and after a time was restored to perfect health. The family used the medicine in similar cases with the same results. They named it Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, and it is now sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—Depraved New York hoodlums bother the public bath-keepers by stealing more baths than they are entitled to. Having had their swim, they go around the corner, begrime their hands and faces with dirt, and get in again as fresh and unwashed arrivals. One ingenious bath-keeper has blocked their game, however. He has found that the boys stay in the water until they are cooled through, and their noses remain cold for three or four hours. Therefore he feels the noses of all applicants, and admits only those whose noses are warm.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system. Address Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western avenue, Lynn, Mass., for circular.

— It is reported from England that the youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt, who recently accompanied her father to Europe, has become engaged to marry Viscount Dupplin, eldest son and heir of the Earl of Kinnoull and a nephew of the Duke of Beaufort. Lord Dupplin, who has just turned his thirtieth year, is well known on the turf, where he was for a time the racing partner of Mr. A. B. Stockwell. He was married in 1871 to a daughter of the late Earl of Fife, and was divorced from her in 1876.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front rank of curative agents. It has been in the market but about nine years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures coughs and colds every time. Price, 35 cts.

— Judge Chamberlain of New Britain, Ct., tells a good story of a little nephew of his who, one night not long ago, was saying his prayers during a thunder storm. Just before he had concluded he asked his mother to step from the room as he had something private to pray for, and his mother, listening outside the door, heard these words: "Oh, Lord, please don't let it lighten any more"—and just then there came a heavy clap of thunder—"nor thunder either, for that's a darned sight worse."

Truly wonderful in nervousness, general debility, emaciation and dropsy,—Mish Bitters.

The Press Excursion.

The members of the New Hampshire and Rhode Island Press associations were received on their arrival at Portland on Thursday by Mayor Senter and Mr. Elwell of the Transcript, and were conveyed to the Preble hotel, kept by John Lindsay, formerly of the Eagle hotel at Concord and the Fabyan house at the White mountains. After dining, the company were driven around the city in barges, and in the evening a reception was held in the parlor of the Preble. Afterward refreshments were served, and Bro. Elwell having been called to the chair, made an introductory address. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor Senter, a native of Portsmouth, and then followed speeches from President Miller and Rev. Massena Goodrich, with shorter addresses by Stanley Pullen of the Press, Rev. Dr. Warner and others. In the morning, the steamer Express took the party down the harbor, returning by the forts and Peake's and Cushing islands, in season for an early dinner, when the visitors left by the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad for the Crawford house at the White mountains. The ride to Portland was enjoyed by every one, and Mr. Elwell was indefatigable in his efforts to make the occasion one of the most agreeable character. The visitors were charmed with Portland, and as they passed through many of the principal streets admired its fine residences and well built public edifices. The sojourn at the Crawford house was during a hot term, but in the evening the party sought the parlor, where recitations by Mrs. M. A. Butler of Providence, and singing and musical entertainments, were listened to by a large audience. On Saturday morning most of the party ascended Mount Washington, and thence returned to Fabyan's, whence they proceeded to Jefferson, to spend Sunday at the Waumbek house; others turned towards home. At the Crawford house, in the evening, a business meeting was held and several new active and honorary members were admitted. The Eastern, the Boston & Maine, and Portland & Ogdensburg railroads extended every courtesy towards the members, and others railroads also endeavored to facilitate the movements of the association. The party seemed to be largely composed of invited guests, while some of the prominent places in the state were not represented by the newspaper publishers or printers. This in part may have been owing to the fact that most of the places on the programme had been frequently visited before by these members. The object of the summer reunion is not solely one of pleasure, but in its results it has become so, while the numbers who seem to appreciate the position of invited guests seemed to be quite in excess of those who have been in times past present on these occasions. The details of the affair were well carried out, and the opportunity of our Rhode Island friends to see the beauties of nature in the White Mountain region was appreciated by the members of that association.

New Publications.

English Conferences of Ernest Renan; Rome and Christianity; Marcus Aurelius: translated by Clara Erskine Clement. Boston, James R. Osgood & Co., pp. 169. These are five lectures, (the author retaining the French designation "Conferences," ces,") given in London during the month of April of the present year. Four were given in response to an invitation from the Hibbert Foundation, under whose auspices M. Renan visited England. The fifth, upon the destinguished Roman Marcus Aurelius, was given before the Royal Institution. While we admire the ability of the writer who has succeeded in given so much of historic interest in so brief a space and in such condensed form, we are constantly inclined to an appreciation of the fact that the rapidly accomplished appearance of this book is something remarkable in book making. It seems that Mr. Osgood obtained the French copy on Thursday, the 24th ult. He at once made up his mind to bring out the book ahead of all American competitors. He called on Mrs. Clement, the author of "Artists of the Nineteenth Century," who promised him the translation of the lecture on Marcus Aurelius for Friday morning, and then assured him that the whole copy should be ready for the printer on Monday. The manuscript was in hand when Monday came, and Rand, Avery & Co. had the book printed, stereotyped, folded and ready for the binder on Wednesday. On Thursday, at five P. M., the edition was ready for the market, and a book of 169 pages, 16-mo., with workmanship that bears no marks of haste, was beginning to go out by mail and express to all parts of the country. It is believed that this is the quickest time in which a book of similar size has ever been translated and manufactured. Three weeks is the time usually taken, and even that is counted rapid work. Mrs. Clement, the translater, is known to many readers as the author of a hand book of Legendary and Mythological Art, published several years ago, and from other literary results. In England these lectures were received with peculiarly distinguished favor, and the fact that the Boston publishers put them before the American reader in the short space of one week from the time the steamer which brought the copy appeared in Massachusetts bay will always be remembered as an illustration of the energy and enterprise of Messrs Osgood & Company. There is much to be acquired from this little volume, which is sold at the popular price of seventy-five cents; it may be found at the book store of W. G. Myers, in Congress block.

"The Sanitarian" for July, among other articles, has a paper on "Unsanitary Engineering and Architecture," by the editor, which concerns all householders, and which should be read by all architects, engineers and builders—by everybody who knows the dangers of house construction. Other papers of special interest are "Ventilation of dwellings and sleeping rooms," by Duncan McLeod, M. D.; "Principles of ventilation," by Thos. A. Parker, M. D.; "Water for household uses," by A. B. Prescott, M. D.; "The City of Destruction," by R. C. Kedsie, M. D.; "Milk," by G. A. Watkins, and "Training school of cookery," by Mrs. Wm. Jennison; these are all excellent papers, of great practical utility to every family. "Menu" keeps up its character of excellent household receipts, and glaring errors to be avoided. "Long Beach—the new summer resort," is the subject of the leading editorial. Several shorter articles on carpet cleaning, soap, mineral waters, etc., and a chapter on current literature, conclude a number rich in material promotive of public and private health; A. N. Bell, publisher, New York.

News and Notes.

Mr. Robert E. Earle has been appointed to collate the fishery statistics of the Atlantic coast for the forthcoming census report. He will be assisted by Capt. Joseph W. Collins of Gloucester, Mass., an experienced fishing skipper, now on his way home from the Berlin fishery exhibition.

At Danville, Va., on the 8th inst., Thomas de Jarnette, a young man, shot his sister five times, and then gave himself to the police, saying that he shot his sister to remove disgrace to the family. The girl was not killed, and begged the officers not to punish her brother, as he had done right. She cannot live. The murderer and his victim are of a good family.

Thursday night of last week Mrs. Coutare of Lewiston, Me., poured kerosene in a stove to start a fire. The flame ignited her clotning, burning her so that she died Friday morning.

Diphtheria in a very malignant form is raging in Burnham, Me. In the Braley district, five persons in one family are down with the disease. Schools are closed and there is quite a panic.

Not many months ago the Dennison, (Me.,) paper company mortgaged its property for $100,000 to W. H. Parsons & Co. Its business since has been very profitable, and a few days since the mortgage was discharged.

On Thursday afternoon last Mr. John Swett of Portland, Me., was driving, when his horse ran away. When nearly opposite his residence the wagon struck a stone, and Mr. Swett was thrown violently out, striking on his head. He was picked up unconscious and taken home, lingered but a few hours, and died without returning to consciousness.

The body of a man, apparently a sailor, was found at New Bedford, Mass., Friday, hanging to a tree on the premises of Robert Earle. There is no clue to his identity. He probably had been hanging for three weeks.

Alonzo Perry, of Pawtucket, R. I., attempted to commit suicide last Thursday, by jumping from the Newport boat. After being rescued he twice attempted to jump overboard again.

It appeared at a recent trial in the United States district court in Boston, that of the eight persons constituting the crew of the bark Frank B. Fay, one was a Chinaman, one an Irishman, one a negro, one a Frenchman, one a Russian, one an Austrian and two Italians.

News from the Azores represents that an earthquake at the island of St. George, one of the Azores, resulted in the formation of another island 600 yards distant, and about 18,000 yards in extent.

On Sunday, July 4th, Switzerland was visited by an earthquake, the most severe and widespread known in the country for several years. Two persons were killed. Several mines of the summit of the Schuebelberg, near Quaitzer, fell, overwhelming a large wood.

Wm. M. McGibbon, a New York stock broker, was arrested on Friday, charged with being one of the men who knew of the finding of $87,000 worth of bonds lost by Brayton, Ives & Co. At the police headquarters he was examined, and admitted the securities were for a short time in his hands, having been retained one night for examination, at the request of Jerome and Patchell, the other accused parties, but he further statad that he afterward returned them and advised that they should be given up to Brayton, Ives & Co. Jerome made affidavit that he gave the certificates to McGibbon, and that the latter retained them, with illegal interest. McGibbon was finally held in $5,000 bail for further examination.

The house occupied by Frank T. Dearborn in Auburn was burned on Thursday night last, and the eight-years-old daughter of Charles Horton, Dearborn's hired man, who with his family occupied part of the house, was burned to death. Mr. Horton was seriously injured while trying to save the child. Loss $1200; insurance $800.

Naval Gazette.

The Quinnebaug arrived at Copenhagen on the 1st inst.

Naval Constructor Philip Hichborn, attached to the League island navy yard, has been granted leave of absence for one month from the 16th inst.

The Alliance arrived at St. Johns, Newfoundland, July 10th, from a survey of the shoals near Virgin rocks.

—The only way to keep a boy from going in swimming is to convince him in some way that swimming is a duty he owes to his mother.

—There are said to be no titles in America, but still the Electoral Count will no doubt attract a great deal of attention this fall.—Commercial Bulletin.

If you desire a thoroughly good twenty-cent cigar, buy the "Noriega."

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish, C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

—The great trouble about the summer complexion the girls get at the shore is, that it takes so long to wear off. Of course one must look brown in the fall, but it is provoking to be obliged to look brown for two or three months. The Montfitzburgs, who spend the summer in the back part of their house, put on their summer tan with a brush. You can't tell it from the real article, and when you get tired of it, off it comes.—Brooklyn Union Argus.

Unfermented Canadian barley malt and fresh hops are the ingredients of Malt Bitters.

—Jim Brown was a Texas desperado of the Currie sort. He rode on horseback into a saloon at Cambridge, amused himself by snapping tumblers off the bar with his whip, and then invited the company to drink with him, adding that he would shoot whoever declined. Mr. Dawson, as it happened, had lately taken a pledge of total abstinence, and positively refused to break it. "Then I've got to kill you," said Brown, putting his hand into his pistol pocket; but Mr. Dawson was the quickest to draw, and the desperado tumbled dead from his horse with a bullet in his brain.

Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
But this we find where'er we rove,
That SOZODONT alone supplies
The dazzling teeth and ruby dyes,
That lend a maiden half the charms
That win her to her lover's arms.

THE FIST MORTGAGE BONDS of the Toledo, Delphos & Burlington Railroad Company are in favor with all classes of investors, not only on account of their safety, but for the reason that it is such a small issue upon a large and valuable property.

The mortgage is only $125,000 upon 193 miles of road, requiring only $640 per mile to meet the interest.

The road runs from Toledo, Ohio, to Kokomo, Ind., through a most fertile region, is equipped fully in every particular, and, will, beyond doubt, be abundantly able to meet the interest and to pay a handsome dividend upon the stock.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are assured, that we will touch our "Sun" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the pewor we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.
The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.
An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.
First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.
We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

AROUND HOME.

Commander Geo. F. Dewey, U. S. N., is in town.

Gov. Head and wife spent Sunday at the Oceanic.

The steamer Mystic will on Tuesday take a party of forty excursionists from Manchester on a down-river trip, leaving this city at ten A. M., returning at eight o'clock P. M.

H. O. Houghton and family are at Appledore. The genial publisher insists that his sojourn at the Isles of Shoals is one of the finest things he has seen in the "Atlantic" for some time.

The Eastern railroad began on Sunday to run a newspaper train from North Conway, connecting with the train from Boston in the morning, and going though to Fabyans. It carries the Boston Sunday Globe.

The yacht Spitfire, which gained quite a reputation in the races at the Shoals during Mr. Poor's administration at Star island, has been purchased by Mr. Thomas J. Sheehan. She is being thoroughly repaired.

On Saturday morning three lads named Michael Hurley, William Dow and William Carroll, each about sixteen years of age, swam from the Spring market across the river to the westerly point of Badger's island.

A party of Philadelphians stopping at the Shoals visited Major Urch's aquarium last week, and became so enthusiastic over the collection that they offered the proprietor some strong inducements to remove the establishment to the Quaker city, offering to guaranty him pecuniary success.

The steamboat Gen. Bartlett arrived at this port on Saturday at one o'clock, with a party of one hundred ladies and gentlemen from Haverhill, Mass. She is owned in Haverhill, and is an excellent craft for pleasure excursions. She left here on her return trip at about three o'clock in the afternoon.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, July 10; Batchelder, J.

Michael Brennan and Charles Smith, for drunkenness, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs. In default of payment both went to the county farm.

DISTRESSINGLY QUIET.

A correspondent of the Great Falls Journal, writing from Salmon Falls, says:

Those who were at the "picnic" at Dover point, Monday, the 5th inst., report a distressingly quiet time.

The picnic referred to was under the management of the Catholics of this city, and from the reports made to us by many citizens who attended it, we are satisfied that while there was almost a surfeit of innocent and harmless amusements provided for, there was less drunkenness and rowdyism visible than at almost any other point where people numerously congregated that day to "celebrate"—a fact which reflects the utmost credit upon the managers and will "tell" effectively in favor of the next picnic under the same management, and gives us pleasure to chronicle. The picnic was no doubt "distressingly quiet" to persons whose only idea of a good time is a drunken spree and free fight, but it was lively enough to satisfy the many hundreds of decent people who were present.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Hon. Mark Dennett of Kittery, now in his ninety-fourth year, and the oldest surviving member of the legislatures of Massachusetts and of Maine, is still in excellent health, and retains his mental and physical powers in a remarkable degree. Major Dennett represented his town in the Massachusetts legislature from 1814 to 1819, and in the Maine legislature in the years 1820, 1821, 1856 and 1857, and he was a member of the Maine senate in the years 1822, 1823, 1824, 1827 and 1828.

The Biddeford Journal, one of the best republican papers in Maine, and one of the most prosperous in a business point of view, has been sold to Messrs. William W. and Charles H. Prescott, who are shortly to take charge of it. Both are young men. William, the elder, is a graduate of Dartmouth, class of 1877, and has been teaching in Montpelier of late, where he is highly spoken of. Charles has recently graduated at the Boston university law school. The retiring editor, George A. Hobbs, Esq., has conducted the Journal in such a manner as to win the hearty thanks of his own party, and the respect of his opponents.—Boston Post.

The re-organized brass band at Kittery has taken the name "American."

The English Navy.

The completion of the Inflexible, the Ajax, and the Agamemnon, which is promised during the present year, will make an important addition to the available strength of the British navy. The Inflexible, the largest man-of-war afloat, is a vessel of 11,406 tons displacement; while the Dandolo and Duilio, her rivals in the Italian navy, are only of 10,570 tons. The armament of the Inflexible, consisting of four 80-ton guns, is, it is true, inferior to that of the Italian ships, each of which carries four 100-ton guns; but, on the other hand, there can be no doubt that the English vessel is of greater strength than the Italian men-of-war. The Ajax and the Agamemnon are sister ships, each of 8,492 tons, so that by the completion of the three vessels 27,554 tons of ironclad shipping will be added to the immediately available strength of the navy. The Ajax and Agamemnon carry only four 38-ton guns each, but as these weapons throw a projectile weighing 700 pounds with sufficient velocity to penetrate 14-inch armor, the vessels must be regarded as offensively of considerable power, while they possess great defensive strength.

Effect of Arsenic on Iron.

Professor Bauschinger, in 1878, tested iron taken from a main bridge built in 1829, and found fifty years of use had not perceptibly altered its quality—either its strength or its elasticity—as reported at the time of its erection. He also examined metal from another bridge built in 1852, and found the average quality remained as given by Von Pauli at the time of its erection.

Professor Thurston, testing pieces of the wire cable of the Fairmount suspension bridge, recently taken down at Philadelphia, after four years' use, found the iron to have a tenacity and elasticity and a ductility fully equal to the best wire of same size found in the market to-day.

He therefore concludes that iron subjected to strains such as are met with in properly designed bridges does not deteriorate with age.—Scientific American.

The girl overheard this lie, took it for the truth, tried the experiment on being left alone with the horse, and was killed by a kick.

HUTCHINSON'S.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9th.

Secretary Sherman, not a sanguine man by any means, anticipates for the present fiscal year larger exports and imports, and a larger immigration, than in any previous year in the history of the republic. He looks forward to customs receipts beyond any ever received. The secretary's opinions, which are freely expressed, have excited among those people here who take special interest in the tariff a new determination to work for a thorough revision of what is known as our tariff system. Gentlemen connected with the government will probably unite with other parties in an effort to supply to congress the information which would have been secured by Senator Eaton's proposed commission. As nine-tenths of the people appear to wish a revision, and as the prospective income of the government will warrant it, there would seem to be great propriety in having all possible information gathered on the subject, so that when the change is made it may be such as to create as little embarrassment as possible.

Mr. Meredal, who is a civil engineer in the United States navy, returned on the 5th from a visit to Nicaragua. He is enthusiastic over the proposed canal route, which he left here in May last to examine. He now estimates the total cost of a canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific at $38,000,000, and believes it in every way preferable to the De Lesseps route.

That seems to be an old condition of law in which the President can appoint a citizen to a salaried office and the treasury cannot pay for the officer's services, but that is what the attorney-general's decision in General Hartranft's case means. The general has been appointed collector of the port of Philadelphia, and the money is already appropriated for the payment of that officer. If the general cannot draw the money as his services are performed, when, and under what law can he draw it?

The personal campaign now going between the two parties is to be deprecated. It is actually becoming, instead of a campaign of principle, a campaign of malice and slander. The latest story of the democrats is that Hayes and Sherman are working to defeat Garfield in the doubtful states. The latest charge of the republicans is that General Hancock had determined in 1876 to support Tilden had he taken the oath of office, and that President Grant and General Sherman, being aware of the defection of Hancock, ordered McDowell here from the Pacific coast to be on hand in the event of a disturbance. These yarns sound absurd, and will not find believers outside of party lines. They are only the usual campaign stories circulated during a time of excitement like the present, and will not find believers after things have cooled off next fall, in either party.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, July 7.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3236; sheep and lambs 8872; swine 12,200; number western cattle 3422; eastern cattle 24; milch cows and coolers cattle 140.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $5 25 and $5 50; first quality $4 25 and $4 75; second quality $4 12½ and $4 00; third quality $3 87½ and $4 12½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 12½ and $3 75.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 5c per lb.
Country hides 7½ and 8c per lb.
Country Tallow 4½ and 4c per lb.
Calf skins 12½ and 15c per lb, or from $1 25 and $1 35 per skin.
Lamb skins 50c each.
Sheared sheep skins 40c each.

The trade for beef cattle has not been so active as it was one week ago. The quality of those which came in Tuesday was not so good as those in market last week, and prices upon all grades have fallen off from ½ and ¼c per lb from those of our last quotations. There has been a large number of cattle shipped per steamers during the past week, and good beeves suitable for the English markets have been sold at 8½ and 8¾c per lb live weight. Prices for the poorest cattle have ruled at 4½ and 5½c per lb live weight. The stock from Maine was light and consisted of a few milch cows.

Working Oxen—The call for working oxen is limited to a few pairs each week at present. As soon as cattle commence coming in more freely from Maine the trade for working oxen will revive. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2,200 lbs, $315; 1 pr, girth 5 ft 4 in, live weight 1,400 lbs, $75.

Store Cattle—None in market. Nearly all the small cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—The trade for the past few weeks has been very dull, and good cows have been sold at low prices. We quote sales of 10 springers at $28 and $40 per head; 1 milch cow $57; 1 fancy do $75; 1 cow and calf at $52; 1 springer at $50; 2 extra cows for $120; 2 for $95; 2 for $115; 2 at $42 50 each; 1 at $41; 1 do, $45; 1 do, $48.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were largely owned by butchers and cost landed at Brighton 5 and 5½c per lb for sheep; lambs 6 and 7c per lb live weight. One lot of 54 eastern lambs average weight 58½ lbs, were sold at 6c per lb liv weight.

Swine—Prices for fat hogs remain unchanged, ranging landed here from 4½ and 5½c per lb, live weight. No store pigs in market.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains useful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a public benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which are due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,997,560 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities where is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

One pill a dose. 25 cents. 1jy19

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, efficacy and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most efficacious ever yet discovered for disease arising from derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require gentle stimulation in treatment. Ayer's Pills are speedily tributable to this class of diseases. Taken directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Costiveness or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs, they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

Opening the Campaign.

Inaugurate social ostracism against the white man north or south that gives his support to the building up of the republican party; discountenance any man who will go on or assist in making the bond of any man elected on the republican ticket; refuse to have any dealings of any sort with the republican party, and show to the world that you are in truth and deed a true democrat.—Mississippi Star (dem.)

A Tall Horse.

New York is wondering over a huge specimen of a horse which was brought to that city recently from Ohio. The animal is of native draft stock, and his registered height is eighty-one inches, or twenty hands and one inch, a foot taller than the average man; and his weight is 2450 pounds. This is the largest horse of which there is record, although a great veterinary surgeon in New York once owned a horse nineteen hands and one inch in height. Two horses were shown at the Philadelphia centennial exhibition, that were nineteen hands and one inch high, which were afterward purchased by a brewer in that city, and Pope Pius Ninth and a Hanoverian horse fancier are on record as owning animals of equal height.

Juvenile Smokers.

A British physician, observing the large number of boys under fifteen years of age on the street with cigars and pipes in their mouths, was prompted to examine the breath of this class of smokers, and for that purpose selected thirty-eight boys between the ages of nine and fifteen. In twenty-two of these cases he found various disorders of the circulation and digestion; palpitation of the heart, and more or less marked taste for strong drink. In twelve there was frequent bleeding of the nose, and twelve had slight ulceration of the mouth caused by tobacco. The doctor treated them for their ailments, but with little effect until the habit of smoking was discontinued, when breath and strength were soon restored. The effect of tobacco in creating a taste for strong drink is unquestionably very great. If the testimony of some tobacco users and medical men is of any weight, one of the most radical methods of keeping the young from being led to intemperate drinking is to deny them tobacco.—The Sanitarian for July.

A wholesale invasion of the Indian territory by armed settlers, who propose to defy the government if it attempts to enforce its treaty obligations with the red men, is reported.

An official decree has been published in France granting full reversion of sentences to all individuals convicted of participating in the insurrections of 1870 and 1871, and in subsequent insurrectionary movements.

nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a most powerful restorative tonic, also combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapting it to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, from nervousness, or neuralgic pains. Mr. G. W. Seymour, druggist, of Canton, N. Y., writes Dr. Pierce as follows: "The demand for your Favorite Prescription is wonderful, and one man stated to me that his wife had not done a day's work in five months, when she commenced taking your Favorite Prescription, took two bottles and is now on the third bottle, and is able to do her housework alone and milk fourteen cows twice a day." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold by all druggists.

Kidney-Wort Always Cures.

EAST WAKEFIELD DEPOT, N. H.
March 4th, 1880.

MESSRS. WELLS, RICHARDSON, & Co.

Gentlemen—Permit me to say a word in favor of Kidney-Wort. My mother has been afflicted with kidney disease for a number of years. Last spring she was so bad as to necessitate her taking Spirits Nitre at least three times a day—had a most alarming pain in her side, also much numbness. After taking one box of Kidney-Wort the pain and numbness disappeared. Her appetite improved at once, and she has not taken a drop of Spirits Nitre since. I advise all who need such a medicine to give it a trial.

Remarkable Chicken-Counting.

The Boston Post of Monday does some of the most remarkable counting of unhatched chickens that has come under our notice for some time. It goes into figures to show that had the republicans thrown fewer votes at the last congressional election, and the democrats and greenbackers had thrown more or had thrown them differently, fewer republicans would have been sent to congress from New England than actually were sent. On this basis the Post proposes to carry four congressional districts in Maine, if indeed not all five; it will have New Hampshire go democratic—nothing new, to be sure, for we do not remember an election in which New Hampshire was not good for two or three thousand democratic majority, according to the Post—and will send democrats to congress from the first and third districts; its summing up of the democratic prospects in New England being as follows:

There is a good chance for a gain of two members in Maine, possibly three; a good chance for a gain of two members in New Hampshire; a good chance for a gain of two members in Massachusetts; a good chance for a gain of one member in Connecticut. A gain of seven congressional seats in the New England states is not to be winked at.

We should say not, and the Post will not have a chance to wink at it, either. New Hampshire's delegation will be republican, as at present, and Ladd and Murch of Maine will be replaced by republicans, Massachusetts and Connecticut will at least hold their own. Talk such as the Post indulges in is only a bit of "bounce" left over from the Greeley campaign, which was attempted to be carried on entirely with that article, and resulted in a disastrous failure.

The Unitarian Grove Meeting.

The Unitarian Grove Meeting at Weirs, on lake Winnipisogee, will be from August 1st to the 8th, 1880.

Besides the Liberal Christian ministers of New Hampshire, Rev. W. H. Channing of England, Rabbi Gustav Gottheil of New York, Rev. Messrs. E. E. Hale, H. M. Simmons, F. Tiffany, R. A. Griffin, W. H. Savage, C. C. Everett, R. R. Shippen, George Batchelor, W. P. Tilden, S. R. Calthrop, E. B. Willson, J. F. Moors, J. C. Kimball and others have signified their purpose to be present, while many more clergymen and a large number of prominent laymen are expected to assist in the services. In addition to the usual meetings for preaching and conference, three essays will be given, to be followed by conversation, viz: "Religion and Skepticism," by Rev. S. R. Calthrop; "The Old Testament scriptures, their origin, authenticity and value," by Rabbi G. Gottheil; "The propagation of religion among the unchurched people of the country," by Rev. J. B. Harrison.

The new Lakeside house in the grove, and Sanborn's new hotel within three minutes walk, are well built houses, and have the "modern improvements." At the former, board will be $1 a day, $5 a week; board and lodging $1.50 a day, $8 a week—with a few large rooms and suites at special prices; at the latter, board and lodging $1.50 a day, $7 a week. Board and lodging at farmhouses at Weirs, from $5 to $7 a week. At the hotels and boarding-houses at Laconia, board and lodging, (including daily round trip by rail,) will be $1.50 a day; at the hotel in Lake Village, (including round trip by rail or steamer,) $1.25 a day. The above prices at Weirs will hold from July 1st to Aug. 31st. For the same period at Lake Village and Laconia the charges will be $7 a week. At the Winnicoette house, fifteen minutes walk from the grove, the price will be $2.50 a day, and $8 to $12 a week. At the Pemigewasset house, Plymouth, supper, lodging and breakfast, (including round trip by rail daily,) $1.50 a day. The hotels at Center Harbor and Long Island will receive people on reasonable terms. There is a good restaurant on the grounds.

Excursion tickets—good from July 31st to Aug. 31st and for sale at stations—to Weirs and return, from Concord $1.30, Manchester $2.00, Nashua $2.70, Portsmouth $2.60, Exeter $2.55, Dover $2.00. Excursion tickets at about half rates from all stations on Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad.

Several excursions to the White Mountains, and to various points of interest on the seashore and in the interior, will be made in connection with the meeting, for which tickets at low rates will be for sale on the grounds. Fare by steamer to Center Harbor and Wolfeboro and return, fifty cents.

All applications for board or lodging should be made early to Rev. E. Powell, Laconia, N. H. All other letters, until the meeting, should be sent to Rev. S. C. Beane, Concord, N. H. The address of the Grove Meeting will be "Weirs Bridge, N. H." The committee will be responsible for the entertainment of such persons only, (if unknown and not otherwise introduced,) whether Liberal Christians or not, as shall furnish a certificate from their minister or some other responsible person, that they are of good character and are attending the meeting in good faith. Each person assigned to a home, public or private, will be furnished with a ticket bearing the secretary's signature, and no person can obtain reduced rates at hotels or private houses without this ticket. In making application for entertainment, as above, enclose two three cent stamps, and the ticket will be forwarded, enabling the holder to go to his quarters at any time.

All the trains on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad will stop at the grove. On their arrival, persons desiring the services of the committee should go at once to the committee's head quarters on the grounds. Porters will be in waiting at every train. The attendance promises to be large.

News and Notes.

Second Lieut. John Guest, U. S. A., was on June 25th detailed as a member of a general court-martial which convened at Fort Duncan, Texas, on the 29th.

Peter Sullivan, a fourteen-years-old boy, was killed, and another boy had his leg broken, by the explosion of blasting-powder in the old lock-up at Holyoke, Mass., last Saturday. Sullivan's body was blown through the roof. The money damage was slight.

The body found hanging on Friday in the woods near New Bedford, Mass., has been identified as that of an Irishman who had been some weeks in the city, selling wire puzzles and drinking all the liquor he could obtain. No one appears to have known his name or home.

William Wright, eighteen years old, was drowned while bathing in a pond at Halifax, Mass., Friday evening. At Attleboro', Mass., the same night, a German named Kurrschenckl, fifty-one years old and a good swimmer, was drowned, having probably been taken with cramps; he leaves a wife and twelve children in Newark, N. J.

George Woodward, seventeen years of age, was drowned at Worcester, Mass., on Sunday, while bathing.

The wreck of the steamer Narragansett has arrived in Cold Spring harbor, L. I. Two bodies of unknown men were found in the after cabin, Sunday morning.

Henry Hart, son of John C. Hart of Attleboro', Mass., has been held in $500 to answer to a charge of having caused his father's death. The dead body of the father was found in his house on Tuesday of last week, and it was given out that the coroner's jury found the deceased came to his death from natural causes. Young Hart returned home on Friday, having been absent several days, and was at once arrested. He admits having had an altercation with his father, and that he struck him, when he fell over, dead. Several witnesses testified that the accused told them he had "killed the old man, and had cause to."

An exchange says: "One of the heroes of the Seawanhaka disaster has been overlooked by the public. He is a day laborer, who has a wife and children to support, and earns, when in health, a dollar a day. He saved twenty-three lives, without any thought of compensation, and is now laid up by burns and injuries. If this man's wife and babies are to suffer because he bore himself as a brave man should, the prudent day laborer will take care, in the future, to be a coward."

Portland, Me., has 33,796 inhabitants, against 31,413 in 1870. In the immediate suburbs, most of the people residing in which do business in Portland, there is a population of about 15,000 more.

Charles G. Stevens was arraigned at Augusta, Me., on Saturday, on a charge of shooting Miss Linn. He was held in $1500 to answer at the September term of the supreme court, and went to jail in default of sureties.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted, double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 4,th&f

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in this country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for bathing at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house commands fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will not the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day,

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.

Cloudy weather with frequent rains, southerly veering to westerly winds, stationary temperature, falling by rising barometer.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Samuel Adams and wife arrived home from the west on Saturday.

Lieut. Comdr. Charles M. Anthony, U. S. N., arrived at the Ebbitt house, Washington, D. C., on Friday.

Lieut. Benj. R. Russell, U. S. M. C., is spending a portion of a month's leave of absence at North Conway.

Schooner Loella arrived here an Monday forenoon with an assorted cargo of lumber for A. A. Fernald.

A lady at the Wentworth is said to have appeared in fourteen different dresses on Sunday, four changes being made between seven and ten o'clock P. M.

Mr. Martin Garrity, agent in this city and vicinity for Gahm's Milwaukee lager, has put a team on the street to supply his customers with that favorite beverage.

A party of gentlemen from York beach were in this city on Monday, and displayed their musical talents to an admiring crowd in the vicinity of Spring hill.

Mr. J. E. Bennett, who keeps the confectionery store in Franklin building, is selling a superior quality of ice cream. His team goes around the city every evening.

The schooner Ella M. Watts, Watts master, arrived at the Concord railroad wharf on Monday at noon, with 319,675 feet of hard pine timber from Georgia, to be used for building bridges.

Two bass were taken in Mr. John Lawrie's weir on Monday morning, together weighing ninety-three pounds. They were purchased by C. Sullivan & Co., and by them sold to the Wentworth and Oceanic hotels.

Fred Roberts, the Dover boy who had his arm shattered some weeks ago at Dover point by the accidental discharge of a fowling piece, and was afterward reported to be dying, is now said to be rapidly getting well.

The steamboat Lottie, of Exeter, is an old acquaintance in this city. She was once the second cutter of one of our naval vessels, and was afterward owned by Mr. Wm. H. Lovell, who sold her to persons in Exeter, the latter having her altered somewhat, and made into a steamboat. It is said that she resembles the Startled Fawn of Newburyport in model, and is the fastest steamer on the river.

The steamer Stamford took one hundred and fifty persons from Newburyport to the Shoals on Saturday. Nothwithstanding the heat was so intense in this city, where the thermometer ranged from ninety-five to one hundred in the shade, the excursionists on their return to Newburyport reported to the Herald that they found the temperature at the Shoals not above seventy-four, and that shawls and overcoats were in demand.

The schooner Ida R. Freeman, reported as having recently been stolen from the harbor of Wellfleet, Mass., by three Swedes who composed a part of her crew, is said by the Dover Democrat to be mostly owned by Edmund and Henry D. Freeman of Dover, and to have been named for the latter's daughter. The schooner registers 58.69 tons, and hails from Wellfleet. She had on board when stolen ninety barrels of mackerel.

The CHRONICLE says that Mr. John Caswell is to have a telephone running from the fish market to his residence on Cabot street. Our friend John sold his residence on Cabot street some months ago, and is now living on Middle street. —Times.

Come to think of it, Mr. Caswell did make a move some months ago, when he purchased the fine residence of Hartley W. Mason on Lafayette road, and moved into it. What he wanted to shift his location again for, to Middle street, we cannot tell.

Mr. Charles W. Bailey has been appointed by the secretary of the interior to take the official census of all the manufacturing interests in this city.

Persons on board the schooner Ella M. Watts, which arrived at this port on Monday, brought from Georgia about twenty mocking birds of the male sex, which they are selling in lots to suit purchasers.

A steam yacht was at the Shoals on Sunday with a party consisting of Gen. Butler, Chief Justice Waite, Hon. John Lane of Indiana, Jonas H. French of Gloucester and William E. French of Boston. The party stopped at the Appledore house, and returned to Newburyport in the evening.

ACCIDENTS.

On Saturday last a little daughter of Col. D. J. Vaughan, city clerk, fell from a step ladder, badly breaking one of her arms at the elbow joint. It is feared that the injury to the arm may be permanent.

On Sunday Horace Montgomery, a son of Mr. David H. Montgomery, while petting his father's horse was thrown down by the animal and severely trampled upon, receiving several cuts about the head and face; his wounds will not prove serious.

On Monday a twenty-months'-old child of Mr. James A. Rand, at No. 6 Winter street, fell from a chair, cutting a severe gash over its right eye, which necessitated the taking of seven stitches to close up. Dr. Whittier attended the foregoing cases.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, July 12; Batchelder J.

William Wilson and Albert Rice, two boys, were examined on a charge of malicious mischief in breaking glass in the yacht Eliza at Noble's island. Their guilt was established, but they were let off on paying damages and costs.

John McCarthy, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90. County farm in default of payment.

AN HONORABLE RECORD.

A modest notice in our advertising columns recently informed the public of the retirement from active business of Mr. David Kimball, who had for fifty-six years previously, with wonderful punctuality and almost unexampled diligence, followed his business calling on Market street in this city. The occasion is one well worthy of honorable mention, despite the disinclination of the subject of the notice to become at all prominent before his fellow-citizens.

Mr. Kimball, a native of Topsfield, Mass., for a while taught school in Newburyport, after he had left Dummer academy. He went into business here first as a clerk with Mr. Norwood, in 1824. At the outset of this career he attended a course of medical instruction in Boston, to qualify himself for what he always regarded as a responsible business. The store was at the corner of Bow and Market streets. Afterwards he purchased a store on the opposite side of Market street, on the site of the building he has occupied of late. This store was destroyed in the great fire on Market street in 1845. Soon after, Mr. Kimball built the present structure in connection with Benj. A. Cheever, and a few years ago purchased the portion formerly occupied by his co-owner. Upon the death of Mr. Norwood, Mr. Kimball purchased the business, and since that time has carried it on upon the same spot.

What a rare instance of a successful business career of over half a century, and all the while a life of unblemished integrity and conscientious uprightness seen in every transaction! Mr. Kimball was ever honest—not because honesty was the best policy, but because normally of sound principles, which he never for a single moment compromised. It is this that attracts us,—this career of success, achieved not by any departure from, or sacrifice of, principle, but by maintaining fixed rules of integrity and correct dealing, and suffering no infraction thereof. Mr. Kimball sought no process in attaining wealth by any speculative or hasty method of enrichment. It was his to labor in his business with constant zeal, to deserve and maintain the confidence of the community in which he moved, trusting to fixed rules for proper results. He never sought office, or was prominent save in good deeds. He attended closely and carefully to his business, and has spent more hours in his store, perhaps, than any man living in our community has directed to one calling. He has for a long time held the position of treasurer of the Portsmouth Gas Co., having been interested in the corporation from its formation.

It is not our purpose to eulogize our respected fellow-citizen. His standing in the community, and the grateful expression of our citizens at his recovery from a severe illness in the spring, is the best testimonial of their appreciation of his worth. It is however an occasion, in these days of oft-repeated mercantile infidelity, when the career of a man succeeding because he deserves success, and going through such a protracted era in one kind of business, almost in one spot, at least on one street, and in so many ways identified with our city, that may be referred to as an incentive to young men to build upon correct business principles. His thorough knowledge of his business, his care and watchful interest of the young men who one after another began, grew up and graduated from his store to enter business in other cities, his public spirit, and his kindly traits, need no mention among those who have known him as a friend and neighbor. Although relinquishing the more pressing cares of a business of unceasing details, he retains his office of treasurer of the Gas Co., and bids fair to enjoy for many years to come the results of his long and faithful mercantile career.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The band of hope held an interesting service Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Hooper has resigned her charge of the band for the present, as she expects to be away from the city for some time. The Woman's Temperance League will appoint her successor, probably at the next meeting.

The gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening was in charge of Mrs. Robert Phinney. Mr. James Penniman of Boston made an interesting address, in which he gave an account of his experience in the army during the war. The service was one of the best ever held in the hall, and two names were added to the pledge roll at the close.

Mr. Joseph French conducted the bethel service, Sunday afternoon, and read the 27th Psalm, making interesting comments. The meeting closed with a bible service for the children, conducted by Mrs. Hooper.

The reform club had a social meeting Sunday evening, the new president, Mr. Eugene A. Sanborn, in the chair; the chaplain, Mr. George Frost, conducted the devotional exercises. In opening the service for remarks, Mr. Sanborn thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him, and said: "I will do the best I can; and with your help we shall be able to advance the cause." The retiring president, Mr. Frend, thanked the members for their hearty co-operation during his administration. Mr. James Marden gave one of his practical talks, which are always well received; and others also spoke. The first service for the new quarter made a good impression. Will not the friends of temperance, and the men who have reformed and are now living sober and industrious lives, come forwarded and in the name of humanity help the cause by their presence and their means. L.

Friend of the bethel service presented Mr. John Hague with a handsome book, entitled "The World of Anecdote," as a token of respect for his voluntary services as organist at the bethel services during the past year. Mr. Janvrin made the presentation. The officers and members of the reform club also presented Mr. Hague, through Mr. Joseph T. French, the late president of the club, with a copy of Webster's dictionary for his services at the meetings of the club during the past six months.

Mr. James Marden, ex-president of the reform club, was presented Sunday evening with a valuable book for the heroic manner in which he has kept the pledge, which he signed four years ago. Mr. Marden responded with appropriate remarks.

BASE BALL.

The Granite State base ball club, of this city, after a long spell of inactivity has apparently aroused, the cause being a challenge received from the Rochester club to play a game for fifty dollars a side. The Granite States re-organized on Thursday of last week, and will put a strong team in the field, as follows:

J. Buckley, catcher; J. McGlinchy, pitcher; H. P. Pond, formerly of the Buffalo, N. Y., club, first base; J. Leary, second base; D. B. Crowley, third base; S. Wallis, short stop; R. I. Walden, left field; P. Rowe, centre field; J. Hammond, formerly of the Live Oaks of Lynn, Mass., right field. Mr. D. B. Crowley retains his position as captain of the club.

The challenge of the Rochesters it is said has been accepted, and arrangements made to play the game on Portsmouth Plains on the 21st inst. The Granite States and the Live Oaks of Lynn will play a friendly game at the Plains at ten o'clock A. M., 21st, and the match with the Rochesters at 2:30 P. M. Both games will no doubt be interesting, and teams will be run from Market square to accommodate spectators.

BOAT RACE.

There was a slashing boat-race on the river, Monday evening, between the boats "Gracie" and "Mab," manned as follows:

Gracie— "Spring Hill Leaders" — Michael Hurley, Dennis Sullivan, Dan'l Norton, Wm. Carroll; Jerry Murphy, coxswain.

Mab—"Landing Laggards"—Michael Hurley 2d, Charles Hurley, Timothy Kelley, Patrick Hennessey; Wm. Kelley, coxswain.

The course was from the Eastern railroad wharf on Noble's island to the south beacon and return, the losers to pay the winning crew a quarter. The race was hotly contested for more than half the distance, when the Spring Hill Leaders shot ahead and came in winners by a quarter of a mile. But the joy of victory was damped by the unscrupulous conduct of the Landing crew, who to the great indignation and righteous wrath of the Leaders refused to fork over the quarter, which reprehensible breach of faith might have led to serious results had not one of the aggrieved winners luckily thought of appealing to that mighty engine, the press, as a rectifier of their wrongs.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

A man named Goodwin, belonging in South Berwick, porter in a Newburyport, Mass., hotel, has been sent to jail for three months for larceny.

The pockets of the weirs near Gerrish's island seemed to be almost solidly filled with fish on Sunday, and numerous large schools of mackerel were to be seen in the river and just outside the harbor.

Mr. Andrew J. Small, editor of the Biddeford Times, was stricken with paralysis while at Old Orchard beach on Sunday evening, and it is feared will not recover. He was carried home insensible.

The steamer James Sampson was taken on the ways at Kittery Saturday night, had her bottom cleaned and painted, and was floated again on Sunday. She also received a coat of paint above the waterline, on her outside.

At Biddeford, one day last week, a man from the pool was driving about the streets with a wagon loaded with nice mackerel, which he was selling for ten cents a dozen. An immense school of the fish had been left by the tide in a bayou, and the man waded in and scooped up a lot. The regular fish markets immediately put the price down to eight cents a dozen.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. ap16tuaug30

A Queer Story.

The following queer story comes from Newfoundland: "The British ship Titania, from St. Johns, Newfoundland, during a fog Tuesday night, the 6th inst., struck an iceberg and sank in three hours. The crew all got out of the ship, and some provisions and a portion of the stores were secured. Mr. Rees, the owner, was on board and had considerable money. He got into a small boat, and it is said placed away 42 in her this money and all the personal property that the time availed him to save. Having forgotten something of importance he again boarded the sinking ship, and was deserted by the crews of the two boats and left to sink with the ship. No coherent story of the desertion is offered by the captain or crews. The sea was almost tranquil. A brisk breeze had recently sprung up, and the distance from St. Johns was barely forty miles. The next morning at six o'clock the fishing schooner P. L. Walston, from St. Johns to Grand banks, fell in with a boat's crew all well, and took them in safety to St. Johns. No trace of the money of Rees has been found. The judicial authorities of Newfoundland will investigate the affair."

New Hampshire Items.

At Lebanon, Saturday, Albert S. Bowell accidentally fell from a carload of lumber at the depot, striking on his head and shoulders, and injuring the spinal column; his recovery is considered very doubtful. Lawrence Joyce also fell, breaking his collar bone, and now lies in a very precarious condition.

H. R. Porter, census enumerator of Lancaster, found a house that was locked and no one at home, but in the field, a hundred rods away, were found the only occupants, a couple aged respectively eighty and eighty-five years, hoeing their row of potatoes, the wife apparently doing as much as the husband, and quite as well. There was nearly an acre in the potato patch, which had been planted and hoed entirely by this aged couple.

The Plymouth house narrowly escaped burning Saturday forenoon, from spontaneous combustion in the winter-clothing storeroom in the attic. Loss considerable; insured.

It is asserted that "a New Hampshire farmer has discovered that common black pepper, sprinkled over the potato field, will destroy the beetle which has become a general nuisance."

Naval Gazette.

Comdr. Charles S. Cotton is detached from the New York navy yard, and ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea service.

Commo. W. H. Shock, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, left Washington last week on an extended visit to the eastern navy yards, and to several large iron-working establishments.

The Vandalia sailed from St. John, N. B., for Portland, on the 10th inst.

Charles Tasker, of Strafford, while riding into his barn on a load of hay, Monday, came in contact with a beam and received injuries which the physicians pronounce fatal.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

Ferdinand B. Hieskell of Bangor, Me., committed suicide by cutting his throat Saturday. Poor health and trouble caused him to take the rash step. He leaves a wife and four children.

Highest Prize Port Wine.

The best wine in the country, that took the highest premium at the Centennial, is Speer's Port Grape Wine, which has become the most celebrated product of New Jersey. This wine and his P. J. HUNT'S REMEDY

THE GREATEST

KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE

EVER KNOWN.

HUNT'S REMEDY has saved from Hagerty's grave and death hundreds who have been given up by physicians to die.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures all Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, and Incontinence and Retention of Urine.

HUNT'S REMEDY encourages sleep, creates an appetite, braces up the system, and renewed health is the result.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures Pain in the Side, Back, or Loins, General Debility, Female Diseases, Disturbed Sleep, Loss of Appetite, Bright's Disease, and all Complaints of the Urino-Genital Organs.

HUNT'S REMEDY quickly induces the Liver to healthy action, removing the causes that produce Bilious Headache, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Piles, &c.

By the use of HUNT'S REMEDY the Stomach and Bowels will speedily regain their strength, and the Blood will be perfectly purified.

HUNT'S REMEDY is purely vegetable, and meets a want never before furnished to the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it.

HUNT'S REMEDY is prepared expressly for the above diseases, and has never been known to fail.

One trial will convince you. For Sale by all Druggists. Send for Pamphlet to WM. E. CLARKE, Providence, R. I. Prices, 75 cents, and $1.25 (large size).

KIDNEY-WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE

That Acts at the Same Time on the LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

These great organs are the natural cleansers of the system. If they work well, health will be secure if they fail or become clogged, dreadful diseases are sure to follow.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine; or Rheumatic Pains and Aches, are developed because the blood is poisoned by the impurities that should have been expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT

will restore the healthy action and all these destroying evils will be banished; health and strength will be given you. Try it a patient age at once and be satisfied.

It is a dry vegetable compound and

One Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Your Druggist has it, or will get it for you. Insist upon having it. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervous diseases of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&tk&dnov30

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Ayer's

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the fruit of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases originating in derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficient treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. Acting directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Inflammation, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

TESTIMONIALS

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 10, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best specialists in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

OF NEW YORK.

Rum and Rough Roads.

The first accident by which any passengers were ever injured on the carriage road from the Glen house to the summit of Mt. Washington, occurred at four o'clock Monday afternoon, about a mile below the Half-way house. One of the six-horse mountain wagons, containing a party of nine persons, the last load of the excursionists from Michigan to make the descent of the mountain, was tipped over and one lady was killed and five others injured. Soon after starting from the summit, the passengers discovered that the driver had been drinking while waiting for the party to descend. They left the wagon a short distance from the summit and walked to the Half-way house, four miles below, where one of the employes of the carriage-road company assured them that there was no bad place below that, and that he thought it would be safe for them to resume their seats with the driver, who was with them. Soon after passing the Half-way house, in driving around a curve too rapidly the carriage was tipped over, throwing the occupants into the woods and on the rocks. Mrs. Ira Chichester, of Allegan, Mich., was instantly killed, her husband, who was sitting at her side, being only slightly bruised. Of the occupants, Mrs. M. L. Towsley of Kalamazoo, Mich., had her left arm broken and received a slight cut on the head; Miss Ella E. Mellen and Mrs. C. Ferguson of Romeo, Mich., and Miss Emma Lamb of Howell, Mich., were slightly injured; Miss Jessie Barnard of Kalamazoo was slightly injured on the head. Miss Emma Blackman of Kalamazoo escaped without any injuries. The injured were taken at once to the Glen house, and are receiving every possible care and attention, there being three physicians in attendance. Lindsey, the driver, is probably fatally injured. He has been on the road ten years, and was considered one of the safest and most reliable drivers on the mountains. Mrs. Vanderborn of Chicago also received slight internal injuries.

News and Notes.

At Mars Hill, Me., recently Mr. Oliver Smith had an altercation in his field with a Mr. Merrill, who was picking Mr. Smith's strawberries, in which Mr. Smith received a severe blow on the back of the head from a stone thrown by Merrill. The young man was arrested, and failing to procure bonds, was sent to Houlton jail. Mr. Smith is in a very precarious condition.

An eight-years-old son of Mr. Hieber of East Deering, Me., fell into an oil tank in a Portland pork factory a few days since, and was scalded to death in a few seconds.

On Sunday evening an unknown tramp went to the depot in Byers, Col., and while in conversation drew a butcher knife, gave Samuel Green a cut over the eye, cut John McGlynn so that his bowels came out, and stabbed Frank McCracken, the telegraph operator, fatally in the left side. McCracken ran across the street, followed by the tramp, who was shot dead by a constable. The tramp was not identified.

Col. Cash, who murdered Col. Shannon in Darlington county, S. C., some days ago, in a duel, has been arrested for the crime.

Orrin Shattucks, five years old, while at play on Monday near the planing machine which his father was operating in Currier's sash and door shop in Enfield, was drawn into the rollers of the machine and horribly crushed, receiving injuries which it is supposed must prove fatal.

A despatch from Wytheville, Va., to the Philadelphia Times says: "Mrs. Sarah Collins, a dissolute white widow, died here on Friday afternoon after a brief illness, and was buried yesterday. Just after her death a strong disagreeable smell rendered the room untenable, and during the deodorization a flour barrel was discovered containing the festered remains of five small children murdered by the deceased. The remains were past recognition, but hanging from the skulls were long straight locks of blonde hair, proving them to have been white children. Acting Coroner Obenchain took the remains in charge, but death had placed the guilty woman beyond the grasp of the human laws."

Barges Durant and Morton were towed from New York to a suburban picnic ground on Sunday, having on board the members of the Peter Litch association of that city. On the way back the parties on the barges got into a fight, and hurled missiles from one barge to the other. Several persons were seriously injured; the decks of the barges were covered with blood. The captain of the tug landed at Manhattanville and summoned the police, who arrested a number of the combatants, and quelled what was likely to have proved a fatal encounter for some of the excursionists.

A Milwaukee despatch says that during a storm on Friday night, a boat containing a man named Miller, his wife, two children and a boy named Rose, was capsized in Winnebago lake. The boy Rose was drowned, and the rest clung to the bottom of the boat twenty-four hours, the woman having a fifteen-years-old boy lashed to her back. The boy died Saturday night, and the others are in a critical condition.

Charles Celler of San Francisco was a handsome, plausible fellow, and had little difficulty in inducing Nellie Brady to elope, for she was only sixteen years old, and inclined to be very sentimental. After a few weeks of married life, spent in a rough and obscure mining town, she made up her mind to return to her parents. He tried to dissuade her, and, failing in that, murdered her and committed suicide.

M. Gardner, aged twelve years, and H. Fitch, aged eleven, have been found dead near Potter Valley, Mendicino county, Cal., one shot through the head and the other through the heart. No quarrel is known to have existed between the boys, and it is believed to be a case of murder. A man's tracks were found in the vicinity, but there is no other clue to the perpetrator of the deed.

The public whipping-post in Raleigh, N. C., has disappeared. Until a few days ago it stood near the court house, and has been used of late as a hitching-post for country roadsters, whose masters had law business on hand. Before 1868 it was the county whipping-post. The stocks and the pillory which stood beside it were removed long ago, but the old post remained.

John Degner was a shiftless San Francisco shoemaker. The family larder became entirely empty, and his wife said: "I believe you could get work if you wanted to, and if you don't do it I will commit suicide. Go out, and if you don't come back at six o'clock to tell me you've got a job, you'll find me dead when you do come." He returned at seven and she was dead.

Albert S. Rowell, of Laconia, who fell from a car loaded with lumber at the depot in that town on the 10th inst., died next day. He was fifty years old, a prominent Odd Fellow and an influential citizen.

A meeting of the Concord horse railroad company was held Monday, and the following directors were chosen: Moses Humphrey, John H. George, Daniel Holden, Samuel C. Eastman and Lewis Downing, Jr. Daniel Holden was elected president, Moses Humphrey building agent, and Samuel C. Eastman secretary and treasurer. The directors were instructed to proceed at once with the building of the road.

A shock of earthquake was felt in Concord Monday night at about eleven o'clock, lasting several seconds. Buildings were perceptibly shaken, and a rumbling was heard which sounded like distant thunder.

When a Manchester man goes to his little summer cottage for the season, and seeks quiet in some hillside resort, the local reporter informs the Boston papers that he has moved into his "elegant new summer residence."

Mount Horeb Commandry of Knights Templar, Concord, and Trinity Commandry of Manchester, have united in extending an escort to the Grand Commandry of New Hampshire to attend the twenty-first triennial conclave of the Grand Encampment of the United States at Chicago, Aug. 16th and 19th, inclusive. The Mount Horebs will receive Trinity Commandry at the latter city, leaving Manchester Aug. 14th. Ample arrangements have been made for their entertainment in Chicago, and a joint committee of the commandries have issued an elaborate programme of the exercises to the Knights Templar of the state.

"Man Proposes." This is a novel of American life, published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. The author does not give us his name, but it is understood to be the work of a writer not unknown to fame. The story begins in Boston, and portrays a peculiar type of the merchant princes of that good city. It takes us to the country and down to Florida during the rebellion, and has many thrilling incidents and tender scenes. The hero and the heroine are each interesting characters, and the persons prominent in the story are of distinctive type and admirably portrayed. The story grows in interest as we progress through its pages, and as we enjoy the structure of the plot we admire the graceful, refined language of the writer. Without delineating the course of the story, we can pronounce it as one well worth reading, while the results of the tale, showing that the best laid plans "gang aft aglee" incline us to take our leave of the book just as the principals are about to start for Italy, with a regret that after all our travels with his characters the entertaining author did not permit us to journey further with the happy lovers. In its structure the novel not only pleases but interests its readers, and its tone is of the most healthful kind. Price $1.00. For sale at Goodrich's bookstore.

A BOON TO HOUSEKEEPERS. Washing day and house-cleaning time lose half their terrors when the thrifty housekeeper uses James Pyle's Pearline.

Old Mrs. Sheppard collects about $2000 in revenue every July at Dayton, Ohio, and puts the money in a bureau drawer. As she lives alone, the folly of keeping so much money by her was long ago explained to her. In 1878 masked robbers entered the house and took the treasure. In 1879 the robbery was repeated in precisely the same manner. This year she hid it carefully, but the rascals choked her until she told them where it was. She now promises to put the receipts for 1881 in the bank.

The ladies who some time since were unable to go out, have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are quite recovered, and have gone on their way rejoicing.

Henry Josselyn, an old and respected citizen of Pembroke, Mass., fell from a cherry tree Saturday morning and broke his neck. He died instantly.

"NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL." This motto was adopted some years ago for the wonderful Kidney medicine, Hunt's Remedy. It was a bold banner to carry, for Hunt's Remedy is recommended for some of the most fatal maladies—Bright's Disease, and all Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary Complaints. Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is indeed a positive cure, and really is "never known to fail." Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "No you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the grinding colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

A Happy German Laddie.

Some few years ago Mr. George Frederick Jussan arrived on our shores from Germany, and sought employment in Brooklyn as a helper in a family grocery store. Here he read of and had his attention called to many of his neighbors enriching themselves by investments in the monthly drawings of the celebrated Louisiana State Lottery. He invested five dollars, and in the June drawing received $50,000, half of the capital prize of $100,000. He invested $47,500 in U. S. Government bonds, and took $5,400 for a tour of business and pleasure over the continent. M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York city, can give full information to correspondents about the drawings, etc.

ENGSTRÖM'S RAZORS,

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

These RAZORS are esteemed in Europe as the best cutters made in the WORLD. The testimony that comes to us in regard to them is that "in cutting quality there does not exist any Razors at all that can stand a comparison with those made by JORAN ENGSTRÖM."

Extreme care is used in their manufacture.

They are made of the BEST STEEL ATTAINABLE, every blade being hardened and tempered by MR. ENGSTRÖM himself by a secret chemical process which renders it impossible for any Razor not to be of the Best Cutting Quality.

They will be found to shave any beards growing on the human face.

The experience of the thousands in the United States who have used these ENGSTROM'S RAZORS during the past three years fully verifies the excellence claimed for them above.

N. B.—The high reputation seen by these razors made by ENGSTROM is SWEDISH has induced some English makers to imitate the form, and stamp on the face of their blades the words "Swedish Razors." To distinguish the genuine, see that they are stamped on the shank of the razor, JORAN ENGSTROM.

FOR SALE BY DEALERS IN CUTLERY.

Mailed to any address on receipt of the price, which is for black handle medium and small size, $2.00; wide blade, $2.50; ivory, $3.00; extra ivory, $3.50 each.

AROUND HOME.

Yacht Enone arrived here from Boston on Tuesday.

The probate court was in session in this city on Tuesday.

Yachts India and Thistle arrived at this port on Monday evening.

The assessors met on Tuesday evening to listen to the complaints of the overtaxed.

Mr. M. J. Leary, who runs the Sunday papers, sold one thousand of them on Sunday last.

Boat thieves are about. A boat was stolen on last Saturday night from Hurd's wharf, just above Portsmouth bridge.

Schooner Charles Carroll, Burding master, arrived at Adams & Co.'s wharf on Tuesday with six hundred barrels of lime.

Hon. Sam'l Treat of St. Louis, United States district judge in Missouri, has been spending a few days at the Wentworth.

The steamer Mystic will go on a moonlight excursion to the Shoals, Thursday evening, leaving Adams & Co.'s wharf at 7:45 o'clock.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. have 15,000 loads of earth to give away to anybody who will haul off the same. They are enlarging their ice-pond.

An appreciated visitor—the pay car of the Eastern railroad, which was at the depot in this city on Tuesday, paying off the employes of that corporation.

Schooner Mary E. Caswell arrived here on Tuesday with thirty-five barrels of mackerel. There being no market here the crew salted them, and will try Cape Ann.

The South Parish Sunday school will picnic at Dover point either to-day or to-morrow, according to the weather. The bell will ring at 7:30 o'clock, if fair. See advertisement.

Hon. Joseph F. Wiggin has removed his residence from Exeter to Malden, Mass. Mr. Wiggin has a law office in Boston, and will keep an office in Exeter, to which place he will make regular visits.

The deposit of mud was removed from the cross-walks on Tuesday. It would be a capital idea if the dust could in like manner be removed from crossings where too much filling makes them under the soil an inconvenience, seen when the watering-carts go over them.

Schooner Cornelia, bound to Boston from Ellsworth, Me., with a load of slabs, put into this port on Tuesday on account of heavy weather, and sold her cargo to purchasers in this city. The slabs are only two and a half feet long, and this is probably the first lot of slabs ever shipped of that length.

CORPORATION MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad was held at the ward room on Elm street, near the Eastern railroad station, on Tuesday morning at half-past ten o'clock, E. B. Phillips, president of the corporation, presiding. On motion, William H. Hackett, Esq., was appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the votes. A ballot was then taken for directors, and E. B. Phillips, of Boston, S. C. Lawrence, of Medford, W. P. Phillips, of Salem, G. E. B. Jackson, of Portland, and John Cumnock, of Great Falls, were unanimously elected directors for the year ensuing. No other business being presented, the meeting then dissolved.

The proprietors of the Portsmouth bridge held their annual meeting at the ward room on Elm street, Tuesday forenoon at eleven o'clock, President Ichabod Goodwin in the chair. It was voted to proceed to the choice of seven directors. A ballot was then taken, in which one hundred and ninety-six votes were cast, all of which being for the following-named gentlemen, they were declared elected directors for the ensuing year: Ichabod Goodwin, E. B. Phillips, A. P. Rockwell, G. E. B. Jackson, S. C. Lawrence, A. R. Hatch, W. B. Bacon.

SWALLOWS ON A LARK.

On Tuesday forenoon, while several boys were playing in Fleet street, adjacent to Locke's stable, several chimney swallows commenced circling round National block, and following each other in rapid succession would swoop down among the boys, brush their wings in their faces, and darting beneath their legs and arms would continue the circuit. The boys, amazed but hugely enjoying this novel sport, arranged themselves across the street, and with hats in hand awaited the onslaught of the winged chargers. The twitter of the birds, and the loud shouts of the excited boys, attracted a throng to witness the novel scene. At this juncture a large cat of the Thomas variety, belonging to a Congress street hardware dealer, stealthily crept along the curbstone, and crouching on the corner of Fleet street, took a lively interest in the business transpiring; the birds came thick and fast, and, heedless of any danger, one ventured too near the cat and was captured on the fly, the cat then disappearing behind Mechanic's block, where he swallowed a good meal; two birds were caught in the hats of the boys, but were released. The cat appeared on the scene again in her old position, but the birds, apparently realizing that they were playing a losing game, "homeward flew."

SERIOUS TROUBLE.

The Landing Laggards boat's crew complain that they suffered serious injustice in the report of the race on Monday evening between the boats Gracie and Mab, as printed in Tuesday's morning's CHRONICLE. They say that instead of being beaten a quarter of a mile the distance was only a few hundred yards, and that they beat the Spring Hill Leaders quite as badly in a race a few evenings previous. Further, they assert that instead of the Leaders being entitled to the "quarter" which according to the first report was rowed for, they had no shadow of claim to it, having refused to put the money up in a responsible stakeholder's hands before starting. [It is darkly hinted that the reason for this refusal was that the Leader treasury contained only twenty cents, one man who possessed five cents having withdrawn from the club, and the man who took his place not having any five cents.] The Laggards had their quarter ready, and were willing to put it up; the Leaders refused, but when they found they had won the race they demanded the wealth, though they expressed a willingness to compromise on twenty cents, a proposal the Laggards treated with scorn. It is reported that a gentleman interested in aquatics will shortly put up a prize of two dollars to be rowed for by the rival crews, when an exciting race is anticipated.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: As the time for holding our municipal election is drawing near, it would not be out of place to discuss the prominent candidates for the office of mayor. It seems that third-termism—however popular the candidate—is not an idea popular with the people. Ex-Mayor Goodrich's defeat when nominated for a third term was a strong proof against it; and the tremendous pressure brought to bear to present Gen. Grant before the people a third time, and the defeat of the "senatorial syndicate," must impress ambitious aspirants that candidates are likely to be defeated at the polls if not at the caucus. Dr. Jeremiah F. Hall is prominently spoken of as a candidate for the office of mayor, and if the selection is made would be a strong and a hard one to beat. Dr. Hall is a very affable and genial gentleman, of fine business qualifications, and would fill the office well. Hon. Marcellus Bufford is also much spoken of in connection with the office, and the gentleman's well-known ability, in his identity with the city government as clerk for so many years, peculiarly well fits him for the position. Mr. Bufford is a gentleman of the old school, dignified and courteous in his bearing, progressive and liberal in his views, and if a candidate would poll a great many votes outside of his party. The name of Dr. B. W. Curtis is also being put forward by the friends and admirers of this gentleman, and if he should be selected it is thought that the interests of the city would be well guarded under his supervision. There are other gentlemen who would fill the office honorably and as well as those named; but I present the above named gentlemen as they seem most talked of by the people.

Major Green Clay Goodloe, paymaster of the marine corps, was at the navy yard on Tuesday to pay the marines at this station.

The democrats of Biddeford recently ran out a flag from the building occupied by that staunch republican paper, the Union and Journal. That was bad enough; but on Saturday they went from bad to worst by putting up directly over the Journal office a large sign bearing the words "Democratic headquarters."

The coroner's jury in the case of John F. Currier, whose dead body was found in the river at Saco some weeks ago, on Saturday last returned a verdict of willful murder against some person or persons unknown.

LADIES' HOME MISSIONARY SOC'Y.

SOUTH ELIOT, ME., July 9th.

An organization has recently been formed in our midst under the name of "Ladies Home Mission Society." It now numbers seventeen members, all of whom are active and earnest to make the society in reality what it is in name. The officers are: Mrs. Rose E. McKenney, president; Mrs. Richard F. Dixon, vice president; Mrs. Harmon L. Spinney, treasurer. The society meets every Wednesday afternoon at the residences of the various members.

The ladies have made out a complete code of by-laws, to which they strictly adhere. A fine of three cents is levied on every member who absents herself from any meeting, and thus far the taxes have been promptly paid. The object of this association is to assist in clothing the unfortunate ones among us who have no one to properly care for them. Already several articles of apparel have been made, and the hearts of little motherless children been made happy through the efforts of this praiseworthy band of sisters.

Such an organization as this can but inspire a universal spirit of interest and sympathy for the needy which no one individual can arouse. Contributions received are disposed of in an appropriate and useful manner, and we trust that the gentlemen of our community will encourage the ladies in their good work by contributing generously, thus "doing unto others as you would have others do unto you." You who pray earnestly for the needy and suffering of the land, remember "the poor ye have with you always," and opportunities for aiding them are ever at hand.

May this band of public benefactors be daily encouraged to further their glorious work, keeping in remembrance the Divine declaration "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me." PUELLA.

Political Matters.

Gen. Garfield's letter accepting the republican nomination for the presidency is published. It is a manly, straight-forward document, and deals plainly with the questions of the day.

A Hancock and English club was organized in Thomaston, Me., Saturday evening last, with Joseph E. Moore as president. It was voted to support Hancock and English, and only regular democratic nominees.

Gen. Pierson is an accession over which the Pennsylvania democrats are crowing very loudly. This is the militia general who during the Pittsburg riots brought the good name of the troops into such ill repute by his cowardly inefficiency, retreating to the round house and remaining besieged by the howling mob, being finally driven out by fire, when the valiant leader fled and hid himself to escape the popular indignation. The Hancock column is more than welcome to all such recruits.

Naval Gazette.

The school-ship Constellation arrived at Portland on the 10th inst., with the 1st and 3d classes from the naval academy on board. The Tennessee, Powhatan and Vandalia are ordered to Portland; the Vandalia sailed for that port from St. John, N. B., on the 10th, and the others are expected shortly.

The Dale arrived at Hampton roads on the 10th inst.

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will not the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

New Publications.

"The United Service" for August is full of matter of interest not only to the two arms of the national service but the general reader. The list of contents is as follows: Collisions at sea; Military landmarks; Naval education; Employment of troops in garrison; English naval prize essay—close; Bits of army etymology; Mode of manufacture of cable iron, chain cables and anchors. United States navy; First home-coming of the reserves; United States revenue-marine; Militia of Great Britain; editorial notes, and "service literature." L. R. Hamersly & Co., publishers, Philadelphia; $5 per annum, single number fifty cents.

"The American Journal of the Medical Sciences" for the quarter ending with July is received from Henry C. Lea's Son & Co., Philadelphia, the publishers. This work is a leading record of progress and discovery in medical and surgical science, and consequently of much value to the profession. Five dollars a year, postage paid.

A Reliable Friend of Temperance.—It has helped thousands back to a life of sobriety. It is the best medicinal tonic for those addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants. It stops that morbid craving for liquor which invariably operates as a serious obstacle to reform, affords the proper stimulus to the weakened and abused system, and restores the organs of digestion to healthy activity. Thus this preparation fills a want long felt, and becomes a power for good never before equalled in the history of medicine. Such is the action of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger.

A despatch from Wabash, Ind., says trouble is apprehended there between farmers and police. The farmers have cut the dam which gives Wabash its water supply, because it increases the backwater overflow on their farms. Seven have been arrested.

Malt Bitters build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON,
17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 28, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I feel it a duty to inform you, and, through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time,—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scals, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease has been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, only a few days after the application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case. Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side and back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been pending for eight years and it did no good. Everyday I am distressed sor. I got relieved from 179 to 182 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN H. R. Y.
414 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is admirable, assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus or Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the nursery, for washing and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

HUTCHINSON'S.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold misery that results from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION. It contains 300 pages, 125 prescriptions, and 25 engravings. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, premature decay, nightly emissions, loss of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred and fifth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 8 splendid and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, resulting from years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervous diseases of all kinds and its affections, whether due to peculiarities habits or whatever. He is a New England man, and thoroughly knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. Bissell, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H,

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 300 guests, and offers some attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming resorts on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for bathing at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Rail road. Address

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual and ready yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficacious treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specifically applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the best proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

LAXATIVE AND CATHARTIC.

Highly recommended by leading physicians

For CONSTIPATION and BILIOUSNESS.

Very Pleasant to the Taste.

Persons of sedentary habits, those who have piles, or other chronic diseases which produce Costiveness, confirmed invalids and the aged, should use it when and as often as a cathartic is needed, and certain Gentlemen which odious pills of Castoreum, use stewed prunes, will find them an invaluable remedy. Very delicate Constitutions attended with chills will yield to their persistent use. They are specifically adapted to constipation when combined with the disease of piles and unpleasant action of other medicines. Impossible to cause any harm, though some have taken them in the hopeless stage of consumption.

Home Testimony.

The recent completion of several branch roads in Minnesota, in the interest of the Chicago & North-Western Railway Company, suggests a statement of the total mileage of this giant corporation, and we give elsewhere a complete official table of the different lines which it operates, together with a map showing the entire system as now completed. It will be seen that the total length of lines of the Chicago & North-Western Railway is 2,158 1-2. This is the greatest mileage operated by any company in this country. It is made up of six divisions of the Chicago & North-Western proper, and eight proprietary lines, and the whole system is subdivided into twenty lines and branches. To control successfully such a vast and complete system of railways evidently requires talent of the highest order, and the splendid condition, financial as well as physical, which the property now exhibits is sufficient testimony to the ability of the management.

The nucleus of this great system, the old Galena & Chicago Union Railway, was opened from Chicago to Elgin, forty-two miles, in 1850, only twenty-eight years ago. The Chicago & North-Western Railway Company came into being, as the successor of the Beloit & Madison, Rock River Valley Union, and the Chicago, St. Paul & Fond du Lac companies, in 1859. In 1865 the Galena & Chicago Union was consolidated with it, and in the few short years that have followed the young corporation has gone forward with astonishingly rapid strides, to its present good position. What its future enlargement may be is left to the imagination. A study of the map, which shows the system already reaches into five states and a territory, may move suggestive of possibilities yet ahead.—R. R. Age, Dec. 12, 1878.

By an accident to a gravel train on the Long Island railroad, on the 14th inst., three Italian laborers were killed and about twenty badly injured. Some of the wounded will die of their hurts.

One of the cases decided in the equity court yesterday, before Judge Cox, settles finally the interests of the several parties in the late firm of Chipman, Hosmer & Co., and the large claim business of the firm and their enormous landed interests, reaching into Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Texas and other states. The order of the court was, in substance, that the title to all the lands in question be vested in Charles D. Gilmore, petitioner in the suit, and that all the assets of the firm be turned over to him. This ends a suit involving more value than any other between individuals ever tried in the District.—Washington Republican.

Snakes as Life Destroyers.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet of the disease which is as wily and deadly as the deadliest India reptile, is winding its coil around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. It has long been a hobby with incompetent physicians to assume that consumption is incurable after the formation of tubercles has begun; and in every case they fail to effect a cure,—of course tubercles had begun to form and they were incurable. The records of medical science disprove any such theory. On the contrary, in cases of lung disease which had been cured and the patients lived forty and fifty years in robust health, post-mortem examinations showed large cicatrices (scars) where the tubercles had been formed and removed. The tubercles are removed by absorption into the blood. An efficient alterative, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, must be used to cleanse the blood of the scrofulous impurities. For tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. Golden Medical Discovery is a sovereign remedy for all forms of scrofulous disease, or king's evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever-sores, scrofulous sore eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases.

Permanently Cured of Piles.

Hon. G. H. Rice, late R. R. Commissioner of Vermont, writes:

MILTON, VT., Sept. 16.

I have been a great sufferer from Piles, having had it in its blind phase for years. About two years ago, when the disease began to assume the bleeding form, I tried "Kidney-Wort," and used about half a dozen packages, which I believe effected a permanent cure. From my own experience and that of others I am acquainted with, I became satisfied that the Kidney-Wort possessed remarkable virtues, and probably should have purchased an interest in its sale had I been possessed of sufficient means.

Truly yours, G. H. Rice.

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home. —N. Y. Independent.

—A piece of court plaster on a pretty girl's cheek is very much out of place; but it doesn't improve matters any when her beau goes home at eleven with it on the end of his nose.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12th.

A very sensible commission of architects and others, selected to enquire into the subject of more room for the great national library—miscalled the "Congressional library"—has just decided upon a new building instead of an addition of an eastern wing to the capital. The library increases so rapidly in size that the eastern wing would soon have to be followed by a western one, and finally, perhaps, by an additional story, destroying the proportions of the one public building which has been admired by nearly every one, native and foreign, who has seen it. The new structure can be so designed as to admit of all the changes that a library building will need for future increase in size. Senator Voorhees and Ex-Senator Boutwell have done much to prevent a mutilation of the capitol, and should be thanked by everybody.

Hon. W. W. Corcoran, our richest man, and who was mentioned in connection with the secretaryship of the interior in the cabinet arranged for Mr. Tilden in 1876, is dangerously ill at a Virginia watering place. Mr. Corcoran's age is about eighty years. He has been a generous given to worthy objects in the district and in the south.

Every day, now, there are new charges that cabinet officers dismiss their clerks or other employes because of refusal to pay political assessments, but every charge of this kind, so far, has been met with denial. So far as such dismissals might be a matter of principle probably those who make the complaints would, under opposite circumstances, be at least as guilty a those of whom complaint is made. As a matter of policy I should be astonished to know that any person would authorize such dismissal at this time.

It is announced, however, on authority which seems to be unquestionable, that the President and his cabinet will do all they can with propriety for republican success, and that with this end in view the patronage of all the departments will be used as has been customary.

No preliminary question of the campaign excites more interest here than that concerning Gen. Hancock's proposed resignation of his place in the army. It may be said with certainty that all the general's original friends in this district expect that he will quit the army in his acceptance of the presidential nomination.

The resignation of Judge Porter, first controller of the treasury, took effect today. He will leave the city Monday night to open his gubernatorial campaign in Indiana. Col. Robertson of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is most prominently spoken of as his successor, now that Judge Lawrence, to whom the office was tendered, has declined. KNOX.

News and Notes.

In New York at the present time one Dr. Tanner, a scientific ass, is endeavoring to live for forty days without eating. Of what value to the human race the feat will be if performed we are not aware. The New York Sun suggests to the physicians who are watching the performance that if the fool dies from voluntary starvation they will all be liable to punishment under the laws of the state as deliberate abettors of a suicide.

A notorious desperado, for whose capture $500 had been offered, was caught in Oregon by two constables. They had to convey him a hundred miles in a wagon, and, knowing his reckless character, they tied him to the seat. On the way he tried several devices to escape, but in vain, until he hit upon the desperate one of firing a keg of powder that was in the vehicle. This he did by covertly throwing a lighted match into it. He crouched as low as possible, and shielded his face, so that he was not seriously injured. One of the constables was killed, and the other burned so badly that he could do nothing to prevent the prisoner from getting away.

Dr. Ball and Mrs. Heacock have been arrested at Dallas, Tex., charged with killing Mr. Heacock, whose post-mortem showed arsenic. Dr. Ball is reported to have recently bought a quantity of arsenic and forwarded it to Mrs. Heacock.

The Lake Torpedo company of Hartford, Conn., is experimenting on lake Salstonstall, New Haven, with one of its cigar-shaped boats, which is propelled under water by a screw driven by gas, is directed in its course by electricity sent from the shore, and is loaded with 125 pounds of dynamite. Among other experiments to be tried will be one to submerge the boat and propel it when hidden beneath the water. One of the gentlemen experimenting at Salstonstall lake was in Peru some months since explaining the working of the boats, and while there a person unfamiliar with the invention began experimenting with one of them, and as he failed to remove the dynamite the result was the killing of fourteen men.

On the 14th inst., in New York harbor, the steamers Nelly White and Matteawan were in collision; the former was somewhat damaged, but no passengers were hurt, tho' both were crowded with people bound to Coney island. On the same day the Stockton, another Coney island boat, was run into by the tug Saunders off the Battery, and badly damaged, though no personal injury resulted to any of the passengers.

Otis Ootwan, alias Rev. Joseph McPherson, who has recently been acting in the role of an evangelist, at Chelsea, Mass., and other places, was on the 14th inst. sentenced to six months in the house of correction at Ipswich as a tramp.

On the 11th inst., at Huntsville, Ontario, a son of Ed. Johnson, a farmer, saw a bear passing through a clearance on his father's farm, and fired a gun at the animal, wounding it. He then started in pursuit with the empty gun, when the bear turned on him, and before assistance reached him had killed him and almost torn him to pieces.

At Columbus, Ohio, at noon on the 13th inst., S. S. Rickley, president of the Capital City bank, was shot through the forehead while standing at his desk, by Andrew Eichenberg, a German dyer. Eichenberg was on the street, and as soon as he shot Rickley he placed the revolver to his temple and shot himself, dying instantly. Rickley may live, but the chances are against him. The trouble grew out of Rickley's refusal to lend Eichenberg money.

Harrison Garfield of Lee, Mass., who was assaulted dangerously by John Bottomly over a year ago, for which the latter is now in the Berkshire house of correction, has recovered $3,500 in civil damages, in a suit for $50,000.

A young lady of Framingham, Mass., Miss Ettie Batchelder, was drowned in a saw-mill pond on the 12th inst., while boating. Two children were with her, but they were saved.

A Frenchman calling himself Duke Edward Lefevre has left Buffalo, N. Y., after swindling people there out of about $10,000, and marrying his landlord's daughter.

Maj. Ball shot Dr. Porter on the street at Lemars, Iowa, Sunday evening, July 11th. Porter is believed fatally wounded. The trouble was occasioned by a criminal case, in which Ball was prosecuting attorney and Porter the defendant.

A hundred coal cars of Lehigh Valley railroad became detached from the engine at Phillipsburg, N. J., July 12th, and went down the grade, finally jumping the track, smashing a trestle bridge and twenty-eight cars. No lives were lost. Loss $200,000.

One of the meddlers with the administration of justice in Philadelphia has been sent to the penitentiary for a year. He attempted to intimidate a witness in a homicide case.

An expert swimmer allowed himself to be affected by the taunts of jokers, at Atlantic City, and to prove his ability undertook to swim a certain distance under water. He was drowned.

Some woodchoppers at Canton, Ill., sent a boy to the top of a tall tree, which they had cut almost through, to sway it in the direction in which they wished it to fall. The plan was successful, but six bones of the boy were broken.

William Parish was told by the poormaster of South Toledo, Ohio, that he must take himself out of town before nightfall, or he would be sent to the workhouse. "I'll do it," said Parish, and he swallowed a fatal dose of laudanum.

A Chicago woman is insane from grief. In shooting carelessly at a target, she killed her son.

Junius Edwards of Galesburg, Ill., saved his plums by kicking a boy out of the tree, but has had to pay $3,500 for causing paralysis in the lad.

James Morton got married clandestinely in Pittsburg, and took his wife to Detroit, where they had their first quarrel. In order to frighten her, he declared that he was going to desert her, and then went away from the hotel. On the following day he returned and found that his plan had been most effective. Mrs. Morton had swallowed morphine, and neither his lamentations nor the doctor's efforts could save her life.

New Hampshire Items.

At Peterborough, on the 12th inst., Warren Nichols, seventy years old, fell down the back stairs of Nichols Brothers' tin shop, and died from his injuries in less than half an hour.

John Brown of Canaan, an employe of the Boston & Lowell railroad, was fatally injured while coupling cars at Concord on the 13th inst. He was crushed in the left groin and pelvis.

William L. Belden, aged thirty-three years, committed suicide at the Haseltine house, Manchester, on the night of the 12th inst., by laudanum. He was an itinerant soap vender for a New York firm, and leaves a wife and child in Canada. Intemperate habits and family troubles are the supposed causes.

Deacon Samuel P. Bailey of Washington died on the 12th inst., at the age of 100 years and four months.

A despatch from the Glen house, dated July 13th, says: "All those who were injured on the White Mountain road on Monday are rapidly improving, with the exception of Lindsey, the driver, who is still very low. The proprietor of the stage lines has to-day settled with the injured passengers and the husband of the lady who was killed, and they have all signed a paper thanking him for his generosity and the manner in which he has provided for their wants and cared for them in their trouble."

Arthur E. Brown, fourteen years of age, son of O. S. Brown of Salmon Falls, was drowned in the river at that place on the 14th inst., while bathing.

A dwelling house, barn and outbuildings, owned and occupied by John A. Jewell, in Lyme, were burned early on the morning of the 14th inst. Cause, a defective chimney. Loss about $800; insured $200.

Naval Gazette.

Capt. S. C. P. DeKrafft is ordered to take charge of the hydrographic office.

The Ticonderoga arrived at Nagasaki, Japan, June 11th.

Lieut. Comdr. S. H. Baker is ordered to duty at the naval academy, and Lieut. W. L. Field to duty on the Asiatic station.

The Wyoming was off Dungeness, England, July 13th.

Political Matters.

Colonel John W. Forney, of Philadelphia, ex-Grant man and ex-republican, is engaged on a life of General Hancock.

Denis Kearney having come out for Weaver, the greenback candidate for president, he has been hooted off the San Francisco "sand-lots" by the bummers and hoodlums whom he previously led, and who are now bossed by a fellow named Wellock, said to be if possible more disreputable even than Kearney. The sand-lots are strong for Hancock and reform.

Sunday-School Hymns and Music.

It seems to us high time that the songs of the Sunday-school, the prayer-meeting and the regular church service should become more closely allied to each other, so that while the latter shall be made more hearty and earnest, the two former shall be less unworthy of a place in the mind and heart with the grand truths and magnificent literature of the Bible.

Too much countenance has heretofore been given in the Sunday-school to "hymns," which are mere rhymes without reason, with here and there a dash of sweet sentimentalism in place of vigorous thought,—flippant in style and irreverent in expression, and set to tunes of little merit.

Rev. Dr. Charles S. Robinson, the author of "Songs for the Sanctuary," rendered a valuable service to the churches when he added to his later work, "Spiritual Songs for the Church and Choir," a most excellent edition called "Spiritual Songs for Social Worship;" and now a continuation of the series is "Spiritual Songs for the Sunday-school" by this accomplished author, who has been assisted in the work by Mr. W. F. Sherwin, the well-known musical conductor, composer and general Sunday-school worker.

The title of the book is hopefully suggestive, and the names of Dr. Robinson and Mr. Sherwin give such promise of thoroughly sensible and attractive work that the advent of the new volume will be watched with eager interest, as one likely to meet most happily the present need. The book will be published by Scribner & Co.

Don't Believe in Advertising.

The man who says he "don't believe in advertising" is unconsciously all the while doing just what he deprecates. He hangs coats outside of his door, or puts dry goods in his windows—that's advertising. He has printed cards lying on his counter—that's advertising. He sends out drummers through the country, or puts his name on his wagon—that's advertising. He labels his articles or his manufactures—that's advertising. If he has lost his cow, he puts a written notice in the post-office or tells his sister-in-law—and that's advertising, too. He has his name put up in gilt letters over his door—what is that but advertising? He paints his shop green or red; or, if a tailor, he wears the latest style; if a doctor, he has his boy call him out of church in haste; if an auctioneer, he bellows to attract the attention of passers-by; if a heavy merchant, he keeps a huge pile of boxes on his sidewalk in front of his store—and all that for advertising. A man can't do business without advertising, and the question is whether to call to his aid the engine that moves the world—the printing-press, with its thousands of messengers working night and day, the steam engine adding to its repeating capacity untold power and miraculous speed; or, rejecting all these, to go back to the days when newspapers, telegraphs and railroads were unknown.

— "Well, Bessie," said her mother, "have you been a good girl to-day?" "No, mamma." "Why, Bessie, I hope you have not been a bad girl?" "No, mamma," said the little thing, "not wedby bad, not weddy good, just a comferable little girl."

AROUND HOME.

Harper's Magazine for August is now ready for delivery by W. G. Myers and Moses Brothers.

The steamer Florence made a trip from Newburyport to the Shoals on Wednesday of this week.

Fred G. Moses is selling straw hats of all the modern styles at very low prices, not proposing to carry over anything of the kind to another season.

The fishing schooner Can't Come It, of this port, was at Newport, R. I., on the 13th inst., being fitted with a new mainmast in place of one carried away.

The wood work of the Franklin buildings was finished on Wednesday of this week. When the painters begin work, the theatre, hall and main entrance will be frescoed.

W. G. Myers has for sale at the Congress block bookstore the best thing yet produced in the line of a linen-marker; a rubber stamp, with ink and cushion, and box for containing the lot, costing only a quarter of a dollar.

A Hancock and English flag was thrown to the breeze on Wednesday afternoon of this week, over Islington street, above the track leading to the Jones brewery. It was somewhat ill shaped and patched up,—but it's of no use to spend money on a lost cause.

The house of Israel W. Fowler, of South Seabrook, was burned on Sunday evening, the 11th inst., and three young children narrowly escaped being burned to death, they being taken out of the building through a window only a minute before the structure fell in.

It is said that the immense Wentworth is found to be too small, and that another addition is to be made during the coming autumn, giving an increase of one hundred rooms! We think it would be as cheap for the proprietors to roof Newcastle right in at once, and be done with it.

H. B. Buzzell & Son, at their store opposite the post office, are offering great bargains in fancy goods, toys, blank books, etc. They are shortly to move into the new store in Pierce's block on Market square, between Wendell's and Leveen's stores, and take this method of reducing their stock before removal.

Two of the whale-boat-built fishing boats from this city have gone down to the Wentworth house for the season, under charge of experienced skippers, for the use of the guests of the hotel on fishing or other pleasure parties. These boats are the safest that can be procured for the business, as they will stand a sea and wind that will seriously annoy many larger craft.

A Washington despatch of the 13th inst. says: "The United States corvette Vandalia, from St. John, N. B.; the training ship Portsmouth, from Fayal; and the screw steamer Plymouth, from Gibraltar, are expected to arrive at Halifax shortly." We don't know about the other vessels named, but if the "screw steamer Plymouth" arrives at Halifax from Gibraltar "shortly" she must make good time from the Portsmouth lower harbor, where she has been lying for more than a year with a full cargo of yellow fever on board.

In addition to the programme of the musical and literary exercises at the opening of the new Franklin dance hall by the High School Alumni Asso'n on next Tuesday evening, there will be a flute solo by Mr. J. D. Boardman of Haverhill, one of the finest soloists in the country. A eulogy on the life of the late president of the association, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, will be delivered by Rev. James DeNormandie. There will be several readings and declamations by well-known graduates. The tickets of admission to the hall will be ready for delivery on Saturday morning, July 17th, at the store of C. N. Shaw & Co., No. 3 Market street. Each member is entitled to two tickets.

Schooner B. F. Franklin, of New York, Davis master, bound from Perth Amboy for the port, put into Newport, R. I., on the 12th inst., to get new sails, having had her foresail and mainsail blown away on the night of the 10th, when off Shinnecock.

Among the natives of Portsmouth who have revisited their birth-place this season, is Mr. Nathaniel S. Patten, who has been living in Butler, Ky., for twenty-four years. Mr. Patten was chosen a member of the last Kentucky legislature from a district which had before given a large democratic majority. He runs a large timber and grain mill, and has been successful in business, as Portsmouth boys generally are when they go away from home.

The Manchester Cadets, an independent military organization of which Manchester is justly proud, will arrive in this city this morning by train over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, accompanied by a drum corps, on their way to Rye beach to go into camp for a week. They will make a short parade through some of the principal streets to the head of Richards avenue, where they will take barges for the beach.

HYDROPHOBIA.

About six weeks ago Charles H. French of Stratham, fourteen years old, a son of the late Charles French, was bitten on the thumb by a dog belonging to Jere. Jones of Stratham. Nothing was thought of the matter until Friday, the 9th inst., the boy having made no complaint; on that day he returned from a berrying expedition and complained of a pain in his arm and shoulder, and becoming constantly worse, Dr. Varney of South Newmarket was called on Sunday, and pronounced the case unmistakably one of hydrophobia. The poor boy's sufferings rapidly increased in spite of all that medical aid could do, and on Tuesday night it was found necessary to secure him with lashings, so violent were his paroxysms; and on Wednesday morning death put an end to his tortues.

The dog that bit the boy shew no symptoms of rabies until two weeks after the boy was bitten, when he was at once killed. A child of Mr. Jones, the dog's owner, was also badly bitten, it is said, by the animal, just before he was killed; and also a child named Leavitt.

Democratic Liking for Hancock.

General Hancock owes the favor he is in with the democratic party to his course while in command of the department of Louisiana and Texas, to which he was appointed August 27, 1867. General Sheridan had been in command, but his course in the removal of civil officers of Louisiana, and in other respects, being displeasing to President Johnson, he was removed and superceded by Hancock, against the protest of General Grant. Hancock's policy was a marked departure from that pursued by Sheridan, and brought him into immediate favor with the democracy north and south. His order assuming the command contained the following declaration of his ideas and intentions:

"The general commanding is gratified to learn that peace and quiet reign in this department, and it will be his purpose to preserve this condition of things. As a means to this great end he regards the maintenance of the civil authorities in the faithful execution of the laws as the most efficient under existing circumstances. In war it is indispensible to repel force by force, and overthrow and destroy opposition to lawful authority, but when insurrectionary force has been overthrown, peace established, and the civil authorities are ready and willing to perform their duties, the military power should cease to lead, and the civil administration resume its natural and rightful dominion."

There is nothing objectionable in these sentiments per se; but their application to the state of things then existing in Louisiana, when reconstruction was incomplete, and the ex-rebels were exerting themselves to the utmost to thwart the policy of reconstruction upon which congress had determined, was not apparent to a people resolved to secure the legitimate fruits of the war.

Within a month after the issue of the above order, General Hancock himself removed two civil officers! The city council of New Orleans passed a resolution providing for an immediate election to fill the vacancies, although an order of Sheridan's was still in force forbidding elections without the sanction of the commanding general. As soon as Hancock heard of this action, he removed all the members of the city council who voted to order an election, which was as arbitrary and violent an interference with the civil authorities as anything that had been done by Sheridan. These civil officers were subsequently restored by General Grant, whereupon Hancock asked to be removed from his command.

To his utterances of trite but inapplicable commonplaces, which he so soon found himself obliged to discard as impracticable in dealing with the desperate characters around him, and to the circumstance that he had incurred the displeasure of General Grant, he is indebted for his political fortune. In the democratic national convention of 1868 he was a prominent candidate for the presidency, receiving on the eighteenth ballot 144 votes, the highest number received by anybody except Pendleton, who on the twelfth ballot received 145, until Seymour was nominated. He has been talked about as a possible candidate before every convention since that time.

—Always imposing—The swindler.

—It is good for the fame of Ajax that he passed away before New Jersey was discovered. He never could have defied her lightning.

— Life is a little pack of cards. Childhood's best cards are hearts, youth is captured by diamonds, middle age is conquered with a club, while old age is raked in by the insatiable spade.

—Theophilus Jones married the daughter of his employer, at Clifton, Ohio, twenty years ago. He was then an ambitious, spirited and moral young man. For a while he realized his expectation by prospering in business and becoming a representative man in the place; but latterly he lapsed into drunkenness, robbed his father-in-law and abused his wife. She obtained a divorce, and lived by herself with her children, while he became an outcast. One day he presented himself at her house, ragged and hungry, and begged to be taken in. She refused to see him, and sent out her son to tell him he must go away or she would set a dog on him. The boy delivered the message, and returned to the dinner table where the family were eating a hearty meal. Jones sat down on the porch and wrote the following to his wife: "I have refrained from committing suicide as long as I could. I have done everything to obtain employment but I failed. I have no money, and am in a starving condition. I have now made up my mind to die. When this reaches you I will be in another world. Take care of my dear children. God bless you. Try and teach them to forget any faults I had, and when I am gone try and forgive all the wrongs I have done you. May God bless you." Then he fired a bullet through his heart.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS of the Toledo, Delphos & Burlington Railroad Co. are eagerly sought after by capitalists who desire safe security, because of their high credit and certainty of payment. The entire issue of these bonds upon the main line, running from Toledo, Ohio, to Kokomo, Ind., is only $1,250,000, 185 miles, and to pay the interest upon this sum less than $400 per mile is required. The ample facilities for business, and abundant and constantly increasing resources, together with the unimpeachable financial credit of this road, combine to make this loan among the choicest and safest in the market.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "No you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade or over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

Naval Construction During the Coming Year.

Congress adjourned without appropriating any money for the undertaking of new vessels for our navy, and consequently the work in the construction bureau of the department for the coming year must be confined, as it has been for the past two years, to the repairs of existing vessels. But the work of repair will not have to be carried on indefinitely. Indeed, the work which will be done during the present fiscal year will put our navy in so good a condition that such ships as are now have will not need much more money spent upon them for half a dozen years to come. Hence it will not be necessary to appropriate large sums for repairs, the construction department will be ready to begin building new vessels, and congress will doubtless provide the money necessary for commencing several new ships of war. We will briefly review the work to be done during the coming year, which thus brings so nearly to a conclusion the extensive system of repairs which has occupied the attention of our naval constructors during the past few years.

At the Kittery yard the principal work will be the continuance on the Lancaster, which will consume the entire year; in fact it will not be possible wholly to complete this vessel before the first of July, 1881. The Plymouth is waiting to be taken in hand, and she will be taken hold of when cold weather comes. She will be surveyed in mid-winter, and the department will save her if it can, but this may not be possible. It will be remembered that the Benicia, a sister-ship to the Plymouth, when surveyed at Mare island, had to be condemned.

At the Boston navy yard the work upon the Hartford will be continued. These repairs are so extensive that it will be hardly possible to complete them during the present fiscal year. No new work will be undertaken at this yard, beyond the transient repairs so other vessels which may be required. The Brooklyn is in very much the same condition as the Lancaster and Hartford, but the work will be finished during the present fiscal year.

The Juniata will be docked at the Brooklyn yard, after the work upon her at League island is completed, as it will be during the coming autumn. The Essex, which is also at League island, will be finished during the year. No other work of special importance will be done at this yard.

At the Washington yard the construction bureau is now finishing the Yantic, having recently completed the repair of the Despatch. The bureau is also taking in hand the Enterprise, which is to be thoroughly overhauled and finished next winter. Two tugs are also under repair at this yard.

At Norfolk the Galena is almost ready for sea, and extensive repairs on the Canandaigua are about to be begun, which will occupy more than the fiscal year. This vessel has been awaiting repairs for a long time.

At Mare island work is being done on the Iroquois and Ranger, and extensive repairs are contemplated on the Tuscarora and Monongahela.

We may also note here that the department has recently caused the Ashuelot, on the Asiatic station, to be thoroughly repaired, and the chief constructor regards this vessel as probably a more valuable vessel now than when new. Repairs have begun at this station on the Monocacy, and Constructor Much will remain there until this vessel is finished. Extensive repairs are also being made on the Palos.

All these vessels will do good service for a dozen years to come, and one year from to-day such vessels as we have in our navy will be in a very excellent condition.—Army and Navy Register.

—"How are you coming on with sea bathing?" asked a gentleman of an invalid. "Splendid! I bathe three times a day." "How do you like it?" "The doctor says I must take a toddy after each bath to restore the circulation—that's how I like it!"

—A Galveston gentleman had occasion to go into a dentist's shop to have a tooth pulled. In order to nerve himself up to the ordeal the sufferer had taken several strong drinks of whisky. The dentist, who had never seen the sufferer before, examined the tooth and then retired for a few moments into the back room. When the dentist reappeared he had two revolvers and a bowie knife strapped on his person. After placing a large shot gun in a convenient corner the dentist approached the sufferer with the forceps. "What in the name of heaven does all this mean?" gasped the man in the chair. "When a man's breath smells of emotional insanity, like yours, I am not going to exasperate him unprepared. You may be Jim Currie himself, for all I know." As the dentist was afterward seen alive on the streets the inference is that Currie is not in Galveston.—Galveston (Texas) News.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

—I have observed that in comedies the best actor plays the droll, while some scrub rogue is made the fine gentleman or hero. Thus it is in the farce of life. Wise men spend their time in mirth; 'tis only fools who are serious.—Lord Bolingbroke.

Prevent weakness and degeneration of the kidneys and urinary organs,—Malt Bitters.

—A lady who never spanked her boy hard enough to hurt him recently hung in her sitting-room the illumined motto: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." That boy reformed on the spot.

Speer's Sambuci Wine.

We have examined specimens of the Sambuci Wine of Mr. Alfred Speer, referred to by a correspondent of the American Baptist and have no doubt it is pure. We should judge from its taste and appearance, that it is certainly valuable as a medicinal wine and as a tonic for weakly persons. It has the recommendation of some of the first physicians in this country as well as in Europe.—Washington Star.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains useful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 30 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the results of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficient treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specifically applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable preparation. Being composed of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

Garfield's Acceptance.

MENTOR, O., July 12.

Dear Sir:—On the evening of the eighth of June last I had the honor to receive from you, in the presence of the committee of which you are chairman, the official announcement that the republican national convention at Chicago had that day nominated me as their candidate for President of the United States. I accept the nomination with gratitude for the confidence it implies and with a deep sense of the responsibilities it imposes.

I cordially endorse the principles set forth in the platform adopted by the convention. On nearly all subjects of which it treats my opinions are on record among the published proceedings of Congress. I venture, however, to make special mention of some of the principal topics which will be likely to become the subject of discussion without reviewing controversies which have been settled during the last twenty years, and with no purpose or wish to revive passions of the late war. It should be said that while republicans fully recognize and will strenuously defend all rights retained by the people, and all rights reserved to the states, they reject the pernicious doctrines of state supremacy which so long crippled the functions of the national government, and at one time brought the Union very near to destruction.

They insist that the United States is a nation with ample power of self preservation; that its constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof are the supreme law of the land; that the right of the nation to determine the method by which its own legislature shall be created cannot be surrendered without abdicating one of the fundamental powers of government; that national laws relating to election of Representatives in Congress shall neither be violated nor evaded; that every elector shall be permitted freely and without intimidation to cast his lawful ballot at such election and have it honestly counted; and that the potency of a vote shall not be destroyed by the fraudulent vote of any other person.

The best thoughts and energies of our people should be directed to those great questions of national well being in which all have a common interest. Such efforts will soonest secure perfect peace to those who were lately in arms against each other, for justice and good will. But it is certain that the wounds of war cannot be completely healed and the spirit of brotherhood cannot fully pervade the whole country until every citizen, rich or poor, white or black, is secure in the free and equal enjoyment of every civil and political right guaranteed by the constitution and laws. Wherever enjoyment of these rights is not assured discontent will prevail, immigration will cease, and social and industrial forces will continue to be disturbed by migration of laborers and consequent diminution of prosperity.

The National government should exercise all its constitutional authority to put an end to these evils, for all States are members of one body, and no member can suffer without injury to all. The most serious evils which now afflict the South arise from the fact that there is not such freedom and toleration of political opinion and action that the minority party can exercise an effective and wholesome restraint upon the party in power. Without such restraint the party rule becomes tyrannical and corrupt. The prosperity which is made possible in the South by its great advantages of soil and climate will never be realized until every voter can freely and safely support any party he pleases.

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither justice nor freedom can be permanently maintained. Its interests are entrusted to the states and to voluntary action of the people. Whatever help to nation can justly afford should be generously given to aid the states in supporting common schools. But it would be unjust to our people and dangerous to our institutions to apply a portion of the revenues of the nation, or of the states, to support sectarian schools. The separation of church and state in everything relating to taxation should be absolute.

On the subject of national finances my views have been so frequently and fully expressed that little is needed in the way of an additional statement. The public debt is now so well secured and the rate of annual interests has been so reduced by refunding that rigid economy in expenditures and faithful application of our surplus revenues to pay the principal of the debt will gradually but certainly free our people from its burdens and close with honor the financial chapter of the war. At the same time the government can provide for all its ordinary expenditures and discharge its sacred obligations to soldiers of the Union and to widows and orphans of those who fell in its defence.

Resumption of specie payments, which the republican party so courageously and successfully accomplished, has removed from the field of controversy many questions that long and seriously disturbed the credit of government and the business of the country. Our paper currency is now as national as the flag, and resumption has not only made it everywhere equal to coin, but has brought into use our share of gold and silver. The circulating medium is more abundant than ever before, and we need only to maintain the equality of all our dollars to insure to labor and capital a measure of value from the use of which no one can suffer loss. The great prosperity which the country is now enjoying should not be endangered by any violent changes or doubtful financial experiments.

In reference to our customs laws, a policy should be pursued which will bring revenue to the treasury, and will enable labor and capital employed in our great industries to compete fairly in our own markets with labor and capital of foreign producers. We legislate for the people of the United States—not for the whole world—and it is our glory that the American laborer is more intelligent and better paid than his foreign Republicans in Council.

The Republican State Committee was in session on Wednesday evening, the 14th inst., at Concord, on which occasions a large number of leading republicans from different sections of the state met to initiate the active measures for the campaign.

The committee officers of last year were re-elected, and the time holding the various conventions were fixed upon. After the business matters were concluded, speeches were made by Hon. M. W. Tappan, W. E. Chandler, Senator Rollins, O. C. Moore, Representative Briggs and Judge Mason.

The speech of Mr. Chandler was in the nature of a report of the delegates to the Chicago convention, and a statement of the prospects of the campaign. His remarks were of the most encouraging nature, and elicited frequent applause. Mr. Moore is one of the speakers who have tendered their services to go upon the stump in the southern states, and his speech was received with enthusiastic approbation. Mr. Briggs was listened to with close attention, though late in the evening.

The meeting was composed of nearly two hundred men, who mean to keep New Hampshire true to republican principles. The feeling was pretty unmistakably shown that if the democrats intend to make the attempt to carry this state by nominating Mr. Frank Jones as their candidate for governor, the republicans, who have become tired of hearing that bugbear, are better prepared at the coming contest to meet that question than they can be at any other time. At any rate, if the democracy want to learn what the republicans intend to do in this campaign, the information is contained in the brief announcement that they intend to carry the state, and elect the nominees for electors, governor and congressmen to be selected at the September conventions; and the impatient members of the democratic party who seek an "English" candidate in New Hampshire solely for the purpose of tapping his barrel, may as well have their little game this year as at any time,—the result will be same.

Republican Conventions in New Hampshire.

The Republican State Committee, at their meeting in Concord on the evening of the 14th inst., appointed the times and places of holding the several conventions, as follows:

State—at Concord, Sept. 11th, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

Congressional—1st district, at Dover, Sept. 15th; 2d, at Manchester, Sept. 15th; 3d, at Concord, Sept. 7th.

Councillor—1st district, at Dover, Sept. 15th; 2d, Concord, Sept. 8th; 3d, Manchester, Sept. 15th; 4th, Claremont, Sept. 15th; 5th, Woodsville, Sept. 9th.

County—Rockingham, at Exeter, Sept. 14th; Strafford, Somersworth, Sept. 16th; Belknap, Laconia, Sept. 21st; Carroll, Ossipee, Oct. 5th; Merrimack, Concord, Sept. 22d; Hillsborough, Nashua, Sept. 22d; Cheshire, Keene, Sept. 21st; Sullivan, Newport, Sept. 16th; Grafton, Woodsville, Sept. 9th; Coos, Lancaster, Sept. 9th.

Senatorial—First district, Portsmouth, Oct. 6th; second, Dover, Sept. 17th; third, Newmarket, Sept. 16th; fourth, Exeter, Sept. 14th; fifth, Derry, Sept. 21st; sixth, Manchester, Oct. 5th; seventh, Manchester, Oct. 5th; eighth, Nashua, Sept. 22d; ninth, Goffstown, Sept. 14th; tenth, Greenville, Sept. 23d; eleventh, Fitzwilliam, Sept. 14th; twelfth, Keene, Sept. 14th; thirteenth, Rochester, Sept. 14th; fourteenth, Pittsfield, Sept. 15th; fifteenth, Concord, Sept. 16th; sixteenth, Fisherville, Sept. 14th; seventeenth, Hillsborough Bridge, Sept. 17th; eighteenth, Newport, Sept. 16th; nineteenth, Wolfeborough, Sept. 8th; twentieth, Tilton, Sept. 9th; twenty-first, Plymouth, Sept. 21st; twenty-second, Lebanon, Sept. 14th; twenty-third, Woodsville, Sept. 9th; twenty-fourth, Lancaster, Sept. 9th.

It was voted that presidential electors be nominated—two by the state convention, and one by each of the three congressional conventions.

Who Was He?

On Wednesday afternoon, the 14th inst., three students who had walked up Mt. Washington from the Glen house, through Tuckerman's ravine, discovered the remains of a man behind a rock, within a mile of the summit, near the old bridle path from Crawford's. They reported the fact on their arrival at the Summit house, and a large party went down and made an examination. They found a skeleton and portions of a suit of woolen clothes, in the pocket of which was found a pocketbook marked "Harry W. Hunter," and a printer's measure and a printer's-union certificate of membership, dated September 12th, 1874, bearing the same name.

Ruffianism in Missouri.

At East Atchinson, Mo., a contractor who had secured a large job of excavation employed a number of colored men, to whom he paid $1.25 per day. This did not suit the white bummers of the place, and on the 13th inst. a drunken mob, armed with revolvers and knives, made their appearance and drove the colored men from their work. The mob rapidly increased though recruits from the ginshops, and proceeding to a brickyard where seven colored men were employed compelled a suspension of all work, and drove the colored men over the river to Atchison, Kansas. The mob then numbered several hundred, and was addressed by the mayor of Atchinson and others, urging peace and order, but without avail. The colored drivers of transfer teams were compelled to turn back over the bridge, and the colored porters at various freight depots, and other negroes in town, were hunted up and sent over into Kansas. The authorities, finding all efforts to quiet the mob unavailing, telegraphed to Sheriff Spencer of St. Joseph to come and exercise his authority, but he refused. The mob had entire possession of East Atchison, and defied the law and militia. The people of Atchison, who are largely interested in industries across the river, were indignant at the disgraceful proceedings, and announced that unless the officers of Buchanan county, Mo., did their duty next day, the citizens of Atchison would settle the matter themselves.

The riot continued a few hours next morning, but the sheriff appeared and the mob dispersed. All is quiet now and work is resumed at all places where the laborers were driven off. There have been no arrests, but warrants are out for the ringleaders, and will be served if there is further disurbance.

Naval Gazette.

Commander Charles S. Cotton has been ordered to command the Monocacy on the Asiatic station, per steamer of August 17th from San Francisco.

Commander George W. Sumner is detached from the command of the Monocacy, and has been ordered to return home.

Commander Allen V. Reid has been granted one month's leave. At its expiration he will be detached from the hydrographic office and placed on waiting orders.

Lieutenant John A. Rogers has been ordered to ordnance duty at the Washington navy yard.

During the absence from Washington of Secretary Thompson, who is upon a journey to the Pacific slope, Commodore W. N. Jeffers, chief of the bureau of ordnance, is acting secretary of the navy.

Preparations are making for a grand celebration at Whitehall, N. Y., on Sept. 11th, the anniversary of the battle of lake Champlain. An attempt will be made to obtain $1,000 in subscriptions to be expended for prizes.

Gov. Cornell of New York has appointed Judge Haight, of Buffalo, to try Mrs. Charles Merrihew, at Lowville, for poisoning David Merrihew, and her husband Charles Merrihew, last winter. David Merrihew died, but the woman's husband recovered. The trial was to have commenced Wednesday, the 14th inst., but was put over on account of the sickness of one of the counsel for the prisoner and the absence of an important witness.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "No you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted doubt. the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 1,th&f

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York C D&WLas21

The game law in Connecticut prohibiting the shooting of woodcock and other game birds before October is not found to work well. Sportsmen generally obeyed it last year, but found that a few lawbreakers shot all they could find. This year the law is not only a dead letter, but the birds were shot even before July 4th, the limit of the old law.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to purify their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your dangist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deodaGlm

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION,

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and most distressed affections,

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without cost or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our Book, "How I Was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

AROUND HOME.

Hon. James G. Blaine and daughter passed through this city on the three o'clock train, Thursday afternoon, homeward bound.

The excursion on the steamer Mystic, appointed for Thursday evening, was postponed to this (Friday) evening on account of the weather.

The walls of the railroad station house at Newmarket junction have been papered, a process which has the effect to add somewhat to the internal beauty of that cheerful establishment.

Wednesday evening next has been fixed upon as the date for the complimentary dinner tendered to Capt. Frank W. Hilton by the Portsmouth board of trade. One hundred and fifty guests are expected to be present.

If the person who took the music roll from the table in the ante-room at the Eastern railroad depot Thursday morning at about nine o'clock will return or send the same to the ticket office at the station, a suitable reward will be paid.

Charles Danielson, a young lad, on Thursday through carelessness got one of his hands jammed between the rollers of a picker at the Kearsarge mills, but by the prompt stopping of the machine escaped with a badly discolored hand and a good fright.

Hon. Dexter Richards of Newport is at his cottage at Straw's point, Rye. Although this is a good point whence to start on a gubernatorial run, Mr. Richards is at present disinclined to talk much upon the subject of his being a candidate at the September convention.

The Penobscot Indians who have been encamped near the Universalist church for some weeks past broke camp on Thursday last, and took the three o'clock train in the afternoon for Kennebunk. The man who shot himself some days ago had recovered sufficiently to go along with the rest.

The steamer Lottie, of Exeter, on Thursday took twenty-three of the employes of the Exeter iron works down the harbor on a fishing excursion, the party making a short stop at this city on their way home. The little steamer made the trip from Exeter to the harbor's mouth, a distance of twenty-seven miles, in two and a half hours—lively travelling for a little boat.

The steamer Startled Fawn arrived at this port on Thursday at about one o'clock, with an excursion party from Merrimacport, Mass. On their way here they stopped at the Shoals for two hours, and made the run from there to the Concord railroad wharf in twenty-seven minutes—at least it was so reported. It is said this steamer is jointly owned by Gen. B. F. Butler of Lowell and Hon. E. Moody Boynton of Newburyport. It was in the Startled Fawn that Gen. Butler and a party of friends visited the Shoals on the 11th inst.

The Manchester Cadets, under the command of Capt. Chellis, who has since the organization of this corps been the commanding officer, arrived on the morning train last Thursday, accompanied by Batchelder & Stokes' drum corp. They made a soldierly appearance, and by their precision in marching, evolutions, and the manual of arms shew a proficiency in drill which would be creditable to any military organization. They took barges at the head of Richards avenue for the camp at Rye, where everything will be conducted according to strict military rules. Many of the citizens of Manchester, who take much pride in this independent military organization, will visit them during the week they are in camp.

A school of mackerel was seen on Thursday morning last, stretching from Odiorne's point across the mouth of the harbor to White island on the eastern side, extending over the Gardens and sporting around Little and Great Horn islands. Old fishermen who have followed the business for years say they never beheld such a sight before. The length of the school was about two miles.

The station house of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad at Greenland has been completed in its rebuilding, and is perhaps the best building of the kind on the line of the road. The artists who painted it have added a thin red stripe to the color of the brackets, which gives the building a decidedly "nobby" appearance.

BOAT RACE.

There is to be a grand regatta this evening, starting at about 7:15 o'clock, the contestants being the Spring hill crew with the "Flora," the Landing crew with the "Mab," the Kearsarge mills crew with the "Hattie," and the Water street crew with one of Mr. Lewis Holmes' fine boats. The course is to be from the spar buoy off the Eastern railroad wharf, around the south beacon and back to the starting buoy, rounding the latter.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, July 15th:

City Marshal's quarterly report of arrests, fines and costs was received, and referred to committee on police.

Bill of Charles T. Lang, for sheep killed, was referred to committee on claims.

Joseph Spinney, claim for damage to his cellar by overflow of water from street, amounting to ten dollars, was referred to committee on claims. Bill of $3.75 for work in endeavoring to prevent the same, referred to the same committee.

Communication from Kearsarge engine Co., notifying the board that in pursuance of the order of the chief engineer requiring the members of the fire department to wear fire hats while on duty they had used those belonging to themselves, and requesting the board to make provision to furnish them with others to replace them, was referred to committee on fire department.

The following were elected members of the Board of Instruction for three years: Mrs. Anna B. Wilson, Charles W. Gardner, Daniel J. Vaughan and Andrew B. Sherburne.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of providing suitable quarters for the scholars in district No. 1, reported a plan for making an addition to the Hanover street schoolhouse at a cost of $3000, and for making alterations on the School street schoolhouse to fit it for an engine house, at a cost of $500. Voted that the mayor be authorized to have working plans of the same prepared, and advertise for bids for doing the work, all bids to be opened at the next meeting of the board.

Committee on police to whom was referred the subject of fire alarm, offered a resolution in substance that the officer first getting to the bell shall ring the same twenty minutes or until relieved. Referred to committee on bills of second reading.

Voted that the matter of heating Cabot street schoolhouse be laid over for one week.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

The Times of the 15th inst. copies from the CHRONICLE of the same date a shipping news item taken by us from the shipping reports of the New York Herald, as follows:

Sch John Stroup, Hurst, from Kennebec arr at New York 12th.

Commenting upon this important item our wide-awake neighbor says:

The CHRONICLE man must be a second Rip Van Winkle. Capt. Hurst lives in Kittery, and has not been in the schooner John Stroup for months. Her master is Capt. Fuller.

The same issue of the Times, under the heading of "Naval news," says:

The United States corvette Vandalia, from St. John, N. B., the training ship Portsmouth, from Fayal, and the screw steamer Plymouth, from Gibraltar, are expected to arrive at Halifax, N. S., soon.

You see, Bro. Times, a man may be very wide-awake and yet not knew everything. For instance, you knew (what we did not) that a little coasting schooner had changed masters; but you evidently have not yet learned that the "screw steamer Plymouth" of the United States navy is now and for many months has been lying in Portsmouth lower harbor dismantled, and manned only by half a dozen ship keepers and the yellow fever. "First remove the beam from thine own eye," etc., etc.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: I noticed in a recent issue of your paper a communication from "Citizen" headed "The next mayor," suggesting the non-advisability of nominating the present chief magistrate of the city for a third term, and mentioning the names of several gentlemen, either of whom could easily be elected if nominated, and either of whom would undoubtedly make a good mayor. That communication was the first sign of interest in the approaching municipal election which had come under my notice, displayed by either party. The only objection yet offered to giving Mayor Sise a re-election is the "third term" bugaboo, which seems to me to be all bosh. Postmasters and collectors of customs can hold office for three terms without the country going to eternal smash, and their terms are longer and their pay better than our mayor's; and probably the world will turn around on its own axeltree just the same, and the human race continue to exist, whether Mayor Sise is re-elected or is set aside for a new man, according to ordinary party usage. The intimation of your correspondent "Citizen," that Mayor Goodrich was defeated for re-election because his last nomination was a third one, is hardly correct; Mr. Goodrich was defeated through the defection of many Irish democrats, who were displeased at his action in the case of an alleged homicide by a police officer, and "third termism" had little or nothing to do with it. Col. Sise, so far as I have heard or read in the papers, has (as is customary with mayors of Portsmouth) done his duty well; he has endeavored to be, and has been, a good mayor. He has promptly attended to everything needing attention which has been brought to his notice, and has himself kept a sharp lookout for anything wrong. The gentlemen mentioned by "Citizen" would probably each do the same, if elected, and make as good a mayor as Col. Sise has; that either of them could do any better I do not believe—nor that a "third term" cry could be used to Mr. Sise's detriment as a candidate, were he to be re-nominated for mayor. NO. TWO.

Miss Hannah Brower, fifty-three years old, was outraged and murdered at Tappan, N. Y., on the 13th inst.; no clue has been discovered to the perpetrators of the crime.

Good cigars need no flavoring. The natural odor of fine tobacco cannot be improved by the addition of superficial flavorings such as are too commonly used to disguise the bad odor of bad tobacco. Aside from the questionable taste of smoking such cigars the consumer should be mindful of the probable injury to health arising from their use. The old-fashioned hand-made Noriega brand of cigars are made by skilful workmen and only from the finest quality of leaf. No Valerian, no rum, no deleterious compound enters into their production. They have only the natural flavor of pure Havana tobacco.

An explosion occurred last Thursday morning in the London and South Wales Colliery company's new black-vein pit, at Risca, six miles from Newport, Eng. It is supposed there were one hundred and twenty-eight men in the pit at the time, and probably none will be saved. One body was found at the bottom of the shaft.

Hard Times.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists. What an Accident Did.

It has discovered an absolute cure for all diseases of the kidneys, which can now be found in Day's Kidney Pad.

George Beckwith of New Haven, Conn., died suddenly of heart disease while speaking in a temperance meeting Monday evening, the 12th inst. He was a born mathematician, and though without advantages he made progress in the higher branches, and long taught school. His almanac was first published in 1848. He always went barefoot in summer, and was conspicuous for other eccentricities.

"NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL." This motto was adopted some years ago for the wonderful Kidney medicine, Hunt's Remedy. It was a bold banner to carry, for Hunt's Remedy is recommended for some of the most fatal maladies—Bright's Disease, and all Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary Complaints. Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is indeed a positive cure, and really is "never known to fail." Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

Hon. John A. Campbell, at one time governor of Wyoming, and later third assistant secretary of state, died at his residence in Washington, D. C., July 14th. He served with distinction in the army of the Cumberland from the first days of the war till the close, when he was one of its best known staff officers, having acting as Gen. Schofield's adjutant general during the closing years of the war.

The ladies who some time since were unable to go out, have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are quite recovered, and have gone on their way rejoicing.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First morigage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

competitors. Our country cannot be independent unless its people with their abundant natural resources possess requisite skill at any time to clothe, arm, and equip themselves for war, and in time of peace to produce all necessary implements of labor. It was the manifest intention of the founders of our government to provide for the common defence not by standing armies alone, but by raising a greater army of artisans, whose intelligence should powerfully contribute to the safety and glory of the nation.

Fortunately for the interests of commerce there is no longer any formidable opposition to appropriations for improvements of our harbors and great navigable rivers; provided, that expenditures for that purpose are strictly limited to works of national importance. The Mississippi river, with its great tributaries, is of such vital importance to so many millions of people that the safety of its navigation requires exceptional consideration. In order to secure to national control all its waters, President Jefferson negotiated the purchase of the vast territory extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific ocean. The wisdom of Congress should be invoked to devise some plan by which that great river shall cease to be a terror to those who dwell upon its banks, and by which its shipping may safely carry the industrial products of 25,000,000 of people. The interests of agriculture which is the basis of all our material prosperity and in which seven-twelfths of our population are arrayed, as well as the interests of manufactures demand, that facilities for cheap transportation be increased by the use of all our great water courses.

The national interests of this country, traditions of its settlement, and sentiment of our people have led government to offer the widest hospitality to emigrants who seek our shores for new and happier homes, willing to share the burdens as well as benefits of our society; and intending that their prosperity shall become an undistinguishable part of our population. The recent movement of Chinese to our Pacific coast partarkes but little of the qualities of such an emigration, either in its purpose or its results. It is too much like an importation to be welcomed without restriction; too much like an invasion to be looked upon without solicitude. We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us under the guise of immigration. Recognizing the gravity of this subject the present administration, supported by Congress, has sent to China a commission of distinguished citizens for the purpose of securing such modification of the existing treaty as will prevent the evils likely to arise from the present situation. It is confidently believed that these diplomatic negotiations will be successful without loss of commercial intercourse between the two powers, which promises great increase of reciprocal trade and enlargement of our markets. Should these efforts fail it will be the duty of Congress to mitigate the evils already felt, and prevent their increase by such restriction as without violence or injustice will place upon sure foundation the peace of our communities, and the freedom and dignity of labor.

The appointment of citizens to various executive and judicial offices of government is perhaps the most difficult of all duties which the constitution has imposed upon the executive. The convention wisely demands Congress shall co-operate with the executive departments in placing the civil service on a better basis. Experience has proved that with our frequent changes of administration no system of reform can be made effective and permanent without aid of legislation. Appointments to military and naval service are so regulated by law and custom as to leave but little ground for complaint. It may not be wise to make similar regulations by law for civil service, but without invading the authority or necessary discretion of the Executive, Congress should devise a method that will determine the tenure of office and greatly reduce the uncertainty which makes that service so uncertain and unsatisfactory. Without depriving any officer of his rights as a citizen, the government should require him to discharge all his official duties with intelligence, efficiency, and faithfulness. To select wisely from our vast population those who are best fitted for the many offices to be filled, requires an acquaintance far beyond the range of any one man. The executive should therefore seek and receive information and assistance of those whose knowledge of communities in which duties are to be performed, best qualifies them to aid in making the wisest choice.

The doctrines announced by the Chicago convention are not temporary devices of a party to attract votes and carry an election; they are deliberate conviction resulting from the careful study of the spirit of our institutions, events of our history, and the best impulses of our people. In my judgment these principles should control the legislation and administration of government. In any event they will guide my conduct until experience points out a better way.

If elected it will be my purpose to enforce strict obedience to the constitution and laws, and to promote as best I may the interest and honor of the whole country; relying for support upon the wisdom of Congress, the intelligence and patriotism of the people, and the favor of God.

With great respect,
I am, yours truly,
J. A. GARFIELD.

To Hon. George F. Hoar,
Chairman Committee.

"It's No Use," He Said.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain: he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office and tell him of this."—Exchange.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Cathartic Pills
Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual, easily and yet thoroughly to cleanse, cure and disarrange of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and decisive treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

STARTING A PAPER.

It was nearly twenty years ago, says the Carson (Nevada) Appeal, when Dan De Quille and Mark Twain attempted to start a paper in Mendocino county. They took the type and material of their recently defunct newspaper establishment in San Francisco, and loading the stuff on a big wagon, struck out into the country to retrieve their fortune. They packed their type as it stood in the forms, tied up the articles with stout cords by a process well-known to printers, and, packing them closely in boxes, vowed to establish a newspaper somewhere which would be the leading exponent of politics and history of the Pacific coast. Had not an unfortunate circumstance taken place, it is evident that the newspaper which they contemplated founding would have been alive to-day. Their journey over the mountains was utterly uneventful until they reached Simpson's station, a spot well-known to old travellers on that route. Here they met a party of emigrants making for Lower California, and the latter had with them a small mountain howitzer, which they had brought with them across the plains.

Twain took a great fancy to this gun, and offered fifty dollars for it with two kegs of powder. The emigrants were glad enough to part with it, as they concluded the time for its use had passed. Dan thought the purchase of the artillery and military supplies was a reckless piece of extravagance, and said as much, but Mark replied, "When we start our paper we must fire a salute. A newspaper office with artillery has a big bulge on the business. No well regulated office in California should be without a howitzer. If a man comes in for a retraction, we can blow him into the next county. The howitzer goes."

This silenced argument, and the next day the journalists took the road with their printing outfit and artillery.

The next night they camped in a mountain ravine, fifteen miles from Simpson's, and after building the usual camp-fire, fell asleep. About eleven o'clock the horse wakened them by prancing about, and the two journalists were led to the conclusion that a party of Indians were making arrangements for a night attack. In the moonlight human forms could be distinguished about half a mile away, in the ravine. The idea of encountering Indians had never entered the heads of the two fortune-seekers, and they had no arms. Suddenly Twain brightened up, remarking:

"The howitzer?"

"We've got nothing but powder," said Dan.

"Well, powder'll scare 'em; and we'll load her up."

The piece was immediately loaded with a good, big charge, and the two men felt quite certain that the Indians, hearing the roar of the gun, would beat an unconditional retreat. The piece was hardly loaded and placed in position when about forty of the red-skins came charging up the ravine.

Twain seized a brand from the campfire and was laying it on the touch-hole, when Dan yelled, "Hold on!" as he rammed something into the mouth of the piece, and remarked:

"Turn 'er loose."

The roar of the howitzer echoed through the lonely forest, and the savages, with frantic cries of pain, reeled down the ravine in wild confusion.

"What did you put in?" asked Twain.

"A column of solid nonpareil and a couple of sticks of your spring poetry."

"The poetry did the business, Dan. Get one of your geological articles ready for the next charge, and I guess it'll let the red devils out for the present campaign."

The savages again advanced, Mark attended to the powder, and Dan assorted the shot, so to speak.

"Jeems Pipes' song, 'My Mountain Home.'"

"Good for three Indians; sock'er in."

"Acrostic by John R. Ridge, in long-primer."

"I'll paralyze 'em."

"Frank Pixley on the constitution—half a column of leaded brevier."

"If it hits' em, the day is won."

"Your leader on 'Law and Order.'"

"Save it as a last resort."

Dan pulled the type out of the boxes, and stuffed column after column in the howitzer's mouth as the savages came charging on. Another discharge, and the red-skins rolled over each other like boulders swept away by a mountain cloudburst. Twain in an ecstacy of delight pulled an American flag out of his effects, nailed it to the tail-board of the wagon, and was about to make a speech, when the dusky figures of the foes were once more seen moving to the attack.

The piece was again loaded, and this time with a double charge. Twain's leader on "Law and Order" the puff of an auction, by Fred McCrellish, "was a sickener," Dan said; Frank Gross's verses on "The Rebel Yell;" an agricultural article by Sam Seaburg, showing the chemical properties of corn-juice as an educational lever; a maiden poetical effort by Olive Harpe, and some verses by Col. Crenony and Frank Soule, completed the load.

"That poetry reaching 'em first will throw 'em into confusion, and my editorial coming on the heels of the rest will result in a lasting demoralization. It will be like the last cavalry charge of the French troopers at the battle of Austerlitz."

For the third and last time the faithful howitzer belched its typographical compliments to the advancing foe. The havoc was terrible. There was a wild yell from a score of savage throats, and then the low groans of the dying floated up the ravine on the gentle wind. The two men walked over the field of slaughter and counted fifty-six aboriginals lying in heaps. The bodies were horribly mu-

The Nominations.

The time for holding the several conventions of the republican party having been designated, the question as to candidates for various offices will now be discussed more freely. The necessity, in the selection of a candidate for governor, of putting in nomination a vigorous man, who will not fail to do his share in achieving the victory necessary to his election, never was more imperative than at this time.

In the first and third congressional districts, doubtless the present representatives will be nominated for re-election.

In the second district, Hon. J. F. Briggs has served for two terms very acceptably. In fact, in some respects Mr. Briggs is the strongest man in our congressional delegation. Many people outside his district hope to see him again put in nomination. From this programme, however, the Nashua Telegraph dissents, and it is understood that the editor of that paper desires the nomination for himself. Mr. Moore is a forcible writer and an industrious stump speaker, and in furthering the cause of republicanism, has spent much time, often at a personal sacrifice. It is stated that he desires to go to congress as senator or at least as representative. To accomplish this, Mr. Moore must bring about two results. He must secure a nomination, and afterwards carry the district. Some objections have been raised by Mr. Moore that Mr. Briggs is a Manchester man, and that the city which furnishes so material a number of our voters ought not to be too generously compensated in this matter of locality of congressmen. To us who live out of the district, this seems to be a suggestion unworthy of the occasion.

Mr. Briggs will be of more service to the state, if chosen, as a representative in the future than he could have been in the past. We are too apt in this state to set aside even our best men in congress, because our supply of candidates is so liberal. Again, if Mr. Briggs cannot be renominated, it is by no means certain that the Hillsborough delegates will unite on Mr. Moore, who belongs to that working element in the party whose men are often less likely to receive honors from the members, than are less conspicuous men.

Then, too, if Manchester is not to have the candidate this fall, it is possible that the nomination may come from up the river. Concord has men abundantly able to represent the district in congress, and a candidate from the capital may turn up in case Mr. Briggs does not carry the convention.

But we hope to see him again put in nomination. He is a square man, a good lawyer, reliable in his politics and business relations, and although he is not apt to get his name in the Record every day, he has performed his duty well and ably. He belongs to the safer class of men, in whom the substantial men of the country have confidence. He wears well. He does not seem anxious for a re-election, but with a degree of modesty and generosity towards his competitors, permits the office to seek the man.

Much has been said as to Manchester's enjoyment of offices. Manchester, in a great degree, fights our battles, contributes largely in voters, and in proportion to the service she renders to the republican party, receives no more than a city of her population, taxable property and enterprise deserves. As between various good men in the district we have no right to interfere, in this matter of nomination, but as a part of the state to be represented, we have the right to hope that in this important approaching election the republicans of the second district will remember that when Mr. Briggs retires from congress, the state loses the services of a representative whose place in very many respects it is not easy for some time to fill.

The Mountain Mystery Solved.

The human remains found on Mt. Washington by a party of students on the 14th inst., were removed to the Fabyan house on the 15th. The deceased, Harry W. Hunter, belonged in Pittsburg, Pa., and left the Willey house to ascend the mountain on the 3d of September, 1874, and passed the Crawford house on his way up, since which time up to the 14th inst. no trace of him could be discovered, though persistent search was made to find him the year following his disappearance, his father having offered a generous reward for the recovery of the body.

News and Notes.

At Springfield, Mass., Thursday morning, John Kelley, a brewery laborer, reported that his wife was dead. An investigation shew that the woman had been murdered by shooting, a charge of buckshot having been fired into her through a door. Kelley was arrested for the murder, all the circumstances pointing to him as being the guilty person.

A brutal dog-fight took place in Tiverton, R. I., on the evening of the 14th inst., between two bull-dogs, one of them being owned by a miserable wretch named Sheridan, belonging in Chelsea, Mass., and the other by a Lowell ruffian named Reaney, the stakes being $300. The fight lasted over two hours and a half, and the Lowell scoundrel took the stakes, the Chelsea dog dying soon after being removed from the pit.

At Salem, Mass., on the evening of the 15th inst., Mrs. Sarah Nagle, a hard-working woman who by her industry had accumulated a little property, went with her daughter to the house of one Albert L. Douglass to collect rent due. The rent was paid, but when the women left the house Douglass made a murderous assault upon them with a hatchet, splitting Mrs. Nagle's head and inflicting fatal injuries. The murderer, who was drunk at the time of the murder, was promptly lodged in jail.

At Lincoln, Lincoln county, New Mexico, July 3d, a young man named Harrison came into town, and becoming intoxicated was locked up. At night a mob effected an entrance to the jail and killed Harrison, riddling him with bullets. On the night of the 4th a mob again surrounded the jail and killed the deputy sheriff, who was implicated in the killing of the night before, and made himself obnoxious to the outlaws. On the night of the 5th the mob again visited the jail, taking out and hanging a prisoner. It is not stated what the latter's crimes were or what he was charged with.

On the 15th inst. an oil-pipe line burst near Salamanca, Pa., and the oil took fire. A little girl, five years old, in playing about the spout, had her clothes saturated with the oil, and before she could get away was caught by the flames and burned to death.

Mollie De Jarette, the young girl who was shot in a house of ill fame at Danville, Va., by her brother, on the 8th inst., died on the 15th. Her brother is in jail awaiting trial. The family of the deceased and her slayer stand high in the community.

A son and daughter of Andrew Sammis, of Babylon, L. I., aged nine and eleven years, were kidnapped by George Walton, alias Pinkeye Downes, on the 13th inst. There is much excitement in the place, and people are searching diligently for the stolen children.

G. W. Grant, a young blacksmith, has been missing from Millbury, Mass., for about two months, and as he left his clothing and considerable money behind him, it is feared that he has been either purposely or accidentally killed.

Charles D. Hulett of Pawlet, Vt., was found dead on the 3d inst., under his meat cart, which had tipped over. It is supposed he was intoxicated when the accident happened.

The wife of Charles F. Read of Pawtucket, R. I., committed suicide Wednesday night, the 14th inst., by hanging herself from the headboard of the bedstead. The couple had been married but three weeks.

An alliance between Germany and Turkey is announced as one of the probabilities of the immediate future, if indeed it has not already been secretly arranged. The "sick man" is likely to give Europe lots more of trouble before he is "doctored" to the entire satisfaction of the physicans who have his case in hand.

One hundred and nineteen coal-miners perished by the explosion in the mine at Risca, near Newport, Wales, on the 15th inst., and possibly the loss of life may be still greater. By a similar explosion in this mine in December, 1860, one hundred and forty-five persons were killed.

A letter to the New York Telegram from Santiago de Cuba confirms a previous report of the massacre of a number of sick Cuban patriots, and their attendants. It appears that the unfortunate patriots were on the plantation of Dr. Torres, near Santiago de Cuba. Some of them were suffering from severe illness, and were nursed and waited upon by their companions. A spy gave information of their presence to the Spanish commandant of the post where the Virginius massacre took place, and a detachment of soldiers surrounded the planter's house at night. The entire party was captured, and the butchery began immediately after, each one, including Dr. Torres, the owner of the plantation, being shot down in cold blood. Not one of the party escaped.

Advices from South America say that Peru and Bolivia are about to enter into a confederation as one country under one flag, to be known as the United States of Peru and Bolivia. The preliminary basis of the union has been signed at Lima by representatives of both countries, and laid before the council of state of Peru. After the capture of Arica, the city was given up to the Chilian soldiers, and their orgies ended in burning it to the ground, not a house being left. Fortunately hundreds of women and children were taken on board foreign men-of-war in the port. It is believed that if Lima is captured it will share the same fate. It is stated that Chili has reopened the custom house of Arica to commerce.

Prof. Willard Fisk, of Cornell university, was on the 14th inst. married, at Berlin, Germany, to Jennie McGraw, daughter of the late Hon. John McGraw of Ithaca, N. Y. The happy couple will be able to go to housekeeping in good style right away, the bride's fortune being from four to five millions of dollars.

Walter Delamater of Burnside, Conn., aged about twenty, returned from a hunting excursion the other day, nettled by his bad luck, and seeing a boy named Evarts, carrying a handful of wood, said: "Now we'll have fun with Evarts," and discharged both barrels of his gun at him. One charge took effect, filling the boy's face and shoulder with shot. He lies in a critical condition, and Delamater is in jail awaiting the result of his wounds.

About two months ago Rufus Armstead was assassinated near Horn Lake, Miss., by Ed. Nelons, colored, because Armstead's brother, when deputy sheriff of De Soto county, Miss., a year ago, killed Nelons' brother, who resisted arrest, having been charged with horse stealing. Nelons, the murderer, was pursued to Tunica county bottoms, and together with his brother, Perntiss Nelons, and Tom Konkey, accomplices, were arrested. Ed Nelons, the assassin, was conveyed to jail at Hernando, and Prentiss Nelons and Tom Konkey lodged in Tunica county jail. On Saturday morning, the 10th inst., while the two latter were being conveyed to Hernando, a body of masked men stopped the officers having the prisoners in charge, and took possession of the two men. The officers went to Austin for assistance, but on returning found the two prisoners dead, with their throats cut from ear to ear, their bowels protruding from numberless wounds inflicted with knives, and a rope around each one's neck.

The residents of Nahant, Swampscott, Lynn, and along shore, are having a gala time as well as a profitable one, among the immense schools of mackerel that have made their appearance during the past week. Captain Small, a veteran fisherman, says that such a sight has not occurred for sixteen years. On Sunday last Capt. Small and his crew secured a big haul, the fish weighing a pound and a quarter to two and a half pounds each; on Monday he sold his catch in Boston for $1200. Wednesday a large whale made its appearance, and an eye-witness says as the huge monster opened his capacious mouth the mackerel were sucked in by the barrel full. The fishermen are enlarging the meshes of their nets so as to let the small mackerel escape. Yesterday the mackerel were swarming in our harbor, the first time in many years, and were taken on the hook from the wharf.—Newburyport Herald, July 16th.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Nathan F. Gilson has received a new lot of choice cigars which he is selling at very low prices—fifteen-centers for ten cents, and ten-centers for five cents.

In the Union chapel at Little Boar's Head, Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody of Harvard university will conduct services on Sunday, July 18th, at eleven o'clock A. M.

A boat-race for twenty-five cents took place on the river, Thursday evening, between the Churchill boat club and the Southenders, the former winning the quarter.

The many friends of Walter C. Harriman, Esq., will be glad to learn that he returns home this morning, after six weeks rusticating, with health much improved.

Rev. Father Waldron of Baltimore, formerly of this city, will hold services according to the ritual of the Roman Catholic church in the Union chapel at Little Boar's Head on Sunday morning, July 18th, at 7:30 o'clock.

On Thursday, the 8th inst., as Mr. Daniel Mason was sawing a log in his mill, a knot flew out, striking him on the left eye and cutting it in two places, inflicting injuries which it is feared will cause him to lose the sight of that eye.

A party of excursionists from Dover, Newmarket and Exeter, accompanied by a brass band, will go to Haverhill, Mass., on the 22d inst., and there embark on the new steamboat City of Haverhill for a trip down the Merrimack river and to the beaches.

On Friday afternoon a part of the frame of the staging at Jones' new malt house gave away at about the centre, near by where three men were working, one of whom sprang on the wall, one jumped from the staging as it was falling, while the third, who had a hod of mortar on his back, went down with the stage, but fortunately escaped injury.

Capt. Rashe Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, had a mooring buoy laid down in Chauncey's creek on Friday, and is now ready for engagements to take parties to and from that place. The woods and creeks in that vicinity have many natural attractions, and a short walk will take any one to Sea point on Gerrish's island, where a fine ocean view is obtainable.

The coal-pocket attracts many visitors, and it is really interesting to observe how easily and quickly a team can be loaded there. By the ordinary method it takes about half an hour to screen a ton of coal and load it into a cart, and oftentimes then there is a good deal of dust in it, but at the pocket an iron gate weighing thirty-five pounds is raised, when the coal comes out at a lively rate, and passes over the chute and screen into the cart free from any dust, just one minute being required to load a ton. Mr. Walker, the enterprising proprietor of the coal-pocket, is now making improvements to facilitate the loading of gondolas.

The yacht Winnie L., G. M. Harrington owner and Henry Gurney captain, hailing from Lynn, Mass., arrived here from the Shoals on Friday evening with a party of six gentlemen from Orleans, N. Y., one from New York city and one from Boston, and a crew of four, on their way to Mount Desert as soon as the weather becomes favorable, touching at Portland and other places on the way.

A boat-race came off on Friday evening as previously announced, the contestants being the Springhill, Landing, State street and Water street clubs. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather the race attracted many spectators. No official decision as to the winning boat's crew was rendered at the close of the race, so the stakeholder kept the $2 in his vest pocket all night.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: I do not believe in carrying politics into municipal affairs to the extent they are and should be carried into state and national matters. As regards a third term for mayor—Why not? If we have a mayor who has properly administered the affairs of the city, and shown himself competent to fill the office, why ask or think of a change? Let "well enough" alone. I do not doubt but that others are as able to discharge the duties as the present incumbent, but they have not been tried, and there seems to be no necessity for a trial. XX.

"DIDN'T LIKE CAVALRY."

Under the above heading Peck's Sun, of Milwaukee, Wis., relates the thrilling adventures of one of Portsmouth's long-absent sons, as follows:

There has been a singular affair connected with the new cavalry organization. When the company was first formed, there was no man that was more enthusiastic than Win. Nowell. He was at every meeting previous to the "muster in," and was anxious for the picnic to commence. The first set-back Win. got was when he was sworn in, and he found, when it was everlastingly too late, that he had enlisted for five years, and was liable to be called out at any moment to suppress an insurrection. He fairly turned pale. Then another burden was added to his soul when the sabres and deadly carbines arrived, and were being issued to the men. He did not dare touch the trigger of a sabre, for fear it would go off and blow him full of carving knives. The last hair that broke his back was when the company mounted for the first time. Win. got a horse that reared up before and kicked down behind, and when the sabre scabbard hit the horse in the flank, and two spurs stuck in him, and the curb bit nearly broke his jaw, the frantic horse jumped over an iron picket fence. This was trouble enough for any peaceable man, but it was not all, as a rumor reached Mr. Nowell that the Light Horse Squadron was going to be ordered into active service to drive the Indian tobacco signs, that have been committing depredations on the settlers here, onto a reservation down in Rock county. At this Win. Nowell decided to act. He made up his mind to get a furlough until the campaign was over, if he died in the attempt. He called to his aid Dr. Wm. Crombie, who diagnosed his symptoms. Dr. Crombie told him that the only way he could see for him to get out of active service in the field was to break an arm, or a leg, or some limb or bone that is indispensable in the cavalry service. Mr. Nowell thought the matter over, and decided to take the advice, so he put on his sabre and his spurs and mounted a step-ladder for a little ride about the yard. At the proper moment the step-ladder kicked up, shied at a piece of paper, and the bold cavalryman was dismounted, and his arm was broken as nice as though it was accidental, and the man has received his furlough. For fear his arm would get well before the danger was over, Mr. Nowell has had himself appointed inspector of illuminating oils, with a view of being blown up and having his moustache singed off, in order to keep from going to the front. Such a soldier as that would steal chickens if he had a chance, on the march, we feel sure.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Lindsey, the driver of the White Mountain coach which was overturned with fatal result while being driven down the mountain on the 12th inst., is a brother of Landlord Lindsey of the Ocean house at Old Orchard beach.

A Kittery man on the 13th of June bought two pigs, weighing respectively sixteen and seventeen pounds. On the 12th inst. he weighed them again, and found that one weighed thirty-nine pounds and the other forty-nine.

The following officers of Dirigo Encampment, No. 7, I. O. O. F., of Kittery, were installed July 2d by George O. Wilson, acting D. D. G. C. P.; George W. Daymon, C. P.: D. W. Marden, H. P.; Calvin L. Getchell, S. W.; Charles W. Eaton, J. W.; Calvin L. Hayes, scribe; John Gottermeyer, treasurer; Oliver B. Moody, O. S.; Edward Schmidt, I. S.; Horace Mitchell, guide; Oscar Marr, Herman Paul, guards.

On Wednesday, the 14th inst., the police officers of Biddeford seized a quantity of liquors at the depot in that place, and confiscated them. The beverage was shipped by a "California Wine merchant" in Dover, who states that the seizure was a valuable one, as per order book. The Democrat says "the labors under the opinion that he can recover his property, but it is doubtful, as Biddeford is situate in Maine, and not in New Hampshire."

A young lady named Tremblay, about eighteen years of age, was before the police court at Biddeford on the 12th inst. at the instance of her father, who complained that she had surreptitiously deserted her home in Springvale. The young lady acknowledged the truth of her father's story, but claimed to be justified in her course, stating that she was brought up by her grandmother in Canada, and always lived with her until about a year ago, when she came to live with her parents at Springvale, since which time she has been terribly abused, so much so that that the neighbors have repeatedly remonstrated with the father and threatened prosecution. When the abuse could be tolerated no longer, the neighbors made up a purse sufficient to enable her to leave home, when she fled to Biddeford, pursued by her loving parent. After a thorough sifting of the case the court required the father to furnish bonds for the proper maintenance of the girl in more friendly quarters.

Political Matters.

The official majority of George, republican congressman from Oregon, is 1397. The total vote was 5812 more than it was in 1878, when Whiteaker, democrat, was elected. The three republican candidates for the supreme bench averaged 1696 majority over the three democratic candidates. And yet the democrats are claiming Oregon!

As late as 1860, Mr. English, the democratic nominee for vice president, introduced a bill in congress which rendered the city, township or county wherein a slave was rescued from his master, liable to the master for double the value of the slave, to be recovered by a suit in the United States courts.

The greenback wing of the truck-and-dicker party of Maine has pretty effectually swallowed the democratic faction. The democratic state committee met in Portland on the 15th inst., and nominated three electors, viz., W. A. Cromwell of York, and Donovan and Watts of Thomaston. The other four electors to be voted for by the "Jacksonian mint-drops democracy" will be nominated by the greenback state committee.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

William Shute has been fined $6.50 at East Haven, Conn., for telling Abner Bradley to "go to hell."

Delicate females find Malt Bitters nourishing, strengthening and purifying.

There is a house in Bath, Me., which is said to be haunted, and two stalwart gentlemen who didn't believe in it went to investigate. But they came away much scared, and claim that they heard unearthly yells and saw figures in white, and illuminations. In fact, they tell a first-class ghost story.

—Book publishers say that the "Scottish Chiefs" and "Thaddeus of Warsaw," are almost classics in their way, and every generation demands them. They are selling very largely this season.

—Lewis Hiltz, who killed Joseph Melody at Independence, Mo., two years ago, but was cleared by a tricky lawyer, on the ground of insanity, has been struck dead by sun-stroke, on the same day of the month, at the same hour of the day, and on the same spot where he committed the crime.

Important.

European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. 4p18ctaug80

—A Wisconsin farmer twenty-three years ago planted a piece of waste land, unfit for cultivation, with black walnut trees. The trees are now from sixteen to twenty inches through, and have been sold for $27,000.

— It is claimed that the identical flag which floated over Fort Sumter in 1861, when bombarded by the rebels, is now in possession of parties in West Chester, Pa., where it was recently exhibited to the congregation in the Methodist church.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H,

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. The high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Brahm, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has Gurney's patent heaters in sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

Snakes as Life Destroyers.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet the disease which is as wily and deadly as the deadliest India reptile, is winding its coil around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. It has long been a hobby with incompetent physicians to assume that consumption is incurable after the formation of tubercles has begun; and in every case they fail to effect a cure,—of course tubercles had begun to form and they were incurable. The records of medical science disprove say such theory. On the contrary, in cases of lung disease which had been cured and the patients lived forty and fifty years in robust health, post-mortem examinations showed large cicatrices (scars) where the tubercles had been formed and removed. The tubercles are removed by absorption into the blood. An efficient alterative, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, must be used to cleanse the blood of the scrofulous impurities. For tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. Golden Medical Discovery is a sovereign remedy for all forms of scrofulous disease, or king's evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever-sores, scrofulous sore eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases.

The steamer Illyrian, on her last inward voyage to New York, was boarded 242 miles east of Cape Cod by a New York pilot, as she was feeling her way through a dense fog.

Permanently Cured of Piles.

Hon. G. H. Rice, late R. R. Commissioner of Vermont, writes:

MILTON, VT., Sept. 16.

I have been a great sufferer from Piles, having had it in its blind phase for years. About two years ago, when the disease began to assume the bleeding form, I tried "Kidney-Wort," and used about half a dozen packages, which I believe effected a permanent cure. From my own experience and that of others I am acquainted with, I became satisfied that the Kidney-Wort possessed remarkable virtues, and probably should have purchased an interest in its sale had I been possessed of sufficient means.

Truly yours, G. H. Rice.

The sloop Hope, Olsen master, bound from Lanesville for Boston with 115 tons of stone, was run down and sunk last Thursday morning about two miles east of Thatcher's island by the schooner Fred L. Porter. The Hope's crew of three men landed at Thatcher's island; the schooner kept on her course, apparently uninjured.

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home. —N. Y. Independent.

Chastine Cox, the negro thief who murdered Mrs. Jane DeForrest Hull in New York on the night of June 10th, 1879, while engaged in robbing her residence, was hung in that city on Friday. Good riddance.

Speer's Sambuci Wine.

We have examined specimens of the Sambuci Wine of Mr. Alfred Speer, referred to by a correspondent of the American Baptist and have no doubt it is pure. We should judge from its taste and appearance, that it is certainly valuable as a medicinal wine and as a tonic for weakly persons. It has the recommendation of some of the first physicians in this country as well as in Europe.—Washington Star.

John Norris and Frank Buck, two young white men, are under arrest in Washington charged with a brutal outrage on Mary Mansfield, a young girl about sixteen years old, hailing from a village near Boston.

The aged and infirm are strengthened and faculties brightened by Malt Bitters.

The Cameron-Estes Plough company is formed at Portland, Me., with a capital of $300,000, of which $75,000 is working capital, and $12,000 is placed. The president is J. H. Whitney.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "No you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It contains no magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—I. deal Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

Cultivating Water Lilies.

We have several times suggested that those who are fond of the most beautiful water lily, or pond lily (Nymphæa odorata)—as "who is not"—can cultivate it with very little trouble. Those who have hesitated to make the attempt will be encouraged by the following account of its successful treatment, by Miss Buckman, St. Joseph county, Ind. Miss Buckman writes: "I have a half-hogshead in our yard, which is sunk even with the ground. In the bottom is some of the soil taken from the bottom of a little lake where the water lilies grow. We put in several roots of the lily, filled the barrel with water, and then awaited the results. The next July we noticed seven small buds on the surface of the water; by the first of August, the surface of the tub was a mass of beauty, the large white lilies being an attraction for the passers-by that could not be resisted. This was three years ago; each year there have been more flowers than in the previous summer. In the fall, we throw a little manure into the tank, place some boards over the top, and with this little bit of trouble increase the beauty of our experiment, which has been a success."—American Agriculturist.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, July 14.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3289; sheep and lambs 7825; swine, 6300; number western cattle 2206; number of western cattle 41; milch cows and northern cattle 146.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs live weight—Extra quality $5 25 and $5 50; first quality $4 87½ and $5 12½; second quality $4 37½ and $4 75; third quality $3 75 and $4 25; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 25 and $3 75.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 5½c per lb.
Country hides 7½ and 8c per lb.
Country Tallow 3½ and 4c per lb.
Calf skins 12½ and 13c per lb, or from $1 25 and $1 75 per skin.
Lamb skins 75c each.
Sheared sheep skins 40c each.

There has been a fair demand for beef cattle this week, and prices upon cattle suitable for the butcher's trade advanced 1c per lb over those obtained one week ago for the same grades of beeves. The trade for extra cattle has been good, and quite a number were bought up for shipment to England at prices ranging from 5½ and 5½c per lb live weight. From Maine there was a fight-supply of milch cows and a few beef cattle. The trade at present is confined mostly to beef cattle, there being but a few Northern or Eastern store cattle offered in the markets for sale.

Working oxen—A few pairs each week is all the market requires at present. As soon as cattle commence coming in more freely from the north and Maine, trade for workers will revive. We did not notice any sales this week.

Store Cattle—Not any call for them. Most of the small cattle that are left over of the week, are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—The supply in market was light, and most of those offered for sale were a common grade. We quote sales of 15 of 50 per lb live weight, average weight 125 lbs; 47 at $65 50 per head.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep and lambs (not including those from Brighton) 6 and 6½ per lb live weight; mostly owned by butchers. None on the market for sale.

Swine—Fat hogs—Dressed 5½c per lb live weight.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail, solely from spa-modic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON,
17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 28, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance in the month of May—about ten (10) years—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease has been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a perfect and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise a similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case. Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been spending for eight years and it did no good. Evening fever and sweats incl. I got reduced from 179 to 132 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN H. H. Y.
414 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is admirable, assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus or Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant in the treatment of Skin and external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is unsurpassed; as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess the new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

Chambers's Encyclopædia.

15 Vols. Over 13,000 Pages. Price during July, $6.25.

Among the wonderful things which have been accomplished for lovers of good books by the "Literary Revolution," perhaps the most wonderful is the production of this great Encyclopædia at a merely nominal cost.

It is a verbatim reprint of the last English edition, in 15 beautiful volumes, clear nonpareil type, handsomely bound in cloth, for $6.25; the same printed on finer, heavier paper, wide margins, and bound in half Russia, gilt top, price $15.00. The first ten volumes are ready for delivery. Vol. 11 will be ready July 10. The remaining volumes will be completed by October next.

$6.25. AN AMAZING OFFER. $6.25.

The more widely and rapidly these volumes are scattered, the greater is their influence in inducing other purchasers of this and our many standard publications. Accordingly we give special terms to early subscribers.

To all, whose orders and money are received during the month of July, we will supply the 15 volumes, in cloth, for $6.25 and in half Russia, gilt top, for $12 50. To any one sending from any place, where we have no special agent (usually the leading bookseller of the town), a club of five orders, etc, and may be returned at once if not satisfactory.

The "CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPÆDIA" comprises a specimen volume in cloth $1, sent, post-paid, for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top, for $1.00, will allow a commission of 10 per cent. The volumes issued will be sent at once by express, and the remaining volumes when completed.

A specimen volume in cloth $1, sent, post-paid, for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top, for $1.00, (preparing) and the remaining volumes, complete in themselves, will be sold separately when published.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, comprising reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and is is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Popular Monthly Drawing of the Commonwealth Distribution Co.,

AT MACAULEY'S THEATRE,
In the City of Louisville, on

SATURDAY, JULY 31st, 1880.

These Drawings, authorized by the Legislature of 1869, and sustained by all the courts of Kentucky, according to a contract made with the owners of the Frankfort grant, will occur regularly on the last day of every month, Sunday and Friday excepted, for the period of five years, terminating on June 30th, 1885.

The United States Circuit Court on March 31st rendered the following decisions:

1st. That the Commonwealth Distribution Company is legal.

2d. Its drawings are fair.

The management call attention to the liberal scheme which has met with such popular favor heretofore, and which will again be presented for all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can do. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urination, Highly Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be speedily restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old trick to mend well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effective powders for one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost. Nostrums, pills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief, can be used without loss or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures, free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

What Has Happened Since 1840.

It is not too much to say that no great invention which had not its beginning in the decade of 1840—1850 has appeared in the past thirty years. In that period occurred the most signal development of the application of chemistry to manufactures and agriculture; an enormous expansion of commerce by means of railroads and ocean-steamships; the discovery of ether; and the perfection and diffusion of some of the most precious contributions ever made to the welfare of mankind. In 1835 only 984 miles of railroad had been completed in the United States; in 1840 they had been nearly trebled (2,818); in 1845 they had nearly quadrupled (3,768). In 1835 Boston was connected with Worcester; and Baltimore with Washington; from Philadelphia the traveller could go no farther west by rail than the Susquehanna at Columbia. In 1839, Ericsson brought over the propeller to these hospitable shores. In 1840 the Cunard line of ocean-steamers was established, but for a long time only "side-wheelers" were tolerated. The first regular ship, the Britannia, reached Boston after a trip of fourteen days and eight hours. Morse's telegraph, after vain offers on both sides of the Atlantic, was at last subsidized by our own government, and in 1844 communication was opened between Baltimore and Washington. "What has God wrought!" signalled Morse at the capital to Alfred Vail at Baltimore. The news despatches to the press "by electro-telegraph" or "by magnetic telegraph" were meager, while public patronage was so timid that the wits of the day made fun of a delighted father in Baltimore who "wired" the news of the birth of a grandson to a post-office official at the Capital—"as if the mail were too slow" at twenty miles an hour. In April, 1840, Goodyear was in the debtors' prison (a lodging almost as familiar to him as his own home in Boston; he had the year before found the clue to the vulcanizing of rubber, but the process was not reduced to a certainty till 1844. At about the same time (1845-47) the McCormick reaper was confirming the independence of the New World of the Old as a granary. (As late as 1836-38 wheat had been imported into the United States from Portugal and the Baltic.) The sewing-machine devised by Elias Howe in 1843 was patented in 1846, but the importance of this invention was not fully realized for more than a dozen years afterward. The daguerreotype dates from 1839, and in 1840 the enterprizing Mr. Plumb began taking likenesses in Boston—with small success for some months. Five years later his "galleries" were to be found not only in that city, but in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and even Dubuque, Iowa. Finally, July 24, 1847, the patent was issued for Hoe's lightning-press, with its "impression cylinder" (the type revolving on a circular bed) and a printing capacity of ten to twenty thousand impressions per hour.—Lippincott.

Hard Times.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Dr. David Kennedy, Proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

— It is learned by the Philadelphia Chronicle man that Edison is inventing a lemonade without either sugar or lemons for the convenience of circuses and Sunday school picnics. That man never drank either, or he would know that these two ingredients are never in them. —Every Saturday.

The ladies who some time since were unable to go out, have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are quite recovered, and have gone on their way rejoicing.

— An independent minister, as much distinguished for his eccentricity as for his piety, dined one day with the senior deacon of his church. The deacon, who was in the habit of asking blessings of a most wearisome length, was particularly profix, and paused to gain a new supply of breath and words. The minister stopped, the minister sat down and commenced rattling his knife and fork. The worthy deacon, looking down, exclaimed: "Doctor, doctor, I'm not through yet; I only hesitated." "Hesitated," replied the doctor, "it's no time to hesitate when the turkey's getting cold."

One of the greatest statesmen that America ever produced, Hon. James G. Blaine, uses Adamson's Botanic Balsam in his family, and indorses it as a safe and effectual remedy for Coughs and Colds.

—When the English take a vacation they sink the shop. An Englishman travelling in Switzerland met a French lady with her daughter. They made up a party and did the lakes together. The young lady was suddenly attacked with the toothache, and the party travelled twelve miles to find a dentist, who applied a little laudanum. Subsequently it was ascertained that the Englishman was a dentist. When asked why he did not relieve the fair patient he dryly replied, "I am on a vacation."

Nursing mothers and delicate females gain strength and flesh from Malt Bitters.

—A silk manufacturer of Macclesfield, England, will soon establish silk works in Paterson, N. J., to be run with American-built machinery. He will bring over from England several hundred expert silk workers.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

"Recantations of Republicanism."

The present political campaign resembles very much that of 1852, when Frank Pierce carried every state but four. There is the same recantation of republicanism now that there was of whiggery then. The papers were full of letters abandoning the whig party and proclaiming Pierce their choice. It is just so now. Recantations of republicanism fill the papers, and Hancock and English are acknowledged the choice of the recanters.—Nashua Gazette.

Our recollection of the campaign of 1852 is not very vivid, but we distinctly remember the campaign of 1872, when Horace Greeley, a life-long opponent of democracy, was the democratic candidate for president; and we remember that for every one so-called "recantation of republicanism" published in the democratic papers now—nine out of every ten of which are written by men who have been anti-republicans for years—there were a hundred in the Greeley campaign; hardly a prominent republican in the country that was not claimed as having "come out for Greeley," or being intending to come out for him "at the right time;" and yet unless our memory is very much at fault, Mr. Greeley was not elected. If the democrats are depending for Hancock's election on the corporal's guard of real republicans—not greenbackers or soreheads—who have "recanted republicanism" in his favor, they are trusting to a reed of the most feeble sort.

News and Notes.

The occupants of the house in Springfield, Mass., where the Kelly murder took place, now say they heard Kelly and his wife quarelling all night, and also the discharge of a gun, but thought it best not to interfere.

At Seagirt, N. J, on the 16th inst., Postal Agent Thomas Owens was drowned while endeavoring to save Miss Zimmerman. Both were in bathing, when the undertow took them beyond their depth. Miss Zimmerman's brother rescued her, and then narrowly escaped drowning in an endeavor to also save Owens.

The democrats had a lively ratification meeting at Frankfort, Ky., on the 15th inst., followed by fireworks, at the close of which a general discarge of firearms took place, and Robert Craig, while leaning out of a window, received a fatal shot. Frank Redman had an eye put out by a Roman candle, and an old man received the contents of a shot-gun in his back.

According to the United States fish commission, the world is indebted to a woman for the discovery that the oil of "menhaden" fish has much commercial value. About the year 1850 Mrs. John Bartlett, of Blue Hill, near Mt. Desert, Me., while boiling some fish for her chickens, noticed a thick scum of oil upon the surface of the water; some of this she bottled, and when on a visit to Boston soon after, she carried samples to one of the leading oil merchants of that city, who encouraged her to bring more. The following year the Bartletts industriously plied their gill-nets, and sent to market thirteen barrels of oil, for which they were paid at the rate of $11 per barrel, in all $143.

The Maine Farmer has reports from every section of the state, showing the condition of the crops. These reports show that the continued dry weather has affected the hay crop quite severely in some localities, while in others frequent showers have mitigated the effects of the drouth. The hay crop in the state will be above the average, and the fine weather of the past two weeks will insure an excellent quality. Grain, especially early sown, is reported as looking finely, and corn and potatoes promise well. On the whole, the outlook for the farmers of Maine is most excellent, and they have cause for rejoicing.

The civil case of Joseph Parker against Father A. B. Dufresne, the French priest at Holyoke, Mass., was settled on Thursday last by the payment of $1000 to Parker. The suit was brought to recover damages on the ground that the priest had broken up the plaintiff's business of liveryman by ordering his people not to patronize him. Parker obtained a verdict for $3,433, but feared, from what he heard about the state of Father Dufresne's property, that he might not get anything if he did not comply with the priest's desire to compromise, and therefore settled as stated.

King Stanley, the ruler of all the gypsies in this country, lives in the midst of a settlement of his people near Dayton, Ohio. His daughter, who was to become queen at his death, has lost her heritage by eloping with a man not a gypsy.

New Hampshire Items.

Atherton Wales, house carpenter, fell from a staging on the Hamilton hotel at Lebanon, Friday morning, to the ground, breaking one leg and inflicting severe internal injuries. Fears are entertained that they will prove fatal.

The Odd Fellows' reunion opened at Weirs Friday with fine weather and a fair attendance. The permanent organization was formed and officers chosen. There were evening services, with speaking by leading Odd Fellows of the state, and music by an orchestra.

The governor and council, Thursday and Friday, heard evidence and arguments upon a petition for the pardon of Thomas Weir, sentenced in 1865 to thirty years' imprisonment for killing a Shaker at Enfield. The case was laid upon the table.

A heavy tornado, with lightning and much rain, passed over a portion of Hanover on the 16th inst. at about half-past five o'clock in the afternoon, cutting a path about two miles long and two hundred rods wide. Trees and buildings on the line were badly damaged, and several persons were hurt. A very heavy shower passed over Manchester on the same evening.

Political Matters.

Gen. Hancock says he has not yet written his letter of acceptance. That's not the worst of it; he never will. The democracy will not trust the "Soldier statesman" to do this little epistolary job, any more than the Hancock Petroleum Co. would think of entrusting him with the duty of writing their advertisements for calls of shares. All that is wanted of the general is to add to the feet of the letter the high sounding name of "W. Scott Hancock." His duty hath this extent—no more.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "No you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, or Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod&6m

AROUND HOME.

The steamer Mystic makes her excursion—postponed last week on account of the weather—to the Shoals this evening.

Isaac Furber, who twenty-five years or more ago was widely known as the popular landlord of the Newmarket hotel in Newmarket, died in South Newmarket on the 10th inst., in the 86th year of his age.

Mr. George H Lennox, advance agent of the New Orleans minstrels, was at the Gibson house on Saturday. His errand to this city was to make arrangements for the appearance of the troupe at Music hall next Saturday evening.

The first green corn in our market this season, raised in this vicinity, was brought in on Saturday, the 17th inst., by Mr. Kennard of Eliot. This is several days earlier than green corn of local production ever appeared in this market before.

The complimentary dinner tendered to the proprietors of the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle by the Portsmouth board of trade, will come off at the Wentworth on Wednesday evening next, at eight o'clock, and not in the afternoon as has been stated.

One of the largest and handsomest campaign flags in the city was raised on Saturday by Hon. Daniel Marcy in front of his residence on Pleasant street, replacing a small one hoisted there some time ago. It flies for Hancock and English, of course.

The brig Florence May, from Lingan, N. S., with coal, while beating up the river on Saturday afternoon was taken by the tide on the ledge off Badger's island point. The tug Clara Batemen attempted to pull her off that evening, and at high tide Sunday morning, without avail; and it was only after about eighty tons of coal were put out that she was hauled off by the steamer on Sunday evening, and moored at the Concord railroad wharf. She is reported as not seriously damaged.

The venerable Portsmouth Chronicle jumps up like a bee-stung school boy to take exceptions to our comments on the Dover point picnic. Bless your soul, old lady, there was rum, drunkenness and fighting enough to satisfy even the caprices of Portsmouth people. What we complained of was the absolute lack of amusement, excepting the dance board, which was generally occupied by a gang of drunken rowdies and harlots from your own moral city—Great Falls Journal.

We fear that our youthful and inexperienced contemporary lies; in fact, we know that it lies when it thus slanders the management and patrons of the Catholic picnic. The Journal should not allow itself to be misled by the malicious statements of an irresponsible bummer like its Salmon Falls correspondent.

The Newmarket Advertiser of last week thus refers to a native and former resident of this city, now living in Lynn, Mass.: "Mr. Frank L. Howard, business manager for the late Yankee Locke the past season, who played with the Comique Concert company Wednesday evening, has signed a contract for nine months with Anthony & Ellis, the season to commence August 22d. Mr. Howard makes a decided success in the character of Uncle Tom, in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' and is an excellent vocalist as well as possessing fine dramatic ability. We find, acquaintance, Mr. Howard to be a thorough gentleman and a pleasant companion, and wish him every success in his chosen avocation." Mr. Howard has appeared on Music hall stage in this city in the character referred to, and is as good an "Uncle Tom" as we ever saw.

The Springhill and Landing boat clubs had another race on Saturday evening, the stakeholder having refused to pay over to the former the two dollars put up to be rowed for, on the ground that it had not been fairly won on Friday evening, a boat not in the race having purposely impeded the Landing crew. On Saturday evening the race was fair and square, and the Springhillers came in ahead by about four boat's-lengths, after a sharp contest and good rowing on both sides; and the coxswain of the winning boat presenting the stakeholder a certificate to that effect from a responsible citizen who saw the race, received the money.

Among the passengers who sailed in the Cunard steamer Samaria from Boston, for Liverpool, on Saturday, were Mr. John P. Lyman, Miss Theodora Lyman, and Mrs. Susan P. Kittredge of this city.

Steamer Stamford came here from Newburyport on Sunday, and took a good-sized party on a trip around Boon island and the Shoals. A tug-boat from Biddeford also came here in the afternoon, with an excursion party.

The Sunday morning editions of the Boston Herald and Globe can hereafter be obtained on Sunday at the Gibson house on Vaughan street, where Mr. M. J. Leary, the general agent for this city, has established a branch agency for their sale.

The fifth reunion of the high school alumni at the new Franklin dance hall promises to be the most interesting ever held by the association. The literary and musical exercises will commence promptly at 7:45 o'clock, with a selection by Harlow's orchestra of six pieces, and a flute solo by Mr. Boothman of Haverhill. A short eulogy on the life of the late president of the association, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, will be delivered by Rev. Jas. DeNormandie. There will be two readings by lady and gentleman graduates. The Nowell brothers have kindly volunteered their services, and each will play a solo. Mr. D. H. Montgomery, agent for Chickering & Son, is to furnish direct from the manufactory expressly for this occasion a new grand piano. This will be the last opportunity to hear the Nowell brothers previous to their long absence in Europe. There will be no speeches as in previous years. The tickets are being delivered at the store of C. N. Shaw & Co., No. 3 Market street. No complimentary tickets will be issued. Any person who has ever attended the high school can obtain a certificate of membership on payment of one dollar. This certificate entitles the holder to two tickets, and makes the holder a life member of the association, with the privilege of admittance to future reunions, agreeably to the rules of the association.

A GRAND SUCCESS.

Every room in the "Wentworth" was occupied last week. In fact the success of this famous establishment was assured from its opening hour. It is all that was promised in its liberal advertisements, and is to rank second to no establishment of the kind, north of Long Branch. We are gratified at this result, and the fact that the anticipations of its far-seeing projecters are fully realized, is pleasing to us as an indication that local investments can be successfully made in our own vicinity. But it has cost hard work and the efforts of clear heads to attain this result, one moral of which is unmistakably obvious—advertise!

THE THUNDER SHOWER.

A shower passed over this city Friday evening, accompanied by vivid lightning and considerable thunder, one clap being very heavy.

During the shower the lightning struck the telegraph wires at Langdon bridge on Lafayette road, and ran in along the lines through Lafayette road, South road and Wibird street to the residence of D. Webster Barnabee, where it left the wires, crossed Middle street between the houses of James L. Parker and A. F. Howard, and went into a field on Cass street. Throughout its entire course not more than a dozen or two of poles escaped without their tops being shattered.

Mr. Michael Sheridan, who lives on the South road, was out of doors at the time the telegraph wires were struck, and was whirled around, thrown down, and so much dazed that he was obliged to be carried into the house.

About ten minutes after the lightning struck the wires the persons living on Wibird street felt a shock which they thought was an earthquake, which shook the houses so far as to make lamps tremble and dishes rattle.

During the shower Messrs. George Jones, engineer of Kearsarge steam fire engine, James Hurd, and a Mr. Tobey left the engine house, and when a short distance away what seemed to be a ball of fire fell in front of them and bounced over the fence into the enclosure of the Unitarian church. Mr. Jones was considerably affected, so much so that he was unwell all day Saturday.

POLICE COURT.

There was a little spurt of business at the police court last week. On Wednesday, Edwin Goodwin was examined on a charge of assaulting an officer, but squeezed clear. Dennis Harrington, for drunkenness, was assessed $9,90; and James Norton, for the same offence, was directed to hand over a similar amount, failing in which he went to Brentwood. James Murphy, for larceny and for not having $8.01 to pay for his "fun," was sent to Brentwood. This was a case in which the prisoner and two other young fellows stopped a boy from across the river as he was passing over Church hill, and while two of them prevented him from proceeding the third stole a few quarts of cherries which he was carrying in a basket, the evidence showing that Murphy was the ring-leader and the actual thief.

On Saturday four "drunks" were introduced to Judge Batchelder's notice, viz.: William La Clair, James O'Brien, Adolph Vetter and James Doherty; "six-ninety" was the observation made to each, which so annoyed La Clair and O'Brien that they emigrated to Brentwood. Robert Henderson, for an assault on Wm. N. Jeffrey, was fined $1, costs $6.90.

MELVILLE C. FREEMAN.

Mr. Melville C. Freeman, well known as a former landlord of the Cape Neddick house, died in Cape Neddick, York, on Friday last. Mr. Freeman was a son of "Marm Freeman," the estimable lady and excellent manager who made the Cape Neddick house a famous and favorite pleasure resort for people in this section of the country, summer and winter, at a time when "summer hotels" were few and far between. He has been ill with consumption for a number of years, and on this account gave up business several years ago, since which time he has made his home with his wife's father, Capt. Josiah Chase of Chase's mills, where he died, spending his winters with his brother at Vassalboro', Me. As a landlord, he maintained the high reputation and favor won for the Cape Neddick house by his predecessor, and was highly respected as a citizen and a man.

His funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, and was one of the most largely attended ones in that section for years. After prayer at the late residence of the deceased the remains were taken to the Baptist church, Cape Neddick, where the services were opened by the pastor, the sermon being preached by Rev. Mr. Sewell, the Congregational minister at York village. A number of prominent citizens of Portsmouth, who years ago were accustomed to spend a portion of each summer at Cape Neddick, attended the funeral.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: In your issue of the 16th inst. I notice that "No. Two" takes up the mayoralty question, and after conceeding all that "Citizen" had to say relative to Messrs. Bufford, Hall and Curtis, advocates the renomination of Mayor Sise, simply because in his (No. Two's) opinion these gentlemen could do no better as mayor than Col. Sise has done. This is a bran new idea in politics, and a "hefty" argument. No matter how many and honorable the aspirants, how desirable the change, the present incumbent must be re-elected until some one is found that can better fill the position, and better perform the duties of the office. "No Two" is informed that "postmasters and collectors of customs" are not elected by the people, and the public have very little to do with their retention or non-retention in office.

Third termism is disposed of summarily as a "bugaboo," which seems to "No. Two" to "be all bosh." It will not "down" so easily. Two years have hardly elapsed since a strong effort was made by the friends of Ex-Mayor Broughton to induce him to accept a nomination for a third term; his popularity with the masses, and his successful administration of the affairs of the city, gave him great prestige, and it was generally supposed that he would acquiesce in the wishes of his friends. We remember with what force and indignation the present incumbent, then and for many years a persistent occupant of the anxious seat, expressed his unalterable opposition to a third term, and the lengths he would go to defeat a candidate with such a pernicious bee in his hat. A different ox is being gored now. Mr. Broughton declined to allow the use of his name in the mayoralty caucus, and his subsequent preferment attests the appreciation and esteem in which he is held by his fellow-citizens.

A proper regard for the honorable aspirations of the gentlemen mentioned for the office of mayor in my previous article, should impress the present incumbent with the wisdom of his predecessor's action, and induce him to emulate his example. CITIZEN.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Eastern railroad had a large gang of men at work at Kennebunk depot last week, commencing the laying of steel rails from Kennebunk to Portland.

The new factory in process of erection by the Pepperell company at Biddeford, will add twenty per cent to the product of that corporation, with a material increase of the force employed.

Rev. B. Dana Newell, for several years past a resident of Kennebunk, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Freewill Baptist church in Lyman, and will take up his residence in the latter town.

The census of Berwick shows 2774 inhabitants now against 2291 in 1870, a gain of 483. During the last decade a strip of territory containing about 150 inhabitants was set off from Berwick and added to North Berwick, so that the actual gain is over six hundred.

A new medicine, called "Dr. Kelley's bitters," was introduced at Old Orchard beach a few days ago, and became at once immensely popular; but the authorities observing that the sickest men, who had to take the most of the new medicine to keep them alive, were the ones who made the most noise and walked most unsteadily about town, ordered the dealers to stop selling the stuff, and the agent who introduced it directing the dealers to keep on selling, he was arrested.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 23. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yachts for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The verandas, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Table comfort will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Bero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured me of very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

Chinese Treatment of Animals.

They never punish; hence a mule that in the hands of a foreigner would be not only useless, but dangerous to every one about it, becomes in the possession of a Chinamen as quiet as a lamb and as tractable as a dog. We never beheld a runaway, a jibing or a vicious mule or pony in a Chinaman's employment; but found the same rattling, cheerful pace maintained over heavy or light roads, by means of a tar-r or cluck-k, the beast turning to the right or left, and stopping with but a hint from the reins. This treatment is extended to all the animals they press into their service. Often have I admired the tact exhibited in getting a large drove of sheep through narrow, crowded streets and alleys, by merely having a little boy to lead one of the quietest of the flock in front; the others steadily followed without the aid either from a yelping cur or a cruel goad. Cattle, pigs, and birds are equally cared for.—Travels on Horseback in Manchi Tartary.

"It's No Use," He Said.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain: he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office and tell him of this."—Exchange.

—An exchange says: "One of the best modes of taking down an overdressed young dandy on the platform of a street car is to offer him your fare, as if you took him for the conductor. Conductors are very respectable men, but, like editors, they frequently wear their last year's clothes." We heard of this being tried once. The dandy gratefully accepted the six cents, paid his own fare with it when the conductor came along, and smiled significantly as he saw the giver paying his over again.

Mistakes Should be Corrected;

Particularly the practice of taking medicines into the system by way of the stomach for diseases of the kidneys. It is an old treatment, well tried, and proven inefficient. The true method is absorption, as proven by the great success of Day's Kidney Pad.

—No one has a good word for the gaudy Afghans, which a few years since were the thing for open carriage rugs. Far cooler and pleasanter to the eye is the brown holland, now so much used, bound with colored ribbon or braid, and with a simple wreath of flowers and leaves in the centre surrounding a monogram.

"NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL." This motto was adopted some years ago for the wonderful Kidney medicine, Hunt's Remedy. It was a bold banner to carry, for Hunt's Remedy is recommended for some of the most fatal maladies—Bright's Disease, and all Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary Complaints. Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is indeed a positive cure, and really is "never known to fail." Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—"How came you to fail in your examination?" asked the tutor. "I thought I crammed you thoroughly." "Well, you see," replied the student, "the fact was you crammed me so tight I couldn't get it out."

The dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite and wanting in strength take Malt Bitters.

—The Newark Cement company, of Rondout, N. Y., has a mule which displays extraordinary talent. When the signal sounds for twelve o'clock he at once refuses to work, even to finish hoisting a load he may have started, but deliberately allows it to settle back to the bottom. After feeding he will allow himself to be hitched up, but no amount of coaxing or beating will induce him to work until the one o'clock whistle sounds.

Walking Sticks.

A walking stick has always been considered a useful and graceful present, likely to be of pleasant service, and long possessed. Some are inclined to think that the pilgrim's staff, the bishop's crozier, the drum-major's gorgeous mace and the usher's wand have a common origin with the walking stick; at least, we know the change of habit, and that most unaccountable change of fashion, has in our time worked some curious results; the various materials called into use are alone sufficient to cause surprise. Walking sticks have been made of tortoise shell, the bones or vertebrae of the shark, the tusks of the rhinoceros, and wood of every conceivable variety, and lately one was exhibited made entirely of champagne corks, with a stout wire passed through them. The handles have many more scenes to boast, as there are many materials not large enough to make whole sticks, such for instance as the teeth of the giraffe, the walrus, the elephant; and, in fact, most large teeth, and elk horns are useful for the purpose. It is a remarkable fact that women are seldom employed at stick-making, and boys but little, there being so much knowledge and skill required for the various processes that men are chiefly employed. It is also singular that steam power is not in use to any large extent; machinery has the power of turning out large quantities of goods all alike, but cannot vary them. There must not be two alike, and if nature is humored, as it is by skilled workmen, there cannot be: it will readily be seen that a fixed method cannot be applied to all, as each stick must receive treatment peculiar to itself.

Sea-Coast Superstitions.

Old wives by the sea-coast hold many superstitions concerning the "hollow sounding and mysterous main." Thus Dickens tells us that Barkis lingered in his dying until the turn of the tide, when, the tide going out, Barkis went out with it. In New England it is unlucky to kill a pig in the wane of the moon or at the ebbing of the tide; the pork will shrink in the boiling. Water in the dish-pan evaporates more rapidly over the fire when the tide is "dead low." It is unlucky to eat fish from the head downward; it drives away the fish from the shores. To tell the state of the tide without going to the beach, look in a cat's eyes; the pupil of every intelligent cat's eye is elongated when the tide is at the flood. Never count a catch of fish until the day's work, or sport, is done. Otherwise, the sport is spoiled. Similarly, the sea-side farmer never counts his lambs until the season for their dropping is over. But it is not alone in rural communities that men and women keep up customs and rites founded on pagan superstitions. Among the ancient Greeks and Romans it was a common custom for the bridegroom to give his bride, on the wedding night, a considerable sum of money, by way of purchase of her person. From this usage no doubt, we have derived the custom of making wedding presents under which so many people groan. The ancient Saxons gave a betrothal ring, or other gift, which was called "a wed," and from which we have derived a very charming word. Fifth avenue throws an old shoe after the departing bride. Is this because our sterner forefathers ordained that the bridegroom should tap his new-made wife on the head with his shoe, as a token of her submission to her lord?

—A blind man advertises in a Paris newspaper for an infirm woman or a deformed child "who can read," to guide him, offering two francs a day wages, or to "divide the day's proceeds."

—When you can't make a baby quit crying in any other way, let him crawl under a bed and make him believe you think he is lost, and are looking for him, and he will keep quiet for two hours.

—Unique styles of wall hangings are now in favor. For instance, moths, bats and owls are outlined on the background of gray paper. Although vague, the design is unmistakable, and the effect is pretty.

—Macauley once attended an election meeting in Cambridge, and was rewarded by a dead cat being thrown in his face. The man who hurled the offensive article apologized by saying that he had no wish to hit Mr. Macauley, as he intended it for Mr. Adeane. "I wish," replied Macauley, "you had intended it for me and hit Mr. Adeane.

—Granted that Dr. Tanner can go without his victuals for forty days, he will not be famous. Such fasts as this are ordinary enough. Not a country exchange is laid on the table that does not bear record of them. Even in the south, where there is so little enterprise, there is a hero in every town who has frequently fasted for forty days or more without the slightest degree of personal discomfort. In Pensacola, Fla., for example, there is a pious old man who used to keep a furniture store, and who from religious motives has refrained from eating anything for forty days and as many nights. The number of supernaturally short and indomitable appetites have disciplined their stomachs for similar periods is loosely estimated at 10,000—provided that the country editors are not surfeiting their constituencies with taffy.

ENGSTRÖM'S RAZORS.

BRADFORD & ANTHONY, BOSTON, MASS. SOLE AGENTS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

SWEDISH RAZORS

GOLD MEDAL AT U.S. INTL. EXHIB. 1876

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

These RAZORS are esteemed in Europe as the best cutters made in the WORLD. The Swedish Government has on record to them is that "in cutting quality there does not exist any Razors at all that can stand a comparison with those made by JOHAN ENGSTROM."

Extreme care is used in their manufacture. They are made of the BEST STEEL ATTAINABLE, every blade being hardened and tempered by MR. ENGSTROM himself by a secret chemical process which renders it impossible for any Razor not to be of the Best Cutting Quality.

They will be found to shave any beards growing on the human face.

The experience of the thousands in the United States who have used these ENGSTROM'S RAZORS during the past three years fully verifies the excellence claimed for them above.

N. B.—The lack reputation seen by these razors made by ENGSTROM in SWEDEN has induced some English makers to imitate the form and stamp on the backs of their blades the words "Swedish Razors." To distinguish the genuine, see that they are stamped on the back of the razor JOHAN ENGSTROM.

FOR SALE BY DEALERS IN CUTLERY.

Mailed to any address on receipt of the price, which is for black handle medium and small size, $2.00; wide blade, $2.50; ivory, $3.00; extra ivory, $3.50 each.

Every RAZOR is fully WARRANTED by

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1; sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. F. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

GOOD WATCH WORK

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

Daily Chronicle.

Philadelphia Medical "Diplomas."

The Philadelphia Record publishes an exposure of "Dr." John Buchanan, dean of three medical colleges that sold diplomas. It is estimated that 11,000 of Buchanan's bogus diplomas are current throughout the world. A list of those whose diplomas were not antedated is published, with directions for applying twenty-one different methods of detecting the antedated diplomas and establishing their fraudulent character. The doings of the National Eclectic Medical Association, which under Buchanan's management sold its diplomas for $5, are also laid bare.

The Washington Monument.

This week the work of laying the marble masonry of the Washington monument, at Washington, D. C., has been resumed, after a suspension of more than twenty years. The base of the monument is now a scene of great activity, the new foundation having been completed. There was earth enough removed to make a plateau around the monument sixteen feet high, and extending out thirty or forty feet from the masonry on every side. An engine house and a boiler room are sunk in this earth filling. The engine is of thirty-five horse-power, and the horizontal shaft extends to the centre of the monument. The great elevator is now in running order, and is a remarkable piece of machinery. It will, when used as a passenger lift, convey fifteen or twenty people at one time to the summit. Every detail of this vast undertaking has progressed most satisfactorily.

Matrimony in Miniature.

Germany can boast of having produced the smallest married couple that ever stood before an altar, in the persons of a miniature "Marquis" and "Marchioness," who have for some time past been exhibited on the Place de Theatre at Odessa. The "Marquis," a native of Kiel, is thirty years old, and weighs only nineteen pounds, while his fairylike consort, a young lady born in Neumunster some twenty years ago, just turns the scale at thirteen pounds. Although they are both Germans, and were leased by their parents to travelling showmen at an early age, they never happened to meet at the fairs and kermessen of their native land; but a year ago, the "Marquis" being on exhibition at Moscow while Fraulien Lillie was starring at St. Petersburg, they became aware of one another's existence through reading notices, and entered into a correspondence, which soon led to a rendezvous and ultimately to the contraction of a matrimonial engagement. Now they take their professional rounds together, and are saving their earnings with the object of retiring into private life in the fatherland.

Snakes as Life Destroyers.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet the disease which is as wily and deadly as the deadliest India reptile, is winding its coil around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. It has long been a hobby with incompetent physicians to assume that consumption is incurable after the formation of tubercles has begun; and in every case they fail to effect a cure,—of course tubercles had begun to form and they were incurable. The records of medical science disprove any such theory. On the contrary, in cases of lung disease which had been cured and the patients lived forty and fifty years in robust health, post-mortem examinations showed large cicatrices (scars) where the tubercles had been formed and removed. The tubercles are removed by absorption into the blood. An efficient alterative, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, must be used to cleanse the blood of the scrofulous impurities. For tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. Golden Medical Discovery is a sovereign remedy for all forms of scrofulous disease, or king's evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever-sores, scrofulous sore eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases.

The editor of the Times newspaper, published at Newport, Maine, gives his wife the following editorial puff: "Mrs. R. has been received in the most encouraging manner in several places, and it may perhaps not be out of place for us to say that as a vocalist she is considered as possessing more than an average of natural talent. If she had less babies to look after, and a husband with more money, her prospects as a vocal artist would be encouraging."

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.—N. Y. Independent.

The area of the unsurveyed land in the United States, including Alaska, exceeds the area of lands surveyed and placed in the market. The unsurveyed portion of Nebraska is greater than the area of England, Ireland and Scotland combined.

Feeble digestion, sick headache, dizziness and faintness cured by Malt Bitters.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Democratic Bounce.

The Boston Globe of Monday, referring to the possible carrying of New Hampshire by the democrats, says;

The first essential to secure this result is the nomination of a candidate for governor whose name shall add strength to the national democratic ticket. Every one knows whose name will do this, and sweep New Hampshire clean from republicanism. Hon. Frank Jones can be made the next governor of New Hampshire, and can carry the state by a large majority for Hancock and English. Every one knows this; the republicans acknowledge it.

The republicans acknowledge nothing of the kind, and the Globe's statement that they do is simply democratic "bounce." On the contrary, the republicans are wearied of the everlasting din made by the Jones "spook," and will never be in better condition and humor to "lay" that spook than at the approaching election, when the electoral vote of the state will be given to Garfield and Arthur by a decisive majority, and the state election will be carried by the same party, no matter what the name of the democratic candidate for governor may be. Mr. Jones has a certain amount of "prestige," we admit; but we do not believe he will risk its almost certain loss by running for the governorship in a presidential year. He is too keen a politician for that.

News and Notes.

A party of roughs from Austintown, Ohio, went to Canfield on Friday night with the avowed purpose of killing John Cone, the town marshal of Canfield, with whom they had a quarrel of long standing. They created a disturbance in the street, and when the marshal attempted to quiet them he was fatally shot by Lott Harroff. The murderer escaped, but his brother, who was one of the party, was arrested.

At Santa Fe, New Mexico, on the night of the 16th inst., a man named Dunnigan, confined in jail on a charge of murdering one Griego, was taken from the custody of the officers by a mob of armed and masked men, hung to a tree, and riddled with bullets.

Henry W. Strouse, cashier of the Merchants' bank of Easton, Pa., while in the law office of Justice Eldred, Friday evening, was shot dead by Benj. K. Bartree, brother-in-law of Strouse. He says he does not regret the killing, as the Strouses had robbed him.

Daniel Kervick, who was arrested on suspicion of being accessory to the murder of the wife of John Kelly, at Springfield, Mass., on Wednesday night of last week, says that he spent the night with the Kellys, and that for several hours they were drinking gin and quarrelling violently. About 1:30 o'clock Kelly went into another room and got a shotgun, at which Mrs. Kelly fled into her bedroom, and Kelly then fired the gun squarely at the closed door. He supposed that Kelly had fired a blank charge to frighten the woman, and, going to bed, thought no more of the matter till Kelly awoke him at five o'clock in the morning, and told him his wife was dead. They went into her room together, and saw her dead body on the floor. Kelly was arraigned Saturday for the murder of his wife, and pleaded guilty, adding to the plea that when he fired the gun he did not intend to kill his wife but to get her away from the other man, Kervick. Under these circumstances the court advised Kelly to change his plea to not guilty, and he did so, after which he was remanded to jail.

It is now said that the terrible colliery explosion in the Risca mine in England was caused by lightning striking the winding gear at the top of the shaft. Not a soul escaped of the 119 or more who were in the pit when the explosion took place.

Patrick Green of Holyoke, Mass., was shot in the temple, Saturday, perhaps fatally, by a "didn't-know-it-was-loaded" revolver in the hands of a companion.

At New Albany, Ind., Saturday night, a dance was given at the house of William Martina, a respected colored man. At the close, John Woods and another colored man got into a dispute. Martina kindly attempted to pacify them, and Woods suddenly shot him through the heart. The murderer was arrested.

A bottle has been picked up on the beach at Ballybunion, Ireland, containing a paper signed by George Campbell, second engineer of the steamer Zanzibar, dated Jan. 15th, with the following memorandum: "Ship filling rapidly; we are preparing to take to the boats; weather moderating, but we have little hope of saving ourselves." The steamer Zanzibar left New York for Glasgow on the 11th of January, 1869, and has never been heard of since until this bottle was found. The probability is that the document is genuine, as there was a terrible and destructive storm in the western Atlantic shortly after the steamer sailed.

A Deadwood dispatch says that a passenger from Fort Meade says that a courier had just arrived at the latter place from the Little Missouri with news of a fight between two companies of the seventh cavalry, Capt. Isley commanding, and a body of Sioux, in which the former sustained heavy loss.

The rate of increase in population of seventy-two cities in the United States during the past decade is 34.8 per cent. Denver shows the maximum rate—614 per cent. The gain in San Francisco is nearly half as much as that of Brooklyn, and that of New York is 6,619 more than the whole population of San Francisco.

During the year ending June 30th, 268,726 immigrants arrived in the United States against 99,224 the previous year. Thousands more are on the way.

The New York gas companies recently held a meeting, voted that the electric light was not a success, and advanced the price of gas from one dollar to two dollars and a quarter per thousand feet. The stock of the different companies has advanced twenty to thirty per cent.

At Chicopee, Mass., a few days ago, a boy twelve years old, named Cassenove, had his skull fractured by a kick from a horse, and is in a critical condition. Joseph King, another boy, was kicked by a cow, and had his collar-bone broken.

At Leadville, Col., on the 17th inst., a miner named Baker, who was creating a disturbance, fatally shot John Corbell, a policeman who attempted to arrest him as a rioter, and then killed Policeman Stewart, who attempted to arrest him for the murder. He was lodged in jail, and the entire police called out to protect him from a mob of lynchers, but it was expected he would be hung before next morning.

The children of Andrew Sammis, of Babylon, L. I., returned home safe and sound on Thursday night of last week. They were not kidnapped, as reported, but had been off berrying with a pedlar.

The exact truth about the murder of Brown, near Indianapolis, will probably never be known. The only certainty is that Mrs. Brown and Joe Wade, her lover, were concerned in it. If both had maintained silence, neither could have been convicted; but Mrs. Brown testified that Wade was the murderer, and he was sentenced to be hanged. Now he has testified as explicity that she committed the deed, and she is under sentence of death.

A Witty Customer

went to a drug store and asked for SOZODONT. The storekeeper said, "We're out of that, but here is something just as good." The practical customer said, "So you don't," and walked out to a neighboring store and got a bottle of SOZODONT.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

The sensation at North Adams, Mass., last week, was the alleged elopement of Dr. Bruce with a Heath war-widow by the name of Martha Bolton. Bruce is the man who circulated a story, two or three weeks ago, that his wife had eloped with his partner, Dr. Baird, while she was only on a short visit to friends; he has had very little regular practice. Mrs. Bruce is loth to take decided steps in the matter, but has retained counsel.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deodaolm

AROUND HOME.

Col. Herbert P. Curtis, U. S. A., judge advocate, is at Rye Beach.

More teams passed over the upper Newcastle bridge on Sunday than during any previous day since the time the cable steamer Faraday was anchord in the lower harbor.

Nearly a thousand persons visited the aquarium on Sunday; and over a thousand, regular guests and transient callers together, were at Hotel Wentworth Sunday evening.

Elder E. B. Wells, under date of July 19th, writes us as follows: "Dear Sir: Allow me to say through your paper that I made no request for the south wardroom; my name was used unbeknown to me."

The subject of a sail-boat race is being considered, to come off shortly. Several new boats, and fast ones too, have been put on the river this season, and an interesting contest will be the result if the proposed race can be arranged.

The coal discharged from the brig Florence May at the time she was on the ledge at Badger's island, was dumped overboard. She hails from Winsor, N. B., and brought a load of soft coal from Mingan, Cape Breton, and not from Lingan as reported. She was in charge of a pilot when she went ashore.

All the talk about the next republican candidate for mayor may as well as not be given up, for the present incumbent says that if the republicans in caucus fail to renominate him, he will run "as a citizen's candidate, and be elected." The republican caucus will please take notice that its sole duty this year is to renominate Col. Sise.

Steamer Mystic, Capt. Trefethen, made the run to Appledore on Sunday in one hour and twenty minutes. The regular time of departure for Sunday trips is half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon, from Jones' wharf, near the foot of Deer street. The Boston Sunday Herald and Globe, and the Saturday Evening Gazette, are sent by the Mystic. The steamer leaves the Shoals in the afternoon in time to reach Portsmouth in abundant season to connect with the train which leaves for Boston at six o'clock.

A young man named Jones, belonging in this city, had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday. He was in a boat with two other persons, near the Wentworth house, when by some mishap he fell overboard, and the boat working badly or her occupants not knowing how to manage her, Jones' companions were unable to aid him; and he had sunk for the third time and was standing upright on the bottom, when a man who saw the accident and put off from the shore reached down and drew him to the surface.

The Nashua Telegraph of July 11th thus refers to the entertainment given in that city on the previous evening by the New Orleans minstrels, the troupe advertised to appear at Music hall in this city next Saturday evening: "The entertainment was capital, being refined and artistic, and the most mirth-provoking of any performance given in Nashua the past season.' The singing and dialogue in the first part were exceptionably fine, and the variety business that followed of a character that would convulse with laughter a 'graven image. Welby and Pearl are really champion dancers and tumblers, the clipper quartette the best in the business, the cornet performers wonderful, and the whole entertainment calculated to please the most fastidious and refined audience."

The Army and Navy Register of July 17th says that Commodore Earl English, chief of bureau of equipment and recruiting, and family, and Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge and wife, "will make the trip to the Portsmouth navy yard and return by the Tallapoosa next week." Also that "Rear Admiral Alexander Murray and Mrs. Murray are visiting at Portsmouth, N. H., where they will remain until September."

Early on Sunday morning Mrs. Mary Kearns, a widow living in Dover, fell down stairs at her residence, and broke her neck. She died instantly. Five years ago her husband fell in the same place, and died soon after.

The republicans of ward one, Dover, had a flag raising on Saturday evening, at which inspiriting speeches were made by Senator Rollins and Congressman Hall.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The band of hope service, Saturday afternoon, was conducted by Mrs. John R. Holbrook.

Mrs. Adams conducted the gospel temperance meeting on Saturday evening. A roll of one hundred and sixty names of members of the band of hope was presented to the band by the Woman's Temperance league. Miss Mamie Leslie, on behalf of the band, accepted the gift in a few well-chosen words. Several recitations were given, and remarks made, Mr. Herbert Smith, a new comer to the city, being among the speakers. The service was much enjoyed by the audience, a large portion of which was located on the sidewalks and in doorways outside of the hall.

The bethel service, Sunday afternoon, was in charge of Mr. Thomas Reese. The meeting was of a social character, quite a number of persons taking part, and though the attendance was smaller than common the meeting was as interesting as usual.

The reform club meeting Sunday evening was conducted by Eugene A. Sanborn, president of the club, who told of an interview he had with the city marshal in the interest of the temperance cause, and thought the marshal spoke very fairly. Mr. Charles Whitehouse of Dover, a veteran worker for the cause, eloquently addressed the meeting; and other persons made strong appeals. A number of seafaring men were present. Of course a sprinkling of politics must be introduced, as we are nearing a municipal election; and why not talk of it in a sensible way, and for the best interests of all? L.

THE THIRD TERM.

The champions for the re-election of the present mayor contend that the incumbent has been as good an official as we are likely to obtain, and therefore he should be continued in office. If his efficiency consists in the extravagant outlay for an extra span of horses, of far less value than their cost to the city, and which have thus far been of no practical use; if the purchase of a steamer to emblazon a title thereon; if the early expenditure of all appropriated funds, and the borrowing of a large sum a month earlier than usual, in anticipation of tax receipts; if a general inclination to allow bills, if only a military title is used by the claimant, instead of watching the treasury,—if all this is the best proof of superiority, then let us have a third term of every one in office, aldermen and all. Is it claimed that the mayor is superior in his financial wisdom and economical care of our affairs to men like Toppan and Jenness, Walker and Reding? Let an investigation of the disbursements of the city's funds show. We are spending too much money. With the city owning high-cost teams, we see small carts hired and half filled with city gravel driven by boys in our streets, the cost of which is the same as for men driving carts with full loads. Is this economy? What we want is a man with the combined economy of a Curtis, the financial experience of a Hall, the familiarity with municipal affairs of a Bufford, and with an independence which neither courts the Irish or the liquor element for his support, but relies upon his inherent ability for the results of his administration. If the republicans select such a man, he will be elected; otherwise the democrats will coquet with and flatter the present incumbent, and just before the battle will bring out their medicine-man and give him fits. ROTATION.

TEMPERANCE.

"Wesley," writing from North Salem to the Wolfeborough News of the temperance mass meeting held at the Epping camp-ground on the 5th inst., refers as follows to the remarks of two well known temperance men of this city.

Mr. Fitblado said there were not more than twenty out and out temperance men in Portsmouth, and a man who knows the city well, a man well-known throughout the state, said privately that the rum power in that city could remove those twenty men by foul assassination or otherwise, and escape justice.

Sheriff Kent read a carefully prepared article which was requested for publication. He declared that our fight was with alcohol, and we mistake our object when we proscribe any particular drink. He quoted Dr. Holland, whose views of wine drinking underwent a radical change on a second and more leisurely visit to the wine-producing countries of Europe. After seeing the almost universal stupor and sottishness of the wine guzzling population, who were "never drunk and never sober," Dr. Holland retracted his former statements and became a thorough teetotaller and an advocate of the same. Mr. Kent claimed that even if moderation was possible for Europeans it would be forced by poverty, and was not possible for live Yankees, who commanded higher wages and are more impulsive. "Yankees do everything quick," he says: "they eat quick, get mad quick, and get pleased quick, make love quick, get married quick and get divorced quicker," and if they get drunk they will do it quick. They will have something that will intoxicate without having to guzzle a gallon to get a pint of alcohol. "There is no use of talking about moderation for Americans. As well might we talk of a mild kind of gunpowder that would go off a little a time, or a race of wild cats that would hold a midnight concert in soft soprano tones."

New Hampshire Items.

The blaksmith shop and contents near Livermore Falls, Plymouth, owned by Heber L. Chase, were burned Tuesday morning. Loss small; uninsured. The cause was proably incendiary.

The centennial of the founding of the Free Baptist denomination occurring this year, is to be celebrated in connection with the general conference at the Weirs camp-ground, July 20th to the 29th inclusive. This occasion, for which elaborate preparations have been made, will be of unprecedented interest to all connected with the denomination. Delegates and visitors will be present not only from all parts of the United States, but also from Europe and the British provinces. The exercises will be of a general religious character, with a special feature each day. The fares upon the railroads, and at the hotels at Wolfeboro', have been greatly reduced. The fare from this city via Wolfeboro' and over the lake, and return, is $2.60 for the round trip.

At Rochester, Saturday afternoon, L. S. Clark, ex-leader of the American band of that town, was horsewhipped on Main street by a lady to whom he was at one time engaged in marriage, though he has since married another. It is said that Clark has, for the past year or more, each time they chanced to meet, insulted the lady, and also any person found in her company on the street. He did the same Saturday afternoon, when she obtained a whip from a livery stable and gave him the benefit.

Naval Gazette.

Pay Inspector Geo. L. Davis, senior member of the pay corps of the navy, is to be retired.

The Saratoga arrived at Villefranche, France, on the 6th inst. She will refit and provision, and sail for home August 1st.

Lieut. B. R. Russell, of the marine corps, has had his leave of absence extended to Aug. 1st.

Paymaster Edwin Putnam is ordered to duty on board the Galena when she is placed in commission. Commander James O'Kane will command that vessel.

Naval Constructor John F. Hanscom, of the Boston navy yard, was ordered to report at Chester, Pa., on the 13th inst., for temporary duty in connection with the completion of repairs on the iron-clad Miantonomah.

The retirement of Rear-Admiral Stephen Trenchard promotes the following officers in the navy: Commodore Donald McN. Fairfax to be rear-admiral; Captain John M. Upshur to be commodore; Commander Ed. E. Potter to be captain; Lieutenant-Commander Frank Wildes to be commander; Lieutenant Albert S. Snow to be lieutenant-commander; Master Henry Jacoby to be lieutenant.

Political Matters.

Let us see. Is it a question of candidates or of principles with the democracy? It will be pleasing to step across into Maine by and by and hear some democratic-greenbackers pitch into the national banks and shout for that bloated bondholder English in the same breath, while the old phrases like "Lincoln hirelings" have been quietly put to rest since the nomination of the soldier-statesman (?) of that branch of the public service which the democracy contends should be composed of many generals and but few privates.

The republican congressional committee calculate that the republicans will gain twenty-two congressional districts at the coming election, which will give them control of the next house.

Gen. Chester A. Arthur has written an open letter to the chairman of the republican convention, accepting the republican nomination for vice president. The letter is an able document, and deals plainly with the vital political issues of the day.

Commissioner Davenport was examined in New York last week before the Senatorial investigating committee, as to his knowledge of the alleged fraudulent issue of naturalization papers. He claimed that on the fraudulent papers of 1868 one man was witness for 2,162 applicants, and another for 1,397.

—Gin Sling, a Chinese, is preparing for the bar.

—The Emperor William is troubled with swimming of the head after dinner. The sovereigns over here are frequently troubled with the same complaint, but they don't care to have it paraded in the papers.

—Mrs. Erminnie A. Smith is gathering folk lore among the Tuscarora Indians for a paper to be presented by her before a scientific society in the fall. She is well treated by the Indians, and has received from them, after appropriate ceremonies, the name of "The Beautiful Flower of the White Bear of the Tuscaroras." She speaks of not having seen a pale face for a fortnight, except in her mirror.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for bouting at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The verands, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, half been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Rail road. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

Permanently Cured of Piles.

Hon. G. H. Rice, late R. R. Commissioner of Vermont, writes:

MILTON, VT., Sept. 16.

I have been a great sufferer from Piles, having had it in its blind phase for years. About two years ago, when the disease began to assume the bleeding form, I tried "Kidney-Wort," and used about half a dozen packages, which I believe effected a permanent cure. From my own experience and that of others I am acquainted with, I became satisfied that the Kidney-Wort possessed remarkable virtues, and probably should have purchased an interest in its sale had I been possessed of sufficient means.

Truly yours, G. H. Rice.

The body of policeman Mallette was found near the railway track at Elizabethport, N. J., on the 15th inst., with his skull broken, and it was supposed he had been killed by an engine. The return of the engine next day disclose the fact that there was no collision with the body, and the police are endeavoring to find the murderers, as Mallette was a terror to the thieves and rogues in the vicinity.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

A fortune-teller, being called as a witness in an arson case at Eaton, Ohio, refused to testify, on the ground that what she knew on the subject had been confided to her as a professional secret. The court ruled against her, and her testimony convicted the prisoner, who had previously confessed his crime to her in order to gain her advice.

Speer's Sambuci Wine.

We have examined specimens of the Sambuci Wine of Mr. Alfred Speer, referred to by a correspondent of the American Baptist and have no doubt it is pure. We should judge from its taste and appearance, that it is certainly valuable as a medicinal wine and as a tonic for weakly persons. It has the recommendation of some of the first physicians in this country as well as in Europe.—Washington Star.

A Chicago man, arrested while attempting to kill himself with a razor, tore himself away from the policeman and jumped from a high bridge, thus accomplishing suicide.

Feeble and exhausted constitutions restored to health and strength by Malt Bitters.

A condemned negro murderer in St. Louis declared that he would surely go to eternal torment if he could not be baptized by immersion. A hogshead half filled with water was used for the ceremony.

New Publications.

"Colorado: its silver mines, farms and stock ranges, and health and pleasure resorts," by Frank Fossett; New York, C. C. Crawford. We have received this work at the hands of Messrs. Lee & Shepard of Boston. Its contents are descriptive, statistical and historical. It informs us of the resources and growth of Colorado, and is divided into four parts. First, is a traveller's guide full of useful and interesting information; second is a historic account of the state; the third is replete with information as to farming, stock raising, etc.; and the fourth is devoted to the mines. It has maps and views of many points of interest, and the description of mining regions, the extent of mines, and the wealth annually here developed is inviting to many who seek investment in mining adventures. For sale by Mercer Goodrich.

The Folio for August is at hand, as brimfull of good things as ever. The following pieces of new music are found in this number: Vocal, "Dearest May," negro song; "Parted from loved ones," song and chorus; "God ever is good," sacred quartette for mixed voices. Instrumental, "The Citizen" galop, "Lass-on-shore" march, "The whistling mountain boy." It also contains a large amount of valuable reading matter, together with a portrait of Walter Emerson, the noted young cornetist. Published by White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington St., Boston, at $1.60 per year.

—Some men give according to their means, and some according to their meanness.

—In describing a new organ a rural critic says: "The swell died away in delicious suffocation, like one singing a sweet song under the bed-clothes."

—The ladies' brass band of Albany, Oregon, is composed of twelve members, the foremost young ladies in the city in social standing and intelligence. The instruments used by this band cost $350.

—Sabethia is a Kansas village with a cemetery. There is a sign painted on the fence opposite the cemetery, reading: "To keep out of that place across the road, get your medicine at the corner drug store."

—Going home from church, she remarked to her husband: "Did you notice that baldheaded man in front of us, and how young he looked? I never saw any one so young before with a bald head." Then he shut her up by replying: "My dear, I was baldheaded before I was a year old."

—A Baltimore heiress fixed herself up as a homely woman of middle age and got into a street car in which were four of her suitors. As one of them wanted to get out, he let her have his seat. She supposed that he went to ride upon the platform, and of course accepted him when he proposed. Some men are born to luck.

—When a Texas editor heads an account of the lynching of a negro ravisher, "Death of a Fiend," and it appears in the paper "Death of a Friend," the failure of the editor to scatter the dismembered limbs of the intelligent compositor over the adjoining landscape is conclusive evidence that Texans are the most lawabiding people on the face of the earth.

—It is bewildering to read of the naval preparations made by China and Russia for their coming war. If the war does take place, there may be a great naval engagement, in which the Djigit and Abrek, and the Garnasti and Morj and Sobal, and the Naezdwik and Razbonnik, and the Nalim and Nirok will meet the Alpha, Beta, Gamma, Delta, and other Greek letter gunboats of the Celestials, who have gone to the outside world for names for their vessels.

—A Niagara Falls hackman bargained with two young men to take them "all around" for a dollar, but at the end of the trip insisted upon having eight dollars, which was paid under protest. The young men, who were lawyers, instead of leaving town, as they intended, stopped over, had the fellow arrested, secured a trial after one day's delay, and obtained a verdict, not only for the eight dollars, but for their board bill, lost time and costs, amounting altogether to between $40 and $50. It was a good lesson for the Niagara sharks.

—There is nothing to be gained in concealing the shameful fact that there are at the present time in Yale college men who have never once entered a boat and have never held a base ball bat. How they have thus managed to shirk their duty and evade the laws of colleges, outside people do not know, but surely it is a reproach to the faculty that they permit students whom their parents have sent to the college in the hope that they would become earnest Christian oarsmen to waste their time in study, and to form a debased taste for the classics and science.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many worst cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGATON, of Pittsfield, says, "One package has done wonders for me in constipation and a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from the indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION," Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 autiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

HEAL THYSELF

SPEER'S

PORT GRAPE WINE!

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,

FOUR YEARS OLD.

This Celebrated Native Wine is made from the Juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this Country. Its Invaluable are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to those various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

Speer's P. J. Sherry,

A delicate, fine flavored Sherry, from the Spanish grape, equal to the finest brands imported for medicinal purposes.

SPEER'S P. J. OR PEDRO J. BRANDY.

This noted Brandy is a pure distillation from the grape and is equal to the finest Hennessy or Otard Brandies; for medicinal purposes it can be relied upon as strictly pure.

Speer's Sambuci Wine!

celebrated for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm; improving the appetite and benefitting ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC,

it imparts a healthy action to the kidneys and Urinary organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY represents MARCELLUS BUFFORD, administrator of the estate of WILLIAM B. LOWD, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, that the personal estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the debts owing against his estate; that said Lowd died seized of the after-described real estate, which is a single real estate, situate in said Portsmouth and bounded and described as follows; a lot of land with buildings thereon, bounded on South street and bounded northerly by South street, easterly by land formerly owned by Daniel Lowd and land of Catherine L. Pearson, and southerly and westerly by land of Sarah J. Pearson; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on South street with a dwelling house thereon, bounded northerly by South street, easterly and southerly by land of Catherine L. Pearson, and westerly by land of said William B. Lowd; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on Livermore street with a dwelling-house thereon, and bounded northerly by Livermore street, easterly by land of Thomas H. Odlon, southerly by land of heirs of Alfred Rand, and westerly by land of Albert H. Hatch; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on Daniel street with a brick dwelling-house thereon, and bounded northerly by Daniel street, easterly by land of Caroline Q. Wendell, southerly by land now or formerly of heirs of Hall Varrell and others, and westerly by land of John H. Broughton; all the said real estate being subject to a mortgage to the Portsmouth Savings Bank, on which was due at the decease of said William B. Lowd $2200.00 and late est semi-annually from June 28, 1879; subject to dower in the premises, and that the petitioner notify the heirs of said deceased, and all persons concerned or interested therein, to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of Judge.

JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE

THE GREAT INVENTION

FOR WASHING AND CLEANSING

In hard or soft water, WITHOUT SOAP, and without danger to the finest fabric.

SAVES TIME and LABOR AMAZINGLY, and is rapidly coming into general use. Sold by all Grocers; but beware of vile counterfeits. Its great success brings out dangerous imitations, but PEARLINE is the only safe article. Always bears the name of James Pyle, New York.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process,

ABSORPTION

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections,

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urination, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back, seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental excitement, or overwork, find the greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which invigorates and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting a temporary cure of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without exposure, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of cures, mailed free to any address. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness is completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berlinhire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17th.

It is evident that the perfect statesman is not at hand, or the man who can satisfy everybody.

General Garfield evidently gave a great deal of attention to his letter of acceptance, but even some of the newspapers of his own party, to say nothing of other parties, found fault with it. Judging however by the generally expressed opinion among republicans here, the document will gain friends as it is more carefully read. Much curiosity is felt to compare with it the forthcoming letter of General Hancock, for undoubtedly the letters of the candidates, far more than the platforms of the two parties, will make or mar the fortunes of the campaign. The "independent" voter is independent chiefly because he has lost faith in parties and party platforms, and the stay-at-home voter might be brought out to vote for the writer of a manly, straight-forward and patriotic letter, though he would remain away if the platform and the campaign speeches had all the eloquence of Cicero.

It does not seem to be certain, after all, that Minister Maynard will return by the first of August. In the present disturbed condition of affairs in Turkey it is deemed by many inadvisable to have our representative quit his post. The fact that he could do so to accept an office here, when there are millions of patriots ready to fill it at a moment's notice, would certainly be used hereafter as a strong argument by that increasing class of people who believe our representation at all foreign courts wholly unnecessary.

Reports received here by republicans from German communities in the west, state that there is a growing enthusiasm for Garfield among them. The fact that he understands the German language and German customs tends greatly to help him with that element of the population. KNOX.

The Granite Monthly for July has for a frontispiece a fine likeness of one of the noblest and greatest men New Hampshire or anywhere else ever produced,—John Parker Hale; the portrait being accompanied by a biographical sketch, by Hon. Jacob H. Ela. Other articles are: Exeter in 1776, by Hon. Chas. H. Bell; Summer storm at Sunapee; Sunapee and its environs; History of Henniker; Glimpses of the history of Old Meredith; Newcastle, with view of the "Wentworth;" and others. Concord; J. N. McClintock; $1.50 per year.

Newport is in the dumps. Prince Leopold, Queen Victoria's youngest son, was expected to visit there, but now the young sprig of royalty "has been obliged to cancel all his Newport engagements, owing to the slight injury to his ankle, received while salmon fishing." It is now reported in explanation that the prince is more than "thin skinned." He has no outer skin, or scarf-skin or epidermis, at all, and this freak of nature makes him particularly liable to serious hurts, a "slight injury" causing him more trouble than a serious hurt to other people whose true skin has a protecting covering of cuticle.

THE OLD QUESTION.—They were discussing the venerable theme of money and happiness. "Money does everything for a man," said one old gentleman pompously. "Yes," replied another one; "but money won't do as much for a man as some men will do for money." Sanford's Jamaica Ginger will do more for happiness than money, since the pleasure of living is enhanced by the maintenance of perfect health.

—Unique styles of wall hangings are now in favor. For instance, moths, bats and owls are outlined on the background of gray paper. Although vague, the design is unmistakable, and the effect is pretty.

ELIXIR VITÆ FOR WOMEN. Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., has made the discovery! Her Vegetable Compound is a positive cure for female complaints. A line addressed to this lady will elicit all necessary information.

—When you can't make a baby quit crying in any other way, let him crawl under a bed and make him believe you think he is lost, and are looking for him, and he will keep quiet for two hours.

"Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam has been used in our family for more than three years, and we can recommend it as a superior remedy for coughs and cold."

—A blind man advertises in a Paris newspaper for an infirm woman or a deformed child "who can read, to guide him, offering two francs a day wages, or to "divide the day's proceeds."

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Neal Dow's Letter of Acceptance.

Gen. Neal Dow has written a letter accepting the nomination for the presidency by the national prohibitory party. After commenting at some length on the evils of the liquor traffic, and the strength and respectability of the prohibitory movement, he concludes as follows: "I consider the object of the prohibitionists of this country to be of supreme importance to the interests of the nation and people. Aside from its bearing upon the moral and religious welfare of the people, I consider the suppression of the liquor traffic to be an object of far greater political importance than any other now claiming the attention of the country. My life has been largely devoted to the accomplishment of that purpose. Perhaps I may live to see my dearest hopes in relation to it realized, at least in this, my own state. But, however that may be, in the future as in the past, I shall keep that object in view. While I sincerely wish the choice of a candidate by the Cleveland convention had fallen upon some other than myself, I accept the nomination willingly, being sure that it will be the humble beginning of a triumphant end."

News and Notes.

Justin Hoffman, a German shoemaker of Pittston, Pa., shot his wife and baby Monday evening, killing the babe instantly and fatally wounding the woman. An attempt was made to lynch him, but he was safely lodged in jail.

Mrs. Elnathan Tinker eloped from a good home in Ellsworth, Me., last week, going off with Calvin Sargent, a one-armed man.

Russell Gunn and Robert M. Whitford, both colored, who pleaded guilty, in the superior criminal court at Springfield, Mass., to outraging Eliza Crosby of Stockbridge, in May, were on Monday sentenced to the state prison for life.

Mrs. Nesmith, wife of Lieut. Nesmith of the army, Bessie Fanshaw, twelve years old, and a little girl named Helen Deakon, were drowned at Atlantic City, N. J., while bathing on Monday.

At Louisville, Ky., C. Davidson, a wealthy farmer, while drunk Sunday night, drove Alexander Taylor out of a grocery and shot him dead, then fatally beat a negro with his gun, jumped into his buggy and drove off.

George Lee was shot dead by Charles Ranales in a fight about a white woman in Chicago on Saturday morning. Both negroes.

Saturday morning Addison Wight, son of Rev. Mr. Wight of New Hamburg, N. Y., a Presbyterian minister, and sister, were walking through New Hamburg tunnel, and the St. Louis express and a freight train entered the tunnel, going in different directions, the express at a high rate of speed. The young man was caught between the two trains and killed. The young lady was hurled into a ditch alongside the track, and was only slightly injured.

A telegram from E. B. Thornton, president of the board of health of Memphis, states that there is no yellow fever, nor anything resembling it, in Memphis.

The steamer Dessouk, with the Egyptian obelisk on board, arrived in the lower harbor of New York on Monday, and went up to the city next day.

John Gaffney was killed and two miners seriously injured on Saturday night by the explosion of gas in a steel pit at Harrisburg, Pa.

The boiler of a steam sawmill near Barnsville, Va., exploded on Saturday, killing a colored man, fatally wounding Mr. Bryant, an employe, and severely scalding and wounding five others.

Maggie Rowell, who was a somewhat noted female pedestrian at the time the "leg mania" was at its height, visited Providence, R. I., Saturday evening, and created quite a sensation. She called at the house of a family named Wheeler, and depositing a three-months'-old male child in the arms of an astonished member of the family circle, ran away. The woman's right name is Margaret Martin, and her age is twenty-three. When she entered the sawdust arena Rowell had just just won the championship badge, and that prompted her to assume his name. A young man residing in Providence, named Walter Wheeler, became her trainer, and later, as she alleges, seduced her, under promise of marriage. She went to Boston, where the authorities sent her to Tewksbury to be confined. She left Boston on Saturday afternoon with the babe, and deserted it as above stated. The child was in a bad condition, suffering from want of proper clothing, and required attention. The Wheelers are very respectable people, and are much worked up over the affair.

New Hampshire Items.

Four young men were boating on the Salmon Falls river Sunday afternoon, when through "fooling" they capsized the boat, one of them clinging to the overturned craft and the other three swimming for the shore. One of the latter was C. Gorden Yeaton of Salmon Falls, who reached the shore at a point where there was a stone wall, which he made several attempts to surmount, but fell back every time until his comrades found that he had sunk to the bottom and was drowned in four or five feet of water. Yeaton was thirty-two years old, and was a sober and industrious man.

Considerable excitement prevails at Lancaster on account of the mysterious disappearance, nearly three weeks since, of Silas Hurlburt, eighty years of age, and the discovery of the coat and hat known to have been last worn by him, on Sunday. He left Lancaster village on the afternoon of June 30th, and was last seen about nine o'clock on the same evening in the town of Northumberland, passing along the highway, and appearing to be bewildered as to his whereabouts. The coat and hat were accidentally discovered in a pasture, within half a mile of where he was last seen, since which time a diligent but unavailing search has been made by a large number of citizens, especially by the Masons, of which order he was a member.

William Whitcher, eighty-five years old, of Boscawen, was arraigned in the police court in Concord, Monday, on a complaint of attempted rape on Mary L. Dearborn, fourteen years old. He furnished $1,000 bonds for his appearance at the supreme court.

Naval Gazette.

The Powhatan sailed from Beaufort, S. C., on Saturday, for the West Indies.

The Trenton arrived at Flushing, Holland, on the 1st inst. The health of the European squadron was reported excellent.

Commander Yates of the U. S. S. Alliance, at St. John's, N. F., July 10th, makes the following report to the navy department: "Since departure from St. Pierre on the 28th ult., we have verified the position of Virgin rock, surveyed the eastern shoals, and searched for the rock reported by the Jesse Ryder and also for the nine-fathom bank. No water less than thirty-eight fathoms was found by us in the two latter localities mentioned in the reports, and this fact, together with corroborative assertions of numerous fishermen fishing at the present time in the vicinity, leads us to conclude that the shoal water does not exist. From different reports, the fishermen appear to be having about the usual success on the banks. I hear of no difficulty whatever as to fishing by our fishermen in all localities permitted by the late treaty with Great Britain."

More than fifty years ago the original "Noriega" brand of cigars were first brought to this country from Havana. The present "Noriegas" are close counterparts of those old-fashioned hand-made ones of former days.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

—Many household servants at Newport now wear a livery that is represented to be intensely English in fashion and style.

A woman's beauty is never lost
So long as her sweet smile remains—
So long as gleam her teeth like pearl,
And her lips the ruby stains;
And SOZODONT, with magic power,
Bestows on her his priceless dower.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

How Charity Rewards the Giver.

The old Charity Hospital in the city of New Orleans was originally endowed by the State of Pennsylvania for the succor and relief of Pennsylvanians who found themselves without friends, sick and destitute, in a then very unhealthy city. It has been the cause of many thousand lives being saved, and is now mainly supported by the revenue it receives from the Louisiana State Lottery Company, whose large capital of $1,500,000, with its reservations, is a guarantee the promises made will be fulfilled. A dollar occasionally spent for a lottery ticket often enriches those whose intent is only to do a charitable act. For information address M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 819 Broadway, New York city.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day,

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

Occasional rain followed by clearing weather, variable winds mostly southerly winds, stationary or higher temperature and barometer.

AROUND HOME.

The regular meeting of Storer Post, G. A. R., occurs this evening.

During the shower on Friday evening last the house of Mrs. Robert C. Jarvis, No. 60 Islington street, was struck by lightning in two places. The family being absent is the reason of its not being discovered before.

Several of the cellars of the residences on Hill street were flooded on Tuesday afternoon during the shower, caused it is thought by the sewer running from the corner of Bridge and Hanover streets to the north mill-pond not being of sufficient size to carry off the street and cellar drainage during a heavy rain.

Mr. James R. Eaton has secured the agency for Rockingham county for the "campaign charts" — republican and democratic—issued by B. B. Russell & Co. of Boston. These charts contain portraits of the candidates for president and vice president, with sketches of their lives, the national platform, etc.

Mr. S. Wright, who has charge of the custom work in the boot and shoe department at Mr. E. S. Fay's store on Congress street, is having serious trouble with one of his hands. It is badly swollen and inflamed, and as the physician who attends him gives no explanation in regard to the cause or nature of the swelling, Mr. Wright's friends are somewhat anxious as to the result.

The twice-wrecked schooner Horatio Nichols started from South Newmarket for this port on Tuesday, in tow of steamer Mystic, to go on the marine railway at Kittery for the second time, and be made new again. On reaching the Dover point bridge the schooner ran into it, owing to the difficulty of steering her, and received some more damage. She was left there for one tide, as she could not be readily cleared.

Among the sojourners at the Isles of Shoals are many families who for several years past have spent the summer months in this comfortable and healthy region. The annual reunion of these friends are enjoyed in anticipation during the winter, and in realization in each succeeding summer. The new comers at the Appledore and Oceanic soon become fascinated with the spot, and as the fall approaches regretfully bid farewell to the "enchanted isles," with the injunction to the proprietors not to forget to reserve their rooms for the coming season.

A despatch was last week received by Mr. H. D. Freeman of Dover, from Gloucester, Mass., that the stolen schooner Ida R. Freeman's seine boat was picked up by a Gloucester vessel thirty miles east from Cape Sable, or thereabouts. The boat had been scuttled, but refused to go down. It is quite probable that the vessel may enter some port in the British provinces, and be deserted there, and the owners yet get her. All American consuls abroad have been notified to look out for the missing schooner, and hold the parties having her in charge.

On Tuesday forenoon Cornelius Rooke of East Boston, employed by the Eastern railroad company as a coal hand, was seriously injured by being struck by the switch engine. Mr. Rooke was running up on the main track from the depot to take the train from the round house which was to carry him to Boston. The switch or shifting train was coming down, and had just shifted on to a side track, when Rooke deliberately, and seemingly unconscious of the approaching train, ran across that track and was struck by the engine, having both legs broken just below the hips, spraining one hand, and receiving two big cuts on the head. He was taken to a neighboring house, where his injuries were attended to by Drs. Parsons and Grant. He was removed to the Massachusetts general hospital at Boston on Tuesday afternoon. There are but slight hopes of his recovery.

The epizootic is reported as quite prevalent in Dover, at least one valuable horse having died with it, and many others being very sick.

Steamer Stamford will make an excursion from this city to Rockport, Mass., to-day, leaving Commercial wharf at eleven o clock. Fare for the round trip, fifty cents.

Dr. Stearns and family, of Boston, are at the Campbell cottage, near the Wentworth hotel, Newcastle. Prof. Ames, of the Harvard law school, occupies the Woodman cottage, near Mr. Albee's.

Charles Durrell, aged twenty-two years, and unmarried, was drowned Saturday night at South Newmarket by the capsizing of a small boat in which he and two others were sailing. His body was recovered. He was a son of Col. Charles H. Durrell, and was a pattern maker.

The party of nearly one hundred excursionists who participated in the trip to the Shoals in the steamer Mystic on Monday evening had a very enjoyable time. Capt. Trefethen has had several applications to take day parties out, but is unable to do so on account of his regular advertised trips.

The large contract firms of M. C. Foster & Son and Foster & Dutton, of Waterville, Me., have failed; liabilities not given. These firms were the contractors for the joiner work on the new National and Franklin blocks in this city, and the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, and among their creditors are several Portsmouth firms, to a considerable amount.

On Tuesday evening as a party of ladies and gentlemen were returning from a picnic excursion, on going through Union street the bridle of the horse broke and Mr. John Quinn, who owned the team and was driving, jumped out without stopping the horse, when he slipped and struck against the wheel. This demoralized the party, and one of the gentlemen stood up and was trying to quiet the ladies when he lost his balance and fell out of the wagon, striking his back on the wheel. Several of the ladies then jumped out, some on Union street and others on Middle street, and met with more or less injuries, though not serious ones. There were some children in the party who also jumped from the team, but were not injured. The horse and wagon was stopped on Middle street, neither receiving any damage. If the party had remained in the team they probably would have been more secure from accident than by taking the course which they did.

There was a battle royal at Newcastle on Tuesday morning, which resulted in the death of a marauding rat. Mr. Card, at Fort Point, has a large flock of hens and many chickens, and a rooster which weighs ten pounds and two ounces, the boss of the coop and the hens' favorite. On Tuesday morning this feathered Mormon was placidly watching his numerous family eat their breakfast, when an enormous rat darted out from a place of concealment and snatched up a chicken, but before the plunderer could make his escape he was seized by the rooster, and firmly held until he was killed by two old mother-hens which furiously attacked him the moment he was caught by their husband, none of the fowls being hurt in the melee. After the rat was killed the old rooster dropped him, and then walking several times around the vanquished foe, sagaciously examining him out of one eye all the while, finally mounted the body, clapped his wings and gave three loud crows, and walked off to keep his wives out of mischief. The rat weighed three and one-half pounds, after the fowls had got through with him.

The Dover Democrat mentions the attempt of Dr. Tanner to go without food for forty days, in New York, and then says; "Now there is one man in Dover who always had the reputation of being a clear, cool-headed business man, and day after day he perused the detailed account of Dr. Tanner's insane and foolish attempt. He became crazed over the idea, and on the fourteenth day, without confiding his intentions to anybody, resolved to outdo Dr. Tanner's attempted feat by proposing to fast forty-two consecutive days. He got over his first thirty-six hours easier than could be expected, and then became so sick or so weak that he had to take to his bed, and then the family discovered the man's intentions and sent for a doctor, who after several hours reasoning prevailed on the total abstainer to give up his foolish attempt. It is surprising what infernal fools still exist in this world." Bro. Foster is generally able to express in words just what he means, and sometimes, as in this instance, his vigorous if somewhat unconventional language is decidedly "pat" to the subject under consideration.

COMPLIMENTARY.

At a special meeting of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, held July 9th, the following, preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Messrs. Frank W. Hilton & Co. have by their progressive spirit and enterprise planned and built a magnificent hotel, the "Wentworth," at Newcastle; therefore,

Resolved, That the Portsmouth Board of Trade hereby tender a complimentary dinner to Hon. Frank Jones and Capt. Frank W. Hilton as a testimonial of their appreciation of the energy displayed by them, and offer to them our best wishes for success in the future.

Resolved, That a copy of the above be sent to Messrs. F. W. Hilton & Co., and that they be requested in reply to name the time when this complimentary dinner would be acceptable to them.

Resolved, That Messrs. William H. Sise, Henry Peyser, E. G. Pierce, Jr., T. E. O. Marvin, and John H. Wells be a committee to carry out the provisions of the above resolutions.

O. M. KNIGHT, Sec. P. B. of T.

To this, the following letter was returned:

July 19th, 1880.

To the Hon. Wm. H. Sise and others of the Committee of the Portsmouth Board of Trade:

We gratefully acknowledge the receipt of your resolutions tendering to us a complimentary dinner as a token of appreciation of the success that has crowned the enterprise to which you so kindly refer. Appreciating the honor thus conferred, and in compliance with your request, would name Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, July 21st, as a convenient day and hour.

Thanking you for your kindness, we remain, with the highest respect, yours very truly, F. W. HILTON & CO.

In accordance with the foregoing, the dinner will come off this evening at eight o'clock, at the Wentworth, barges leaving the Rockingham house in this city at seven o'clock, for the convenience of those who prefer that method of conveyance.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The census of 1880 gives Kennebunk a population of 2852, a gain of 248 from 1870. Kennebunkport's population is given as 2408, a gain of thirty-six since the last census.

A Manchester man stopping at York beach last week caught a cod-fish weighing sixty-seven pounds, and a party of amateur fishermen who tried their luck a few miles further out captured a halibut weighing over two hundred pounds.

Mr. Augustus A. Warren of Kittery, sailmaker in the United States navy, has received orders to proceed to the navy yard at Mare island, California, and report for duty on board the U. S. S. Pensacola, flagship of the Pacific squadron. Mr. Warren has many friends in this vicinity, and their best wishes will be with him during his absence.

The Biddeford Journal says that Charles A. Shaw, formerly a prominent business man of Biddeford, and mayor of the city for one year, "is vice-president and general manager of the mammoth Barnum museum soon to be established in New York city. It is to be the largest thing of the kind in the world, and affords a field admirably adapted to the full swing of Mr. Shaw's eminent talent."

Two eminent "canoeists" passed Bellows Falls, Vt., Monday, on their way down the Connecticut, Rev. C. H. Cressy and Judge Rand, both of Lisbon, N. H., and each in separate canoes of the Rob Roy pattern. They launched at Lisbon, and have made about twenty-five miles per day. Their destination is Long Island. Cressy is the party who won the race at the canoe regatta at Lake George last summer. Judge Rand is over sixty years of age.

Thomas Bullock, tinman, was charged at Walsall police court, in England, with having assaulted his wife, because she raised her foot against his dog, which had stolen his breakfast. He said that no woman should beat his dog. He was sentenced to twenty-one days' hard labor, to his great surprise.

MARRIED.

CARD—ROGERS. In this city, June 27th, Charles H. Card of Dover Point, and Miss Abbie E. Rogers of South Eliot, Me.

DIED.

☞ The funeral of Mrs. William Chase will take place at four o'clock on Wednesday, the 21st inst., from her late residence No. 47 Court street. Friends are invited to attend.

PICKERING. In Newington, July 19th, Juliette M. Pickering, aged 47 years, daughter of the late Judge James Pickering.

☞ Funeral on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, from the Newington church.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade or over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Brahem, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.
The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 200 miles of railroad.
An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.
First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.
We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

IMPURE LAGER. Beware of Bright's Disease. Those who indulge in lager beer cannot be too careful with reference to its quality. Lager is a fruitful and prolific source of that malady, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Fortunately, lager drinkers now have their antidote. It has been incontestibly proved that Bright's Disease, and all diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver, and urinary organs are curable by the use of that infallible kidney and liver medicine, Hunt's Remedy.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size 75 cts.

An Observant Man.

Mr. Factandfancy has noticed:

That the Latin language is a prime necessity in commencement programmes.

That without it the apothecary would be unable (perhaps) to sell common salt, charcoal and elm bark at a hundred per cent profit.

That everybody can read Latin readily, save two classes—those who never studied it and those who have finished studying it.

That a mother with a lively boy resembles nothing in nature so much as a hen with a duckling.

That it is amusing to see her worry and fret while the little imp goes through his illimitable programme, without seeming to remember that rubber balls and small boys were made for knocking around.

That everybody has his peculiar sphere of eminence.

That the great worker cannot be expected to be a great talker, nor a great talker a great worker.

That, at any rate, the two attributes are seldom combined in the same person; but

That inasmuch as the great talker believes himself also a worker, he is without doubt just as contented with himself as if he were the greatest of great workers.

That most men so love work that they put off all they can till to-morrow, that they may never be out of employment they so much delight in.

That few men care to put off their eating and drinking; which shows them more provident in the matter of working than in eating.

That there are so enamored of work that they will stand and watch another labor for hours, forgetting all thoughts for self in their enchantment.

That women admire men, while men simply love women.

That love usually descends, or thinks it does. That is to say—

That the one who considers himself the better loves his supposed inferior.

That the mother loves her child, the man the woman.

That most men would rather be thought good than be good.

That those we think the most of we try to deceive the most.

That because we love ourselves the best does not disprove this proposition.

That, as a rule, those whom we succeed in deceiving in regard to ourselves put the highest value on us.

That it would be good logic but bad morals to say, therefore, deceive all you can.

That a kick lives longer in the memory than a kiss.

That, therefore, a kick is better than a kiss. [We suspect that this is not strictly true.]

That model parents have "I-never-saw such-a-boy" children twice as often as parents who are not so ready to tell what they never saw in the line of juvenility.

That a boy loves his mother at but the same time suspects she is a goosey.

That a boy respects his father's feelings less than his musele.

That a girl looks upon a mother as a sort of elder sister.

That a girl is an enchantress by instinct, and usually practises her arts upon her father before she is out of pinafores. [We had almost said pantalets. But only the old fogies know anything about pantalets.]

That a mother loves her boy because it is her nature to love anything that tenses her almost to death.

That a mother loves her girl because she knows that none of her sex can be happy unless loved.

That a father loves his boy because the young rascal constantly reminds him of his own happy boyhood.

That a father loves his girl because, because—oh, nonsense! no sensible person would ask for a reason.

That not withstanding old people think young people fools, very few old people but would run the risk of being fools provided they could be young again.

That inasmuch as everybody tells his own biography and nobody listens to it, it matters little what he is or has been.

—The beehive is the poorest thing in the world to fall back on.

—It is claimed by some medical men that tobacco weakens the eyesight. Maybe it does, but just see how it strengthens the breath.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

MESSRS. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humours of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the decade of years they would fall solely from monotonous repetition of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of ten years the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON, 17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 26, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen:—I feel it a duty to inform you and through you all those interested to know the great and almost disgreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with the peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease has been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise a similarly afflicted to try the remedies which has been so effectual in this case.

Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen.—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been spending for eight years and it did no good. Everything I ate distressed me. I got reduced from 170 to 124 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN H. R Y.

114 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is adulterable, assisted in sense of extreme medical weakness, or when the virus or scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external affections. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the toilet, the most refreshing bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic, editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire news; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in local rites whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Popular Monthly Drawing of the Commonwealth Distribution Co.,

AT MACAULEY'S THEATRE,

In the City of Louisville, on

SATURDAY, JULY 31st, 1880.

These Drawings, authorized by the Legislature of 1869, and sustained by all the courts of Kentucky, according to a contract made with the owners of the Frankfort grant, will occur regularly on the last day of every month, Sunday and Friday excepted, for the period of five years, terminating on June 30th, 1885.

The United States Circuit Court on March 31st rendered the following decisions:

1st. That the Commonwealth Distribution Company is legal.

2d. Its drawings are fair.

The management call attention to the liberal scheme which has met with such popular favor heretofore, and which will again be presented for

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. R. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

MICHAEL TURCHILL, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured him."

C. S. HOGAMON, of Philadelphia, says, "One package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease, while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urination, High-colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical over-exertion, find their salvation in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach, it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors' bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it our duty to warn them, Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

—AT—

HUTCHINSON'S.

Daily Chronicle.

It Makes a Difference.

The other day Beale of Virginia delivered in the house of representatives a speech upon the adulteration of food, winding up with the following lines:

When the vitriol madness flashes up in the ruffian's head,
Till the filthy lye-lane rings to the yells of the trampled wife;
When chalk and slum and plaster are sold to the poor for bread,
And the spirit or murder works in the very means of life;
When sleep must lie down armed, for the villainous centre bits
Grind on the wakeful ear in the hush of the noiseless nights,
While another is cheating the sick of a few last gasps as he sits,
To resale a poison'd poison behind his crimson lights.

When the speech was published in the Record, several papers, which pride themselves on being first-class judges and competent critics of poetry, pounced upon the stanzas, denouncing them as the vilest doggerel. The New York Post declared them to be the "purest stuff," which should make their author a laughing stock, and the Chicago Times pronounced them "more dreary than Downey's." Now it turns out that the lines were a literal transcription from Tennyson's "Maud," (part one, canto ten,) which the Post and Times, along with other professional critics, have lauded to the skies—all of which shows that a poet laureate don't always "smell as sweet by any other name."—Manchester Mirror.

What his Name Was.

There was a Kansas City reporter on the train that carried Grant from Galena, and one of his first exploits was to sail through the cars getting up a list of the people aboard. One of the persons he struck was a short, thick-set man with a beard, who sat gazing pensively out of the window with a cigar in his mouth.

"Are you one of the invited guests?" asked the reporter, tapping the man on the shoulder.

The man said he was, and kept on smoking.

"From St. Joe or Leavenworth?" asked the reporter, note-book and pencil in hand.

"Illinois," replied the man, still smoking.

"I'll have to trouble you for your name," persisted the reporter.

"Grant," said the man, still smoking.

"Initials, please," asked the reporter.

"Ulysses S. Grant," replied the man quietly.

"Oh," faintly ejaculated the reporter, as a strange light came in his eyes. And he moved on.

A profuse and many times excessively offensive discharge from the nose, with "stopping up" of the nose at times, impairment of the sense of smell and taste, watering or weak eyes, impaired hearing, irregular appetite, pressure and pain over the eyes, and at times in the back of the head, cold feet, and a feeling of lassitude and debility are symptoms which are common to catarrh, yet all of them are not present in every case. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures catarrh in its worst form and stages. It is pleasant to use, and contains no poisonous or caustic drugs. So sure a cure it is that its former proprietor offered for years in all the principal newspapers of the land a standing reward of $500 for a case it would not cure. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

—Several men lately swam the Mississippi above New Orleans on a wager. A reporter on the race says, "None of them seemed to be putting forth much effort till it was discovered that an alligator had struck out from shore as a competitor, and then,—well, every man did his best to keep the alligator from carrying off the stakes."

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

—There may be a good reason for it, but it seems a little singular to us that our exchanges contain the freshest items in regard to the luck of amateur fishermen in their Monday morning issues.—Somerville Journal.

Letter from Rev. S. Morgan.

Rev. Stilman Morgan, long time known as a missionary among the mountains of Vermont, by reason of exposure at his age. (73.) contracted catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaints, and intermittent pulse. In a letter dated Bristol, Aug. 25, 1873, expressing his gratitude for the relief experienced he says:—"These diseases became chronic. My right wrist was growing out of shape and was weak and painful. I have taken one package of Kidney-Wort, and now I feel well all over me." Mr. Morgan further states that his wife had been a great sufferer from similar complaints, and that the medicine was doing more for her than any other ever tried.

—Said Jones: "Smith won't have so soft a thing as he has had." "I don't know," replied Robinson, "he'll have a soft thing so long as he doesn't lose his head."

A nourishing agent for the weak, emaciated and dropsical,—Malt Bitters.

—A Nebraska Sunday school was on a railroad excursion. A boy leaned out of a car window and fired a revolver at the same instant that a girl put her head out at another window, and the bullet killed her.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT,

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

The Game of "Brag."

Our esteemed and moss-covered contemporary, the Portsmouth Chronicle, says the Hon. Frank Jones "is too keen a politician" to risk the loss of his prestige "by running for the governorship in a presidential year." Very likely he is too keen to be fooled by any such clap-trap as the above. New Hampshire is a very doubtful state this year, and of all nominations the one the republicans most fear is that of the Hon. Frank Jones.—Boston Post.

Our respected but juvenile contemporary, the Post, will know more one of these days, after it has had experience, than it does now; and yet it should even now know that brag goes but a little way toward carrying New Hampshire for the democratic party, as it has for years tried to carry it by that means, and failed right along.

The game of brag with which the democratic press is heralding the proposed nomination of Frank Jones for governor is no new thing. Mr. Jones has often been a candidate, and the brag game has been played without success before, as it probably may again be. He was four times a candidate for mayor of Portsmouth; in 1866 there was no choice by the people, and Mr. Dearborn was chosen by the city councils; in 1867 and 1868 Mr. Jones was elected mayor; in 1869, being nominated for a third term he was ignominiously defeated by Joseph B. Adams, who received 965 votes to Mr. Jones' 596. Twice he was a candidate for state senator and was beaten both times, first by Ezra A. Stevens, and afterwards by John H. Bailey. Mr. Jones has twice been nominated for congress, and has been elected both times. So we see that he has been eight times a candidate for office, and four times failed of election. Mr. Jones has never been chosen state senator; yet the democratic press confidently predicted his election in 1869. "The fact is, Frank Jones is going to be elected senator in this district. That's what's the matter." So they said eleven years ago, and similar to that is the democratic brag of to-day. But the vote of New Hampshire will not be given either to Mr. Jones or to Gen. Hancock.

Shocking Disaster.

Early Wednesday morning, 21st inst., a caisson at the Hudson river tunnel collapsed, letting the water rush in upon a gang of twenty-eight men who had just gone to work. Twenty of the men were cut off from escape, but the eight others saved their lives. The bodies of the men who perished cannot be recovered for several days.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BETHLEHEM, July 19th.

High up on the sides of one of the many hills and mountains of northern New Hampshire is this already famous summer resort for invalids and tourists. Mountains before us and mountains behind us; on the right of us and on the left of us; in fact, one cannot look toward any point of the entire circle of the horizon without seeing a good-sized mountain. There are no cheap, half-way fellows in this region; they are all first-class A 1 mountains without any discount. Twenty-five years or so ago, somebody discovered that the air here was a tonic for the weak stranger, and up went an addition to the then Sinclair homestead and farm house. With astonishing rapidity hotels increased, arrivals grew more numerous as season succeeded season and the health-renewing properties of the mountain air became noised abroad, until the modest and unpretending Sinclair home has become one of the largest hotels of this popular town. Twenty-five or more public and private boarding-houses have since been erected, and many more will doubtless be built from year to year, because the tide of summer travel is unmistakably setting this way.

"I can't tell," said an old resident to us the other day, "for the life of me, what you fellers see up here to draw ye. For my part, these all-fired hills have been the worst things we've had to contend with. Still, it's all right if ye like it; we're glad to see ye, only its mighty funny;" and the old fellow laughed as though he was really puzzled at such freaks of taste. We knew he was glad to see us before he told us so, only we half suspected it was the "very hard cash" that we brought with us, that made our advent so interesting to him.

Very few of the old settlers get much out of this immense country travel though, save incidentally. Men come from the cities and build and keep these hotels. They bring with them, too, all the shrewdness and tact that the diamond-cut-diamond style of city life and business brings to them, and they use their sharpness to the best possible advantage.

Hotel life is the same here as at the seashore. You pay your money and take your choice. But whether you do the latter or not, you pay your money every time. Human nature is about the same everywhere, and human nature seeks money. That's how we came to recognize it up here.

In pleasant contrast to the fashionable bustle of high-toned hotel life in Bethlehem, is the quiet and unpretentious Prospect house, with its genial proprietor, Mr. Geo. W. Phillips, whose chief aim is to make his large farm-house as much of a country home to his guests as is possible. If any one is seeking "society" with its fashions and follies, or the gaieties of aristocratic summer resorts, he won't stop long at the Prospect house; but if one is seeking a charmingly pleasant place of retirement, away from the dust and noise of Bethlehem street, with grassy lawns in front of it and perfumed woods all around it, let such a seeker try this place. This is not the opinion of a bumming newspaper correspondent,—the list of which is far too long, for the honor of the newspaporial profession,—but simply the record of our judgment, based upon a few days' sojourn here at the regular but very cheap rates of board. Many of our Portsmouth people are familiar with the country retreat to which we have alluded, and will bear witness to the truth of our statements concerning it.

We arose at half-past four this morning, and with a good stout staff for a companion, we climbed to the top of Mt. Agassiz (a famous mountain of Bethlehem) to witness the coming of the sun. It didn't seem to us as though there could be a grander sight. To see the rays of sunlight tip one peak after another in rapid succession; to hear nature and humanity in a circuit of at least twenty miles around getting astir; to listen to the tinkle of the cowbell, and the sleepy "hurrup" of the cowboy away down in the valleys below, and see the lazily curling blue smoke ascending from the village houses here and there, and having for our company only the stern old mountains all around us, gave the occasion a degree of impressiveness that our pen utterly fails to describe. There is nothing like it except a sunset,—which must be even more lovely. This we hope to witness before we complete our mountain sojourn.

BUDGE.

News and Notes.

The figures show that there were 800,000 tons of ice secured on the Kennebec last winter, which at $2.50 per ton will produce $2,000,000. This is more ice by 100,000 tons than was ever secured on the river before, and the total crop of the state of Maine is estimated at 1,500,000 tons.

While two boys, named Cates and Gounlaw, at Eastport, Me., were playing with pistols supposed to be empty, Gounlaw's pistol was discharged in Cates' face, the bullet striking near the eye and flattening against the bone. Injury not serious.

The peach crop of Delaware is expected to amount to four million baskets this year, and be worth a million and a half dollars more than that of last year. In a few days the steamers from Lewes will be loaded with the fruit to their utmost capacity; the crop being at least 1,000,000 baskets above the average.

John Carville, who went to Leadville, Col., from Lewiston, Me., not very long ago, and was appointed a member of the police force of that city, was shot and killed on the 17th inst. by a drunken rough whom he endeavored to arrest. Another policeman was also killed in the fracas which followed the shooting of Carville. Carville was formerly a policeman in Lewiston.

The other day a gentleman and lady were visiting at a Portland, Me., residence, who came from different parts of the country. One of the twain, the gentleman, was fifty years of age, and the lady seventy. They were brother and sister, yet they had never met before in all their lives. The sister married and moved west before her brother was born, and neither had ever had an opportunity of seeing each other until this meeting.

The Atlantic coast from Sandy Hook to Hatteras presents many dangers to navigators, and especially to the small coasting vessels which now form so large a proportion of our commercial marine, in the frequent gales which blow from southeast round to northwest. Over fifty years ago, in order to form a harbor of refuge, the Delaware breakwater was built off Cape Henlopen at an expense of over two million dollars. But now, owing to neglect, so far from being a harbor of refuge, it bids fair to rival Charybdis as a destructive agent. In the severe gales of a year or two ago, one or two vessels dragged their anchors, and, running into others, caused the foundering of a number, and to-day no less than fourteen schooners are sunk there, which serve only as rocks upon which other vessels are like to strike. Mariners, therefore, are beginning to take the risk of keeping out to sea instead of seeking the dangerous hospitality of the breakwater's shelter.—American Ship.

—The road to matrimony is a bridal path.

—A poor woman who had been supplied with bad tea by the grocer, said it was just as the Scripture said, "To the poor all thing are poor."

Political Matters.

Carl Schurz says it will not help the proper administration of affairs to turn out eighty thousand men from office, and put inexperienced men in their places. This is the opinion of one of the ins against eighty thousand of the outs, and the secretary of the interior is thus painfully in a minority on that question.

The New York World has been badly sold by what purported to be a decision of Judge Swayne of the supreme court of the United States concerning Gen'l Garfield. Its utterances were frequent and emphatic. The trouble is, however, that Judge Swayne never rendered such a decision as is claimed, as an inspection of the records of the court show,—and yet the democratic papers advocate "no mud-throwing" in this campaign.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Sangerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod&o1m

Mr. Arthur W. Walker has since his retirement from the hat trade entered into business arrangements with his brother, J. Albert Walker, and is located at the counting-room on Market street, at the head of Pray's wharf.

Monday evening, the 19th inst., at Dover, a boy seventeen years old, named Hugh Thompson, made a dive from the top of Trickey's coal shed into the Cocheco river below, a distance of nearly fifty feet. It was a dangerous and foolish act, but the young fellow came out all right.

The schooner Horatio Nichols was towed to the railway at Kittery on Wednesday forenoon of this week, about ten o'clock, by the steamers Clara Bateman and Mystic, and at high water took up her old quarters on the ways. She had about thirty tons of coal in her when she was towed down, and the water was standing two feet over her keelson.

A party of East Boston men who had been at work in this city for the Eastern railroad, handling coal, had rather a hard time getting home on Tuesday of this week. One of their number was probably fatally hurt by an engine before getting out of this city; and the rest of the party, having stopped over a train in Newburyport, got drunk, had a fight in the depot, and one of their number was locked up.

The north end presented a lively appearance on Wednesday of this week, when ten brigs and schooners were at the Concord railroad wharf, and two at the Eastern railroad wharf. The quantity of cement sent into the interior since Mr. Walker has established his business at the coal-pocket, has largely increased. Parties in Manchester are making an effort to have a new railroad connection, which will if built send the coal carriage elsewhere.

Mr. Arthur E. Clarke of the Manchester Mirror was in town Wednesday, the 21st inst., to confer with certain of our prominent citizens concerning the publication in book form of sketches of their lives, with steel engravings of the subjects, etc. If there is one trait above another for which the majority of our leading citizens are noted, it is their modesty; and from what we know of such matters we incline to think that but few men among us are willing to go upon the record at present, but will leave it to posterity to protray their virtues and enlarge upon their rise and progress. In Manchester nearly every man who has a moderate fortune or has been in any prominent office submits to be "written up" and to have a steel plate engraving of his countenance prepared at a reasonable price, but we are so conservative in Portsmouth that we are content to await posthumous fame.

THE REUNION.

The reunion of the high school alumni in Franklin dance hall, Tuesday evening, was numerously attended and entirely successful; Jas. P. Bartlett, Esq., was chairman. Rev. James DeNormandie's eulogy on the late Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, formerly president of the association, was listened to with deep interest; and the brief literary and musical exercises which followed were received with marked favor, the reader, Mr. Stimpson, being generously applauded, and the Nowell brothers each receiving a persistent encore and a bouquet. The floor of the hall was cleared shortly after nine o'clock, and a merry throng of dancers then took possession and held it till half-past twelve, the galleries being filled with lookers-on up to a late hour. The reunion was the most pleasing of any yet held by the high school association.

Before the delivery of the eulogy, the following resolutions passed by the committee of the association were read by Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq.:

Whereas, Since the last reunion of this association the Great Disposer of Events has removed by death our esteemed president, the Honorable William H. Y. Hackett; therefore,

Resolved, That it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to express our profound esteem for his upright character, and our admiration for his professional and scholarly attainments, which had placed him in the front rank of his contemporaries at the bar and in the councils of the state.

Resolved, That, while this occasion awakens the happiest memories of our youth, it is saddened by the loss of one so long the presiding officer of this association, whose efforts and prosperity to promote its welfare we shall always hold in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records of the association, and that a copy thereof be presented to the family of the deceased.

THE COMPLIMENTARY DINNER.

The dinner tendered by the Portsmouth Board of Trade to F. W. Hilton & Co., (Capt. Frank W. Hilton and Hon. Frank Jones,) proprietors of the Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, came off on the 21st inst. at the hotel named as previously announced, the large and influential company sitting down at 8:30 o'clock. The following was the MENU.

Little Neck Clams.
Soup.
Clam Chowder, Mock Turtle.
Boiled Kennebec Salmon, Anchovy Sauce.
Potatoes, Hollandaise.
Boiled Leg of English Mutton, Caper Sauce,
Roast Rhode Island Green Ducks,
Roast Sirloin of Beef.
Sliced Tomatoes, Cucumbers.
Galentine of Turkey, Lobster Salad.
Sweet Breads, Larded, with Green Peas.
Macaroni Baked, a la Creme.
Roman Punch.
Yellow Legs, Snipe, Philadelphia Squabs,
Saratoga Fried Potatoes.
English Plum Pudding, Champagne Jelly,
Charlotte Russe, Cream Puffs, Bananas, Oranges,
Peaches, Nuts, Lemon Ice Cream, Raisins,
Blackberries, Watermelons.
Coffee.

When dinner was announced the company marched into the dining hall to the music of the magnificant orchestra led by John Braham, who played several choice selections during the dinner, which were greeted with hearty and prolonged applause. Col. Sise, as president of the board of trade, then called the assemblage to order in a few well chosen remarks, after which the divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Dr. Alden, and the excellent repast then duly attended to.

After dinner, Col. Sise called upon several gentlemen for off-hand remarks, there being no set toasts. The first called on was our honored townsman, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, who as always was greeted with hearty applause, and who responded most happily, paying a high tribute to the guests of the evening for their energy, forethought and preserverence in erecting and maintaining so magnificent a hotel, and specially complimenting Mr. Jones by saying that no man had done more for the interest of the city of Portsmouth; he was glad to see so many of his respected fellow-citizens assembled to tender their acknowledgements for successful efforts to increase the business of our city.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury followed, congratulating Messrs. Jones and Hilton on their marked success in the great undertaking of building and carrying on this beautiful hotel. He said that Mr. Jones never made a dollar but that Portsmouth had benefitted by it, and that in the future as in the past the gentleman named would devote his energies to promoting the welfare of the city. The Wentworth was one of the best hotels in the country, and Portsmouth was fast growing to be one of the most popular watering places; and he believed its summer trade was sure of a great increase.

Rev. James DeNormandie spoke briefly, expressing pleasure at having an opportunity of uniting with so many reputable citizens in complimenting the gentlemen whose energy had caused to be erected so beautiful a summer home for so many persons, and hoping prosperity would attend them in their undertaking.

Hon. Albert R. Hatch tendered his congratulations to the gentlemen who had done so much for the welfare of the community.

Jas. P. Bartlett, Rev. Dr. Alden, Henry A. Yeaton of Detroit, formerly of this city, Col. William H. Hackett and Hon. T. E. O. Marvin made short addresses, expressing the highest regard and respect for the gentlemen in whose honor the dinner was given.

A letter was read from Dr. J. F. Hall, expressing his regret at not being able to appear in person.

Messrs. Jones and Hilton returned their earnest thanks to the assembled citizens for their kindly expressions of appreciation, and hoped nothing would ever occur to interrupt the generous feelings of good will between all parties.

The company then gave hearty cheers for the guests of the evening, and soon after took carriages for Portsmouth, where they arrived soon after midnight, and parted wishing health and business prosperity to F. W. Hilton & Co., individually and collectively. The affair was an entire success in its inception and all its details.

Among the gentlemen present from out of town were Stillson Hutchins and Mr. Moore of the Manchester Union.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Francis Winn, aged about sixty years, committed suicide at Wells on the 19th inst., by taking Paris green. The probable cause was low spirits, induced by ill-health.

Eight young men, six of them from Cambridge, Mass., and two from Boston have hired a house at Kittery Point, and are having a jolly time "all to themselves."

Wm. McDonald, the agent who was introducing "Dr. Kelly's bitters" at Old Orchard recently, and was arrested for so doing, was taken before a magistrate and fined $50 and costs for a single sale of liquor, and $20 and costs for soliciting orders for the sale of intoxicating liquors in the state. He appealed.

The republican committee of the first congressional district of Maine had a meeting at Old Orchard on the 16th inst., and decided that the nominating convention shall be held at Saco on the 16th of August. It was also decided to have a district mass meeting at the same place and time, and to invite several leading republicans of the state to deliver addresses. The Biddeford Times says "the probabilities are strongly in favor of the renomination of Hon. Thos. B. Reed, who has made a good representative for the last four years; but he will be opposed in the convention by several distinguished gentlemen, among whom may be mentioned Hon. Wilbur F. Lunt of Portland, Col. James M. Stone of Kennebunk, Hon. Jerry M. Mason of Limerick, and perhaps Gen. M. F. Wentworth of Kittery, though the latter is a warm personal and political friend of Mr. Reed. The meeting will doubtless be an interesting one, for its candidate will be elected by something over 1000 majority."

New Hampshire Items.

A shock of earthquake was felt in Manchester, Milford, Contoocook and other places in the interior of the state, at about seven o'clock in the evening of the 20th inst. It lasted several seconds, and in Manchester was decided enough to throw down dishes and pictures.

It is proposed to hold a republican mass meeting at Concord in connection with the state convention, which meets Sept. 7th. Senators Conkling and Blaine are to be the speakers.

The buildings of James Cook, in Northumberland, with their entire contents, including twenty tons of hay, were burned on the 19th inst. while the family were in the field haying. Loss $2,500; insured in New Hampshire and Springfield companies to the amount of $1,500.

According to the Wolfeborough News the escape of John White, the would-be wife murderer at Ossipee, savors considerably of carelessness. He was left in care of a feeble old man, allowed to retain the key to his own room, in which was an open window but a short distance from the ground, and seven or eight hours elapsed before any attempts to recapture him were made.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS of the Toledo, Delphos & Burlington Railroad Co. have jumped into immediate favor with all classes of investors not only on account of their unquestioned safety but for the reason that it is such a small issue upon a large and valuable property. Geo. Wm. Ballou & Co., bankers, Boston or New York, have the entire loan.

A woman's beauty is never lost
So long as her sweet smile remains—
So long as gleam her teeth like frost,
And her soft lip the ruby stains;
And SOZODONT, with magic power,
Bestows on her this priceless dower.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 1,th&f

ISLES OF SHOALS.

Laighton Brothers & Co.

The staunch and reliable steamer APPLEDORE, Capt. Rand, makes two trips each way daily (Sundays excepted) between Portsmouth and the Shoals. Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8:20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3:30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage Destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotel's free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 25. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for bathing at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The verandas, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade or over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, the sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

A fool once more.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could certainly tell was the matter or cure her; and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

Things That'll Love.

I love to see a man who has spirit and independence enough to criticise the cooking, no matter whether the cook was ill and his wife had gone into the kitchen rather than he should be disappointed in his dinner.

I love to see the contemptuous, derisive expression with which a man receives a bit of news from a patient, stay-at-home wife, although she had been nursing it all day in hopes that she might interest him just a little when he came home at night.

I love to see the Broad liberality and open-heartedness of the man who will unflinchingly and with a hospitable grasp of the hand invite a crowd to participate in drink, while he is conscious that the last month's rent is yet due, and that at home his wife is denying herself almost of the very necessities of life in order that he may go abroad among his fellowmen decently clad.

I love to see the man who has sense enough after having laughed and joked all day down town among his companions, to shut his mouth up close as a clam at night when he comes home, and take refuge behind a book or newspaper.

I love to see the man who has discretion enough to inform the wife of his bosom that the opera or theatre isn't worth seeing, but that he must take a friend from the country there, at least two nights in the month, on the ground of politeness.

I love to see the man who has discrimination enough to sneer at any little accomplishment his wife may possess, yet laud the same to the skies if possessed by some female acquaintance.

I love to see a man who has sufficient discernment to look upon his home, no matter how attractive his wife and children are, as a place to go when he can go nowhere else.

I love to see a man have foresight enough when taking a few days' recreation in some pleasant out-of-the-way place and asked why he didn't bring his wife along, reply, "Well, the old lady is a stay-at-home kind of body, and so I had to come myself."

I love to see "in the Good Book" the time coming when such men as I have described will be compelled by some omnipotent power to drink daily about ten gallons of weak, adulterated tea which has grown almost cold.

Oatmeal Drink.

As to the value of good oatmeal stirred into cold water and drank outdoors by field and garden hands, I fully concur in its efficacy, provided it be grits (or pearled oats) of prime white oats. A mess set to soak in a cool place over night in an earthenware vessel—better yet in strong bottles—for use during the forenoon, and another fixed in the early morning for the afternoon, so that the strength is fairly extracted, and not much expected of the mess. One pound of groats to three or four men at most, gives a fair beverage. A little nutmeg, mace or ginger is not objectionable, and some seasoning induces persons to fairly try, who, being accustomed to spiced food, would call the unadorned drink flat. Sir well just before imbibing. This affords strength, revives flagging spirits and prevents both excessive thirst and drinking. I furnished good Canadian oaten grits, and repeatedly heard my employes say they were materially comforted. This, together with frequent breathing spells and long noonings in oppressively sultry weather, makes helpers contented and disposed to extra exertion when urgent. This, according to my own and corroborated experience, is preferable to bites or lunches, betwixt regular meals, for a very weary laborer rarely relishes solid food as increasing a parched sensation, whereas good water fully saturated with prime oatmeal just supplies the then want of light refreshment.—Cor. Germantown Telegraph.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness or all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

THE

Last Move in the Game.

AN ORIGINAL TALE.

CHAPTER I.

The old servants at Falconberg Hall, the seat of Lord Falconberg, near the New Forest, in Hampshire, England, had been dying off rapidly with what Dr. Erdale called a malignant fever; but Joe Mattocks, the sexton and Mary Merril, a blind and aged nurse, and Dick Varley, a lawyer's clerk, believed they had been poisoned (with Dr. Erdale's knowledge) for the purpose of covering up a terrible secret with which they were acquainted. Lord Falconberg had two children—his son, Lord Walter, a student at Oxford, and a daughter Alice, both of whom were great favorites with their dead mother's brother, Ned Buckhurst, who lived at the Grange, a few miles from Falconberg Hall.

A road of the New Forest, known as the Devil's Gap, which ran past a wayside inn called the Raven, was exceedingly dangerous at night, on account of its abrupt termination on the edge of an old and deep quarry. It was the business of Silias Garnem, the landlord of the Raven, to see that two lights, one red and the other blue, were kept burning at a little distance from the edge of the precipice, every night, from sunset to sunrise.

One day a couple of disguised strangers stopped at the Raven, and imperiously demanded dinner of the landlord, who was at first inclined to resent their harshness, but after a few whispered words from one of them, the manner of the landlord suddenly changed to obsequiousness.

"Dinner, gentlemen?" he said. "Certainly. The best the house can supply. Perhaps you would prefer a private room?"

"Certainly," answered the younger traveller. "And this pretty girl," he added, attempting to take the hand of Ethel Garnem, the landlord's beautiful daughter, who shrank timidly back, "shall wait upon us."

"My daughter does not wait upon strangers," observed Ethel's mother, dryly, and Silias conducted his guests to the little parlor, where a cheerful fire was blazing. A whispered conversation took place, which lasted for some time.

"Do not leave Ethel till I return," said Mrs. Garnem to the old blind nurse, Mary Merril, who had come in with her grandson, a bright boy named Ralph. "I must hasten to the kitchen and prepare a dinner for these travellers. Strangers seldom stop here, except to bait their horses."

"Are they strangers?" asked her visitor.

The landlady regarded her earnestly.

"To me, at least," she replied. "I cannot answer for my husband."

"I do not like these men," observed Ethel, as soon as her mother had withdrawn. "What can bring them here?"

"Evil! Evil to the house of Falconberg, "groaned the blind woman. "The storm has been gathering for years. The clouds are black and heavy. They will burst soon. I have known it—felt it for years—seen it in my dreams, for when I sleep the blessed light returns to me."

"Evil!" repeated the astonished girl. "What evil can possibly threaten those so highly placed?"

"The lightning strikes the stately oak and leaves the humble shrub unscathed," continued the speaker. "You must watch over them—over the noble maiden whose generous regard has cast gleams of sunshine on your gloomy path; over her thoughtless brother, who has listened to the beatings of his heart, I fear, rather than the suggestions of reason. You must watch these men."

"I will," faltered Ethel, blushing and turning pale by turns, as if she comprehended the allusion; for she secretly loved the young Lord Walter.

"The hawk shall not replace the falcon in its nest," added the blind nurse, emphatically, "although it has been hatched there."

The mistress of the Raven now made her appearance from the kitchen, and the speaker took her departure, accompanied by her grandson.

"Thank Heaven," thought the girl, "Lord Walter is far away with his tutor. If any danger threatens, it cannot fall upon him. Angels will watch over the Lady Alice!"

The best dinner the house could furnish was quickly served in the little parlor, Silias himself waiting upon the guests. After a long private conversation they took their leave, to the intense satisfaction of Ethel, who felt as if a weight had been removed from her heart.

By this time night, which lends its aid to every evil, began to spread her dark mantle, vailing the twilight world. The landlord of the Raven appeared uneasy and on the watch, going frequently to the door and looking out as if he expected some one. His daughter regarded these movements with intense anxiety; her heart was alarmed. The warnings of the blind woman had terrified her, and again and again she mentally thanked Heaven that Lord Walter was absent.

A light chaise drew up in front of the house, and two travellers, after exchanging a few words with Silias, alighted and entered the kitchen. They were the Lord Walter and the Rev. Dr. Barnard, his tutor, but both so well wrapped up that neither Ethel nor her mother could recognize them. As the last wrapper fell from the person of the younger the anxious girl started; her worst apprehensions seemed realized; the object of her secret pre-occupation stood before her.

"Lord Walter!" she faltered.

"Even so, Ethel," replied the young man, sadly. "You appear more surprised than pleased to see me.—My poor father! Have you heard? Does he still live?"

"Live!" repeated the girl. "Has Lord Falconberg been ill?"

The State Prison Investigation.

The report of the governor and council upon the charges against the warden and deputy warden of the state prison, and upon which a hearing was had, is very long—twenty-two pages of legal cap paper—and is signed by Gov. Head and Councillors Brown, Tuttle, Parker, Burnap and Burrows. It takes up each of the forty-five charges seriatim, discussing the evidence more or less, and upon each charge it fully and clearly vindicates the warden and deputy, and their officials. It says:

The governor and council conclude and find that the forty-five charges herein before mentioned are not sustained; that the warden and his officers have not knowingly and willingly over-stepped or gone beyond the requirements of the rules and regulations before mentioned except in the matter of making their quarterly report of punishments to the governor and council, and except the matter of whippings, if that punishment should be found not sanctioned by said rules.

The Spanish Outrages.

Notwithstanding the positive denial by the government at Madrid and the Spanish minister in Washington of the charge of the captains of two American vessels that they had been fired upon by Spanish cruisers on the high seas, the department of state is now in possession of information indisputably establishing the charge. No action, however, will be taken until the report of Admiral Wyman, who was dispatched in the Tennessee to Cuban waters to inquire into matters, is received. The Spanish finding themselves cornered, now practically concede the firing, but claim that it was within two marine leagues, claiming jurisdiction over that distance from shore. Our government ignores this interpretation of international obligations on the high seas, admitting one marine league. It appears that Spain claims jurisdiction over two leagues from shore, and upon this point the two governments have been in controversy for upward of twenty years. The steamer which fired on the two fruit schooners, and was at first reported as the "Nuncio," was the Valencia. It is said that the American schooner Hattie Haskell was boarded recently from the Spanish steamer Blasco de Garay, thirty-two miles south by west from Cape Maisi, but it is not stated that she was fired at.

The Washington Monument.

Of the $677,000 necessary to complete this monument $200,000 have been appropriated by Congress, $62,000 have been expended on the foundation, and $20,000 for an elevator capable of bearing ten tons, which has been erected within the shaft and is run by a fifty horse-power engine to carry the blocks to the top. An iron stair-case has also been erected at a cost of $16,000. Both will be permanent. The base of the monument is fifty-five feet square, which will be gradually reduced to thirty-four feet six inches at the top. The monument, a simple obelisk, is to be 550 feet high and surmounted with a pyramidion roof, fifty feet high. About one-third of the shaft is already erected, and the work of continuing the layers has begun. The engineer estimates that the whole can be completed within four years. Ascent to the summit will be accomplished both by elevator and staircase. As Congress has voted to complete the monument, all that will be required is a specific appropriation from time to time, as needed.

News and Notes.

Trouble is threatened between the whites and Indians in eastern Oregon and Washington territory, owing to the encroachment of the settlers on Comas valley, from which the Indians have been accustomed to procure their annual supply of Comas root. The Indians intend to take forcible possession unless the whites leave.

John F. Richardson and Simeon M. Yeaton broke out of Cumberland county jail at Portland, Me., on the night of the 19th inst., escaping by making four false keys, one of which opened a combination lock. Richmond was a watchmaker by trade, and sentenced for burglary. Yeaton was a rumseller. There are no traces of them yet.

It 1860 it took a passenger five days to go from New Orleans to New York, making nine changes, and many of these changes necessitated a long walk from depot to depot. In 1869 it took four days, with two or three changes; in 1873 three and a half days, one change; in 1878 three days, one change; and now, in 1880, a man can go in sixty hours and forty-five minutes, one change.

On a recent Sunday evening a congregation at Sandoval, Ill., was dispersed by potato bugs, which took entire possession of the edifice. Windows, doors and seats were perfectly black with them. Ladies screamed, hats and feathers flew, and men stuffed their trousers in their boots.

Patrick Swayne confesses that he and Horace Ebner murdered Henry Page at Montezuma, N. Y., eight years ago. Remorse led to the confession. Both were arrested.

A curious monster of the sea, measuring about forty feet in length and shaped like a serpent, was captured at Margaree, Cape Breton, a few days ago. About thirty fishermen, armed with axes and harpoons, succeeding in killing it after a desperate struggle.

A Lynn man named John McMahon has just died from being bitten by a black spider. He suffered terribly for about a week, and the case is said to have been one of the most painful and distressing on record. It is thought that had McMahon sought medical advice earlier his life might have been saved, but he naturally paid little attention to what he deemed a trivial circumstance until it was too late.

Gold has been discovered in considerable quantities near Yarmouth, N. S. The discoverer, a poor French boy, is at least temporarily rich, having received a large amount of money for the secret. It is said some of the leading men of Yarmouth are taking the matter in hand.

Hon. Jacob Brinkerhoff died at Mansfield, Ohio, July 19th, aged seventy years. He was the author of the original draft of the famous "Wilmot proviso," was judge of the supreme court of Ohio from 1856 to 1871, and was one of the most prominent republicans of the state.

Several nests containing young Messina quails have been discovered in the suburbs of Lewiston and Auburn, Me. The largest number of young birds found in one nest thus far, is fifteen, and the smallest number, five. The indications are promising for a large family of Messina quails in Maine next year.

A farmer in Westford, Mass., has been victimized and has put his case in the hands of Lowell lawyers. Last May he allowed an agent of the so-called "Detroit Bedstead Company" to store nineteen bedsteads in his house, which said agent represented he should sell in the neighborhood; but no effort was made to sell, and on July 6th an accomplice of the first man put in an appearance with a bill for $112 for all the bedsteads. He frightened the farmer into signing a note by threatening to arrest him. It is thought the game has been played elsewhere in the country districts. The public are warned against negotiating notes payable to the company above named.

Mlle. Leona, a female athlete, gained much popularity in Germany by her feats of strength and skill. One act was to hang by her knees from a trapeze and hold another acrobat by her teeth. Recently, in Hamburg, six of her teeth and a part of her jaw were torn out, letting the man fall.

In England about one in twenty-one of the population has an account at a savings bank; in Wales, one in forty; in Scotland, one in twelve; and in Ireland, one in one hundred. In the fourteen states in this country which have savings banks, about one in nine of the population has an account. In Massachusetts the number of depositors equals nearly one-half the population.

This season a new branch of industry has been started by fishermen along the Chesapeake. They have taken to breeding soft crabs for the market, and thus far it has been a very profitable business, since there is no outlay except the labor of one or two men at each place it is carried on. The plan is to catch as many crabs as possible, take them up a small inlet or bay, and deposit them behind weirs, where they can have the freedom of the water and plenty to eat. By carefully watching them an experienced man is able to tell as soon as a hard crab sheds his shell and becomes soft. As soon as he does he is taken out and brought to market. As every hard crab must sooner or later become a soft-shell crab, there is no lost material. Having become a "soft," the crab remains so three days, though, as a rule, he is marketed and eaten before that time. The plan of getting soft crabs for market heretofore has been to watch for them along shore, so that under the new plan there is no reason why soft crabs should be quoted high.—Baltimore American.

The Modern Young Lady at Two Periods.

Behold her at eleven.

Her limbs unfettered by the long skirts of conventionality, she runs, she romps, she slides on the ice ponds, she rolls hoop, she climbs fences, she leaps, she kicks, she runs races, and is as fleet of foot as the boys. Her appetite is good, her cheeks rosy and her movements unconsciously graceful. But all this must cease.

Behold her again at twenty. No more does she run or jump or roll hoop, or run races or slide on the ice. It is not "proper" now nor lady-like, and she couldn't if she would, for she is fettered by long skirts, tight shoes, and tighter stays. Her movement has no longer the freedom and unconscious grace of childhood, for now, when she walks abroad, she walks to be looked at, which now, in her estimation, is the main object of walking. She is already in delicate health, and has a doctor who prescribes expensive advice and prescriptions for her, and ascribes her complaints to anything but the real cause. This is simply the fettering of her body with fashionable clothes. Physically she is now a prisoner. At eleven she was free.

The doctor advises travel, but he does not advise her to take off and keep off her fashionable fetters. She wouldn't do it if he did, and he wouldn't advise her if he knew it would bring relief, for she would no longer believe in a doctor who would make her dress like a guy; and being dressed like a "guy" is dressing different from the style prescribed by a Paris modiste. Diana never could hunt in a trailing skirt, narrow, tight, high-heeled gaiters, and a pinched, corseted waist, but Diana with a belted tunic and unfettered limbs would be bounced on Broadway by the nearest policeman.

Dressing for health and freedom of limb and body is one thing, and dressing for fashion quite another. A man couldn't endure the pinching and encumbrance peculiar to feminine attire for an hour, and a pretty spectacle he'd make rushing about in such during business hours. Yet the "weaker sex" wear double the encumbrances of the so-called stronger. To "dress" at all after the style uses up half a woman's time, and two-thirds her strength.—Graphic.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. It finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod6m

AROUND HOME.

Hon. Joshua G. Hall was in town on Thursday.

The Universalist state convention will be held in this city in October.

Rear Admiral Alfred Taylor, U. S. N., and family, are at the Rockingham house.

Schooner Anna M. Nash arrived at Doane's wharf on Thursday, the 22d inst., with about eighty barrels of mackerel.

A mackerel shark was caught in one of the weirs on the 21st inst., and taken up to the Wentworth house, to be interviewed by the visitors.

The Manchester Cadets, who had been in camp at Rye beach for a week, broke camp on Thursday evening last, and left this city for home on the evening train.

Clarence A. Pratt, employed in a freight shifting gang in the Eastern railroad yard at Salem, Mass., fell from a car on the 21st inst., and was run over and killed.

Any person in want of a good cow, either a fresh milker or one to come in during the winter, is referred to the notice in our advertising columns by Capt. Wm. Lester of Stratham.

Yacht Juno dragged her anchors on Wednesday night, 21st inst., and went ashore on Peirce's island point, opposite Ayers' wharf. The only damage done was the breaking of her rudder.

The celebrated schooner yacht Dauntless, 126.40 tons register, owned by Vice Commodore John R. Walker of the New York yacht club, was at anchor off the Wentworth on Thursday last. The Dauntless won an ocean race across the Atlantic last season.

The steamer Mystic did a good day's work on Thursday. Besides making her regular trips across the river, she towed the yacht Dauntless out from the Wentworth house, and back, and took the schooners Hattie Lewis, Satellite and Pride of the East down to the lower harbor.

The Methodist society of this city picnicked at Stratham bay-side last Thursday, when and where a chowder made in Mr. Eugene A. Sanborn's best style was served to a hundred and fifty people. A tub race took place on the bay between Messrs. Shannon and Parmenter of this city, and was won by the latter. The picnic was a very enjoyable one.

In another column may be found a notice by Messrs. Ayers & Locke, of Nos. 30 and 32 Market street, of particular interest to ladies and summer visitors, and of general interest to everybody who has need to purchase anything in the line of dry goods or furnishings. The stock in their store is one of the largest and most varied to be found this side of Boston, and their reputation for fair dealing is of the highest.

Horace P. Milton, a native of this city, died in Melrose, Mass., on the 18th inst., at the age of forty-three years. He was for a number of years engaged in the dry goods trade on Washington street, Boston, with his brother, George B. Milton. He enlisted in a Massachusetts regimen in 1862, and it was while serving in New Orleans that the seeds of the disease which finally ended his life were planted. He was a communicant of the Episcopal church, and an active Freemason.

As three little boys, named Wingate, Cheever and Rand, were playing on Adams' wharf, Thursday afternoon, the Wingate boy was suddenly missed by his playmates, who looking around discovered him in the dock, his hand just showing above water. The Rand boy, who is only nine years old, immediately jumped down on a float, reached down in the water and caught the nearly drowned boy by the hair, and pulled him out, thereby probably saving his life, as aid from adults could hardly have arrived in time.

THOMAS AUSTIN ADAMS.

Thomas Austin Adams died in New Orleans on the 20th inst. Mr. Adams was formerly a resident of this city, and was in business with Charles McClintock as a commission merchant and auctioneer, under the firm of McClintock & Adams, in that part of Market street known over forty years ago as Fore street. Subsequently, at the death of McClinton he removed further up the street, opposite the Ladd estate, and was agent for marine, fire and life insurance companies, and also for the Despatch line of New York packets. He left Portsmouth many years ago and removed to New Orleans, where he for a long time acceptably filled the office of president of an insurance company. He was succeeded in business by James P. Bartlett, Esq.

Mr. Adams was a man of kindly manners, genial disposition and cheerful traits, and much beloved by the circle of friends in which he moved while a resident in Portsmouth; and upon his visits, after his removal, was always a welcomed guest to the home of his earlier youth.

Mr. Adams was thrice married. First to Catharine M. McClintock, daughter of Capt. John McClintock, Jan. 21st, 1831; after her decease he married Margaret Pierrepont, daughter of the late Dr. James Henry Pierrepont, who subsequently died in New Orleans. His widow was a lady of Louisana.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, July 22d:

Henry Smith asked permission to open High street for the purpose of laying a drain; granted.

Edward C. Bean appeared before the board in relation to the killing of sheep belonging to him by dogs, and presented a bill of $10 for damages; referred to committee on claims.

Committee on claims to whom was referred the bill of John Griffin for damages, reported recommending that he be paid $6; report accepted and adopted.

Committee on police reported the city marshal's quarterly report correct.

Bill in relation to fire alarm, which was referred to committee on bills on the second reading, reported recommending that it pass to a second reading. Report accepted and adopted.

On motion of Alderman Laighton that the whole matter of the alterations in the Hanover street and Franklin schoolhouses be indefinitely postponed, the yeas and nays were demanded, and resulted in Aldermen Noyes, Barri and Hodgdon voting in the negative, and Aldermen Laighton, Hall, Sanborn, Mugridge and Hazel in the affirmative, Aldermen Shannon not voting.

Adjourned.

THURSDAY, July 22; Batchelder, J.

James Keenan, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

James Keenan, for assault on William Welch, was fined $1, costs $6.90.

New Hampshire Items.

In Meredith, Wednesday morning, two barns and about fifteen tons of hay, owned by Luther Boynton, were destroyed by fire. Probable cause incendiarism. Loss covered by insurance.

Dr. B. W. Sargent of Rochester, in consequence of a recent paralytic stroke, died Wednesday, the 21st, at the age of fifty-four.

Two children of Hiram Davis were fatally scalded on the 21st by the bursting of a pipe at the steam saw-mill in Danville.

The National Guard of New Hampshire is composed of 145 commissioned officers and 1635 men, divied up into three regiments of infantry, of ten companies each, two companies of cavalry and two four-gun batteries of two platoons each.

A workman named Alphonse Trudell, employed on the new bridge in course of erection at Manchester, was struck by a falling derrick on the 21st inst., and instantly killed.

DIED.

SHEA. In this city, July 23d, Mrs. Hannah Callahan Shea, wife of Dennis Shea, aged 47 years.

ADAMS. At New Orleans, on the 20th inst. Thomas A. Adams, formerly of this city, in the 79th year of his age.

Naval Gazette.

The Portsmouth arrived at Halifax, N. S., on the 16th inst., in twenty-seven days from Fayal.

The Minnesota arrived at New London on the 20th inst., from New York.

The school-ship St. Marys, Comdr. Erben commanding, sailed from Madeira for New York on the 15th.

The Tennessee, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, arrived at Beaufort, S. C., on the 20th.

Although congress appropriated no money for new ships at its last session, there are funds enough on hand to complete the extensive repairs ordered a year or more ago for several of the old vessels of the navy. Among the ships being overhauled and thoroughly fitted at the present time are the historic old steam sloops Hartford and Brooklyn. These old warriors are both at the Charlestown navy yard, and it is the intention of the navy department to put them in as good condition as when they ran the heavy batteries of forts St. Philip and Jackson on the Mississippi, or subsequently, under Admirals Farragut and Thatcher, fought the battle of Mobile bay. It is due to the memory of those gallant seamen, Farragut and Thatcher, that their "wooden walls" should be kept together as long as the planks can be fastened to the timbers. —American Ship.

Q. What is the best cigar sold in Portsmouth for ten cents?

A. The "Noriega" because it is old-fashioned, made by hand, and free from the horrid flavoring so often found in common cigars. Quite right, you can go to the head, and so can the "Noriega."

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

A Happy Man at Lockport, N. Y.

E. C. Williamson, of this place, is rejoicing over the recovery of his wife, who has been an invalid for the past four years. She has regained her strength, her complexion is vastly improved, and she has walked more in the past month and is stronger and better than she has been in years. He attributes these happy results entirely to Day's Kidney Pad.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or ever-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&c

M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8:20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3:30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill has also been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent., it is certain to maintain its price and be rapidly taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

[Concluded from first page.]

"Dying!" exclaimed the young man, with a burst of natural grief. "Dying, Ethel. Hurd, the faithful steward, wrote me word not to lose an hour if I wished to see him again."

His hearer looked thunderstruck.

"By order of her father, in words too imperative to be disregarded, Ethel retired to the kitchen with her mother, to prepare the repast for the new-comers. She would have given worlds to remain to put the brother of Lady Alice upon his guard.

"Strange, Doctor," observed his pupil, when they found themselves alone, "that Ethel should not have heard of my father's illness. It must have been very sudden."

"Fever!" said the tutor with a shudder.

Meanwhile a blacksmith from the nearest village was busily occupied in repairing the broken springs of his lordship's carriage.

Ethel was on thorns; a vague presentiment of impending danger overwhelmed her, but without paralyzing her courage or presence of mind.

While in this state of suspense, excited alternately by hope and fear, she recognized the voice of Frank Oatlands, directing the men who accompanied his father's team to unyoke the horses and give them a feed. He had been drawing wood in the forest.

"Saved!" she murmured; "saved!"

The next instant she darted from the house and stood by his side.

Frank Oatlands was a magnificent specimen of the Anglo-Saxon race, and an almost brotherly attachment existed between himself and the heir of Falconberg.

"Thank Heaven you are here, Frank!" said the agitated girl, grasping his arm with a boldness which surprised him, for the conduct of Ethel was marked by great reserve. "Lord Walter has arrived! They have written to him that his father is dying! Why should they lure him to Walburg by a lie? Some terrible danger threatens him, but you will not leave him. I am certain that you will not, for his own, for his dear sister's, for all our sakes."

The clear, blue veins in the temples of the young farmer became distended with indignation at the mere thought of foul play to one so dear to him. Under any other circumstances he might have blushed at the allusion to Lady Alice, for we doubt if the heart was quite free in that respect; but now her brother claimed all his care, and his hand closed over the heavy hunting whip he carried with quiet resolution.

"Where is Walter?" he asked.

"In the little parlor, with his tutor. The carriage has broken down," whispered Ethel, pointing to the men who were repairing it. "It has been done purposely, I fear."

Frank Oatlands walked to the vehicle and examined the broken spring carefully. His brow became knit and his eyes looked troubled. Without uttering a word, he walked resolutely into the house.

"Where are you going?" demanded Silias Garnem, in a surly tone, as the young man crossed the kitchen.

"To see my friend."

"His lordship is at dinner with his tutor," observed the landlord, "and I cannot permit them to be intruded on."

"Ho! Ho! Silias Garnem! Are you, too, in the plot?"

"What plot?" faltered the man, turning pale.

"Can't tell yet," answered Frank, eyeing him suspiciously. "But soon shall. Determined to find it out. You don't believe in Providence, perhaps. Now, I do, and mark my words; if you have been led to tamper in any scheme against the noble house of Falconberg, it will come home to you."

Silias Garnem uttered a loud laugh, which grated harshly upon the ears of the speaker. It had not the true ring in it. Still he felt unwilling to believe anything very bad against the father of Ethel.

"I plot against the house of Falconberg! A sparrow against the eagle!"

"The viper against the stag-hound might have been a better simile, master of the Raven. Back, I say," added the young farmer, as the landlord advanced a second time to impede his passing, "unless you wish to feel the weight of my hunting whip."

Silias muttered after him, mentally vowing revenge.

"Frank! Walter!" were the exclamations of the two friends, as they recognized each other, and their hands became locked in a true, heartfelt grasp.

The two friends did not wish to separate, but agreed to ride to the Grange together. Lord Walter accepted the horse Frank had been riding, and the young farmer mounted a powerful roadster, one of his father's team. They were to precede the wagon and carriage, which the tutor occupied by himself.

It was a fearfully dark night. The young men, however, were sufficiently acquainted with the New Forest not to lose their way.

"Ethel is nervous," observed Lord Walter, speaking for the first time—for both the young men had been plunged in reverie. "The solitude of her home tells upon her imagination."

"Still her warning is not to be slighted," replied Frank, who had been thinking of Lady Alice.

"What warning?"

"I will tell you when we arrive safely at the Grange."

As the young farmer uttered these words he distinctly saw, during a momentary flash of autumnal lightning, two figures cross the path. He shouted to them, but they disappeared in the underwood.

"Why did you call out?" demanded his friend, who had not perceived them.

"Possibly it was a wild fox crossed my path," answered Frank, evasively. "Thank Heaven," he added, "we have reached the Gap. Let me go first."

"Not so," replied the high-spirited youth.

"You treat me like a child, Frank. If there is any danger, why should you be the first to encounter it?"

Giving the rein to his horse, the speaker advanced at a brisk pace, taking, as he thought, the road to Walburg; but one of the lamps had been removed and fixed at a distance, leaving the precipice exposed and unguarded. In an instant the high-spirited animal and its rider disappeared over the edge.

"Hah!" exclaimed the young farmer, with a cry of horror. "He has gone over! There has been treachery!—foul and deliberate treachery! Cruel! cruel!" Who shall tell his poor father and sister this?"

He started, as if he had suddenly received an electric shock, for a low, wailing cry, which sounded something like his own name, had fallen upon his ear, but so faint and indistinct that he thought at first his senses had played him false.

"It came from the Gap!" he exclaimed, greatly excited, as he rushed to the brink of the precipice.

Falling flat upon the grass, he dragged himself to the extreme edge of the precipice, over which Chowl, one of Frank's carters, who had taken a similar precaution, held one of the lamps. The heart of our hero beat wildly, for he felt almost mad with joy when he discovered his friend clinging to the boughs of an old ash tree that grew from a projection far down the precipice. As the horse fell from the giddy height, Lord Walter, with infinite presence of mind, had clutched one of the branches. The high-spirited animal lay a shapeless mass at the bottom of the quarry, but its rider still lived, and was comparatively uninjured.

"Walter! Dear Walter! Let me hear your voice again!" shouted his friend. "Are you really safe?"

"For a few moments only," replied the youth, mournfully. "Heaven has granted me time to breathe a prayer for those I love. In an instant, as it were, my heart has been revealed to me. Farewell forever! The old ash tree is gradually yielding beneath my weight."

"Hold on!" shouted Frank. "Providence will not leave its work unaccomplished."

Animated by the hope of preserving his friend, the speaker sprang to his feet and called to the carter to bring him the ropes from the wagon. These he knotted together, seeing to the fastening himself, and made a running loop at the end with his own hands.

"The tree will never bear his weight," thought Chowl, who divined his intentions.

"More ropes," said his young master.

They were brought to him, and a similar process gone through.

With the cords in his hands our hero crept once more to the edge of the cliff. The old ash inclined still more menacingly over the abyss, and the earth round the roots in the soil above began to crack ominously. Frank comprehended at a glance that his additional weight would precipitate it at once to the bottom of the quarry.

"Oh!" he murmured, wringing his hands despairingly, "what can I do!"

"Give them to me," said a soft voice beside him.

It was Ethel's. The brave girl had heard of Lord Walter's danger, and impelled by an impulse she could not control, hastened to the scene of action.

"You!" ejaculated the young farmer. "No,—no! It would be too terrible!"

"More so than his loss?" demanded the forest maiden, revealing the secret of her pure and innocent heart. "I am slight; the tree may possibly bear my weight. If only for a few minuets, till I can throw the rope and loop him, he is saved."

It was indeed the only chance—fearful, desperate, yet possible. And all who heard her were struck with admiration of her presence of mind and courage.

"It must be tried," she continued, with passionate energy. "You will not see him perish. What is my life compared with his safety? I am ready."

Half blinded by tears of admiration and regret, Frank fastened one of the loops carefully round her waist, and placed the other in her hand.

"Drop it over him, Ethel," he whispered. "Those above will hold the ends of the cords. Do not look down, the fearful height may make you dizzy—be firm, and may God bless and prosper your undertaking."

Ethel closed her eyes for an instant in mental prayer. Then pronounced in a firm voice—"I am ready."

The young farmer took her in his arms and lowered her carefully till her feet touched the trunk of the tree, on which she alighted as silently as a bird. A momentary shivering convulsed her delicate frame, but it passed almost as quickly as it came.

"Hush!" said Frank, to those around him. "Not a word." The above we publish as a specimen chapter; but the continuation of this story will be found only in the New York Ledger. Ask for the number dated July 31, which can now be obtained at any news office or bookstore. The Ledger is a great family paper. It not merely contains the most interesting stories, sketches and essays; but original articles from the most distinguished clergymen, statesmen and scholars. It published articles every week from the pens of the Rev. Dr. John Hall of New York, and the Rev. Dr. Thomas M. Clark, Bishop of Rhode Island.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too frequent application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with the consequences of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. d&w1nov80

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels cleared at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea, it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON, 17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 2d, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen: It is a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most distressing and almost incurable case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observat on from its first appearance to the present time—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease has been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of purchase application of CUTICURA.

I can and do hereby advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case. Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been spending for cures years and it did no good. Recently I was discovered to me. I got reduced from 170 to 132 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five pounds. I shall continue. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN H. R. Y.

414 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is admirable, assisted in cases of extreme (as local weakness, or as an antidote to virus of Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external humors. For cleansing the foul skin and hair, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable, as a soap for the toilet, the nursery, and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healthy preparation before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail, because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS. Gazette Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21st.

The speech of Secretary Schurz, delivered at Indianapolis last night, is chiefly commented on here because of his failure to enlarge on southern affairs. What he says of the civil service is known by every intelligent person here to be true. There has been an improvement in the last three years. He fails to say, what might be said with the same truth, that the reform commenced before the present administration came in. So far as I know, the particular department over which Schurz presides was in as good condition when Chandler left it, as it is at this time. Many people will fail to see the force of the secretary's special desire that one party shall continue in power for an indefinite period, while he persistently objects to more than a single presidential term for one man. But on the whole the speech is an able and judicious one, and its effect will be good in a party sense.

We are told to-day that Collector Merritt of New York, having declared that he thinks all his subordinates should be left to vote as they please, and that none of them shall be assessed for campaign purposes, is to be dismissed. Of the truth of the report, nothing is known here at this writing. But if President Hayes still has full faith in "Civil service order No. 1," I can hardly conceive of a better opportunity for enforcing it than this. If these are all the "charges" against the collector, he is simply supporting the letter and spirit of that order, and ought to be sustained if the order remains in force. If, however, as is also reported, Collector Merritt declares that he intends to vote for General Hancock, the subject goes beyond the letter of order No. 1, and will have to be considered outside of it.

There have been reports of ill feeling between two cabinet officers—Secretary Schurz and Secretary Sherman—for some time. It is now said that the latter insists on General Merritt's dismissal, and the former on his retention.

The democratic editors who are blustering about what the army would do in case of a disagreement between General Hancock and the powers at Washington, are, according to the New York Herald, making fools of themselves, and helping the republicans amazingly. KNOX.

Political Matters.

The New York Independent says: We have no expectation that the southern states will give a solitary electoral vote for Gen. Garfield. The "solid south" will be solid for Gen. Hancock. What the republicans have to do is to prevent the addition of the forty-seven electoral votes from the north and west necessary to enable the "solid south" to elect its candidate, and this with hard work can and will be done. The redistribution of political power after this election, under the census now being taken, will put an end to the significance of the "solid south," and democracy as a national party in a hopeless minority for years thereafter. One more victory, the sixth in the series, will settle the question that republicanism, and not democracy, is to rule the nation.

—Although paper collars have to a great extent gone out of use within the last ten years, 200,000,000 of them are now manufactured annually.

—A young man in Dubuque, Ia., has become partially deranged over a moustache which refuses to sprout. He was formerly happy and good tempered. He is now morose, despondent and melancholy. One day he visited a prominent drug store and purchased all the different hair restoratives to be had. After completing the rounds he carried the bottles to his room and put them aside for future use. When he left the room his sister found over a hundred bottles in the bedtick, and all were warranted to cause hair to grow on the smoothest skin.

A profuse and many times excessively offensive discharge from the nose, with "stopping up" of the nose at times, impairment of the sense of smell and taste, watering or weak eyes, impaired hearing, irregular appetite, pressure and pain over the eyes, and at times in the back of the head, cold feet, and a feeling of lassitude and debility are symptoms which are common to catarrh, yet all of them are not present in every case. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures catarrh in its worst form and stages. It is pleasant to use, and contains no poisonous or caustic drugs. So sure a cure it is that its former proprietor offered for years in all the principal newspapers of the land a standing reward of $500 for a case it would not cure. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

—Strong liquors should be shunned, and it is queer that temperance lecturers have never cited to their audiences the well-known fact that if David had not taken a sling Goliah would not have gone on his bier. See what example will do, and be wise.

Consumptives gain in flesh, strength and spirits under a daily use of Malt Bitters.

News and Notes.

At Detroit, Mich., on the 22d inst., the propeller Garland and the steam yacht Mamie collided, and the latter was cut in two amidships and sunk. Father Blyenburg of the Trinity Catholic church of Detroit, and sixteen of his altar boys were on board, together with two women and the engineer, all of whom were lost except Father Blyenburg and four of the boys.

The United States authorities do not recognize punched or multilated coins as legal tender, and will not receive such at any of its treasuries. Such coins are not received as payment for postage at the post-offices.

James Wood was murdered at Bull Run, Pa., on the night of the 21st inst., by Mollie Maguires.

Little Rock, Ark., has defaulted on the payment of about $10,000 interest on its bonded indebtedness due in July.

At Brownsboro, Ky., on the 21st inst., a white convict named Vonderhist, who escaped from prison the day before, met a colored girl thirteen years old in a field, and outraged and then murdered her. He was arrested. On the same day, at Shelbyville, Tenn., John Houston, a colored ex-convict, made an assault on a little white girl, the evidence indicating that he wished to be sent back to the penitentiary. He was arrested, and that night was hung by a mob.

P. J. Sullivan, the father of young Peter Sullivan, who was killed by the lockup explosion at Holyoke, Mass., and the parents of young Long, who was injured, have decided to bring a suit against the city for $10,000 damages.

In Coventry, R. I., on the 21st inst., Isaiah Carr, a middle-aged farmer, fired four shots from a revolver at his nephew, Caleb Carr, as the latter was passing through his gateway. Three balls grazed Caleb's body; the fourth struck his left lower rib, passed around the abdomen, and lodged in his right side. The ball was extracted, and the man has a chance for recovery.

S. C. Peters, A. W. Davis and one Marks, proprietors of Boyd & Peters' circus, and fifty of their employes, have been arrested at Greenburg, Pa., for abducting and shockingly abusing Salome Burkett, a handsome but simple-minded girl fourteen years old, daughter of a farmer in Somerset county. The girl's father has been pursuing the circus men for some days, but the girl was kept hidden from him. Her evidence in the court was unfit for publication, and directly implicated three of the prisoners. Mr. Burkett being a poor man, the citizens of Greenburg promptly raised money enough to carry on the suits against the villains.

During a heavy thunder shower at Clinton, Mass., on the 20th inst., Miss Maggie Birmingham, a table girl at the Clinton house, was prostrated by a shock of lightning, and remained unconscious for fifteen minutes. Lottie Darling, a clairvoyant stopping at the hotel, was also affected. On the same day, at Boylston, four cows belonging to Frank Bartlett were killed by lightning while standing under a tree.

New Hampshire Items.

Belknap county shows an increase of 506 in its population since 1870. The towns that have gained are Belmont, Centre Harbor, Laconia, and Tilton. The towns that have lost heavily are Alton, Barnstead, Gilford, Gilmanton, and New Hampton.

Coos county will show a gain of nearly 3000 inhabitants in the last decade. The largest increase is in Whitefield, 629; the next in Berlin, 615. Only two towns in the county show a loss, Dalton and Errol. The present population of Whitefield is 1825, which will give the town two representatives.

It has been decided to hold the annual reunion of the veterans at Weirs, beginning August 31st.

One of a party from Boston camping at lake Baboosic, Amherst, named Edwin Creeny, while out in a boat last Thursday lost an oar, and in reaching for it fell overboard, and as he could not swim was drowned.

Martin Fitzgerald, fifteen years old, employed in Walter Aiken's hosiery mill at Franklin Falls, was caught in a belt and hurled over a shaft in the card room, Thursday, and severely injured in the head. His wounds will probably not prove fatal.

The Manchester mills are all driven to their full capacity, and within a month wages have advanced ten per cent, while board has not gone up. The new mill of the Amory company will be the largest in the state, being 515 feet long, of four stories, and running 68,000 spindles, 1,350 looms, 381 cards, and employing nearly 1,000 persons.

Rev. G. W. Burnham, of Newburyport, will preach at the Advent church on Sunday.

The subject of Rev. Mr. McGinley's lecture in the North church, Sunday evening, will be, "There is a time to laugh."

—The political-straw fiend is to be bounced from all well-regulated railroad trains. These straws only tell which way the voter blows.

—A person with a turn for curious statistics has calculated that the ten million barrels of beer reported by the Brewers' Congress as sold last year, would have filled a canal twenty-one feet wide and five deep, extending from New York to Philadelphia, and that it would take a pump throwing thirty gallons a minute, running night and day, over twenty-one years to pump it out. It was all swallowed, however.

—An Oil City man went fishing, Saturday, and he came home with nothing but a little half-pound bass. "Is that all you caught?" asked his friends. "That's all," replied the man. "How many bites did you have?" "None," exclaimed the fisherman, and the whole crowd cried, "He's found! he's found! Here is the honest fisherman." He'd have had fifty invitations to drink in ten minutes if a small boy hadn't broken through the crowd and said, "See here, mister, yer gave me a bogus nickle for that sir fish." And now that crowd has no faith in human nature. —Derrick.

A woman's beauty is never lost
So long as her sweet smile remains—
So long as gleam her teeth like frost,
And her soft lip the ruby stains;
And SOZODONT, with magic power,
Restores on her this priceless dower.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod&eim Clear or partly cloudy weather with occasional rain, southerly winds, stationary or lower temperature and barometer.

AROUND HOME.

Schooner Iris arrived on Friday with four hundred gallons of dog-fish oil.

Schooner Anna M. Nash sailed from Doane's wharf on Friday, for the mackerel grounds.

Steam yacht Adelita, from Boston, came into the lower harbor Friday afternoon, and remained for the night.

The schooner Hattie M. Mayo arrived here on Friday morning, with 97,000 feet of assorted lumber for A. A. Fernald.

The yacht Iowa, from Salem, was in the lower harbor Friday afternoon, waiting a favorable "slant" to run down to Mt. Desert.

Fred P. Wilson, hardware dealer on Congress street, has sold his stock in trade to Rider & Cotton, who took possession on Friday.

The schooner Lucknow arrived at C. E. Walker & Co.'s coal wharf on Friday, from Thorn's Cove, Nova Scotia, with a cargo of fire-wood.

The picnic of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, of Portsmouth and Dover, comes off at Pinkham's grove to-day, if the weather is decent.

The little schooner Lone Star, after having laid up for many months, has been fitted out for sword fishing, it is said by parties in Kittery.

Wm. Lynch, twelve years old, had his hand badly jammed in the card-room machinery at the Kearsarge mill, Friday. He went to work in the mill for the first time on Friday morning.

Senator Rollins, accompanied by a large party of friends and prominent men of Dover and vicinity, made a trip from Dover to Boar's Head in the tug Ann on Friday, returning in the evening.

On Sundays hereafter persons desiring to procure copies of the Boston Sunday Globe or Herald, or other Boston papers, can get them at the Gibson house on Vaughan street, where Mr. M. J. Leary has established a branch agency to be in operation on that day.

The steamer Stamford, on her excursion to Boston from this port on Thursday last, took a party of about two hundred from this city, and two hundred and thirty from Rockport, Mass. She arrived back at about eleven o'clock at night, no unpleasant incidents having occurred.

The yacht Snarke, from Yarmouth, arrived at this port on Friday afternoon. The yacht Prospero, of New York, arrived at steamboat wharf on Friday, and sailed again about six o'clock in the afternoon; she is a large and very handsome vessel, and fitted up in the best manner, regardless of expense.

The Journal has more than once referred to Conductor H. E. Smart of the Eastern railroad. Mr. Smart is known by travellers as a former conductor on the Boston & Maine railroad, but was never employed on the Eastern railroad. The Eastern has no "Great Falls branch." The Boston & Maine road reaches Great Falls by a branch from Rollinsford.

The yacht Dauntless took a party from the hotel Wentworth on a trip outside, Friday morning, returning in the afternoon. It is announced that she will not go to Portland, as was intended, but will return to New York as soon as the weather is satisfactory. The yacht Nettie, from Boston, has finished her cruise to the eastward, and will proceed home.

Gov. Head and council will visit this city on Thursday, the 29th inst., to inspect the arsenal on South street, preparatory to its being put in a good state of repair. They will be tendered a complimentary dinner, to which about twenty-five guests will be invited, the dinner to come off either in the arsenal or at some point down the harbor.

Green street is being macadamized—about the first job of any importance done on that street within our recollection.

Edgar O. Haddock and Willie Mason, two young men of this city, have left for Nevada to go into the cattle-raising business. They have taken a cattle ranch to run on shares.

A Hancock and English flag, thirty-eight feet long, was raised at the junction of Elm and Short streets, on Friday. It belongs to Messrs. George Lane and Benjamin Canney, and was put up by Charles A. Canney and Samuel P. Abbott.

The American Union Telegraph company, whose office is conveniently located in the city building on Market square, has a rapidly increasing business in this city. Miss Torrey, in charge of the office, is a lady-like and obliging operator, and as the lines as yet are not crowded with business, prompt transmission of despatches is always assured.

The schooner John B. Adams, which brought to this port the largest cargo of coal arriving by a sailing vessel this season, which was discharged at the Eastern railroad wharf, goes to Boothbay, Me., to load ice for Philadelphia. It would seem that the ponds at Raymond and Milton, under proper management, should be able to supply ice which could be put on board of outward bound colliers at this port at a rate which, taken in connection with the saving in distance and the time lost to vessels in proceeding to the eastward, would enable local operators to compete successfully with the Kennebec ice-shippers.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

FRIDAY, July 23d; Clark, J.

Benjamin F. Sturtevant vs. the Humphrey Machine Co. and als. In equity. This is a patent case. The complainant seeks to have the defendant company and its officers enjoined from making machines for preparing pegwood and cutting veneers. It is claimed that the defendants have been engaged in making these machines in violation of the complainant's patent, to be sold in Nova Scotia. The bill in this case was filed on the 15th inst., and an interlocutory order was made returnable on the 23d. Injunction issued, according to the prayer of the complainant. Hyde, Dickinson and Howe for complainant.

THE MAYORALTY.

We understand that Dr. J. F. Hall declines to put forth any personal efforts to receive the republican nomination for mayor. The doctor on a former occasion received a unanimous nomination, and if he is nominated again the office must "seek the man"—he declines to enter any "scrub race" for the office. We have good authority for saying he prefers his name should not go into the caucus. The office is one which should be bestowed on the man whom the people desire, and not on any man simply because he wants it; and we trust that in the coming caucus wise counsels will prevail in regard to this important municipal question.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, July 23; Batchelder, J.

George Laskey, Charles Gilbert and another, were all sent to the county farm for not having money enough to pay the $9.90 claim brought against each of them for drunkenness.

Thomas Hoyt, for malicious mischief, (breaking glass,) was fined $5, costs $8.04. Jail in default of payment.

A GENUINE "BOHEMIAN."

Benjamin R. Knapp, a native of Newburyport, died in the Bellevue hospital in New York on the 29th inst., of sunstroke. He was a veteran of the late war, having served creditably on the Union side; later he was a correspondent of the New York Mercury and of other papers, and was well known in this city, where he at one time resided long enough to gain a residence, or at least to secure the privilege of voting, which he did in the Grant and Greeley campaign. In that campaign he was quite active for Grant, and was hit in the head with a dead cat while marching in a procession at Manchester one night, and later was knocked down in front of the City hotel in this city just after a procession broke up and before he had taken off his uniform. Shortly after that election he disappeared, and the next we heard of him was in connection with a railroad accident in Connecticut, where a train ran into a wash-out, killing several persons and maiming others, the cars which remained on the track taking fire, by which the lives of several persons who were jammed in the wreck were lost.

Knapp was in one of the cars which were burned, and as one of his feet was firmly held in the debris while the fire was rapidly approaching him, he begged the unhurt passengers to get an axe and cut off his leg, that he might at least be spared such an agonizing death. Fortunately they succeeded in releasing him without resorting to such a rough measure. He afterward sued the Shore Line for a good round sum, on account of the injuries he received at the time of this accident, and did receive a considerable sum from the road, though he was travelling on a free pass at the time of the disaster.

When in this city his pocket-book was always full of railroad passes, on dozens of different roads all over the Union; and that was generally all there was in the said pocket-book. At the time of the great fire in Boston, when the "burnt district" was surrounded by a cordon of sentinels, and wealthy merchants and prominent business men of Boston were often bothered to gain admittance through the lines, Mr. Knapp went up from this city to inspect the ruins; and though his entire wardrobe, all of which he wore on the trip, would not have brought twenty-five cents in a pawnshop, he not only procured from the military authorities in Boston a general pass, admitting him to all parts of the burnt district at any hour of the day or night, but actually got another one for a friend in this city, of whom the Boston men had never heard in their lives.

He was an excellent reporter, when he he would let his worst enemy alone, and if he did not do any great good, at least did not seek to harm anybody.

CITY AFFAIRS.

Mr. Editor: I have noticed several communications in your paper in relation to the city election, which have no doubt been of interest to tax payers. I have seen nothing, however, relative to the outlay of three to four thousand dollars expended, I think unwisely, at south mill-bridge. I would not wish to say anything against any project for the interest, of our city in any way, but I know that it was not necessary to demolish the old south mill to effect the result of keeping the mill pond full of water. The mill and gates were all ready to keep the water in the pond and the mill could have been rented for $400 per year, which would have paid the interest on the purchase money for the pond.

Two years ago the fire department was reported in excellent condition, large expenditures having recently been made on the engines; soon after the incoming of the present administration we learned that steamer Dearborn was unfit for duty. She had to be sold, of course, and the new steamer Col. Sise purchased. It was reported that steamer Dearborn was resold after leaving here, for a much larger sum* than the city received; an attempt was made at the time to whitewash the transaction, but a great many citizens failed to see the advantage of the operation. PUBLICUS.

*This report was positively contradicted by the concern which purchased the Dearborn.—Ed.

THE SHOW TO-NIGHT.

This evening, at Music hall, the New Orleans minstrels will give an entertainment, and as they give a first-class show of the kind, and there has been nothing to take people to Music hall for some months, they will probably be greeted with a full house. The Nashua Gazette of June 11th speaks of the performance of this troupe in that city on the previous evening, as follows:

From the opening until the close, the show was a good one. We cannot extol the artistic presentations of either particular star without a special mention of all. This much however we can say, that the male quartette was the best which we have listened to during the season, and that the cornet solo of Mr. Benjamin was exceedingly well done, and that the band was superb in every part. Another excellent feature of the entertainment was that the fun was of a higher tone than is generally given in the minstrel business. The jokes were in the main new, and nothing was said or done which would offend the most fastidious listener. Altogether, it was the best minstrel show that has visited this city.

The Nashua Telegraph says the favor with which the performance was received "illustrates what we have often remarked, that local thrusts at citizens, and vulgarity, are wholly unnecessary and out of place in a minstrel entertainment. The New Orleans company deserve success."

The Brunswick, Me., Telegraph says: "The negro fun was of the broadest cast—not low—some of it of course sheer nonsense; but it struck the fancies of the audience. The dancing in fancy costume was admirable. We have so much poor trash in the companies which visit us, that it is refreshing to get something worth listening to."

A young fellow living in Kittery, who is very anxious to raise a moustache, was in a barber's shop recently, getting shaved, and incidentally asked the barber what he could put on his upper lip to cause the coveted hirsute adornment to appear. A Saco man who was "waiting his turn" generously volunteered the information that the juice of onions, applied in an unadulterated condition, would cause a moustache to blossom as the rose—never failed—would make a sixteen-years-old girl's lip resemble a French grenadier's in two weeks after the first application—and now the Kittery people assert they can smell their young townsman two miles, and that passengers on the trains through the town imagine from the odor that they are in Weathersfield, Conn.

ISLES OF SHOALS.

Laighton Brothers & Co.

The staunch and reliable steamer APPLEDORE, Capt. Rand, makes two trips each way daily (Sundays excepted) between Portsmouth and the Shoals. Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8.20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3.20 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why all nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and

JAMES PYLE'S

PEARLINE

FOR WASHING AND CLEANSING

Is hard or soft water, WITHOUT SOAP, and without danger to the finest fabric. SAVES TIME and LABOR AMAZINGLY, and is rapidly coming into general use. Sold by all Grocers; but beware of vile counterfeits. Its great success brings out dangerous imitations, but PEARLINE is the only safe article. Always bears the name of James Pyle, New York.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

—A woman gave birth to triplets the other day in New Orleans, and her husband rushed at once to the river and jumped in to drown himself, but was rescued. It was not, however, anxiety for the support of the new comers, only his fear for his own living, as his wife had hitherto provided for his wants by taking in washing. Such men don't deserve to have twins born to them, much less triplets.

Pure Port Wine.

We take pleasure in directing the attention of the public to Speer's celebrated Port Grape Wine, a pure and unadulterated article, upon which every one may most implicitly rely. This wine is made at Speer's Vineyards, Passaic, New Jersey. It has a rich flavor, mellow juiciness, and brilliant color; and is highly beneficial in all its properties for invalids, especially females and aged persons and consumptives.

—For many years Moses, a negro, was a servant at the university of Alabama, and waited on the students very faithfully; but he was a most notorious hypocrit. He was on that account commonly called "Preach" among the boys. One day he was passing a cowd of students, when one of them out of mischief, called to him and said, "I say, Preach, what are you going to do when Satan gets you?" "Wait on students," was the ready reply.

In the Police Court.

Attorney for the defense of a man charged with having brutally beaten a woman, cross-examining the woman:

"Now, then, state to the court what your relations with this defendant have been."

"Well, I have supported him for two years."

"You have supported him for two years, eh? You positively swear that you have supported him for two years?"

"Well, not exactly for two years; but——"

"Oh, ho, not exactly two years, eh? Your honor will observe that the witness contradicts herself. Very well, miss, what did you mean by falsely asserting that you have supported this innocent gentleman two years? Answer that if you can!"

"Well, I meant——"

"Never mind what you meant; don't you dare to tell me what you meant. Tell the court, now, if you please, what portion of the two years you did not support this honest fellow, my client?"

"The only portion of the time I haven't supported him during the past two years was the various times he was in jail."

Attorney subsides.

—Politeness may prevent the want of wit and talent from being discovered; but wit and talent cannot prevent the discovery of the want of politeness.

—An ordinary woman's waist is thirty inches around. An ordinary man's arm is about thirty inches long. How admirable are thy works, Oh, nature!

A fool once more.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

—A Colorado man can take his rifle and put a bullet into an old straw hat 1,000 yards away every time; but he doesn't get down on the ground and tangle himself all up to do it, so he isn't considered a good rifleman by the average amateur.

Letter from Rev. S. Morgan.

Rev. Stilman Morgan, long time known as a missionary among the mountains of Vermont, by reason of exposure at his age, (73,) contracted catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaints, and intermittent pulse. In a letter dated Bristol, Aug. 25, 1873, expressing his gratitude for the relief experienced he says:—"These diseases became chronic. My right wrist was growing out of shape and was weak and painful. I have taken one package of Kidney-Wort, and now I feel well all over me." Mr. Morgan further states that his wife had been a great sufferer from similar complaints, and that the medicine was doing more for her than any other ever tried.

Chambers's Encyclopædia.

15 Vols. Over 13,000 Pages. Price during July, $6.25.

Among the wonderful things which have been accomplished for lovers of good books by the "Literary Revolution," perhaps the most wonderful is the reproduction of this great Encyclopædia at a merely nominal cost.

It is a verbatim reprint of the last English edition, in 15 beautiful volumes, clear nonpareil type, handsomely bound in cloth, for $7.50; the same printed on finer, heavier paper, wide margins, and bound in half Russia, gilt top, price $15.00. The first ten volumes are ready for delivery. Vol. 11 will be ready July 10. The remaining volumes will be completed by October next.

$6.25. AN AMAZING OFFER. $6.25.

The more widely and rapidly these volumes are scattered, the greater is their influence in inducing other purchasers of this and our many standard publications. Accordingly we give special terms to early subscribers.

To all, whose orders and money are received during the month of July, we will supply the 15 volumes, in cloth, for $6.25 and in half Russia, gilt top, for $12.50. To any one sending from any place, where we have no special agent (usually the leading bookseller of the town), a club of five orders, we will allow a commission of 10 per cent. The volumes issued will be sent at once by express, and the remaining volumes when completed.

A specimen volume in cloth will be sent, post-paid, for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top, for $1.00, and may be returned at once if not satisfactory.

The "Chambers's Encyclopædia" comprises the first 15 volumes of our "Library of Universal Knowledge," and the remaining volumes, complete in themselves, will be sold separately when published.

The New York & New England Railroad extends from Boston through Willimantic and Hartford to Waterbury, Conn. It also runs from Providence to Willimantic, and has several small branches.

The main line is being extended—now in process of construction—from Waterbury, Conn., west to Brewsters, New York, a distance of forty miles, making in all over 300 miles of railroad.

An extension of the road from Brewsters, New York, to the Hudson river at Fishkill-on-Hudson has been decided upon, and will, it is expected, be completed before the close of the present year, thereby giving Boston, Providence and Hartford and central New England, another through line to the West—in connection with the Erie railway at Fishkill.

First mortgage bonds of prominent New England railroads are very scarce, and as this loan will net the investor nearly six per cent, it is certain to maintain its price and be readily taken for investment.

We can recommend these bonds as being among the safest offered in the market.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 autical and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which are due to pernicious habits or indiscretion. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th &6inov80

GOOD WATCH WORK

HUTCHINSON'S.

Daily Chronicle.

A CATASTROPHE.

No human being who saw the sight
But felt a shudder of pale affright.
He sat in a window three stories high,
A little baby with no one nigh;
A stranger saw him, and stopped to stare;
A crowd soon gathered to watch him there.

A gleam, a flutter! in airy flight
Came past the window a butterfly bright.
From fields of clover and perfumed air?
Wayfaring insect, what brought you there?
The baby saw it, and eagerly
Reached out to catch it, crowing with glee—

With fat, pink fingers reached out—and fell!
The awful horror no tongue can tell.
Poor little baby, so sweet and bright!
Pale faces quivered and lips grew white;
Weak women fainted, strong men grew weak,
Up rose one woman's heart-piercing shriek.

Hurrah for the awning! Upon the fly
It caught the youngster and tossed him high.
The bounce ludicrous made baby scowl;
He caught his breath, and then set up his howl;
All his s d the awning that had no flaw,
But a madder baby you never saw.

He Found the River.

During the pursuit of Lee's army from Petersburg to Appomattox, Gen. Phil. Sheridan commanded the advance of Grant's army. At dawn, April 7th, all the rebels were on the north side of the Appomattox, with the Union troops close on their heels. "Little Phil," over at the front, stopped at a farmhouse near Prospect station, dismounted, tied his horse and started up the walk.

Upon the piazza sat a middle-aged typical Southron,—with long, straight hair combed behind his ears and covering his neck, a swallow-tailed coat, buff waistcoat, nankeen pantaloons, and morocco slippers. A gorgeous shirt frill adorned his bosom, and from the embrasure of his wall-like collar his defiant glances. He bowed stiffly to the General, who, nodding carelessly, sat down on a step and pored over his maps. Soon he looked up and said:—

"Have you seen any of Lee's troops about here to-day?"

Planter—"Sir, as I can truly say I did none have been seen by me, I will say so, but, if I had seen any, I should feel it my duty to refuse to reply to your question. I cannot give you any information that might work to the disadvantage of General Lee."

The general, with a little whistle of surprise, puffed away at his cigar, and continued to study his map. In a few minutes he looked up again and asked:

"How far is it to Buffalo river?"

Planter—"Sir, I don't know."

Sheridan—"The devil you don't! How long have you lived here?"

Planter—"All my life."

Sheridan—"Very well, sir it's time you did know! Captain, put this gentleman in charge of a guard, and walk him down to Buffalo river and show it to him."

The Virginian of the old school enjoyed the pleasure of tramping through five miles of mud, to look at the river with which he was perfectly familiar.

—The Haverhill Breeze says that an eccentric individual occupying an ancient home in that city was asked the meaning of a few notches cut in the old fashioned beam that runs through the mansion. "O! they mark the days when I have not found any of my wife's relations at my dinner table," said he.

It's "No Use," He Said.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain; he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office and tell him of this."—Exchange.

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Merely a Democratic Campaign Slander.

Some time ago the New York World published, with pungent editorial comments, and many democratic papers copied, with impressive headlines of the blackest type to attract attention, what purported to be an extract from an opinion delivered by Justice Swayne of the United States supreme court, "in the De Golyer pavement case," severely condemning Gen. Garfield, and reflecting savagely upon his personal integrity.

It now appears that not only did Justice Swayne never deliver a decision involving the De Golyer case or Gen. Garfield's connection with it, but no such case was ever before the supreme court. Justice Swayne himself has given the following explicit and absolute denial to the campaign lie. He says:

So far as I am concerned, there is an entire mis-statement. I never wrote a word of what is attributed to me with quotation marks. I never knew anything of the facts of the matter charged against Gen. Garfield, and it was certainly never in any shape before the supreme court. I had, therefore, neither occasion nor opportunity to express any judicial opinion upon the subject. It is not stated where any case in which Gen. Garfield was concerned is reported. My confident impression is that I never heard of such a case before. Gen. Garfield is a personal friend of mine, and I have the highest confidence in his integrity. The statements in the World are an entire fabrication, and without a particle of truth to sustain them.

Even Senator Doolittle, democrat as he is, is outraged by this malignant attempt of his own party press to coin lies against Gen. Garfield, and in a card over his own signature he says:

A serious error has been made by some newspapers in supposing that the De Golyer case ever went to the supreme court, or that Justice Swayne used the language attributed to him in commenting upon it. In the brief submitted to Judge Farwell, in the circuit court, another case—Burke against Child—decided in the supreme court was cited, and Justice Swayne's opinion stated. But the mistake has been this—that a part of the language of the brief, which follows the citation of the case of Burke vs. Child is attributed to Justice Swayne, language which he never used, for the case was never before him, and as I was the counsel who submitted the brief, it is just to Gen. Garfield, to Justice Swayne and to myself that I should at once correct this mistake.

Some of the democratic papers which made much of the lie when it first appeared, have published the contradiction—in small type and in an obscure column, without staring head-lines or editorial comment; but by far the largest number have simply given up repeating the slander, leaving their readers to suppose it uncontroverted. It matters little, however, which course they take, as this favorite democratic method of conducting a political campaign is well understood, and the positive assertions of the democratic press generally taken at their true value.

The "Spanish Outrages."

Late Friday afternoon despatches were received at the navy department in Washington from Admiral Wyman, at Port Royal, S. C., giving the result of his investigation of the alleged indignities offered the American flag in Cuban waters by the Spanish corvette Canto. The despatches were referred to the state department, and the orders previously telegraphed Admiral Wyman, to proceed from Port Royal at once with the Tennessee to Havana, were countermanded that evening by telegraph. Admiral Wyman states that at Santiago de Cuba he was assured by the Spanish governor that his government unequivocally disavowed any intentional insult or indignity, or the commission of any act at variance with the recognized usages of all civilized powers. The Spanish authorities claimed that the vessels fired upon were not only within six miles of the shore, but actually within three miles—the limit of jurisdiction claimed by the governments of all maritime nations. Admiral Wyman further stated that the Spanish authorities offered abundant evidence in support of this assertion, and in his opinion there was nothing in the case to warrant any further inquiry on the part of our government. The despatches were not received until after the adjournment of the cabinet meeting, so no action was taken. The whole matter will probably be disposed of at the next cabinet meeting, and if the same opinion is held by the other officials as that entertained by those of the navy department, no formal explanation or apology from the Spanish government will be demanded.

Happy Mexico.

The insurgent Mexican general, Romerez, attacked the barracks at Mazatlan on the 27th of June, with about forty men; the fight lasted several hours, and thirty men were killed and as many wounded, on both sides. Most of the remaining federal troops joined Romerez, who collected a forced loan of about $50,000 from the merchants. The gunboat Democrata arrived July 1st, and shelled the barracks. Romerez left July 3d. Col. Reyes overtook him the next day and a battle ensued, Romerez leaving the field to the federals. More troops have been landed at Mazatlan to pursue Romerez.

News and Notes.

George Bennett, alias Dickson, was hanged at Toronto on Friday, for the murder of Hon. George Brown.

Ship Matilda, from Esquimault for Callao with lumber, was abandoned June 24th, the captain, his wife and half of the crew taking one boat, and the mate and the rest of the crew another. The mate's boat arrived at Mazatlan, Mexico, over 700 miles from where the ship was abandoned, on the 16th of June, after terrible sufferings; the other boat is supposed to have gone down in a storm.

By the premature discharge of a cannon, at a republican ratification meeting in Montpelier, Vt., Friday, Henry Willey had his right arm blown off, and Clark Roberts his left arm. A man named La Rock was killed several years ago by a premature discharge of the same gun.

An odd incident of the Tanner fast is the eagerness with which the sporting fraternity have taken up the notion that "starving" matches may be the next sensation. The gentry who used to confine their attention chiefly to gambling on cock fights, the prize ring, and sports of that character, long ago invaded more reputable athletic contests, and now regard any current popular excitement as legitimate capital. They will soon be willing to give or take two to one on Tanner against the field, or to produce an "Unknown" to out-starve him for $1000 a side, or in fact, to accommodate the public on any terms.

Jose Maria Salazar saw a young girl in an Arizona mining camp, fell madly in love with her, and within three hours asked her to marry him. She declined, and he killed her on the spot. Retribution was as speedy as his courtship had been, for he was at once hanged by the miners.

The North Adams, Mass., census enumerator found a seventy-years-old colored man who has a seventeen-years-old white girl for a wife, and a healthy boy baby.

The residences of John Hume, J. W. Briggs, R. M. Huntington, Dr. Douglass and W. E. Biddle, at Amesbury, Mass., were entered on Thursday night of last week by burglars. Mr. Biddle lost a watch, a small amount of money and a suit of clothes. At Mr. Hume's they took $15. At the other places they did not succeed in getting anything.

Caleb Carr, who was shot by his uncle, Isaiah Carr, in Coventry, R. I., on Wednesday night of last week, died Friday morning of internal hemorrhage. Isaiah has been arrested.

Two four-story brown stone houses, on Gates avenue, Brooklyn, just finished, were undermined by recent rains, and fell on Thursday night and Friday. No person was hurt.

An election riot occurred at Guatemala, recently, in which thirty persons were killed.

A brakeman on an Indiana freight train, who permitted a man to ride with him on top of a car, undertook to collect fare, and shot the passenger for refusing to pay.

"You couldn't hit the side of a barn with that pistol," said Warren, tauntingly, to Jones, at Hillsboro, N. C. "But I can hit the side of you," retorted Jones, and he fired at Warren, inflicting a mortal wound.

A glib tongued young fellow has been driving through western villages with a splendid pair of horses, putting up at the best hotels, inquiring for the invalid ladies, and selling them "patent electric corsets" at from $75 to $300 each, warranted to cure all diseases. He is now under arrest at Newark, Ohio.

Rhode Island is the first state to send to the census bureau a complete statement of its population. The whole number is 276,710, a gain of 59,307, or 27.28 per cent in ten years. There is a gain in every town but five.

Green Smith, only son of the late Gerritt Smith, died Friday morning at Peterboro', N. Y., of consumption.

A swindler has been selling to residents of the lower Pennsylvania counties boxes of what he called electric light. They contained simply colored borax, which he declared was "extract of electricity," and would last 100 years. The secret of how to use it was to be imparted when ten purchasers, at $10 each, had been obtained in the town.

An explosion of powder in the artillery works at Kooisk, in the south of Russia, July 17th, killed eighteen and wounded twelve persons.

An attache of a North Adams, Mass., hotel relates that not long ago a young man came to town on the ten o'clock morning train, bought seventy-five cents worth of something in a drug store, mixed it up in the sample room of the hotel, bottled the stuff, went out upon the street and described the wonderful properties of his panacea, and before one o'clock he had sold $66 worth of it at $3 a bottle. He left town on the one o'clock train in the afternoon.

—The mother of two sons, twins, met one of the brothers in a field one morning. "Which of you two boys am I speaking to?" asked the mother. "Why do you ask?" inquired the lad, prudently. "Because if it is your brother, I will box his ears." "It is not my brother, it is I." "Then your brother is wearing your coat, for yours had a hole in it." "No, mother, I am wearing my own coat." "Good heavens," cried the mother, looking at him intently, "you are your brother after all!"

Every smoker knows the difficulty he experiences in finding for a reasonable price a cigar which will thoroughly satisfy his requirements. The old fashioned "Noriega" is one of the best cigars ever offered to the public. Its popularity is constantly increasing wherever it has been introduced.

Sold by J. H. Thacher, Henry F. Gerrish C. E. Laighton & Son, at the Rockingham house, and by Laighton Bros. & Co. at the Shoals.

GEO. WM. BALLOU & CO., bankers, Boston and New York, invite attention to their new loan—the first mortgage bonds of the Toledo, Delphos & Burlington R. R. Co. It is a small issue upon a valuable property, and is worthy the confidence of the most conservative capitalists. Orders or inquiries may be addressed to either office.

A woman's beauty is never lost

So long as gleam her teeth like frost,
And her soft lip the ruby stains;
And SOZODONT, with magic power,
Bestows on her this priceless dower.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inherent to the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N.Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod&eolm

Wm. Patrick Stover, while assisting in discharging the steam collier Reading at the Concord railroad wharf on Saturday forenoon, had his right hand badly jammed between two coal tubs, one of which he had hold of, the other being descending. Mr. Stover is a hard-working young man, but has been very unfortunate lately, having received a severe blow on the shoulder a few days ago from a tub.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury, in his speech at the Wentworth banquet said that "with the possible exception of Newport, more fine turn-outs are to be seen this season in Portsmouth than anywhere in New England." The eloquent "Son of Portsmouth" said he hoped to see more of this hereafter, and an irrepressible democrat who sat a few removes down the table insisted that the Cincinnati delegate must have in mind one of the natural consequences of the election of Hancock!

The steamer Stamford, in entering Newburyport harbor Friday morning, after leaving this port, took ground on the bar, and stuck there for half an hour or more, but floated off without injury. She made an excursion to the Shoals, Saturday afternoon, from Newburyport, and went on a moonlight excursion Saturday evening. On Sunday she made a trip to this city and the Shoals. The steamer Empire State made an excursion trip from Boston to the Shoals on Sunday.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Cheney indulge in horse-back exercise at Rye beach.

The schooner Velocipede arrived at Doane's wharf on Saturday, with one hundred barrels of mackerel.

Preparations are being made to carry water from the aqueduct mains in this city to the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle. A surface pipe of two inches diameter will be laid for temporary use; it will connect with the aqueduct in front of Mr. James R. Yeaton's new house on Richards avenue, and will cross the river in the vicinity of the Cushing place at little harbor. The water, which is intended for drinking purposes, will be forced by pumps to tanks at the top of the house.

The big water tank at the Eastern railroad station will be filled with water this week, the water being forced in by a donkey pump and boiler, which it is said will be put in charge of the flagman. The tank is quite an ornamental affair, now that it is finished, having a conical roof, painted a dark red and ornamented with a little wedding-cake-looking spire; the supporting framework of timber is painted a reddish brown, and the staves of the tank are a light drab, the thirteen iron hoops (each five inches wide and three-sixteenths of an inch thick) being painted black.

Mr. Editor: It is useless for violators of the game law to think that it is possible to escape detection. This only can be done when a powder is manufactured that will make no noise when exploding. The crack of the shot-gun in the alder swamp is a sure sign that a pot-hunter is to be found there. Nor will it avail them to put a few glass balls in their wagon and start out under the pretence of glass-ball shooting, for in glass-ball shooting a dog is not necessary. That the woodcock law does not expire until Aug. 1st is well known to all, and there is no excuse for its violation. It not only shows a reckless disregard for the law, but also a mean, contemptible desire to get ahead of the true sportsman, who always observes the law. To the party that was shooting in Greenland the other day the writer will say that they are well known, and that a repetition of their offense will bring them at once to the notice of a police justice. They were seen by three different individuals, at different times, and the proof is conclusive against them. One clause of the game law, if it were generally known, would make it very dangerous—or expensive, rather—for these pot-hunters, and that is the clause giving half of the fine to the person detecting and bringing to justice offenders against the game law. For instance, the fine for killing six woodcock would be $30; and the man or boy through whose agency an offender that killed six woodcock was brought to justice would (aside from doing a favor to all true sportsmen and law-abiding citizens) receive the snug little sum of $15.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: The names of several gentlemen have been proposed, either of whom would do credit to the position, and honor the city. In addition to all these, I am informed that a strong effort is being made to induce Ex-Mayor Broughton to accept a re-nomination. He retired from a very successful and popular administration of the office two years ago, on account of his opposition to a third term,—a view which he still holds; but if the popular will in that respect is to be disregarded, he may consent to have his name used in the caucus. Mr. Broughton would be a very strong candidate, as any can see by his previous elections that he is popular with the masses. He would draw votes from all classes, the most humble citizen feeling sure of his earnest sympathy and efforts in any emergency. Mr. Broughton has never thrust himself upon the party or the people, but rather has been sought by them. He is a plain and unpretending man, who honors do not elevate, and who is not swelled to great proportions by the approbation of his fellow citizens.

REPUBLICAN.

Editor Chronicle: In your issue of the 24th inst. was a communication censuring the present city government, and especially Mayor Sise, for the demolition of the old south mill, and the reconstruction of the bridge and dam at the outlet of the south pond. I am not a supporter of Mayor Sise's alleged aspirations to a third term; I certainly shall not vote for him in the republican caucus, if his name is there presented, and I may not vote for him at the polls, should he receive the regular republican nomination; but I wish to say that I, in common with others who have in years past suffered from the mephitic exhalations of the south pond, but can now sleep with open windows on hot nights, think the city government's action in the matter was judicious and well considered,—and that if the north pond nuisance could be as effectually remedied at three times the expense to the city, it would be a grand speculation.

THE GERMAN.

The hop at the Wentworth on Saturday evening was the most successful affair of the kind seen in this neighborhood for many a day. Very many participated, and numerous spectators were present from Portsmouth. The exquisite music was enjoyed not only by the dancers but by a large assemblage in the music hall and upon the piazzas. The brilliant lights, the sound of the merry dance, and the gay gathering rendered the scene one of the most pleasing and enjoyable character. The house was literally crowded; indeed, after providing a "cot by the sea" for very many guests, the manager was compelled to send a large number of his visitors to the Rockingham house to pass the night. There has never been in the history of any enterprise of this character, such immediate and marked success as has been seen at the Wentworth since the commencement of the present season.

THE NEW ORLEANS MINSTRELS.

The attendance at Music hall on Saturday evening was very small, the weather being too hot for indoor amusements, but the New Orleans minstrels did not slight their audience because it was small, the entertainment afforded being one of the best of the kind we ever attended. Benjamin, the "wizard cornetist," gave some remarkable performances on the cornet; Mrs. Nellie Gorton played Levy's concert polka on a baritone horn, in a manner that brought down the house; the clipper quartette sang finely; the gold band was excellent; Goodyear was ridiculously amusing all through; Welby and Pearl, "acrobatic song and dance artists," were far the best we ever saw in their line; the "business" and jokes were nearly all new; in short, there was more fun and less to offend in this show than at any minstrel entertainment that has been here for a long time. In particular we were pleased at the total absence of local "gags," as we believe the profession call the reprehensible custom of introducing the names and ridiculing the peculiarities of citizens. The company merits success.

New Hampshire Items.

At Manchester a few days ago, Alice Sherman, an employe of the Amoskeag corporation, while crossing the yard at the mill, was accidentally knocked down by two Frenchmen, who were scuffling, and one of them tripping they both fell upon her. She was seriously injured internally and had to be carried home, where she now lies in a critical condition.

The governor and council have pardoned Thomas Wier, sentenced to the state prison in October, 1865, for thirty years, for the killing of Caleb Dyer at Enfield. Wier, previous to the war, was employed by the Shakers at Enfield, lived with them, and substantially agreed with them in their religious beliefs and doctrines, and was a hard working and faithful man. When the war broke out he enlisted, but before leaving Enfield he placed his two daughters, then young girls, in the Shaker family, and a contract was signed by one of the elders and by Wier as to the conditions governing the girls' stay at the Shakers. One of these conditions was that at any time the Wier girls desired to leave they were to be at perfect liberty to do so. In 1865 Wier returned from the war, and took up his residence at Enfield. He called twice upon his daughters, no opposition to his seeing them being raised, but the third time considerable objection was made, and he was finally refused the privilege. Wier, in a day or two afterward, called on the Shakers and demanded his daughters, and upon being refused them, shot Caleb Dyer, the head Shaker, dead.

Laighton Brothers & Co.

The staunch and reliable steamer APPLEDORE, Capt. Rand, makes two trips each way daily (Sundays excepted) between Portsmouth and the Shoals. Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8.20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3.30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases, caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficacious treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

Hard Times.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood, which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood; gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists. New Publications.

We have received from the publishers, Scribner & Co., "Spiritual Songs for the Sunday School," previously noticed as being in press. It is nicely bound, is of convenient size, and contains 273 hymns, with appropriate music. Price, fifty cents; to Sunday schools, in quantities, forty cents; specimen copy to any pastor, chorister or superintendent, twenty-five cents, mailed postpaid.

"A Treatise on the Law of Easements, by John L. Goddard, Esq., of the Middle Temple, London; enlarged from the second English edition of 1877, by Edmund H. Bennett, LL. D., Professor of Law in the Boston University." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

Mr. Goddard's treatise upon this important branch of the law first appeared in 1871, and a second edition was published in 1877. We have the highest judicial authority as to its value when Chief Justice Cockburn in one of his opinions speaks of it as "a learned and able treatise." The book treats of the nature of easements, the methods of acquiring them mode and extent of their enjoyment; their disturbance, and the remedy therefor; and how they may be lost or extinguished. In treating of these distinctive features of the law the subjects are classified under appropriate heads.

Mr. Bennett, who as a practitioner, as well as instructor in law, and as a writer, is abundantly capable of properly preparing the book for the use of American lawyers, follows in a general degree Mr. Goddard's plan, showing of course where the American law is found to differ from the English, for example, in the subject of prescription, while common law decisions are separated from those founded upon statute. The difference between the English and American law relative to the support of buildings is also pointed out. The work makes a book of five hundred pages, and has a copious index in addition to its table of contents, and the subject of which it treats is so generally discussed, and the authorities so fully presented that the book will prove of much service to the legal profession all over the United States, where a book of this kind, long needed, will be greatly appreciated.

Blackwood's Magazine for July has been lately reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., No. 41 Barclay street, New York. The following are the contents: Dr. Wortle's School, part III; Beattie; A lay confessional; Country life in Portugal; School and college; The Lascar crew; The Lews, its salmon and herring; Bush-Life in Queensland, part VIII; Wellington and reform; The financial situation in India. The serials do not abate in interest, and in the other papers we find much to interest the reader. The paper on Beattie dwells at much length on the critical side of that poet's literary life, and gives some account of his poetry; and in the course of the article occasion is taken to compare a literary career of the last century with the life of a writer in the present day. "Country life in Portugal" reviews Crawfurd's lately published volume "Portugal, old and new," and gives a pleasant account of Portuguese country life and scenery. Lovers of port wine will learn that the Portugese merchants doctor the article as innocently as possible; logwood was never used, because as a dye it would not answer the purpose; elderberries have gone out of fashion; and if a dark color is desired, they use the darker varieties of the port wine grape. If anything worse is put in, it is after the wines are shipped from Oporto. If there is needed confidence in anything it must be in taking this "rare old Port" so much recommended for invalids. The native wines are safer.

Major J. M. Bundy, editor of the New York Evening Mail, is writing the "Life of General Garfield" for A. S. Barnes & Co., of New York. The book will contain several illustrations, and possess many unique and special features. The narrative will present many of the qualities and attractions of a romance. Every young American will read with interest this account of a brilliant career, which is, in a measure, open to all for emulation.

—A design on wood—prowling around your neighbor's kindling pile after dark.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the frame and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach, it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes offering apparent cure of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its price in doctors bills, medicines and sickness, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our Book, "How to Live," mailed free, giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney or physical overexertion, there greatest relief is to be given to those afflicted, to warn them, ASK for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches! Why be tormented with Piles, Constipation! Why frightened over disordered Kidneys! Why endure nervous or sick headached! Why have sleepless nights!

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six qts of Medicine.

If of your Druggist, he will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt the assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 artistic and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which order too frequently follows habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address, Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. d&w1nov80

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

The Brinkerhoff Trap.

One of the more recent inventions is thus described:

Knowing that a bald head is the one temptation that no fly can resist, Mr. Brinkerhoff has contrived a trap based upon the knowledge of this fact. The "Brinkerhoff fly trap" consists of a life-size figure of a middle-aged man with a bald head. The figure is made of wax, colored so as to perfectly imitate the complexion of a middle-aged and healthy diner-out, and the head is so constructed that at fixed intervals of fifteen minutes concealed clock-work causes a roller to pass over the skull with the rapidity of lightning. The Brinkerhoff trap, when placed in any room, will instantly attract every fly present. It is, to all appearances, precisely the kind of man whom flies delight to annoy, and consequently, the moment a fly sees it, he will abandon a lump of sugar, a bowl of milk, or even a sleeping baby, and pounce on the bald head.

At the end of fifteen minutes the roller passes over the head, and crushes every fly in its path. The same process is repeated over and over again, until all the flies in the room are exterminated. The trap has been tried in several of the leading restaurants in Philadelphia with complete success, killing, on an average, thirty full quarts of flies per hour, and the inventor has received thousands of certificates from leading citizens expressing their obligations to him, and their determination never to be without a Brinkerhoff trap. This shows us what can be accomplished by an intelligent inventor who is a thorough master of his subject. Mr. Brinkerhoff owes his success to his thorough knowledge of the nature of flies, and his trap will undoubtedly render his name immortal.

—"You never saw my hands as dirty as that," said a petulant mother to her little girl. "No, but your ma did," was the reply.

—A married man committed suicide in his room at a popular resort a few days ago. The provocation is not known, but it is supposed that his wife was unexpectedly summoned home, and left her husband behind to pack her trunk. There are some things a man can do as well as a woman, but packing a woman's trunk is not one of them.

—Conversation between an inquiring stranger and a steamboat pilot: "That is the Black Mountain?" "Yes, sir; highest mountain about Lake George." "Any story or legend connected with that mountain?" "Lots of 'em. Two lovers went up that mountain once and never came back again." "Indeed! Why, what became of them?" "Went down on the other side."

A fool once more.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

—Snooks was a hard case, but he took a turn-about and joined the church, expecting great spiritual regeneration from the act. Next day he was perambulating his shop in a deep study and soliloquizing sotto voice, yet so loud as to be overheard by his workmen: "I havn't experienced any conversion. I don't see any difference. I don't feel any change; —— it, I don't believe there is any."

A profuse and many times excessively offensive discharge from the nose, with "stoping up" of the nose at times, impairment of the sense of smell and taste, watering or weak eyes, impaired hearing, irregular appetite, pressure and pain over the eyes, and at times in the back of the head, cold feet, and a feeling of lassitude and debility are symptoms which are common to catarrh, yet all of them are not present in every case. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures catarrh in its worst form and stages. It is pleasant to use, and contains no poisonous or caustic drugs. So sure a cure it is that its former proprietor offered for years in all the principal newspapers of the land a standing reward of $500 for a case it would not cure. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

—Lawyer Lockwood, of Washington, has been married, twice and says proudly that she "never asked either of her husbands for a dollar." Nobody doubts it. When a woman of genius marries she expects to support her husband, and her husband, with loving reciprocity, expects to be supported.

Letter from Rev. S. Morgan.

Rev. Stilman Morgan, long time known as a missionary among the mountains of Vermont, by reason of exposure at his age, (73,) contracted catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaints, and intermittent pulse. In a letter dated Bristol, Aug. 25, 1875, expressing his gratitude for the relief experienced he says:—"These diseases became chronic. My right wrist was growing out of shape and was weak and painful. I have taken one package of Kidney-Wort, and now I feel well all over me." Mr. Morgan further states that his wife had been a great sufferer from similar complaints, and that the medicine was doing more for her than any other ever tried.

News and Notes.

Secretary Thompson said in Utah last week that "in case of trouble with Spain, the navy would not be found to be such a baby as the press had represented it." The trouble is that between the parsimony of congress and the economy of the secretary, the baby has not been fed enough of late to be in good fighting trim.

The mills of the Miami powder company, six miles from Xenia, Ohio, blew up Friday. William Wallis was killed, and the machinery blown to atoms.

The prisoners in the Galena, Illinois, jail set fire to the building in the hope of escaping during the confusion, but the jailer had gone away with the keys, and the plotters were insensible when rescued.

A Philadelphia dispatch says that Thomas Barr, mate of the schooner E. A. Merritt, states that the schooner was less than a league from Cuba when hailed by the Spanish cruiser, and, instead of coming to, the schooner crowded all sail to escape the bother of being overhauled by the Spaniard, and then the latter fired.

Fred Welcome was arrested at Cheyenne, D. T., on Friday, for murdering John F. Turner, son of Sheriff Turner, of Utah county, in Echo canyon, Utah, July 7th. He confessed.

Charles Norton shot Policeman O'Neil at Kokomo, Col., on Friday afternoon. Norton was intoxicated and raising a disturbance in a saloon. The policeman attempted to arrest him, and was shot dead. Norton was taken to jail, and several deputy sheriffs placed on guard. A crowd soon gathered, overpowered the guard and lynched the prisoner. He confessed having committed other murders, and said he ought to have been hung long ago.

The English team won the international shooting match at Wimbledon, Eng., last week, the score being—English 1647, American 1568.

Henry H. Wright of Plympton, Mass., has been missing for some days. The last seen of him he announced his intention of going to Silver lake, fishing. His boat was found upset on the shore of the lake. The lake is being dragged to endeavor to find the body.

The body of an unknown man was found on Saturday in Fenner's woods, near Cranston, R. I. The man was apparently about fifty years old, and was attired in dark clothes and straw hat. There was nothing to identify him by. As he weighed but seventy pounds, although a man of large frame, it was the opinion of a physician that he had deliberately starved himself to death.

The Bennett family moved in the most fashionable society in Cincinnati, ten years ago. The father was the western manager for several life insurance companies, was worth about a million dollars, and had a princely residence at Clifton, a suburb of the city. His wife was a brilliant beauty, and the entertainments over which she presided were notably fine. His daughter, Blanche, carefully reared and educated, witty and pretty, was the light of the house. A son was the remaining member of the family. The first change in the household was the elopement of the wife. She went to Chicago, where she died in disgrace. The son fell among bad associates, and finally went to prison for stealing. In St. Louis, a few days ago, a ragged, rum-crazed woman was arrested. This was Blanche Bennett. The heartbroken father, having lost his fortune, is a clerk in a western insurance agency.

Sunday afternoon John North, coachman to Mr. F. H. Higginson, while bathing near Manchester was taken with the cramp, and drowned.

Rev. John N. Lowell of Milton has been invited by the Congregational society of West Haverhill, Mass., to become their pastor.

Political Matters.

Col. Forney, of Philadelphia, some years ago a republican, but in recent years the head of the Forney party, is now an ardent supporter of Gen. Hancock, and the democratic papers are fond of quoting his sayings as the words of a republican. In 1867, Forney being then in New Orleans, wrote to his paper as follows: "When General Hancock arrived and took command of the fifth military district, from every rebel throat went up songs and shouts of joy, as his plans were known to all of them. With sneer and jest they meet Union men and say, 'Now is come our day; Gen. Hancock has arrived, and will see us righted.' The whole policy of Gen. Hancock, so far foreshadowed, tends to prove him unmistakably opposed to the provisions of the military bill, and warrants the assertion of his entire sympathy with the old secession element of this state (Louisiana) and city (New Orleans,) who now find in him a true friend."

The New Albany Ledger-Standard, one of the most influential democratic papers in Indiana, is not especially enthusiastic in its support of Mr. Landers, the democratic candidate for governor. This is the way in which it gently chides him for his faults: "If the miserable, illiterate demagogue and professional office-hunter who disgraces the head of the democratic state ticket desires to make war on the Ledger-Standard and the thousands of true democrats of southern Indiana who despise him, he will more than likely receive satisfaction to his heart's content long before he occupies the gubernatorial chair."

Senator Hill writes to the Atlanta Constitution that the democratic situation in Georgia is bad and the tendency worse. Serious dissensions exist, are daily increasing, and if not arrested will inevitably disrupt the party. He believes it is all brought about by "personalism" in the party.

Loud Talk.

Two gentlemen in New York wish to bet on the speed of a steam yacht now in course of construction by John Roach, at Chester, Pa., for Mr. Belden. One of them will bet $5000 that the yacht will beat, under steam alone, any steam yacht in the world in an ocean race from New York to Queenstown, Ireland; the other is willing to bet $100,000 she will make the run from Sandy Hook to the Fastnet rock on the coast of Ireland, in less time than any steamer afloat, not even excepting the Arizona, of the Guion line, nor the steamers of any other transatlantic line.

Cream Tartar--Where and How Procured.

The pure cream of tartar of commerce exists naturally in the grape, and during fermentation of the tart wines in France, it is deposited on the sides and bottoms of the casks. In its unrefined state it is called crude tartar, or argols, and is taken from the cask after the wine has been drawn off. Each farmer has his crop of it according to the amount of wine he has produced. The manufacturers of the brand known as the Royal Baking Powder are perhaps the largest users of cream of tartar in the world, and who have agents in various parts of Europe collecting and forwarding the crude material.

It is imported into this country as argols, and does not appear upon the custom house entries except as argols—never as cream of tartar—for the reason that the facilities for refining in this country are superior to that of the old countries; hence, it is brought here in the crude form, and then subjected to the process of refining.

This dispels the impression many have that this article cannot be procured in its native purity. There is no doubt but what cream tartar is largely adulterated, and that, as ordinarily found in the shops, it is cheapened by either burnt bones, or the alum, or the hurtful alum, from ten to ninety per cent.

Dr. Chandler, President of the New York Board of Health, as well as Dr. Mott, the government chemist, Dr. Squibb, and other high authorities, have denounced the wholesale adulteration of this wholesome and useful article.

In view of the difficulties of getting pure cream of tartar, Dr. H. A. Mott, the Government Chemist, advises the selection of some standard Baking Powder, which has stood the test of chemical examination, like the Royal Baking Powder, rather than run the risk of the many adventurous compounds put upon the market by ignorant or irresponsible parties, as a baking powder properly prepared is not only wholesome, but more economical and convenient than yeast, or the cream of tartar and soda found in the market.

—The Buffalo Courier has this heading over an article: "From Buffalo to Heaven; sufferings and death of Jacob Terwilliger; the kick of a mule and its final results." That settles it. The mule that can kick a man from Buffalo to Heaven, is the champion long distance kicker.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in sale, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few simple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Th.lb.&f.&G

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

Proposals for River and Harbor Improvements in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

PROPOSALS in duplicate, addressed to the undersigned, will be received at this office in Portland, Maine, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Tuesday the 17th day of August 1880, at which place and time they will be opened in the presence of the bidders, for work for improving the following named rivers and harbors to wit:

1. Lubec Channel, Maine, about 125,000 cubic yards of dredging.
2. Cathance River, Maine, about 30,000 cubic yards of dredging.
3. Quinnipeake Bath, Maine, about 200 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
4. Richmond's Island Harbor, Maine, about 2,500 tons of granite grout.
5. Lake Winnipiseogee, N. H., about 7,000 cubic yards of dredging.
6. Portsmouth Harbor, N. H., breaking up and removing about 700 cubic yards of sunken ledge, and about 2,000 tons of Rubble stones.
7. Merrimac River, Mass., about 25 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
8. Boston Harbor, Mass., about 200,000 cubic yards of dredging.
9. Plymouth Harbor, Mass., about 40,000 cubic yards of dredging.
10. Provincetown Harbor, Mass., about 730 tons of Rubble stones.

Persons desiring to make proposals for any of the above works are requested to apply to the undersigned, at his office, No. 11 Clapp's Block, Congress Street, Portland, Me., or at No. 32 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass., for specifications and for further information concerning the same.

Proposals must be made separately for each work, as required by the specifications, and be accompanied by the requisite guaranti—each proposal and guaranty to be in duplicate, on printed forms, which will be furnished on application at this office—and when transmitted, must be so indorsed on the sealed envelope as to indicate, before being opened, the particular work bid for.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject all bids which in his opinion are not reasonable; also the bid of any failing bidders or contractors or of any other person who, his belief, will not faithfully, satisfactory and promptly perform the contract.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deodaclm

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day,

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.

Partly cloudy weather, occasional rain; winds mostly south, westerly stationary or lower temperature, generally higher barometer.

The DAILY CHRONICLE can be found at the news stand of Mr. M. J. Leary in the refreshment room at the Eastern railroad station.

AROUND HOME.

The whale's skeleton, nicely put together and housed in at Appledore, is an object of much interest to the guests at the Shoals.

Five hundred and ten dinners were served at the Wentworth on Sunday. The day previous, thirty-five telegrams for rooms had to be answered in the negative.

D. F. Borthwick will open to-day one case remnants of Cocheco cambric at 8 1-2 cents per yard. As these are the last there will be this season, customers should call at once.

On Monday a mammoth sturgeon was caught in the weir owned Mr. Mitchell and others of Kittery Point; it weighed nearly four hundred pounds, and was sent to Boston.

The steamer Gen. Bartlett, of Haverhill, Mass., arrived here at noon on Monday with a party of about two hundred persons from Haverhill, and left at half-past three o'clock on her return.

Major Evarts W. Farr of Littleton, member of congress from the third district of New Hampshire, was at the Rockingham house, Wednesday night. He goes to the Shoals to-day, and will stop at the Oceanic.

A valuable horse belonging to John W. Wiggin of Newmarket was found dead beside the Boston & Maine track in that town on Thursday morning last, and is supposed to have been killed by a freight train during the night.

Gov. Head and council, and the secretary of state, will arrive in this city to-day. They will stop at the Wentworth until to morrow, when they will inspect the state arsenal on South street, to decide as to the advisability of repairing the same.

On Friday afternoon last the shores of Pest island were lined with boats from this city, Kittery and Eliot, to the number of nearly fifty; and the island itself was nearly covered with huckleberry gatherers, whose numbers reached away up in the hundreds.

The case of Patrick Quill against the city of Portsmouth, to recover for damages to team, etc., alleged to have resulted from a defective street, was heard by Judge Wiggin of Exeter as referee on Monday, at the court house in this city. The accident happened in May of last year.

The weir at Gerrish's island made an immense take of mackerel on Sunday, the amount in the pocket being estimated at from 350 to 400 barrels. The weir boats were loaded to their utmost capacity, without any sensible diminution being made in the struggling mass. The mackerel were nearly all "tinkers," there being but a very few large enough to cure.

By a notice in another column it will be seen that Mr. John W. Card proposes to run a team regularly each evening from Market square, starting at seven o'clock and going to Newcastle by way of the lower bridges, stopping at the aquarium, and returning over the same route, arriving back at about nine o'clock—a most enjoyable ride on a pleasant evening. The fare for the trip is but thirty cents.

The steamer Stamford will make an excursion trip from this city to Boston on Thursday, Aug. 5th, provided sufficient encouragement is given; the fare will be one dollar for the round trip, and one hundred and fifty subscribers will ensure its coming off. Persons desiring to go are requested to leave their names with Mr. George Perry, at No. 20 Congress street. The steamer if she goes will stop in Boston until twelve o'clock at night, to afford opportunity for all to attend the theatres who wish.

Frederick Adam, secretary of the English legation at Washington, is at Little Boar's Head.

Mr. William Ward has bought the house and land adjoining the store of Ward & Maddock, on McDonough street, and is building thereon an addition to the store, twenty-six feet by thirty. When completed, this will be one of the largest grocery stores in town, and no doubt will be, as now, one of the busiest and best patronized.

Steam yacht Annie S, owned by Mr. Fred Pope of Boston, started from that city on Sunday with a small party for the Shoals, but was obliged to put into this port on account of a leakage in some of her tubes. Her damages were repaired, and on Monday noon she left for Boston, and got as far as the Shoals, when meeting with a strong head wind she put back again to Rollins' wharf. She lost one of the flanges of her propeller before leaving Boston.

"PICKERING BUILDING."

The stores on Market street at the corner of Commercial alley, now being changed or substantially reconstructed into one large store by Mr. John Jacob Pickering, are upon the site of the residence of Mr. Pickering's ancestor Judge John Pickering, who once lived there in a substantial two-story house with the end towards Market street. This house was destroyed by the fire of 1802, when the judge removed to a residence on Vaughan street, on the site of the present "Gibson house," subsequently occupied by his son, the late Jacob S. Pickering. Judge Pickering was a celebrity in Portsmouth in his day. He was a native of Newington, and a graduate of Harvard college; a leading member of the convention which framed the state constitution in 1791; was attorney general in 1786, president of the senate in 1789, and governor ex officio of the state on the election of Gov. John Langdon to the senate of the United States. He was made chief justice of the superior court in 1790, retaining this office for five years, and was in 1795 appointed United States district judge. He received the degree of LL. D. from both Harvard and Dartmouth colleges, and died in 1805. We hope the present owner of the elegant building now being placed upon this site will cause some tablet or other appropriate memorial to be affixed thereto, which may indicate to posterity the spot where, more than three-quarters of a century since, this distinguished citizen of the olden times once had his home.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

At the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, Mr. J. E. Gifford of Portland and Capt. Robinson of Mt. Desert, Me., made remarks, the latter giving some account of the temperance work at Mt. Desert. Mr. Gifford is an earnest speaker, his remarks being full of wit and strong points. Several other persons spoke words of cheer.

The bethel service, Sunday afternoon, was conducted by Mr. James Janvrin, and several strangers took part.

The reform club had a rousing meeting, Sunday evening, the municipal election coming in for a fair share of discussion in a reasonable and candid manner. The remarks of Messrs. Janvrin, Durgin and Gifford were especially pleasing. At the close, Mr. B. F. Thorndike was announced as the speaker for next Sunday evening; subject, "The Sunday closing question."

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Mr. Editor: The third term folly of those who seek to secure the retention in office of the present mayor will meet a decided rebuke to-morrow, if persisted in, at the caucus.

There are a considerable number of capable, reliable and well tried men in the republican party in our city who have been faithful, energetic and liberal workers for the success and perpetuity of republican principles in national, state and municipal affairs. They have modestly and quietly awaited their turn to be acknowledged worthy of the honors which a just distribution and fair succession would place within reach. Their ambition is honorable and their expectations should not be frustrated by any hocus pocus methods of barring the regularly established succession, in favor of any third term aspirant of mediocre ability.

Only extraordinary qualifications, or distinguished service to the city, can warrant such a departure from the well established custom of the party which has controlled our municipal affairs so successfully for many years. I do not intend to criticise the administration of the present mayor, but will simply remark that it is approaching its end. Neither do I find fault with either of the gentlemen who have been mentioned as suitable candidates for the office, but will close by suggesting that other men are eligible, prominent among whom is our accomplished fellow townsman James P. Bartlett, who possesses every qualification for the position, and is very popular with all of our citizens. WORKER.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, July 26; Batchelder, J.

Samuel Jenness, Edward Lolley and George Tighe were up for drunkenness; Jenness and Lolley were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs, Tighe being let off with $11.90.

Then came a lot of cross complaints growing out of a little huckleberry-picnic party at Pest island on Sunday. John E. Morrison, who won some local notoriety as a walkist during the leg-mania period, was charged with an aggravated assault on Mary A. Hemenway, and was held in $100 to answer at a higher court.

John E. Morrison, assault on Minnie Parker, held in $100 to answer.

John E. Morrison, for malicious mischief, (breaking glass in a house owned by Thomas Wardwell,) was fined $5, cost $8.04.

Robert Parker, for an assault on John E. Morrison, (knocking him overboard out of a boat,) was fined $1, without costs. Cheap enough.

Robert Parker, on a charge of selling one glass of whiskey to John E. Morrison on Sunday, was held in $200 to answer at the supreme court.

This was the best day's business done by the police court for a long time.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Charles Dunn was badly bitten by a dog belong to John Emery, at Kittery last Sunday. The brute was killed.

Numbers of young Messina quails have been seen in the fields of Kennebunk and vicinity, showing that the birds loosed there last spring are reproducing.

Early Sunday morning, at Biddeford, five was discovered in a wooden building owned by Andrews & Co., and occupied by them as a grocery store. Loss $2000; insured.

A French boy named Arrel, twelve years old, who had his left hand injured on the 5th inst. by the accidental discharge of a revolver while "celebrating," died of lockjaw on the 15th, in Biddeford.

The Bell Telephone Co. has completed connections between Portland, Biddeford and Old Orchard. Fifteen cents is charged subscribers for five minutes' conversation, and non-subscribers twenty-five cents.

Mr. Edward Kimball, the church debt raiser, assisted by Abraham Hill of New York, was with the Congregational church in Eliot, Sunday. His labors were directed to raising a subscription to rebuild the church edifice recently burnt. A sum sufficient to ensure success was subscribed.—Times.

An old resident of Saco, Samuel Cole, is now visiting his brother, Wm. H. Cole, in that city. The former left Saco in 1845, thirty-five years ago, had not been heard from during all that time, and was supposed to be dead, when he made his appearance at the home of his brother on the 17th inst.

The supreme court of New Hampshire, besides being learned in the law, is possessed of considerable common sense, and will hold a session at Old Orchard during the first week in August, for which time a correspondent says the following members of the court are booked at the Central house: Judge Allen, Judge Stanley and wife, Judge Smith and wife, Judge Clark and wife, and Judge Bingham and wife.

The new steamer Lottie, of Exeter, N. H., arrived at Saco on Thursday of last week, having been engaged to make connecting trips between Biddeford pool and the terminus of the Old Orchard Beach railway during the season. She can accommodate fifty passengers, and requires but three men to run her. She made the trip from Exeter to Saco, a distance of eighty-three miles, in eight hours, under easy steam all the way.

Commencing this week, Old Orchard is to have a series of camp-meetings continuing throughout the month of August, the dates being as follows: July 29th to August 7th, Faith convention, conducted by Dr. Chas. Cullis of Boston; August 9th to 14th, Portland District convention, conducted by Rev. P. Jaques, presiding elder; August 17th to 24th, Ecumenical camp-meeting, conducted by leading clergymen of the Methodist Episcopal church; August 24th to 31st, National Christian Temperance camp-meeting, Hon. Sidney Perham, president.

THE "WENTWORTH,"
Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The verandas, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases, caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

—A young man with an umbrella overtook an unprotected lady acquaintance in the rain-storm, and, extending his umbrella over her, requested the pleasure of acting as her "rain-bean." "Oh!" exclaimed the young lady, "you wish me to be your rain-dear." Two souls with but a single umbrella, two forms that stepped as one.

Pure Port Wine.

We take pleasure in directing the attention of the public to Speer's celebrated Port Grape Wine, a pure and unadulterated article, upon which every one may most implicitly rely. This wine is made at Speer's Vineyards, Passaic, New Jersey. It has a rich flavor, mellow juiciness, and brilliant color: and is highly beneficial in all its properties for invalids, especially females and aged persons and consumptives.

—A lightning-rod agent was struck by lightning the other day, and the phenomenon can only be accounted for on the theory that the electric fluid got tired of being lied about.

The purest invigorant and stimulant (not an intoxicant) is Malt Bitters.

—Lord Sherbrooke saw a deaf man listening to a debate in the House of Commons through an ear trumpet. "Well, well!" said his lordship: "I never in my life saw a man so deliberately ungrateful for natural advantages."

—"Where is your other shirt?" she asked, in a tone of concern. "I have it on," he replied, calmly, and then he gazed into his wife's face with a look of quiet endurance, and went down to the office to get out the paper.—Hawkeye.

TRADE MARK
DAY'S Kidney PAD
A discovery which cures by the natural process.
ABSORPTION.
all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and is first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections,
Diabetes and Bright's Disease,
while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.
DELICATE FEMALES
or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.
PAIN IN THE BACK.
We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.
YOUNG MEN
suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or study, may be fully restored and manhood regained.
Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the stomach by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes, feeling apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of a Day Pad puts it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and papers, which at best give temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50. Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free. Write for it. Address
DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.
CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

Notice.

WE would inform our customers in the GERMAN AMERICAN INSURANCE COMPANY, New York, that their property insured in that Company is perfectly safe, and that there is no need of transferring Policies, as I HAVE in charge them, as I feel I could not place them in any better Company.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published, is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 author ional and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.
The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."
The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervous and all kinds and its affections, whom other so pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and connecting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO., for Pamphlet of sixty pages.
Old Bounty Land Warrants.
The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spa-modic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON,
17 Congress St., Boston, Mass., Feb. 25, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested in the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation for the last appearance of the disease, time,—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease has been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case. Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on one Bottle.

Gentlemen,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my back, for ten years. Doctors did me no good. I have been spending for eight years more than I did me good. Everything I ate distressed me. I got reduced from 179 to 122 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off. I used on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly, JOHN E. R. Y.
434 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—CUTICURA is admirable, assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus or scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and hair, dandruff, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail, because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cts.

MT. AGASSIZ.

The summit of Mt. Agassiz, (where our readers left us) is reached by a rough and rugged carriage road, seemingly impassable for horses, so steep and ledgy is it at frequent intervals along the ascent. Upon the mountain top is a small building containing upon its roof conveniences for comfortably enjoying the excellent views that are obtained from the magnificent outlook; while inside of this structure is a room where refreshments are sold, and where visitors may find a retreat from sudden showers. We lingered long upon the terrace that had cost us so much of our breath to reach, grateful for the rest thus afforded us, and gazing with wonder at the scene around us.

MEDITATIONS.

The birds sang merrily, and lots of little squirrels skipped about through underbrush and over rocks and trees, while the echoes of human voices from the valleys below could be distinctly heard. Yet we felt a sense of extreme loneliness, growing out of a wish that some kindred spirit were there to share the charm of the spot with us. As we stood there amid those silent mountain sentinels stationed all around, we seemed for a moment to be lifted above material cares and worldly anxieties into the realm of spirits and companionship of those to whom had been revealed more of the mysteries of the Infinite Presence that had been vouchsafed to us. We seemed to have a clearer comprehension of the possibilities of human nature; and saw more distinctly that this narrow limit of material life is but the threshold to a higher state of existence, wherein are revealed those "unspeakable things" that Paul got a glimpse of,—impossible for man to describe. And standing there amid the quiet grandeur of that lovely mountain scenery, we seemed to hear out of the depths below and the heights above, the echoing accents of the same words that were whispered in the ear of the timid shepherd guardian of Jethro's flock ages agone, "Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent thee;" and the lesson we there learned on that quiet mountain was, that the same I AM yet holds sway and that human wills should bow in cheerful submission to His wise sovereignty.

THE DESCENT.

We awoke from our reverie, rallied ourselves by the remembrance that we had staid beyond our allotted time, and prepared to descend. We came down much faster, although not much easier, than we went up. It is a trite proverb with mountain climbers, we are told, that it is harder to walk down than to walk up a mountain. A portion of the path lay alongside of a cliff, or a precipitous descent, affording a good view of the fields and villages below; but the most of the road was through the thick woods of spruce and hemlock, birch and maple, with which this region abounds. Now and then we noticed oozing from and trickling down over ledge and through mossy thicket, clear and cool springs of water, of which all these mountains are large reservoirs. We soon reached the last descent, of which there are a series, and passed down and through the toll-gate where the traveller is compelled, if he is a foot-pad, to pay a tribute of twenty-five cents, and if he rides, it is fifty cents additional for the carriage. The revenue thus gained must be quite large, as we are informed that few summer visitors to Bethlehem fail to visit Mt. Agassiz. On our way back to the Prospect house, we met the farmers with their scythes and rakes on their way to the hay-fields. The air was fragant with the smell of new mown hay, which the dew of the morning seems to make more potent to the senses at this early hour than later in the day. They seldom use mowing machines or horse rakes up here, on account of the numerous rocks piled up all over the tillage land, to the great inconvenience of the husbandman.

STRAWBERRY HILL.

One night we climbed Strawberry hill (an eminence of no mean proportions in the town of Bethlehem) for the purpose of seeing the sun set behind the mountains. Hundreds had anticipated us, however, attracted thither by the same impulse, and had stationed themselves in different places about the hill, as suited their fancy. Here were young and old, child and gray-haired grandsire, fashion and fancy, bedecked and plain, grave and gay. Such a motley crowd. Most of them had doubtless gathered there because it was a good chance to see and to be seen; while some had gone to witness a sunset. It was a good place to study human nature. All had one common destiny, and yet how

News and Notes.

The Philadelphia Times prints an interview with Mate Barr of the schooner E. A. Merritt, in which Barr denies that he stated that the schooner was about three miles from the Cuban coast when the Spanish cruiser overhauled the vessels. Barr states that the vessel was racing with the schooner E. P. Newcomb, and was tacking when the Spaniard overhauled them. They were according to the captain's computation seven miles from shore, but Barr thinks they were at least ten miles from the Cuban coast.

At Pittsfield, Mass., Monday, Jeanie Crosier, the fourteen-years-old daughter of W. D. Crosier, attempted to hurry the kitchen fire with kerosene, when the can exploded and she was fatally burned. Her father and mother were considerably injured in trying to save their child.

Gus Penterland and John Hesterman were arrested on Monday at Dayton, Ohio, on a charge of murdering Valentine Shack, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, who was found shot through the head in a road near that city last May. They were arrested once before, but discharged, as no proof could be obtained against them. Since then detectives have been on the track, and have obtained evidence of the strongest character. The prisoners were bound over without bail.

Seventeen lives were lost by the running down of the steam yacht Mamie on Detroit river, instead of fifteen as at first reported. The sunken wreck was discovered on Monday, at the bottom of the river, and four bodies were recovered.

In Oakland, Cal., Monday afternoon, a bank teller named Edward Schroeder entered the office of Alfred Lefevre, a dentist, and shot him dead. Lefevre's attentions to Schroeder's wife caused the shooting.

The colored Baptists of Ohio were holding a camp-meeting at Danville last week. On Friday night a gang of drunken roughs attacked the camp with pistols, clubs and stones, but were beaten off after a hard fight in which one of the ruffians was fatally wounded. Sunday afternoon the roughs, to the number of two hundred, again attacked the camp, and succeeded in breaking up the meeting. Several of the colored people were reported killed.

A crowd of roughs from Monroe and McIndoes Falls, Vt., went to the house of H. D. Whitcomb in McIndoes, Sunday, broke into the house, beat the family, destroyed the furniture and bedding, and smashed the windows. The outrage was entirely unprovoked—except by the rum inside the ruffians—Mr. Whitcomb being a quiet and respectable citizen.

On Saturday night a negro laborer named John Diggs, employed by Mr. Tschiffely of Rockville, Md., dragged the wife of his employer, who was absent, to her chamber, where he detained her all night and part of Sunday, compelling her to submit to the most brutal violence. The demon ended by beating her nearly to death with a chair, after which he fled, but was captured after getting twenty miles away, and lodged in jail at Rockville. It was expected he would be lynched right away.

Hattie Norton, eighteen years old, daughter of Charles Norton of Southbury, Ct., drowned herself in a pond at Ansonia last Saturday. She had suffered for several years from an ovarian tumor.

At Greensburg, Pa., twelve of the circus men arrested for complicity in the abduction and outrage of Salome Burkett were on Monday held for trial, and the others discharged.

Edward Hogan fatally cut a young man named John Thompson with a razor, in Brooklyn on the 26th inst., and dangerously wounded Mrs. John Burns, a sister of Hogan's wife. The weapon used was a razor.

The steamer Hazeldean, bound from Bilbao for Newcastle, Eng., was sunk by a collision in the British channel on the 26th inst., and five of her crew were drowned. On the same day a rowboat on the Thames river was run down by a steam launch, and a gentleman, lady and two children perished. A pleasure steamer on a lake in Switzerland was capsized by a squall on the night of the 25th inst., and sixteen persons lost their lives.

Joseph Pedrabeia, an American citizen of Cuban birth, has begun a suit against the Spanish government for illegal arrest in the harbor of Havana, and subsequent imprisonment. He had taken passage and was on board the steamer Saratoga of Ward's line, on the 10th instant, when Spanish officials came on board and arrested him on the false charge of aiding the insurgents. He claimed the protection of the flag, but the captain of the Saratoga refused to interfere, as did the consignee of the vessel, and he was incarcerated two days, when he was surrendered to the American consul. The case has been referred to Washington.

Diggs, the negro ravisher, was hung by lynchers at Rockville, Md., early in the morning on the 27th inst. He confessed his guilt, and appeared entirely indifferent to his fate.

T. W. Sigourney, a prominent citizen of Nevada City, was shot dead in the post-office there, Monday morning, by George W. Smith, an ex-sheriff of the county. The cause was the foreclosure of a mortgage by Sigourney, which dispossessed Smith of all his property.

Jack Brown and Patrick Kelley of Rochester, N. Y., had a grudge of two years' standing. They met and fought, Brown getting whipped. They shook hands, and Kelley turned to go, when Brown pulled a revolver, saying, "You will never whip another man," and shot him three times. One shot took effect in the ankle, one in the neck, and one in the back. The wounds are probably fatal.

It is stated that the grand jury committee on the Seawanhaka disaster has discovered, through an examination by experts, that one of her boilers burst, causing a fracture in the furnace and the subsequent fire. A presentation by the grand jury to this effect will be made.

The biggest church debt is that of St. Patrick's cathedral, in New York, for four hundred thousand dollars. It is in one mortgage at five per cent.

Sunday afternoon John Norton, coachman to Mr. F. H. Higginson, while bathing near Manchester was taken with the cramp, and drowned.

Constant Giles' barn at East Lebanon was burned by lightning on the evening of the 26th inst., with its contents. Loss $1500; insured.

A very heavy thunder shower passed over Claremont on Monday evening, the rain coming down in torrents. Much damage was done to crops, and the Sullivan Machine Co.'s canal was filled five feet deep with gravel, necessitating a suspension of work next day.

The American house at Lancaster took fire from the chimney at about noon on Monday, and before the flames were extinguished the building was a total wreck. Loss $4000; insured.

Joseph Young and John Brussan, Frenchmen, of Claremont, both married, were arrested Sunday night, charged with indecent assault upon Rosy Plant, a little twelve-years-old girl, whom the latter enticed from home. A settlement was effected with the girl's mother, Monday afternoon, for $100 and costs, the fellows leaving for Vermont immediately, for fear of being rearrested by other parties.

Four cows and a bull belonging to Jesse Sanborn of Webster were killed by lightning on Monday night.

The Norway Plains Co. pays a dividend of five per cent, August 2d.

As Geo. A. Merrill, with his wife and six weeks old child, was sitting at breakfast at Jones' hotel, Salmon Falls, Sunday morning, an accident occurred which may prove fatal to the child. As the tea was being passed around, the child's head was struck by a cup of the beverage, which was very hot, and it fell over the infant's neck, head and shoulders, scalding it in a terrible manner.

It's "No Use," He Said.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain; he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Proposals for River and Harbor Improvements in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

PROPOSALS in duplicate, addressed to the undersigned, will be received at his office in Portland, Maine, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Tuesday the 17th day of August 1880, at which place and time they will be opened in the presence of the bidders, for work for improving the following named rivers and harbors to wit:

1. Lubec Narrows, Maine, about 130,000 cubic yards of dredging.
2. Cathance River, Maine, about 30,000 cubic yards of dredging.
3. Gut opposite Bath, Maine, about 200 cubic yards of rock ledge to be removed.
4. Richmond's Island Harbor, Maine, about 2,500 tons of granite grout.
5. Lake Winnipiseogee, N. H., about 7,000 cubic yards of dredging.
6. Portsmouth Harbor, N. H., breaking up and removing about 350 cubic yards of rock ledge, and about 2,000 tons of Rubble stone.
7. Merrimac River, Mass., about 25 cubic yards of sunken rock to be removed.
8. Boston Harbor, Mass., about 200,000 cubic yards of dredging.
9. Plymouth Harbor, Mass., about 40,000 cubic yards of dredging.
10. Provincetown Harbor, Mass., about 750 tons of Rubble stone.

Persons desiring to make proposals for any of the above works are requested to apply to the undersigned, at his office, No. 11 Clapp's Block, Congress Street, Portland, Me., or at No. 29 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass., for specifications and for further information concerning the same.

Proposals must be made separately for each work, as required by the specifications, and be accompanied by the requisite guaranty—each proposal and guaranty to be in duplicate, on printed forms, which will be furnished on application at this office—and when transmitted, must be so indorsed on the sealed envelope as to indicate, before being opened, the particular work bid for.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject all bids which in his opinion are not reasonable; also the bid of any failing bidders or contractors or of any other person who, in his belief, will not faithfully, satisfactorily, and promptly perform the contract.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.

Partly cloudy weather, possibly occasional rains, southwest to southeast winds, stationary or lower temperature generally higher barometer.

The DAILY CHRONICLE can be found at the news stand of Mr. M. J. Leary in the refreshment room at the Eastern railroad station.

AROUND HOME.

Frank B. Peabody of Chicago is at the Farragut.

John A. White of Concord is at the Wentworth.

Mayor Brown, of Concord, was in town Tuesday, and paid a short visit to the navy yard.

The new brick building to be used as a shoe factory has reached the fourth story. It is most substantially built.

Steamer General Bartlett arrived here on Tuesday with an excursion party of eighty, from Haverhill, Mass.

Mr. Luther L. Robinson, formerly of this city, is now located at Atchinson, Kansas, where he is carrying on the business of a manufacturing machinist.

Negotiations have been entered into with several persons in regard to the furnishing of stone for the foundation of the proposed Episcopal church at the west end.

The brick work for the extension of Frank Jones' malt house is completed, and the roof is being placed. The building is now nearly three hundred feet in length.

The projected excursion to Boston on the steamer Stamford, on Thursday of next week, looks likely to be a success, as nearly one hundred tickets have already been engaged.

The democrats of Newmarket hoisted three campaign flags last Saturday, and had quite a jollification over it,—speeches, a salute of one hundred guns, and a display of fireworks in the evening.

Miss Eva Burpee, of Haverhill, Mass., was drowned at Hampton beach on Monday while bathing. Her body was recovered in about twenty minutes, but all efforts to restore animation failed.

The proprietors of the Wentworth have bought a little steamer which has arrived from Wolfeboro', and is designed to ply in the artificial pond on the northerly side of the hotel for the convenience of the little folks.

In a recent item it was said that the schooner John B. Adams landed at this port the largest cargo of coal brought here by a sailing vessel this season. This is incorrect, as she turned out but 1003 tons, while the schooner George W. Sweeney, which arrived at the Concord railroad wharf April 21st, landed 1057 1-2 tons, and another schooner put out at the same place 1004 tons.

Mr. William H. Gardiner, formerly of this city, has captured a mate, having finally secured her on Monday, as may be seen by the record in another place. Strange how different the fortunes of different people are; some men are always in luck, and can get a wife the first time they try, while others keep persistently on the war-path till they are gray-headed, and then can't catch one. We heartily congratulate our long-time friend, and sincerely wish to him and his bride happiness and prosperity very much above the average enjoyed by married couples.

The Boston Transcript of Tuesday evening says: "On the 12th inst., Rev. Father Waldron, the president of a Roman Catholic college at Pikesville, Md., wrote to his college classmate, Hon. Asa Fowler, at Rye beach, N. H., that he would arrive at Rye beach on the 16th inst. Nothing has been heard from him yet, although for a week past letters, postal cards and newspapers addressed to him have been forwarded from Pikesville to Rye beach in the care of Judge Fowler. His friends are anxious lest some serious accident may have befallen him."

REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The republican caucus for the nomination of a candidate for mayor will be held this afternoon at the court house, the polls opening at four o'clock and remaining open until eight, unless otherwise voted by the meeting. A large vote will be thrown, and from all we hear we judge that the nomination is more than likely to fall to Hon. Marcellus Bufford, whose high personal character, intimate acquaintance with municipal matters, and abundant common sense, would assure his election if nominated. Let every republican vote, that the preference of the party may be fairly expressed; it is a poor plan to stay away from the caucus, and then growl because the nomination is not satisfactory.

Mr. Editor: The article in yesterday's CHRONICLE in regard to the third term pretensions of the present mayor was a sensible and fair presentation of the case. There is indeed no reason why Mr. Sise should claim further indulgence at the hands of the republicans, who have already humored him to an extent fully commensurate with his deserts. And there is certainly no provocation for a threat to inaugurate a third party to run him on a split ticket for a third term. If he really intends to adopt that course, let him withdraw his name from the caucus to-day, and then he can make an honorable and fair fight for the coveted prize, at the head of an independent ticket. It looks like an act of base ingratitude to the men who worked for him and voted him into the exalted position he now occupies, when he threatens to defy them, and scorn the expression of their will if they choose to nominate another man to succeed him, at the conclusion of the usual term. Other mayors have been satisfied with two terms. If Mr. Sise has established and can maintain a perpetual claim upon the mayor's office, one strong incentive to work in the interest of the republican party, is taken away. The honest ambition to become mayor of Portsmouth is doubtless cherished by a score of capable men, whose claims for preferment are, to say the least, as valid as those of the gentleman whose third term pretensions seem so frivolous and unjust. If the republican party has run short of men, let us elect a republican woman, or a democrat. A VOTER.

GROVE MEETING AT MT. AGAMENTICUS.

By request, on Sunday last, the 25th inst., Dr. E. B. Goodall and Mr. W. A. Loyne of this city conducted divine services at Plaisted's grove, directly under the shadow of Mt. Agamenticus, York. These were the first meetings of the kind held there for forty years, and of course there was a good deal of novelty and strangeness about them. Several very old people were present, and a mother attended the meeting with a babe three weeks old, which was very kindly attended by a lady from this city during service.

The morning exercises were of a social character, about fifty persons being present. At two o'clock P. M. a second service was held, conducted by Dr. Goodall, who addressed the congregation, about one hundred in number, in an able and earnest manner, and was followed by Rev. Mr. Downs, pastor of the little church at Groundnut hill; several other persons also spoke, and all present appeared to enjoy the meeting. At the close it was announced that on the last Sunday in July, 1881, another meeting would probably be held in the same place.

Mr. Frank Plaisted had everything about the grove in nice order, and deserves credit for his enterprise and kindness in catering to the wants of this people; and humble as it may appear, we trust that this movement may prove the beginning of a new religious interest for the inhabitants of Groundnut hill and the district around Mt. Agamenticus.

SPECTATOR.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The schooner Georgietta was towed away from John Neal's wharf at Kittery on Tuesday afternoon by the steamer Mystic, after discharging her cargo of 225 tons of coal at that place.

York county has increased its population since 1870, when the total was given as 60,174; now it is 60,820. Lincoln county has lost 852, and now has 25,745 inhabitants. Penobscot county has 70,488, a loss of 4,662. Somerset county has 32,326, a loss of 2,288 since 1870.

Ichabod Cole of Eliot is talked of as the democratic candidate for congress in the first district of Maine. We have heard from a prominent democrat that in case of Hancock's election Mr. Cole would be pressed as the New England candidate for secretary of the navy. Mr. Cole while at Washington learned congressional duties from Hon. Frank Jones, and there are very many democrats in the house of representatives with far less political ability on knowledge of public affairs than Mr. Cole possesses. If the democracy have any sort of show to carry this district, by all means let the York county delegates unite on Ichabod. He would be the man to go upon the committee on naval affairs, as he knows how it is, himself.

The Laconia Co. at Biddeford pays a dividend of $16 per share, on the 2d of August. The Pepperell Manufacturing Co. pays $80 per share, on the same date.

Steamer Little May, F. H. Marr of Kittery owner and master, commenced on Monday to make regular trips from Adam's & Co.'s wharf in this city to Kittery point, touching at "the foreside" both ways, starting on her first trip from this city at 10:30 o'clock A. M., and leaving Kittery point on her last trip at 7:15 o'clock P. M.

At Old Orchard, one night last week, a couple of cats, tired of growling and spitting at each other on the roof of a summer cottage, tumbled through a skylight to the floor below, bringing up with a bang and a loud "meouw" amid the crash of falling glass. A gentleman sleeping in the room jumped out of bed, and shouted excitedly for a gun; his wife was unfeeling enough to lie in bed and laugh while he pelted the cats with the toilet articles, and finally kicked them down stairs in rather a limp shape. He explained his first demoralization by saying that just as the crash came he was dreaming of future punishment for deeds done in the body, and he didn't know exactly what kind of a being might have come for him.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

At a regular communication of Naval Lodge, No. 184, Free and Accepted Masons, of Kittery, Maine, held Wednesday evening, July 21st, the following brethren were elected and appointed as officers for the ensuing year, this being the first election of the lodge, it having until within a short time been working under dispensation:

W. M., William W. Locke;
S. W., Theodore Wilcox;
J. W., Edwin C. Nealley;
Treasurer, Jacob Patch;
Secretary, Levi L. Goodrich;
Senior Deacon, Edwin A. Duncan;
Junior Deacon, Samuel Taylor;
Senior Steward, Salisbury H. Williams;
Junior Steward, Cyrus H. Drinkwater;
Marshal, Calvin L. Hayes;
Chaplain, Lewis B. Gerrish;
Finance Committe, Augustus Stevenson, Moses A. Safford, Lewis B. Gerrish;
Tyler, Charles J. Lydston.

The lodge will be consecrated and dedicated, and the officers installed, this evening at half-past seven o'clock, by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Maine, represented by Right Worshipful District Deputy Grand Master Charles P. Emery of Biddeford.

Brethren in Portsmouth and vicinity are invited to participate in the ceremonies. The steamer James Sampson will leave Portsmouth at twenty minutes past seven o'clock, and Bro. Stevenson, the proprietor, says that an extra trip shall be made to take the visiting fraternity back to town; and Bro. Dick Philbrick will do the square thing at the wheel.

What Two Old Soldiers Did.

Generals G. T. Beauregard of Louisiana, and Jubal A. Early of Virginia, met again recently in New Orleans, to superintend the drawings of the celebrated Louisiana State Lottery, of which they are the commissioners on behalf of the State and people. They went at their work with regularity and precision, and the result was that in addition to scattering around among fortunate investors $20,000s and $10,000s, they drew a half capital prize of $50,000 for an intelligent young German named George Fred. Juhasz, whose residence is in Brooklyn, who has collected his money and written to his relatives in Germany announcing his fortune. For further information apply to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at 313 Broadway, New York city.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. 4

Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8.24 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3.30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 25. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The verands, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, give an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and front on all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Railroad. Address diverse their plans and hopes and tastes. But I fear that I have fallen to moralizing a little too much, and will break off here, by saying that right at the base of the famous Strawberry hill are situated two beautiful and convenient summer cottages, one the property of Hon. John G. Sinclair, now in Florida, the father of Col. Charles A. Sinclair of Portsmouth, and the other belonging to Rev. Mr. Fowler, the celebrated religious revivalist who made quite a stir in our city three or four years or more ago. We learn that Mr. Fowler married a daughter of Mr. Sinclair, Sen., and makes Bethlehem his summer home, in choosing which he exhibits a commendable taste. BUDGE.

BETHLEHEM, July 26th.

"Success with Small Fruits."

"I just rolled out here from the grocery store," said the little green apple as it paused on the sidewalk for a moment's chat with the banana peel: "I am waiting here for a boy. Not a small, weak, delicate boy," added the little green apple, proudly, "but a great big boy, a great hulky, strong, leather-lunged, noisy fifteen-year-older, and little as I am you will see me double up that boy to-night, and make him wail and howl and yell. Oh, I'm small, but I'm good for a ten-acre field of boys, and don't you forget it. All the boys in Burlington," the green apple went on with just a shade of pitying contempt in its voice, "couldn't fool around me as any one of them fools around a banana."

"Boys seem to be your game," drawled the banana peel, lazily; "well, I suppose they are just about strong enough to afford you a little amusement. For my own part, I like to take somebody of my size. Now here comes the kind of a man I usually do business with. He is large and strong, it is true, but—"

And just then a South Hill merchant, who weighs about 231 pounds when he feels right good, came along, and the banana peel just caught him by the foot, lifting him about as high as the awning post, turned him over, banged him down on a potato basket, flattening it out until it looked like a splint door mat, and the shock jarred everything loose in the show-window. And then while the fallen merchant from various quarters of the globe fished his silk hat from the gutter, his spectacles from the cellar, his handkerchief from the tree-box, his cane from the show-window, and one of his shoes from the eaves-trough, and a little boy ran for the doctor, the little green apple blushed red and shrank a little back out of sight, covered with awe and mortification.

"Ah," it thought, "I wonder if I can ever do that? Alas, how vain I was, and yet how poor and weak and useless I am in this world."

But the banana peel comforted it and back it took up and take heart, and do the well what it had to do, and labor for the good of the cause in its own useful sphere.

"True," said the banana peel, "you cannot lift up a two hundred pound man and break a cellar door with him but you can, give him the cholera morbus, and if you do your part the world will feel your power and the medical colleges will call you blessed."

And then the little green apple smiled and looked up with grateful blushes on its face, and thanked the banana peel for its encouraging counsel. But that very night, an old father who writes thirteen hours a day, and a patient mother who was almost ready to sink from weariness, and a nurse and a doctor, sat up until nearly next morning with a thirteen-year-old boy who was all twisted up into the shape of a figure "3," while all the neighbors on that block sat up and listened and pounded their pillows and tried to sleep, and wished that boy would either die or get well.

And the little green apple was pleased, and its last words were, "At least I have been of some little use in this great wide world."—Burlington Hawkeye.

Hard Times.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood, which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. It is positively permanent. Try one bottle. Sold by all druggists. Dr. David Kennedy, Proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

—A Tennessee suiter wrote to his sweetheart as follows: "Your father kicked me last night, and forbade me the house. If I whipped him would it lessen your love for me?" She replied that it wouldn't, and the parent was soundly thrashed.

What produces cholera-morbus, cramps, and pains? Indigestion, improper food, unripe fruit, change of water, and drinking too free indulgence in ice water, exposure to sudden changes of temperature. It is useless to deny the thirsty a cooling draught of ice water, to prevent the consumption of fruit, whether proper or improper, or to limit the traveller to his native heath. To provide a safe, sure, and instantly effective remedy is the most we can do, and this we are happy to say is to be found in SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER, a delicious, invigorating, refreshing, wholesome, and safe remedy for hundreds of ailments peculiar to home and travel. Caution is necessary in purchasing, as most imitations and worthless ginger.

—The Buffalo Courier has this heading over an article: "From Buffalo to Heaven: sufferings and death of Jacob Terwilliger: the kick of a mule and its final results." That settles it. The mule that can kick a man from Buffalo to Heaven, is the champion long distance kicker.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, or Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign body with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deod&tim

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specific it, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and neglect of physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the excess of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored to perfect health and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proved ineffectual, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief, leaving the cause still not fatal and permanent, giving a sound and lasting cure. For sale by druggists, generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price, Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; special cases, one $5.00. To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY represents MARCELLUS BUFFORD, administrator of the estate of WILLIAM B. LOWD, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, that the personal estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate; that said Lowd died seized of the right in equity to redeem certain mortgaged real estate, situate in said Portsmouth and bounded and described as follows; a lot of land with buildings thereon situated on South street and bounded northerly by South street, easterly by land formerly owned by Daniel Lowd and land of Catherine L. Pearson, and southerly and westerly by land of said Pearson; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on South street with a dwelling-house thereon, bounded northerly by South street, easterly and southerly by land of Catherine L. Pearson, and westerly by land of William B. Lowd; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on Livermore street with a dwellinghouse thereon, and bounded northerly by Livermore street, easterly by land of Thomas H. Odlon, southerly by land of heirs of Alfred M. Hoyt, and westerly by land of Albert H. Hatch; also three undivided fourth parts of a lot of land situated on Daniel street with a brick dwelling house thereon, and bounded northerly by Daniel street, easterly by land of Caroline Q. Wendell, southerly by land now or formerly of heirs of Hall Varrell and others, and westerly by land of John H. Broughton; all the said real estate being subject to a mortgage to the Portsmouth Savings Bank, on which was due at the decease of said William B. Lowd $2290.00 and interest semi-annually from Jan. 29, 1880; that said real estate is subject to the right or dower of the widow of said deceased, and to the right of the widow and minor child of said deceased to a homestead in the last described lot. And said deceased left no other real estate, and the above is not sufficient with the personal estate to pay the just demands against his estate.

Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction the right in equity or redeeming the real estate of said deceased aforesaid together with the reversion or said dower and homestead for the payment of said demands.

Dated the seventeenth day of July, A. D. 1880.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD, Administrator.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham ss.

Probate Office at Exeter, in said County, July 17th, A. D., 1880.

Upon the foregoing petition it is ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at the Court of Probate to be holden at Exeter in said County, on the Wednesday of August next, the Twenty-ninth day next, and that the petitioner notify the heirs of said deceased, and all persons concerned or interested in the estate, to appear if they see cause and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed in said County, and posted in the last publication thereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—AND THE ONLY DR. SHERMAN known to the public for the past 30 years, has perfected a wonderful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted free at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external treatment.

No man is so low who has a Rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once believed life off that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction; it is steadily progressive, even unto death, and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieve of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day. During treatment any kind of active exercise or labor can be performed without interfering with the treatment, and with safety from the dangers of strangulated Rupture.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen, and complaints of his successful practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. In consequence of the great demand for Dr. Sherman's personal services, he will, until further notice, divide his time between his New York and Boston offices as follows: Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday he may be consulted at his New York office, and Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, at his Boston office, each week. TIT FOR TAT.

"Good morning, Miss Kate," said young Mickie Fee;
"Good morning, again; it's yourself share I see, Lookin' bloomin' as ever." But Kate turned away
"I see said, "Mister Mickie, I wish you good day,
You're a heartless deaver—now, don't spake a word,
Pretty tales about you and that Norah I've heard.
You know you danced with her the day of the fair,
And praised her gray eyes and her very red hair?
You called her an angel; quite in love with her fell;
And at night when you parted, you kissed her as well!"
Then young Mickie gave a sly wink, as he said:
"I deserved her, my darlin'—this way turn your head—
Yes, faith, I do avord her, my darlin', 'tis true;
For I saut both my eyes, Kate, and fancied 'twas you!
Yes, that's what I did;
Katie, it's true;
I sent both my eyes,
And fancied 'twas you!"

"Well, I've no thin to say, so good-bye, Mickie Fee,
You may deserve her, but you can't deserve me;
I mow to the blarney, Mick, a word in your ear,
You had better be off, for my dad's comin here."
"Oh, your dad's coming, is he? Th t's not his I see
New bobbin' behind the owld blackthorn tree?
For its t' dly Mahon." "Oh," said Kate with a sneer,
"You've got your eyes open at last, Mickie, dear.
And there you are right, 'tis my own darlin' Pat;
So take my advice, Mick, and get out of that;
For he's comin' to court me. Now listen, my lad;
When Pat her kisses me, oh, won't you be glad?
For when his lips meet mine, why, what will I do
But shut both my eyes, Mick, and fancy it's you?
That's what I'll do;
Mickie, it's true;
Shut both my eyes
And fancy it's you!"

A Huge Hotel.

The new Rockaway Beach hotel (the largest caravansary the world ever saw) is in the form of the letter "E," the back part of the capital letter facing the sea, the kitchen being in the center. There are five floors, including the basement, each one representing a superficial area of 125,000 square feet. The house will contain 650 bedrooms, many of them having balconies. About one-third of these rooms have elegant bathrooms, and 550 of them have stationary washstands. One most important element in the architectural plan is the protection from fire—the building can be flooded at a moment's notice. Seven thousand gas burners will furnish the light. The method to be employed to secure perfect sewerage seems to be theoretically perfect. The refuse falls into a large receptacle; it is thence forced into a brick structure quite a distance from the house. This tank has a capacity of 250,000 gallons, and its bottom is below the level of the water. From this second reservoir the sewage will be forced out to sea through pipes running half a mile. The water wells having been dug, are joined by the Holly system. The kitchen is a vast room, 185 feet wide by 247 long. To run this vast hotel, for the tables only, there will be about 400 waiters, but on Saturdays and Sundays this force will be doubled. In silver-ware the hotel requires 500 dozen each of large and small knives, forks and spoons. Aside from the regular summer boarders, the Rockaway hotel will be able to feed 10,000 transient persons every day with breakfast, dinner or supper.

Indian Depredations.

The fair reader shudders when she thinks of the settler's wife watching, from the door of her rude hut, the retreating form of her husband going out to his daily labor—going out perhaps to return not again, for before nightfall a savage hand may have laid him low among the prairie grasses. Or it may be a child, a bright-eyed daughter, is snatched away in an unguarded moment, to grace the next war dance. When we read the heart-rending details of these savage depredations, we are apt to blame the government for not taking more strict precautions to insure the settler's protection. But we daily read of the depredations of that arch-fiend, consumption, with scarcely a thought of the terrible inroads it is making on human life. Tens of thousands of homes are annually desolated by consumption to one by Indian outrage. Like the Indian consumption oftenest comes stealthily, and no danger is apprehended until the victim suddenly finds himself hopelessly consumed, and death's fatal arrow ends the scene. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a powerful alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, has restored thousands of consumptives who had tried every other remedy recommended to them, without obtaining any relief, and are willing to testify to its remedial powers.

—An editor was accosted one day with, "I thought it was a rule of your paper never to give the authorship of any editorial article?" "That is our rule," said the editor. "But the proprietor of this paper told me who wrote the 'leader' yesterday," continued the caller. "Indeed," quoth the editor, "who was it?" "He said he wrote it himself." "In that case," answered the editor quietly, "He did not violate the rule. He merely lied."

A fool once more.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Sun folly pays.—H W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

—Somebody thinks that if nature had designed a man to be a drunkard, it would have constructed him like a churn, so that the more he drank the more firmly he would stand.

Disease prevented and medical bills lessened by a timely use of Malt Bitters.

FOR PRESIDENT.

James A. Garfield,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Chester A. Arthur,

OF NEW YORK.

Bank Robbery.

Between twelve and one o'clock, July 27th, three or four men entered the Middletown savings bank at Middletown, Conn., while a portion of the officials were at dinner, and while engaging the clerks in business at the counter, accomplices entered the vault and got away with $8,500. Four men hired teams in Hartford that morning and returned them at night, and various circumstances lead to the supposition that they were the thieves. In one of the teams a bunch of skeleton keys was found. Two valises, containing nothing of value, were left at the hotel by these men, and have not been called for.

News and Notes.

The steamer Colon, which has just been towed to New York from Fortune island in a disabled condition by her consort, the Acapulco, was once before disabled at sea, August 20th, 1875, and was towed to New York by steamer Ætna, of the Atlas line, whose owners demanded $150,000 salvage. The United States district court awarded $10,000. An appeal was taken to the circuit court, when Judge Blatchford affirmed the decision of the district court.

A despatch from the governor of Bombay received by the British government on the 28th inst., announced the total annihilation of Gen. Burroughs' brigade at Candahar, Afghanistan.

A man in Crawfordville, Ind., whose son was recently killed by a toy pistol in the hands of a playmate, has entered suit for $5,000 damages against the proprietor of a variety store at which the pistol was bought. It is claimed that, under the statutes of Indiana prohibiting the sale of firearms to minors, damages can be recovered.

The superintendent and inside boss of the Keely Run colliery, near Pottsville, Pa., and the district superintendent, went down in the mine on the night of July 26th to inspect the ventilation, and were all suffocated by "black damp." The mine belongs to the Reading Coal and Iron company.

Michael Maddox was arrested in Baltimore, July 27th, for the murder of John Schaba, a Bohemian, on the previous night. Maddox split his victim's head open with an axe, while he was sleeping, and justifies his action by saying that he found Schaba in a chamber with Mrs. Maddox at two o'clock in the morning.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., July 24th, George Wilbert fatally stabbed his step-father, Fred. Luzenberg, because the latter interfered with the young man's robbing of his mother.

A Portland (Oregon) despatch says Mrs. Anna Lynch of the Keystone house fatally stabbed Alex Matteeson, who she claims made a dishonorable proposition and attempted an indecent assault.

Two burglars entered the house of Hon. D. H. Soloman, about thirty miles from Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the morning of July 27th, and one of them, name unknown, was shot dead by a son of Mr. Solomon. The other thief escaped.

Thomas Delano, a livery stable keeper of Chicago, was fatally stabbed on the street with a butcher knife, on the evening of July 26th, by a woman named Minnie Dixon.

Mamie Hogan and Mamie Morris, girls seventeen years old, and Henry Lawson, aged twelve years, have been arrested in Brooklyn for burglary.

Near Gibson Station, Indian territory, July 27th, a party of Creeks attacked two Cherokees, killing one and wounding another. The Creeks were actuated by a desire to revenge the alleged hanging of two of their tribe by Cherokees on the night before.

The Hawaiian consul and the agent at San Francisco of the abandoned ship Mathilde have applied to the Pacific Mail company to have one of their steamers stop at Soroco island to take off the captain of the Mathilde and party, supposed to be on the island. Their request was referred to the New York office. Capt. Jones of the Mathilde was a lieutenant in the navy during the war.

Four cantons of Switzerland have restored the death penalty for murder.

Ex-Gov. Kemper of Virginia has become so paralyzed that he can neither walk nor stand.

At Denver, Col., July 27th, Mrs. Annie Denver and her two-years-old child were burned to a crisp by the explosion of a can of kerosene with which she was hurrying a fire.

Anthony Comstock of New York, in company with an attorney, went to Duke Centre, Pa., a few days ago, and had "Dr." Hopkins, alias Mrs. Merton, arrested for sending obscene matter through the mail.

A Brooklyn school teacher writes to Dr. Tanner, the starvationist, proposing marriage. She remarks: "Have many years been principal of a public school, and am not averse to matrimony now with a cultured and scientific gentleman. Am aged thirty-five, and have some money; I will write to you again at the close of your work, when, if agreeable to you, the way will be made easy for an interview. I am a very small eater, and use a diet of brain food or oat meal often."

Miss Oliver, of Waco, Texas, painted a mythological picture, and Rev. Mr. Burleson in a sermon denounced it as indecent. The artist has obtained the signatures of two hundred citizens who entertain a contrary opinion.

A negro barber at St. Louis studied law at night for several years, and was finally admitted to the bar. He now works in the shop on Saturdays and Sundays, and practices with considerable success in the courts on other days.

A party of excursionists from Washington and Baltimore had rather a novel experience at Glymont on Tuesday, July 27th. A number of the excursionists were bathing, when they were alarmed by the swift approach of an enormous fish. Through the aid of some fishermen near by the monster was captured, and proved to be a man-eating shark weighing 400 pounds, and measuring eight and one-half feet in length. His upper jaw measured twelve inches, and his lower jaw seven inches.

The cafe erected at Weirs for the veterans is completed. It is in the form of a Greek cross, with a capacity of seating 500 people at the tables. When used as an assembly room it will accommodate 2,000 people. The avenue leading up the hill and in front of the cafe is lighted by a dozen street lamps.

The Universalist society of New Bedford, Mass., has dismissed its pastor, Rev. W. C. Stiles, because of his change of faith.

William W. Ashley, a noted tenor singer of New York, was arraigned in Troy, N. Y., Saturday, and pleaded "not guilty." He was held for the grand jury on a charge of obtaining goods and money under false pretences, in that he swindled a New York dealer out of a horse, wagon and harness valued at $1,000, and a girl named Hubbell out of $1,000 under promise of marriage.

The supreme court of Connecticut sustains the decision of the court of common pleas, giving the title to seven of Rev. Wm. H. H. Murray's brood mares, stallions and colts, to Ida E. Hull, of Guilford, the insolvent minister's sister-in-law and manager.

The census enumerator at Provincetown, Mass., found one aged couple, the wife being 100, and the husband 99.

Rev. E. S. Foster, the recently silenced ex-pastor of the Universalist church of North Adams, Mass., has sworn out warrents against Editor Angell and Publisher C. T. Evans of the North Adams News, for alleged malicious publication of a libel against him.

George Lewis, a well-connected resident of Wilmington, Del., was cowhided on Monday by a Mrs. McCoy because, as she alleges, he slandered her. Mrs. McCoy drove out with her husband to the place where Lewis was employed, and her husband held a pistol to Lewis' head while she inflicted the chastisement.

Advices from New Orleans noting the receipt of the new crop of Louisiana rice say that reports from various plantations are encouraging for the incoming crop, and if nothing unfavorable should arise in the harvesting of the grain, prospects point toward a bountiful yield.

Hon. Preston Breckenridge, of Cotton Hill, Ill., died July 25th, aged seventy-three years. He was a cousin of the late John C. Breckenridge. He was a member of the Bloomington convention, which organized the republican party in Illinois, and subsequently was a member of the legislature, beating Abraham Lincoln in the nominating convention.

Judge Gresham, of the United States district court, has decided that railway companies cannot charge express companies for each package separately when the packages are contained in a safe or chest, but must charge for the whole in bulk, and also that railway companies have no right to examine express bundles unless they have reason to suspect that their contents are dangerous.

Gen. Geronimo Trevino, commander of the northern division of the Mexican army, was recently married, at San Antonis, Texas, to a daughter of Gen. E. O. C. Ord, commanding the United States army in Texas. The ceremony was performed in the Episcopal church, and the scene was gay with the uniforms of hundreds of officers. Triumphal arches were erected in the street, and there was a grand banquet. The groom is forty-one years old, and the bride twenty-three.

Mrs. Spaits of Manito, Ill., had been regarded for ten years as a helpless cripple, unable to move. Her husband, from whom she had obtained a divorce, was compelled to pay her alimony in proportion to her apparent helplessness. Becoming incredulous, he induced a party of neighbors to burst into her house unexpectedly, and they found Mrs. Spaits walking about without even limping.

Mrs. Harriet Girard Clarke of Philadelphia, Pa., widow of the late Dr. John Yeardley Clarke, and last surviving niece of Stephen Girard, founder of Girard college, died July 26th. Her first husband was Baron Henry Lallewand, a general of artillery under Napoleon.

—Tanner cocktails are all the rage in Gotham. They are made by adding one ounce of cracked ice to three ounces of filtered rain water. They are considered very fattening.

—The poor old negro preacher was more than half right when he said: "Bredheren, if we could all see into our own hearts as God does, it would mos' skeer us to death."

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deodsoim

Proposals for River and Harbor Improvements in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

PROPOSALS in duplicate, addressed to the undersigned, will be received at his office in Portland, Maine, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Tuesday the 17th day of August, 1880, at which place and time they will be opened in the presence of the bidders, for work for improving the following named rivers and harbors to wit:

1. Lubec Channel, Maine, about 130,000 cubic yards of dredging.
2. Cathance River, Maine, about 30,000 cubic yards of dredging.
3. Gut opposite Bath, Maine, about 200 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
4. Richmond's Island Harbor, Maine, about 2,500 tons of granite grout.
5. Lake Winnipiseogee, N. H., about 7,000 cubic yards of dredging.
6. Portsmouth Harbor, N. H., breaking up and removing about 700 cubic yards of sunken ledge, and about 2,000 tons of Rubble stone.
7. Merrimac River, Mass., about 25 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
8. Boston Harbor, Mass., about 200,000 cubic yards of dredging.
9. Plymouth Harbor, Mass., about 40,000 cubic yards of dredging.
10. Provincetown Harbor, Mass., about 750 tons of Rubble stone.

Persons desiring to make proposals for any of the above works are requested to apply to the undersigned, at his office, No. 11 Clapp's Block, Congress Street, Portland, Me., or at No. 28 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass., for specifications and for further information concerning the same.

Proposals must be made separately for each work, as required by the specifications, and be accompanied by the requisite guaranty—each proposal and guaranty to be in duplicate, on printed forms, which will be furnished on application at this office—and when transmitted, must be so indorsed on the sealed envelope as to indicate, before being opened, the particular work bid for.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject all bids which in his opinion are not reasonable, also the bid of any failing bidders or contractors or of any other person who, in his belief, will not faithfully, satisfactorily and promptly perform the contract.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.

Clear or partly cloudy weather, northerly winds, stationary or higher temperature, generally higher barometer.

The DAILY CHRONICLE can be found at the news stand of Mr. M. J. Leary in the refreshment room at the Eastern railroad station.

AROUND HOME.

A detail of fifteen marines arrived at the navy yard on the 28th inst., in charge of Capt. Henry J. Bishop, U. S. M. C.

The steamer Stamford took a party of about a hundred persons from this city to Plymouth, Mass., via Gloucester, on Wednesday.

The yacht Spitfire, owned by Mr. Thomas J. Sheehan, has been chartered by Messrs. James McGlinchy and Wm. H. Muir for a trip along the coast of Maine.

The twice-wrecked schooner Horatio Nichols, having been repaired a second time on the marine railway at Kittery, was on Wednesday morning of this week towed to sea by the steamer Mystic. It is reported that she has had all the upriver navigation she wants, and will not try it again.

Ship house No. 4 (the "Santee" ship house) at the navy yard has recently been painted, 3000 lbs. of lead being used on it; the surface painted amounts to nearly one and one-third acres. Ship house No. 5, which presents to the paintbrush a surface of about one acre, is now receiving a coat.

Gov. Head and his council arrived in this city on Wednesday afternoon of this week, and proceeded to the Wentworth for the night. To-day they will inspect the arsenal in this city with a view to deciding upon what repairs are advisable, and are invited to a trip down the river in a steamer. Friday the governor and wife will go to Newburyport for an excursion in Mr. Boynton's steam yacht. Mrs. Head is visiting her friend, Mrs. Frank W. Miller, at Lincoln Hill.

A fine new yacht built by Mr. Lewis Holmes has been chartered for the season by Mr. Charles A. Coolidge of Boston, a son of Gen. David H. Coolidge, who is summering at the Marshall house, York harbor. She is a handsome little craft, and experienced boat sailers predict that she will show high speed. She is very strongly built, being fastened with copper and galvanized iron; is 17 1-2 feet long, two feet four inches deep, and six feet beam; is half decked, and has a commodious cuddy; her centre-board, made on a new plan devised by Mr. Holmes, rises but little above the keel, and is not at all in the way; she is painted white outside, her upper works and deck being rose-colored; she is cat-rigged, and shows a good spread of canvass; and her name, "Ripple," is on her stern in block letters. She was put in the water on Wednesday afternoon of this week, and on Friday starts for York with a party. Her sail was made by Cunningham & Gay, and her spars by Mr. James Coleman.

The Newburyport Herald gives the following particulars of the drowning accident at Hampton beach on Monday, the 26th inst.: "At the time, two young ladies from Haverhill, Mass., Miss Alice M. Kimball and Miss Eva Burpee, were bathing, the latter stopping in a cottage near by, in the family of C. H. Downing. They did not advance a great distance into the water, but the sudden disappearance of Miss Burpee was noticed by her friend, after frequent calls. No one was near at the time, but an alarm was immediately given. The proprietors of several of the cottages were soon present, and several gentlemen immediately pushed off. After a search of some fifteen minutes the body was found, quite a distance from the scene of the accident, and where there was depth of water of about four feet. Two physicians were present, but their art was of no avail. The cause of the accident was probably the strong undertow, although other causes are adduced in explanation. Miss Burpee was about eighteen years old, quite well known and respected, and leaves a mother, resident in Haverhill."

The color of the Nubble lighthouse (near Cape Neddick) has been changed from red to white, by order of the lighthouse board.

Four cars laden with coal jumped the track of the Eastern railroad at the Vaughan street crossing, a little past one o'clock Wednesday afternoon of this week. A large force of men with two engines speedily replaced the cars upon the track, no damage being done save the splintering of the planks laid between the rails.

REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The republican caucus for the nomination of a candidate for mayor was held at the court house on the 28th inst., as per previous announcement, the polls opening at four o'clock and closing at eight, the result being as follows:

Whole number of votes	598
Necessary for a choice	300
Benjamin W. Curtis had	1
John H. Broughton	42
Marcellus Bufford	98
William H. Sise	457

And Col. William H. Sise was declared the nominee of the caucus to succeed himself in the office of mayor, he having the decisive majority of 316 over all others. He will be the first mayor of Portsmouth to hold the office for three successive terms.

AN UNPRINCIPLED COW.

The pleasure of a party of gentlemen who went from this city to Gerrish's island on a picnic excursion a few days ago, was seriously marred by the reprehensible conduct of a cow, which came up behind the tent while most of the party were off in a boat to catch fish for chowder, and the rest were asleep, and not only ate up a half-bushel of potatoes that had been peeled and sliced in readiness for the pan, but opened a box and drank seven bottles of lager—all that remained of a case. At least that was the story told the fishermen when they returned, by the stay-on-shore portion of the party. There was quite an animated discussion as to whether or not a cow would be likely to stopper lager beer bottles up and return them to the case after emptying them, and it was finally decided that a cow which would take bottles out of a case and open them would be very likely to cork up and replace them when through.

New Hampshire Items.

The population of New Hampshire by the census of 1880 is 347,311, a gain from the census of 1870 of 29,011.

The houses of C. A. Giles and I. Salinger, in Rochester, were entered by thieves during the night of July 27th, and watches, money and jewelry stolen. Other houses were entered, but no plunder was secured in them.

The regimental muster of the 1st Reg't, N. H. N. G., will be held at Manchester the second week in September.

Chester expects to gather and market a thousand bushels of blueberries this season, which will return a revenue of $2.25 a bushel.

There are fifty-five applicants for the position of principal of the Keene high school.

During the shower on Friday, the 23d, several cattle were killed in Goshen by lightning.

The population of Rochester is 5785, of which number 537 are French.

On Tuesday afternoon, the 27th inst., at Laconia, a heavy shower, accompanied by high winds, passed over the lake damaging boats along the shore, and several parties off shore narrowly escaped with their lives. The steamer Lady of the Lake, when half a mile out from Wolfeboro, discovered a boat capsized, and two men clinging to the sides. The steamer hove to and promptly launched a lifeboat, but the waves and the headway of the steamer caused the boat to swamp. Another boat was lowered, and the two men were picked up in a nearly exhausted condition. One of the rescued parties was Abram Sanborn, of Milton Mills; the other's name is not given. On the same evening L. H. Colony's chair manufactory at Munsonville, Keene, was partially unroofed, doing considerable damage to the stock.

Political Matters.

The alleged democratic state committee of Maine were in session at Augusta on the 27th ult., at one hotel, and the greenback state committee at another. The bargain and sale of the so-called principles of the two parties was about completed. The greenback candidates for electors were nominated, as follows: Solon Chase of Turner, Benjamin Bunker of Fairfield, J. F. Turner of Portland, Charles R. Whidden of Calais. The democratic committee voted to request Samuel Watts of Thomaston to withdraw as a candidate for elector on the democratic ticket, on pain of being dropped if he refuses.

The democratic constituents of Representative Springer of Illinois are highly incensed because in a speech he vouched for Gen. Garfield's honesty, and declared that the charges against him were untrue. The Chicago Times says: "Unless he retracts his declarations the chances are that he will be severely disciplined. To begin with, he will be dropped by the democracy of his district, and his voice will, after the 4th of March next, be heard in congress no more forever. Nor is that all. It may become necessary, in order to carry out the southern programme, to have a trustworthy man at the head of the elections committee next winter."

Nasby, at a convocation of democrats at Governor's island, says, "They got to talkin outside, and one Noo Yorker express the sentiments of the other when he remarkt, 'Well, we've got a non-partisan candidate anyhow. He haint got a politik—not a d—d politik.' And another one sed that the ginral didn't know more about the governmental matters than MickLellan, and he couldn't say more nor that."

A Dog Outwitted by a Parrot.

A lady on Seneca street is the owner of a small, frisky dog and a very talkative parrot. Occasionally Polly is demoralized, and, instead of behaving herself as a good lady bird should, she gives vent to some terrible shrieks, and endeavors to be as bad as she possibly can. When she takes these spells the dog, knowing that a reprimand is needed, goes to the cage and administers several severe rebukes in the shape of a savage little bark. Yesterday afternoon Poll sat upon her perch with all the dignity possible. The dog was taking a nap in an adjoining room. Suddenly without a moment's notice, Poll let loose two or three unearthly screeches. The dog was awakened, of course, and immediately started toward the cage at a full run, barking as he went. After he had scolded, as he thought enough, he adjourned to the other room and snugged himself for another snooze. He had no more than closed his eyes before Poll shrieked again, longer and louder than before. Up jumped the dog, and out he went barking furiously. When he reached the cage, Poll, who had stopped her noise to give the dog a chance, began to bark just as loud as her four legged associate. Penny choked himself off, and gazed on in holy horror. He stood looking at the cage for several minutes. Finally his tail dropped between his legs, and he turned around and left the spot. Just as he was going out of the room Poll stopped barking, a sort of pleased expression crept down her jagged beak, and as the dog faded from view she yelled after him, "Good-by, Penny," and without further ado resumed her meditations upon her perch.—Utica Observer.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Trochet" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Trochet" are sold only in boxes. Tu,Th&F,&c

CAREFUL INVESTORS rank the Toledo, Delphos & Burlington R. R. first mortgage bonds among the safest of the securities in the market. The mortgage is very small, only $1,250,000 upon 183 miles of road, less than $7000 per mile, while most railroads are mortgaged from $15,000 to $25,000 a mile. For full particulars address Geo. Wm. ISLES OF SHOALS.

Laighton Brothers & Co.

The staunch and reliable steamer APPLEDORE, Capt. Rand, makes two trips each way daily (Sundays excepted) between Portsmouth and the Shoals. Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8:20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3:30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 25. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of 400 acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Brabaso, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Rail road. Address

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

A Medicinal Wine for Kidney Complaint.

In this age of "extended liquors," it is pleasant to know that there is one article of pure wine in the market for medicinal use. We have reference to Speer's Sambuci Wine, which was on exhibition at the Fair, and a glass was given to each visitor who claimed it. A glass was proffered to me, and I touched it to my lips somewhat unwillingly, but was agreeably disappointed in finding it one of the most delicious wines I had ever tasted. I doubt whether there is a vineyard in the Old or New World that can yield a wine at all comparable to this in richness and delicacy of flavor. Mr. Speer prepares it by a new process peculiar to himself, without the addition of spirits, and each bottle he sells is guaranteed to be four years old. It is largely used in the New York and European hospitals for dropsy, gout and all kidney complaints. It has found its way, it would seem, to London and Paris hospitals, as the best wine to strengthen and build up a consumptive or debilitated system.—Boston Evening Transcript.

SARATOGA STYLES—GINGHAMS.

Quite an epidemic of ginghams prevails. Of course it is confined to the morning, but as if to atone for such limitation, it rages with corresponding fury. The most aggravated form is reached when huge squares, more than a foot each way, are attained, and from these dimensions down in innumerable gradations we see ginghams of every species, till small checks appear. The larger the plaid the more distingue; in consequence, no society belle worthy the name would lower herself by wearing one less than ten inches, and thus to portray the looks of mingled self complacency and disdain cast upon those not so initiated, is worthy the pencil of an artist. As an off-shoot of the gingham craze, we see the most fashionable parties who come and go, attired in ulsters made of checked English homespun, but here the colors are subdued shades of gray or brown, and the squares are somewhat indistinct and small. Parties who have left for the mountains are likewise provided with checked flannel dresses, made round skirt and baby waist. One lately worn by Emma Abbott was made Clarissa walking skirt and box plaited waist. This skirt has a short draped apron in front and two double box plaits at the back, and would be quite as suitable for handsome goods as for flannel.

SOFT SASHES.

With costumes of many kinds, a sash of the same is loosely tied around the waist in a brigand-like sort of way, giving a touch of abandon quite desirable. The soft sashes are indeed a feature of the day. Made of Surah silk, they give finish to expensive costumes, and carelessly attached round the waist, half drooping on one side, present that Turkish effect so much liked just now. Again they are of the material, and with full, round skirts, they break the monotony and impart a simple adornment. Maggie Mitchell wore the other day at dinner a costume of polka dotted foulard and satin de Lyons, made Ivery waist and Molina walking skirt; the same evening appearing in a Justine princess dress of pale blue silk with dotted muslin overdress arranged in Pinafore style. The Pinafore overdress has the front made like a bib apron, and can be fastened on the shoulders with bows or buttons, or opened down the back.

COIFFURES

Are remarkable for a simplicity that is captivating. Nevertheless there is much variety. All sorts of engaging fancies are indulged in, and one may do just as one pleases, provided that the outline is graceful. Yet withal there are some styles more prevalent than others, for by far the greater number of young ladies wear their hair low at the back of the head and done up in braids, although a loose coil is in much favor. Usually it is very low and in Grecian style, but again we see it higher, and a few short curls can be added. The front hair is almost always worn in some irregular sort of way—frizzed, curled, in crève cœur locks, or in truth any way pleasing to the wearer. "Invisible" nets for the forehead are worn with positive barefacedness. Not the slightest attempt is made towards concealment, and the fairest brows display these mysterious framework which hold straggling frizzes fast in a normal position.

EVENING DRESS COATS.

Evening dress coats are no longer masculine garments. Ladies have assumed them, and nothing is more stylish at a hotel hop than a coat made of colored satin or brocade, worn with a white muslin skirt. Little cut-away coats are likewise much in vogue. Any and all colors are chosen, but the most stylish are red or yellow. Heliotrope comes more and more into favor, and not a few of the loveliest toilettes are white combined with this extremely refined color. There are half a dozen shades of heliotrope, and all but the darkest are too delicate to be worn with anything but white. The old surplice waists and leg-of-mutton sleeves again appear—the latter, however, only as an occasional experiment, but the former are becoming not unusual.

SWANTON, VT., Sept. 19th.

"I suffered greatly for years from Piles, and tried various remedies for relief without success until I used Kidney-Wort. If the disease shows symptoms of return, as has been the case, I have never failed to check it by the use of this medicine! I have a son about eleven years old who had for years uniformly wet his bed nights, and all the prescriptions of different physicians were ineffectual in checking it. I was assured by a physician "Kidney-Wort" was just the medicine to cure him, and sure enough, a trial was completely successful. I regard the medicine invaluable for piles and kidney diseases." SAMUEL BULLARD.

"A droll fellow fished a rich old gentleman out of a millpond, and refused the offer of twenty-five cents from the rescued miser. "Oh, that's too much!" exclaimed the jocular worth in, and he pocketed four cents, saying calmly as he pocketed four cents, "that's about right."

Teachers, authors and others of sedentary habits highly prize Malt Bitters.

—"Mamma," asked a little girl, "why is it they sing in church, 'We're going home to dine no more,' and then go right home and dine?"

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are thereby forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS.

By causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches? Why tormented with Piles, Constipation? Why frightened over disordered Kidneys? Why endure nervous or sick headaches? Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six qts of Medicine.

If your Druggist, is still out of it, for you. Price, $1.00.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the only cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back, seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of weakness or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes offering apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent, by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures (sent free). Write for it.

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

Notice.

WE would inform our customers in the GREAT NEW AMERICAN INSURANCE COMPANY, New York, that their property insured in that Company is perfectly safe, and that there is no need of troubling themselves or trouble to change them, as they could place them in any better Company.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be effectually and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 artistic and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inheritance. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. HESELTINE, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

Ayer's

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual pills only yet discovered for disease arising from derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and efficient treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specifically applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and secretive processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Nausea, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—AND THE ONLY DR. SHERMAN known to the public for the past 35 years or more, has successful methods of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at 4 Bulfinch York and Boston Streets. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external treatment.

No man is safe who has a Rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once faltered him of that is was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such is certain that life has become a burden, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction; it is steadily progressive, from a mere nuisance, to death, and is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day. During treatment any kind of active exercise or labor can be performed without interfering with the treatment, and with safety from the dangers of strangulated Rupture.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, and from the merchants of his successful practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. In consequence of the great demand for Dr. Sherman's personal services, he will, till further notice, divide his time between his New York and Boston offices as follows: Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday he may be consulted at his New York office, and Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, at his Boston office, each week. CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

DISTRICT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Case George D. Burton vs. the town of Greenville. In equity. July, 1880.

Opinion by Lowell, J.

The complainant has taken out and now owns two patents for designs of a street lamp: No. 9488, September 5, 1876, and No. 10,497, February 19, 1878. The former describes and shows by a drawing, a lamp post, with an enlarged base and a smaller shaft, surmounted by a cap; from the cap projects an overhanging curved arm, from the lower and free end of which depends a chain, made fast to the outer corner of a bracket in which the lamp or lantern is set; this bracket has projections loosely fitting the post, so that the lantern can be moved up and down. The lamp is suspended under the centre of the arch or arm. The patentee claims "design for street and park lamps, composed of the upright post with enlarged base, the arched arm, the chain, the bracket, and a lamp placed below the arch, all substantially as shown and described."

The second patent describes and shows a design which differs from the first in certain particulars. It has two lanterns, one on each side of the post; the bracket which holds the lantern is more complete, having lower edges and sides, so as to form a carriage or cage, rather than a bracket; and this is upheld by a bail or handle, which is attached to the middle instead of one corner of the carriage, and thus brings the lantern directly under the free end of the arm, instead of under its curved part or arch. The claim is for the design for a lamp post, consisting of the post, carriage, bails, lamps, chains and arches, all substantially as shown and described. Between the arches there is an ornament in the form of an acorn, which is mentioned in the specification but not in the claim. The application for this patent was filed January 18, 1878.

It is considered by both parties to the suit that the two lanterns of the drawing are duplicates, and that if the patent is valid, it is infringed by the use of a lamp post like the patent 10,947 in all respects, except that it has but one lantern. The posts charged as infringements have but one lantern, but in other respects are almost exactly like the patented design. The plaintiff had obtained a mechanical patent, June 13, 1876, No. 178,508, for an improvement in street lamps, and his drawings represent a lamp post of similar design with No. 9488, except that it has four lanterns on one post. A question is made by the defendants, whether an inventor is not to be presumed to abandon his design when he exhibits it in the drawing of a mechanical patent. I do not see why this consequence should follow until the design has been in use for two years; but I do not decide this point, because the plaintiff's second patent shows a much improved design, and he relied entirely upon that patent in his brief and his argument. I agree with him that the mechanical patent and its duplicate design do not anticipate the more pleasing and finished design of No. 10,497.

The defendants, in their answer, rely on two mechanical patents to John M. Bruce, for lamp posts with chains and weights, the first of which is earlier than the earliest of Burton's, and has a more extensive claim. This patent was applied for November 14, 1874, and issued December 22d, 1874; and, thereafter, Bruce appears to have dealt somewhat extensively in lamp posts having these mechanical contrivances. But his patents do not show posts like the plaintiff's. The first has two posts between which the lantern is hung; and the second has brackets to set up the lantern against a wall. As designs, therefore, they cannot be held to anticipate Burton.

The amended answer avers that on the 8th of November, 1875, Bruce caused a design to be drawn and publicly exhibited, which is identical with that of the plaintiff. Bruce testifies that he did, in fact, make and sell lamps substantially like the plaintiff's design, long before the latter obtained his patent. Those complained of as infringements were set up in the defendant town twenty months before the plaintiff's application for patent 10,947 was made. They resemble so closely the model C, which the plaintiff produces as representing his patented design, that it is almost impossible to believe that one was not copied from the other. But Bruce had no opportunity to copy anything from the plaintiff, because the plaintiff made nothing, unless it were a model, to which Bruce had no access, until October, 1876; while these lamps were put up in May, 1876, within two miles and a half of the plaintiff's house. In August, 1876, the plaintiff applied for, and in September obtained, his patent, No. 9488, for a much inferior design. Yet, he now thinks that he invented the better form about September, 1875.

Bruce exhibited publicly to a committee and certain inhabitants of the town of Peterborough, New Hampshire, November 8, 1875, a drawing of a lamp post, which he was ready to sell them, and which is like the patented and the infringing design. He testifies that he had made others like it, excepting the ornament on the top, which forms no part of the plaintiff's claim, as early as November, 1874.

I am much inclined to believe, upon the evidence, that Bruce invented this design, and that Burton, when he took out his patent, No. 10,497, knowing this, intended to claim only the post with two lanterns.

However this may be, I am of opinion that Bruce had put this design into public use, and had offered it for sale as early as November 8, 1875; which was more than two years before the plaintiff's application, and therefore avoids his patent.

Bill dismissed. with costs.

It's "No Use," He Said.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain; he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office and tell him of this."—Exchange.

—Fannie Roos, a pretty but thievish young woman, was discharged from custody at Paducah, Ky. Within a block of the jail she met John Mathias, a respectable farmer, who was visiting the city. Their acquaintance began on the spot, and before night they were married. In addition to the usually ceremony, the bride took a solemn oath of reformation.

MONUMENTS TO DISCOVERERS. A friend of ours hearing it said that "all famous discoverers have a monument," remarked: "Yes, all but one; the discoverer of Bright's disease. But there is a man, Wm. E. Clarke, of Providence, R. I., who is entitled to a monument, for he makes a medicine that cures Bright's disease, and all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder, and urinary organs. It is called Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—Literary young man at the party—"Miss Jones, have you seen Crabbe's Tales?" Young lady (scornfully)—"I was not aware that crabs had tails." Literary young man (covered with confusion)—"I beg your pardon. I should have said real Crabbe's Tales." Young lady (angrily scornful)—"And I was not aware that real crabs had tails, either." Exit young man.

A Business Man's Opinion.

C. B. Dorr, of Toledo, O., says he has used Day's Kidney's Pads in his family with result so superior to all other treatments that he regards them as the best kidney doctor in the world.

—The college graduate is hanging about the outer edges of journalism, waiting for a chance to jump clear into the middle of it and astonish the world, and when he does get the chance he is sent round to the police office to see how many "drunks" have been brought in.

The National Banks.

The comptroller of the currency has just completed an abstract showing the condition of the national banks on the 11th of June, 1880. The national banks now hold $89,506,505 of coin, of which $93,146,094 is gold coin, and $6,357,410 silver coin, including $495,400 of silver certificates. Of this amount the national banks in the city of New York held $52,829,426, of which $391,321 was silver coin, and $452,700 silver certificates. The national banks of the United States held on October 2d last, $42,173,732 of coin, an increase in eight months of $17,332,774. The amount of silver coin held October 2d was $4,986,493. The amount of coin now held by the national banks, is nearly equal to the total cash reserve required by law. The comptroller has issued a circular to the banks requesting them to furnish on a blank form the amounts of all taxes paid to state, county, city, town, or other authorities for 1879. The banks are requested to include all taxes assessed, which are to be paid during the year, and also any taxes assessed upon the stock of the bank, paid or to be paid by shareholders as upon personal property. The information is to be summarized in tables for publication.

News and Notes.

Three boys aged twelve years each, went crabbing near Elizabeth, N. J., July 27th, and have not since been heard from. It is feared their boat was capsized by a squall, and the boys drowned.

In response to a request from the state department, Capt. Rand and Mate Barr have forwarded affidavits that their schooner, the E. A. Merritt, was more than six miles from the Cuban coast when fired upon by the Spanish gunboat.

Peter W. Graham, a Rockville, Conn., saloon keeper, was drowned at lake Snipsic on Saturday while bathing.

The following, under date of July 29th, comes from Gloucester, Mass.: "A monster marine animal, supposed to be a sea serpent, was seen in Essex river on Wednesday afternoon by Captain George C. Burnham and Captain Marks of Cross island and others, while sailing up the river. The head was under water, and they saw at least one hundred feet of his body—large as a barrel. It went off into Ipswich bay. There is no mistake, as the parties are men of veracity, and the men all affirm the same statement."

At Leadville, Col., July 27th, John Crowder, a faro dealer, shot and killed Richard Dillon, the former owner of Little Chief mine. The latter demanded a stack of chips on trust; Crowder refused, and Dillon pulled a revolver, but Crowder shot first, and escaped.

Mrs. Miles, the mulatto wife of a colored preacher of Bridgeport, Conn., is turning white, greatly to her disgust, the only relics of her old color being a small patch on each cheek.

Mad Anthony Wayne's memorial blockhouse at Erie, Pennsylvania, has been opened formally and delivered to the keeping of the Grand Army. It is an exact reproduction of the frontier blockhouse in which the brave old general died, and is erected over the spot where he was buried. The state appropriated the money for its erection, and the national government presented a battery of Parrott guns.

It is now announced that Wm. H. English, the democratic candidate for vice president, was one of twelve northern democrats who, in 1856, voted against the expulsion of Preston S. Brooks of South Carolina from the house of representatives for his cowardly and murderous attack upon Charles Sumner.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,Th&F,&c

The residence of Philip Shanahan at Great Falls was burned on Saturday, July 24th. Loss, $300; fully covered by insurance.

Thomas Langley, aged nineteen years, was instantly killed at the Manchester mills in Manchester on Thursday morning last by the elevator. The body was horribly mutilated.

The republicans of Cheshire county, who are always awake, are already well organized and doing more than their part of the work necessary to give Garfield and Arthur 5,000 majority in the state. They held a county meeting at Keene, Saturday, July 24th, at which every town was represented, and the reports received show that with an election next week there would be no falling off in the party vote.

A young man named Edwin Stevens was arrested at Ossipee on Tuesday, July 27th, having in his possession a team alleged to have been stolen by him in Haverhill, Mass.

Thomas O'Shea, aged six years, son of Eugene O'Shea, fell through the railroad bridge at Laconia on the 27th inst., and was drowned.

An Appalling Record.

A return published in connection with the bill introduced by Mr. Plimsoll before quitting the British parliament, for the better security of vessels with grain cargoes, shows that between 1873 and 1880, twenty-six steamships laden wholly or partially with grain foundered at sea, and twenty-four others were reported as "missing;" and during the same period one hundred grain-laden sailing vessels foundered, and one hundred and eleven others were reported missing. One hundred and thirty-five vessels "missing," which simply means lost with all hands in some manner unknown, is a fearful record.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife. A Lucky Man.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to Office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. deodaolm

Proposals for River and Harbor Improvements in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

PROPOSALS in duplicate, addressed to the undersigned, will be received at his office in Portland, Maine, until 4 o'clock P. M. on Tuesday the 17th day of August 1880, at which place and time they will be opened in the presence of the bidders, for work for improving the following named rivers and harbors to wit:

1. Lubec Channel, Maine, about 130,000 cubic yards of dredging.
2. Cathance River, Maine, about 30,000 cubic yards of dredging.
3. Gut opposite Bath, Maine, about 200 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
4. Richmond's Island Harbor, Maine, about 2,500 tons of granite grout.
5. Lake Winnipisseogee, N. H., about 7,000 cubic yards of dredging.
6. Portsmouth Harbor, N. H., breaking up and removing about 700 cubic yards of sunken ledge, and about 2,000 tons of Rubble stone.
7. Merrimac River, Mass., about 25 cubic yards of sunken ledge to be removed.
8. Boston Harbor, Mass., about 200,000 cubic yards of dredging.
9. Plymouth Harbor, Mass., about 40,000 cubic yards of dredging.
10. Provincetown Harbor, Mass., about 750 tons of Rubble stone.

Persons desiring to make proposals for any of the above works are requested to apply to the undersigned, at his office, No. 11 Clapp's Block, Congress Street, Portland, Me., or at No. 26 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass., for specifications and for further information concerning the same.

Proposals must be made separately for each work, as required by the specifications, and be accompanied by the requisite guaranty—each proposal and guaranty to be in duplicate, on printed forms, which will be furnished on application at this office—and when transmitted, must be so indorsed on the sealed envelope as to indicate, before being opened, the particular work bid for.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject all bids which in his opinion are not reasonable; also the bid of any failing bidders or contractors or of any other person who, in his belief, will not faithfully, satisfactorily and promptly perform the contract.

AROUND HOME.

C. Dwight Hanscom will shortly remove his stock of goods to a store in Franklin building.

It is now assured that the steamer Stamford will make the proposed trip to Boston on Thursday, Aug. 5th.

Mr. Samuel Dixon of Eliot had on hand last spring one thousand hens and chickens, but has reduced that number to about four hundred.

A Greenland correspondent of an Exeter papers says the census returns show that not a woman in Greenland is over thirty years old.

The steam yacht Annie S, after making several abortive attempts to get to Boston, made a successful start on Thursday morning, the 29th inst.

Yachts Cygnet, Dame master, and Eli W. Hoyt, Greenleaf master, both of Newburyport, arrived at this port July 29th from the eastward, bound home.

Schooner Blackbird, from St. John, N. B., with 49,000 laths, and the schooner Charles Carroll, from Rockland with six hundred barrels of lime, arrived at Adams & Co.'s wharf on Thursday of this week.

George Spinney, night shifter employed at the Eastern railroad depot, had the toes on one of his feet crushed off by being caught between the engine wheel and rail on Thursday evening of this week.

Persons from the interior of the state were in this city on Thursday last, to make arrangements with the managers of the steamer Florence for an ocean trip. The party will come over the Concord & Portsmouth railway.

The steamer Florence brought a small party from Newburyport to this city on Thursday of this week, and took a less number from this city to the Shoals. She has a model calculated for high speed, but apparently lacks engine power.

Schooner Addie and Hattie arrived at this port on Thursday with six swordfish for Randall & Caswell, weighing about three hundred pounds each. This schooner looks as trim as a yacht, and will for the present be engaged in making trips to accommodate excursionists. She takes out a party of boarders from the Ocean Wave hotel, Rye beach, to-day.

The schooner Grace Choate came in on the 29th inst., with fifty-six barrels of mackerel. When off Cape Porpoise she tried for a big school of fish, but there being too many for the seine it broke apart, all the fish escaping. The fishermen report the schools of mackerel now nearing the coast to be composed of much larger and fatter fish than the "tinkers" previously taken.

The United States circuit court, Clark judge, held a session in this city on Thurday last. In cases Goodyear Dental Vulcanite Co. vs. Severance & Folsom, a continuance was ordered for three weeks; Hatch for Folsom, Frink for Severance. We shall publish hereafter the opinion of Judge Lowell in these cases relating to the issuing of injunction by the district judge when holding the circuit court.

A little colored boy from Boston, visiting at Mr. W. H. Collier's, Sparhawk street, Christian Shore, had a narrow escape from drowning in the north mill pond on the 29th inst. The little fellow had climbed into a boat moored near the shore, and by some means cast off the painter and drifted rapidly into deep water, where he lost his balance and fell overboard. His loud cries—and no white boy can make half the noise this child of Africa did—brought to his rescue Mr. Will Twomby and W. H. Collier, the latter gentleman grasping the drowning child as he was going down for the third term.

Steamer Startled Fawn, with a party of about eighty persons from Haverhill, Mass., came to this port on Thursday.

One hundred and twenty-five teams passed over Sagamore bridge on Wednesday afternoon, July 28th, between the hours of five and half-past six.

Schooner Clara Bell, of Kittery, on Wednesday of this week landed in this city nine swordfish, aggregating over 2000 lbs. in weight. They were all taken the previous day, to the eastward of Boon island.

A meeting of the greenback-labor party of Portsmouth is called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the old custom house on Penhallow street, to take action in regard to the municipal election, and to transact other business that may properly be presented. PER ORDER.

There seems to be much discussion and anxiety in political circles as to who the individual is who threw the solitary vote for our friend Dr. Curtis, in the republican mayoralty caucus. There seem be to six claimants for this honor, among whom are several of the doctor's tenants, and one Market street grocer. Now we know that the doctor has not lost his faith in humanity, but we agree with him that there are five men in this city with very elastic consciences.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

At the democratic caucuses held in wards one and three, on Thursday evening, the following were nominated as candidates to be supported at the city election on Tuesday next.

Ward one. Aldermen—Ira C. Seymour, Samuel J. Gerrish, Daniel H. Trefethen; Councilmen—Charles E. Boynton, Alexander G. Cox, Stephen T. Raitt, John T. Shea, Samuel Maddock, Leslie Whitehouse; Assessors—Daniel Littlefied, William Ward, William S. Hadley; Overseer of the Poor—Samuel P. Treadwell.

Ward three. Alderman—Jeremiah F. Sanborn; Councilmen—George A. Jackson, Simon H. Mills; Assessor—Alexander L. Rand; Overseer of the Poor—William H. Canty.

THE GUBERNATORIAL VISIT.

On Thursday morning last Gov. Natt Head and the members of his council arrived in this city from Newcastle, where they had spent the night at Hotel Wentworth, the object of their visit to Portsmouth being to officially inspect the old state arsenal on South street, as before reported.

In pursuance of this duty the governor and a few of his staff, the members of his council, Congressman Evarts W. Farr, Secretary of State Thompson and Adjt. Gen. Ayling, with Mayor Sise and several of the aldermen of Portsmouth, embarked on the Emerald at eleven o'clock in the forenoon and went to the navy yard. On their arrival at the landing at the yard the visitors were received by Commodore Beaumont and the officers of the navy yard, the marines being drawn up in line, and the customary salute fired from the battery. The inspecting officials were escorted to one of the ship-houses to view the decaying ironclad Massachusetts, after which the party repaired to the commodore's residence, where a half-hour was spent, and where the company was joined by Postmaster Peirce and Collector Howard.

Next the party embarked on the tug Leyden and proceeded to the Shoals, where Congressman Farr remained, the rest of the company returning at about 4:00 o'clock P. M. The main object of this excursion was to determine if, at a reasonable distance from the shore, the arsenal could be effectively shelled by a hostile cruiser, the board of inspection being of the opinion that if the building was liable to be destroyed in case of war by projectiles from ships floating outside the harbor, any outlay looking toward its future preservation would not be in the interest of economy.

The inspection of the arsenal was made in the morning, after the party came up from Newcastle and before they started for the navy yard.

A LONG RECORD.

Few, if any names, have been so long identified with any distinctive business in Portsmouth, as that of Wendell with the hardware trade. Abraham and Jacob Wendell were hardware merchants and dealers in ship chandlery on Water street, at the corner of State street, more than sixty years ago.

Mr. Abraham Wendell, after dissolving partnership with his brother Jacob, was in the business on Water street, and subsequently on Bow street for many years.

In 1836 Daniel D. and Abraham Q. Wendell, sons of Abraham, commenced the hardware business on Market square, in the store where Andrew P. Wendell & Co. now keep; after seventy years connection in business, the firm dissolved, Daniel removing to a western state, where he now resides, and A. Q. Wendell retaining the business. Later he admitted as a partner, his son, Andrew P. Wendell, and the business continued under the firm of A. Q. Wendell & Son. It is now carried on with increased facilities by A. P. Wendell and his brother, Henry Wendell, under the firm of A. P. Wendell & Co. The store has been enlarged; large lights of plate glass succeed the old fashioned window, with their iron shutters; the latter, doubtless, placed their by the cautious forethought of the late John Peirce, when the wooden court house stood between Peirce's buildings and the North church, and the chances of damage from fire in front of the block might have been deemed imminent. How many new kinds of goods are embraced under the designation "hardware" that were unknown to, and unthought of, by dealers and customers in the days of the grandfather of the present Wendells! Thus the world moves. Thousands of inventions, at first attracting manufacturers and buyers by their novelty, have in turn become indepensable articles of use and sale, while the old-fashioned ware which reposed in papers upon the shelves of the olden time has given way to the trim, smooth and well-made articles in nice little boxes, attracting customers by their convenience, utility and cheapness in price.

Amid these changes in commodities here is an old stand with a new store, a fresh stock, and with dealers ready to supply everything in their line at as low prices as the Boston market can afford. We like to see this continuance of a name in a business, and on one spot; and while in other places, long devoted to one kind of business, the whirligig of time brings new names as dealers, this spot retains the name for so many years familiar to all who frequent Market square. We trust that it may continue for many years to come to be, as in the past, a business name among us, and that in the new and improved store there may come an increase of trade which shall induce the men of the third generation to keep up the business, and in turn pass it over to their descendants.

THE COMING MAN.

A good-looking, substantially-built gentleman who was of the governor's suite and wore a linen duster and a complacent look on his visit to the navy yard on Thursday, was Hon. Joseph Burrows of Plymouth, who is said to be the much-talked-of candidate for governor on the part of the democrats. Mr. Burrows has been thrice a member of the legislature, and has also served for three years as one of the governor's council. He is one of the old-fashioned democrats, always supposed to reflect the ideas of the Bingham school, and to fill the bill as a reliable and time-honored politician. He will not squander any money in the canvass, which perhaps would be a source of disappointment to some of the more enthusiastic members of his party. He would make a respectable governor, and although a thorough democrat, is not of the kind that make their politics obnoxiously disagreeable.

LOOK OUT FOR THIEVES.

It is said that a large gang of thieves left Boston about two weeks ago, to "work" the route between Boston and Portland, most of them being young in years, but old in crime. On Monday night, the 26th inst., seven houses in Newmarket were broken into, and more or less booty obtained at each place. In Rochester, the next night, four dwellings were burglarized, a gold watch stolen from one house, two bonds and $90 in money from another, and a suit of clothes from a third. In Dover, on the morning of the 27th, two young fellows were caught robbing a freight car on the Boston & Maine railroad, and were held in $300 each for a higher court; they reported themselves as being Thomas Curley, aged seventeen, from St. John, N. B., and Daniel Sullivan, aged fifteen, of Andover, Mass. On the night of the 28th, at Exeter, burglars entered the house of J. C. Dutch, obtaining $50 in money; they also entered the residence of M. G. Neally, but obtained nothing. There is a decided boom in the petty burglary market, wherever the thieves came from.

Mr. J. E. Bennett, the confectioner of Franklin buildings in this city, who lives in Greenland, sustained quite a loss from thieves on the night of the 28th inst. On retiring he left $196 in the pocket of his vest, but on awakening, the front door of the house was found open, and Mr. Bennett's shirt, trousers and vest gone. The vest was found on the doorstep, but the money was gone, and a valuable pin is also missing.

—How singular it is that a man can sit up half the night in a bar-room talking politics and never lose his temper once; but just as soon as he gets home and his wife wants to discuss the equally important question of coming home early he turns rusty.

—Patrick Larkin, a submarine diver in the employ of Capt. Moses B. Tower, while at work upon the cargo of car wheels sunk last fall off Thacher's island, was taken with an ill turn, he being one hundred feet below the surface of the water. His condition was discovered by his failure to reply to the signals from the schooner, and when drawn to the surface he was conscious, though much exhausted from lack of pure air. He bled profusely from the ears, mouth and nose.

Appledore and Oceanic Hotels,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

Laighton Brothers & Co.

The staunch and reliable steamer APPLEDORE, Capt. Rand, makes two trips each way daily (Sundays excepted) between Portsmouth and the Shoals. Steamer leaves Jones' wharf, near foot of Deer street, at eleven A. M., after arrival of the morning trains from Boston and Concord, and at six P. M. Returning leaves the Islands at seven A. M., arriving at Portsmouth in season to connect with the 8:20 train for Boston, and the trains for the White Mountains via Conway and the Notch, and at 3:30 P. M. in season for the afternoon trains west and north.

☞ Baggage destined for these hotels is transported between the Eastern railway station and the hotels free of charge. The wharf of the steamer is a short distance from the railway stations, and there is ample time to walk thither between the arrival of trains and the departure of the boat.

THE "WENTWORTH,"

Newcastle, N. H.

This Hotel will open June 26. It has accommodations for 400 guests, and offers more attractions for pleasure and comfort than any other seaside resort in the country. Its high situation affords beautiful views, both inland and seaward, its healthful atmosphere, the easy manner in which it can be reached, its advantages for boating, bathing and fishing, excellent drives and attractive walks, all combine to make it one of the most charming places on the coast of New England.

Since last year extensive additions have been made, among them one hundred and fifty sleeping rooms, a spacious Music Hall for dancing, theatricals and concerts, bowling alleys, billiard room, a passenger elevator operated by steam, a large and commodious stable for private equipages, the grounds lighted by the electric light, steam yacht for excursions, &c., &c.

The temperature of the bathing at the "Wentworth" is especially inviting to those unable to endure the shock incident to more exposed localities. An enclosed body of salt water, covering an area of fifty acres, affords a safe and pleasant place for boating at all times for ladies and children. The drives to the neighboring beaches and other points of attraction in this vicinity are unsurpassed. The veranda, fifteen feet in width, surrounding the house, gives an extended promenade of over 1000 feet in length, while the view is unexcelled in beauty and grandeur.

An orchestra of twenty selected musicians, under the direction of Mr. John J. Braham, has been engaged for the season.

The house is furnished throughout in black walnut, has the best of beds, its sleeping rooms are of ample size, well ventilated, and from all sides of the house affords fine views. Its cuisine will be found of an unexceptionable character. The "Wentworth" is situated three miles from Portsmouth, N. H., in the ancient town of Newcastle, and is reached from Boston in two hours' ride over the Eastern Rail road. Address

Hard Times.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood, which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists. Dr. David Kennedy, Proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

—As he came from the embrace of the waves looking very limp, she said, "Positively, George, our engagement must end here. I had no idea you were such a ridiculous-looking person."

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND, the great medicine for the cure of all female complaints, is the greatest strengthener of the back, stomach, nerves, kidneys, urinary and genital organs of man and woman ever known. Send for circulars to Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

—Fourteen opera companies organizing for the next dramatic season causes consternation among unmarried men. Summer vacation trips on the co-operative plan, are therefore more popular than last year.

Because composed of malt and hops, without fermentation, Malt Bitters are popular

— A man out west obtained a divorce from his wife, and married again within three days after the decree was granted. An Irishman, commenting on the man's action, remarked, "Bedad, he couldn't have had much respect for his first wife, to be marrying again so soon afther lavin' her."

In Patrick county, Va., July 23d, Pink De Hart met Amos Woolvine on the road on horseback, with Mrs. De Hart behind him. A quarrel ensued between the men, ending by De Hart shooting Woodvine through the forehead and neck, killing him instantly. De Hart then surrendered himself to officers. He had previously suspected improper relations between his wife and Woodvine.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, July 28.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3474; sheep and lambs 9869; swine, 12,890; number western cattle 3264; eastern cattle 65; milch cows and northern cattle 145.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs live weight—Extra quality $5 37½ and $5 62½; first quality $5 00 and $5 30; second quality $4 50 and $4 87½; third quality [illegible] and $4 37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 37½ and $4 00.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 5c per lb.
Country hides 7½ and 8c per lb.
Country Tallow 3½ and 4c per lb.
Calf skins 12½ and 13c per lb. or from $1 25 and $1 75 per skin.
Lamb skins 75c each.
Country pelts 40c each.

The trade for beef cattle opened active at an advance of 5 and 10c per 100 lbs. over those obtained one week ago. The quality of the western cattle was not much different from that of last week. There were a few Texas and Colorado cattle among them, which sold at low prices. Butchers do not buy t at class of cattle so readily as they used to do a few years ago, and there are not so many of them offered on the markets here for sale. Shipping cattle have been in fair demand, although the trade for them is not so active as it has been of late. We did not hear of any sales of cattle being made for over 5½c per lb. live weight, but probably some of the shipping cattle sold fully up to our highest quotations. The cattle from Massachusetts largely of milch cows.

Working Oxen—Not any call for them. A few pairs each week is all the markets require at present. There were not any working oxen among the cattle from Maine this week.

Store Cattle—Nearly all the small cattle offered on the market for sale that are in a fair condition are bought up for slaughter. Store cattle trade has been quiet and cattle come in more freely from the north and west.

Milch Cows—The supply in for the week was rather of a small moderate. We quote sales of 2 cows and calves for $125 and $135; 1 cow and calf $90; 1 at $50; 2 at $35; 3 cows and calves, very nice ones, for $200; 7 springers for $75; 1 at $60; 1 at $55; and calved at $25 and $35 per head.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep and lambs cost higher this week. Sheep costing from 5 and 5½c, lambs 6½ and 7c per lb. Most of them were owned by the shippers, and taken direct to the Abattoir to be slaughtered.

Swine—Fat Hogs—Prices 5¼ and 5½c per lb. live weight, delivered by butchers except a few which were sent to the English market per steamers.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick-dust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and unusual or physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK,

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney remedies which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they now give rise to more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will usually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or hesitation, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50. Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free on receipt of stamp. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headache?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six quarts of Medicine. If of your Druggist, he will order for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may, be remedied and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, of whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 outlines and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 30 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th &eiinov80
